Southern Farmers Discuss Increased Income, Needs

2,000 From Three States Hear Editor at Tuskegee Conference; Prizes Awarded

TUSKEGEE (ANP)— Nearly 2,000 persons from Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia crowded into Logan gymnasium this week for a discussion of "Increasing Income through Better Farm and Home Management," theme of the 58th annual Farmers Conference.

The morning session was under the direction of Lawrence A. Pettiford, dean of Tuskegee's Agriculture School, who led the informal discussion of the conference theme. A responsive audience heard a dozen or more farmers tell of their year's experiences and achievements, and fired questions that reflected their interest.

Dr. F. D. Patterson, president of Tuskegee, opened the afternoon session with a short talk in which he said, "agriculture and the development of rural life suggest the heart of our program here at Tuskegee." Group singing of spirituals led by Thomas M. Campbell, director of extension work in the U.S. Department of Agriculture in seven Southern States, prefaced Dr. Patterson's introduction of the principal speaker, Col. Harry M. Ayers, editor and publisher of the Anniston Ala.) Star.

Awards Presented

Dr. J. E. Walker, president of the Universal Life Insurance Company and of the Tri-State Bank was principal speaker at a conference banquet.

The top award of the year, the merit farmer certificate, went to John Thomas Bullis of Killen, Ala. In making the citation, Dr. Patterson pointed out that progress and improvement was the basis for making the award. In 1940, Mr. Bullis farm produced 16 bales of cotton-to 65 acres, but after the farmer undertook the improvements suggested by the extension service, he increased his income from $1000 in 1939 to $24,000 in 1948, and his cotton yield to one bale an acre.

The following farmers were awarded a certificate for the production of more than 100 bushels of corn per acre on their farms: Robert Ellis and Ollie Ellis, of Hale county, John C. Belle and James Kason of Sumter county, and Peter Brown Sr., of Tuscaloosa county.

News' Use of Race Labels Explained

Bows to 'Hill-Billy' Wishes, Editor Admits

DETROIT—Fred Gardner, managing editor of The Detroit News, on Jan. 13, admitted that pressure from Southern white "hill-billy" readers resulted in the paper's changing its policy of not identifying by race persons involved in crime stories.

However, Gardner promised that in the future the News will refrain from using the word "Negro or White" in dealing with such stories unless it is essential."

"I feel that in crime such as criminal attacks and holdups where the assailants escape," said Gardner, "the culprit should be identified, whether he be colored or white, so the people in the community will know what type of man to be on the lookout for."

Explains "Hill-billy Pressure

Gardner said whenseever the News carried a crime story and said that the assailant came to Detroit from Kentucky, Tennessee or Oklahoma, without mentioning his color, the hill-billies said the whites in Detroit blamed them for the crime.

When it was discovered that some of these crimes were committed by colored person, the hill-billy group, now quite large in Detroit, began calling the News and writing letters of complaint against the non-race identification policy," Mr. Gardner concluded.

Making Plans to Celebrate 'NAACP Sunday'

Dr. Long Praised for Civic Leadership at Testimonial Attended by 200 Here

Former School Official Honored

WASHINGTON

Dr. Howard H. Long, former chief examiner of District Public Schools, Divisions 10-13 and now dean of the College of Education Schools, Divisions 10-13 and now and Industrial Arts, Wilberforce, Ohio, was named a member of the executive committee of the International Council of YMCA's last week.

This was revealed at a testimonial dinner in his honor Monday night by Dr. E. B. Henderson, chairman of the Committee of Management, 12th Street YMCA, who commended Dr. Long's life and work.

Dr. Long's re-election to the committee of the National Council of YMCAs was also announced.

Urges Suffrage Fight

The testimonial was held in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce dining room with approximately 200 guests in attendance.

The expressing appreciation for the tributes paid him and gifts presented, Dr. Long acknowledged Washingtonians to fight vigorously for suffrage and home rule.

He referred to recent reports on racial discrimination which he termed embarrassing to the Capital and the Nation, and urged minority groups in the District to drive for first-class citizenship.

Recieves $175 Gold Watch

The education was presented an album containing complimentary letters from colleges and universities, religious institutions, civic and fraternal organizations, and prominent individuals and a $175 Omega 17-jewel gold watch.

The presentations were made by Col. Campbell C. Johnson and Dr. Victor Tulane, general chairman, Washington Citizens Committee, sponsor of the testimonial.

Called Able Educator

Other speakers were Dr. Hobart Corning, superintendent of Schools, who called Dr. Long an able educator who made a fine contribution to the schools and community.

He added that work of the schools was greatly enriched by Dr. Long's varied interests in civic affairs.

Miss Jane Hoey, director, Bureau of Public Assistance, said the honoree "has those qualities that we hope all of those who train for a profession would have."

Belford Lawson, general president, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, asserted:

"The ideals practiced by Dr. Long have been a great influence on fraternal organizations and much of the growth and influence of fraternities and sororities have been due to the contagion of his ideals of service."

"Y" Council Member Here

Leo B. Marsh, representing the National Council YMCA, declared that Dr. Long has fostered the cause of democracy in the YMCA and elsewhere by transcending the barriers of race through being well prepared to attain high places in society.

Robert Lawes of the Howard University School of Music sang several numbers accompanied by Alfess Fleming, also a Howard music student. The Rev. A. F. Elmes gave the invocation and benediction.

Dr. Long was chief examiner of District Schools for 24 years and chairman of the Committee on Management of the 12th Street YMCA for over 18 years.

He held membership and official positions in various other local and national civic, educational, religious, and fraternal organizations.

We Are Gaining, Dr. Tobias Says

PETERSBURG, Va.—Dr. Channing H. Tobias, director of Phelps Stokes Fund, told a Founders' Day audience at Virginia State College, Sunday, that the race was making tremendous gains in its uphill fight to break down the walls of prejudice and discrimination.

He emphasized that we are doing so in politics in education, in religion and in sports. "The day is coming," he stated, "when true democracy will be practiced in every corner of America."

Other Speakers

Calvin A. Davenport of Glouster, Va., the student speaker, urged the audience not to shrink from the responsibilities of the challenging world and admonished students to seek a functional education in preparing to meet world problems.

Walton P. Jefferson of Cape Charles, Va., a graduate of the class of 1910, represented the alumni and gave a very interesting account of the college as it was 38 years ago and as it is today.

He cited its growth from a student body of a little more than 200 to over 1,000 today, and advised students to seek a vocation and the secure guidance in performing the job well.

Mural Program

The acapella choir, directed by J. Harlod Montague, head of the department of music, rendered selections with Miss Iris Winfield of Richmond as soloist.

Ranking members of the class of 49, who served as ushers were Andrew Allen, Evelyn Hall, John Hill, Alvin Jones, Margaret Newsome, Julia Powell, Mary S. Ruffin, Frank Stagger, Ambel Wilkins, and Bernice Wolfrey.

The program was given in commemoration of the founding of the institution, immediately following the exercises a reception honoring the visitors was held in Jones Hall.
