'Long Gone' Still Going, According to Juke Poll

Queen of Gospel Singers

Mahalia Jackson, Apollo recording artist, called the "nation's queen of gospel singers," is currently making personal appearances in N.Y. and preparing for a waxing session. Her latest hits are: "Move on Up a Little Higher" and "I'm Tired."

CHICAGO—At the final session of the Coin Machine Industries Convention at the Hotel Sherman here, the final choice of the three top money-making records of 1948 (popular, hillbilly, folk, etc.), was as follows:

1. "Long Gone," Sonny Thompson, Miracle.
2. "My Happiness," Jon and Sondra Steele, Diamond.
3. "Mariana," Peggy Lee, Capitol.

These were closely followed in order named Red Miller Trio's "Bewildered," Wild Bill Moore's "We're Gonna Rock, Arthur Godfrey's "Too Fat Polka," Memphis Slim's "Messin' Around," King Cole Trio's Nature Boy," Sonny Thompson's "Late Freight," and Louis Jordan's "Run, Joe."

Closely bunched up the juke box owners also picked Art Mooney, Bull Moose Jackson, Eddy Arnold, Lonnie Johnson, Joe Morris, The Orioles, Bing Crosby, Vaughn Monroe, Tex Williams, Dinah Washington.

This convention results show that 12 of the 20 top money-making records were recorded by the so-called "race artists." (Maybe they should be called money artists).

"Inner Sanctum" at New Albert

Originality and suspense are the two factors which keynote "Inner Sanctum," currently at the New Albert Theatre.

An ingenious plot and a cast of truly believable characters capture suspense immediately and holds fast until the final fade-out.

"Inner Sanctum" also co-stars Mary Beth Hughes and serves to introduce a young leading man, Charles Russell, who heretofore has been seen on the screen only in small supporting parts. In the role of a killer who, through circumstances over which he has no control, must continue to murder.

The supporting picture is "Unknown Island" co-starring Virginia Grey and Philip Reed.

'Sorry, Wrong Number'

NEW YORK—(NNPA) — Fredi Washington, who played "Peola" in the picture "Imitation of Life," received an offer of a job recently after the actress had appeared on television with the Goldberg Family, playing the part of a maid who had more intelligence than other members of the household.

The following day a wealthy New York woman, who had seen the television show, contacted Miss Washington through the television studios. The woman told her how much she had enjoyed her acting and said it was one of the finest performances she had ever seen.

Then she offered Miss Washington a job as her personal maid at $300 a month.

Play Based on Saint Sold Out in Advance

NEW YORK—Although it is not scheduled to open here until Feb. 17, a new play, "City of Kings," based on the life of a saintly lay brother has been completely "sold out" for its first 16 performances.

Exchanging Views After Music Lecture

Olin Downes (center), N.Y. Times music critic, who addressed a mixed audience here last week at the Y.W. and Y.M.H.A. on the colored Americans' contribution to music, chats with Dr. J. Leslie Jones, president of the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts, while Dr. Hugo Weisgall, director of the school, looks on. The affair was in interest of the BIMA's forthcoming April Music Festival.

Winters Heard in Boston Recital

BOSTON — Lawrence Winters, baritone, was presented here in recital recently at the Rogers High School in a program of German, French and English songs, and a group of spirituals.

Mr. Winters, who served in World War II, has been starred on Broadway in "Porgy and Bess" and Call Me Mister."

television variety shows on WAAT's television station WATV. The "Cook's Caravan" platter spinner will have Dinah Washington, singer, and Flipp Philips, of Jazz Harmonic fame, among his guests.

INSPIRATION FROM TRUMAN:

Fight for Equal Rights Amid Hampton's Aims

CHICAGO — Lionel Hampton, America's foremost leader in music styling who is now in Chicago for a two-weeks stay at the Music Bowl, is a leader, also, in the fight for equal rights.

He pointed out this week that he originally denounced the race ban on records in 1946, stating, "It was my contention then and I am now more fully convinced that every form of racial discrimination or pattern that separates race from race must be eliminated.

"I was happy to have been among those to have the honor of appearing before President Truman in the Inaugural Gala, and to be recommended by the American Federation of Musicians to lead the Goodman band when Mr. Goodman became violently ill before the Inaugural Ball.

"These two opportunities of feeling the inspiration of the President stimulated me again to recognize the fact that there can be no compromise, no middle-of-the-road for discrimination in any form. It may be good for all of us to use high sounding phrases, to make pretty speeches, but each of us must start at some point and make some sacrifice to help win this great fight.

"I reiterate that we in the music business can make our small contribution in taking steps to see that our records are not called race records or have any other tag or identifying form."

Opera Company Seeking Performers for 'Aida'

WASHINGTON

The National Negro Opera Company is seeking singers, actors and dancers to appear in the production "Aida," to be presented at the Armory, April 30.

Auditions are being held daily at 1037 Evarts St. N.E. and at the YWCA every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights beginning at 7:30.

For further information call Mrs. Mary Cardwell Dawson, manager and director, on Decatur 5232.

'The Accused' at Regent Tops in Suspense Drama

One of the most exciting woman-hunts ever participated in by a movie audience was unreeled Thursday (yesterday), at the Regent Theatre when Paramount's suspense drama, "The Accused," made its bow to a rapt audience. As each new development advanced the plot of the engrossing story, suspense mounted apace, reaching a point seldom approached on the screen.

Thanks are due for an unusually exciting hour and a half to lovely Academy Award winner Loretta Young, her co-star Robert Cummings, and an excellent supporting cast headed by Wendell Corey, Sam Jaffe and Douglas Dick.

Woman Hunt Begins

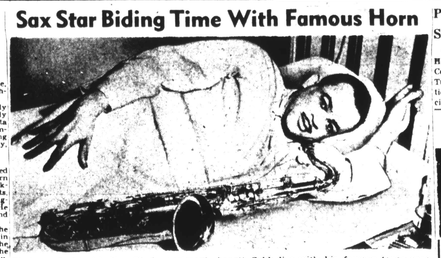
Miss Young plays an inhibited teacher of psychology in a Western university. On the pretext of seeking her advice, one of her students, a good-for-nothing Lothario (Douglas Dick) talks her into a date. He drives her to a secluded spot and attempts to attack her.

In a panic of fear and fury, she grabs hold of a fishing spear in his car and beats him over the head with it. When she sees she has killed him, horrified, she covers up her tracks and makes her way back to town.

As the woman-hunt closes in on her, the suspense she is under is shared by the audience. And what happens when her highly developed self-control finally breaks down is handled by Miss Young in a way to warrant another Academy Award.

The second feature, "Isn't It Romantic," co-stars Veronica Lake and Mona Freeman.

Sax Star Biding Time With Famous Horn



Photographed in his New York apartment, Arnett Cobb lies with his famous tenor saxophone at his side, waiting for the day when he'll be up and playing more of his honking, bouncing jazz numbers he made famous in theatres and night clubs and on Apollo records. Cobb has undergone two operations for a back ailment.

Pan-Hellenics Award Scholarship to Two

COATESVILLE, Pa.—The Pan-Hellenic Assembly of Chester County at its meeting here on Tuesday at the home of Dr. Whittier C. Atkinson selected recipients of two $50 scholarships.

One was voted to Theodore F. Hymes of Oxford, a freshman at Lincoln University. Miss Elsie L. Crawford of Philadelphia, who was second ranking student in her graduated last June from Downingtown Industrial School as the class, and is now attending Cheyney State Teachers College.
