FRILLS ONLY EXTERIOR

Many of you don't own an automobile and many other things, but you are probably far more happy than many of the folks you call "biggies." A lot of frills and tinsel don't always mean that on the inside everything is "peaches and cream."

Perhaps you sleep soundly every night; but many of your so-called "biggies" lay awake all night trying to figure out a way to keep the big bad wolf FROM coming to get little Red Riding Hood.

So when you hear folks talking about "big shots" and wondering how they do it, remember that when the snake is dead there will be no doubt as to its length.

Miss Sarah Hughes, Benjamin Brown Wed

with Lula Jones Garrett

Though rain changed plans for a ceremony on the lawn of the family summer home at Catonsville, Sarah L. Hughes was just as radiant as she swept down the stairs in the home to become the bride of Benjamin M. Brown, Saturday.

The ceremony took place at five o'clock and was performed by the uncle of the bride, the Rev. V. N. S. Hughes.

Given in marriage by her father, Dr. Hugh Price Hughes, Miss Hughes wore a gown of white nylon net. The bodice was topped by a brief cape and the ballerina skirt was alternating layers of nylon net, ruffles and rolled satin braid. She wore a wide white lace hat and carried white orchids and roses.

Her only attendant was her sister, Charlotte, who was gowned in aqua lace, and a Juliet cap of pink roses and ribbon. Dr. Barnett Rhetta Jr. was best man.

Louia Vaughn Jones, violinist, of the Howard University music department, and Mrs. Theresa Green Coleman, soloist, provided the nuptial music.

Only members of the families and a few close friends were guests during the ceremony and at the attending reception.

Mrs. Hughes, mother of the bride received in a gown of rose beige lace and chiffon, with which she wore a corsage of orchids.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown are graduates of Howard University and she is now with the Department of Public Welfare, in this city. He also won a degree from the University of Indiana and is a probation officer, here. He is the son of Dr. Benjamin and the late Mrs. Nettie Brown.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were:

Mrs. Georgia Henry, Washington; aunt of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Pope, Washington; uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Dr. and Mrs. Norman Harris, St. Washington;

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mitchell and son, Howie, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Osby, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. John Ridley, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Louia Jones and daughters, Grace and Rene, Washington; Miss Edna Henry, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beckham, Washington, and Mr. Graham, Washington.

And speaking of weddings, Lt. Ray Wallace, city school marm, and John Stokes of Sparrows Point perked up to Elkton a week or two back, for a quiet merger.

Come Sunday and cute Violet Winder will go to the altar with Dr. Leslie Winston of Cappahanock, Va. Rites are set for St. Peter Claver Catholic Church.

POT POURRI

Newlywed Jimmy LaForest (Mrs. Albert) was the guest in whose honor Bernice McDaniels entertained at luncheon, Saturday, at the latter's home in Wilson Park. Gallering for cards were Ks. Carter, Betty Bundars, Florella Charles, Gladine Adams, Anethia Williams and Harriet Peat.

Which brings up the topic of parties and the reminder that when the Monumental City Bar Association held its election, Saturday, at the Columbia Beach home of the John H. Hamptons, the rain and winds kept the boys off the beach, hence the group went in for a little game, much to the sorrow of H. Theodore Hayes and the delight of William Murphy and Bill Gosnell.

Later they went to the Wright cottage, where Mae Downs and her mother, Mrs. William Wright, entertained. Elsie Austin, attorney for the National Labor Relations Board; Mrs. M. Phillips and Dr. Grant Lucas of Washington, were other guests.

At the election E. Everett Lane went into the presidency to succeed Mr. Gosnell.

The Ladies of Today held their closing affair, a picnic, Sunday, at Elktonia Beach. Lunches were prepared by the girls for their husbands, escorts, and other guests.

Besides the fine swimming, the club and their guests also enjoyed badminton, pinochle, and dancing.

Hostesses included:

Mrs. Aloise Holliday, new president; Mrs. Sarah Banks, vice-president; Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Mrs. Ethel Cox, Mrs. Pauline Paysour, Miss Corinthia Green, Mrs. Palestine Anderson.

Mrs. Charlotte Johnson, Miss Julia Jenkins, Mrs. Rose Harcum, Miss Mary Horney, Mrs. Helena Hodge, Miss Evelyn Briton, Miss Mary Ransom and Mrs. Anne Blair.

Among guests were:

Thomas Wheadon, Walter Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall, Miss Evelyn Hall, Charles Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Humbles of Washington.

Come Saturday night and the Postal Alliance will pamper friends for a cruise down the Chesapeake. Tell me there're gay doings planned.

Ardell Jones and Ethlee Evans of this town flew out to Chicago, Wednesday, for the Saturday merger of Chicago schoolmarm, Gloria Collins and California's Leonard Jewell. The misses were classmates at Virginia State College.

On last week end the N. N. Club held its annual closing picnic.

This year the club members and guests were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wallace of Howardsville.

The charming host and hostess offered all the comforts of their lovely suburban home to their friends. Among the activities enjoyed were croquet, badminton, ping-pong, pinochle, and dancing. The day was topped off with a TV party in the evening.

The members of the club present were:

Ruth H. Jones, president; Ruth Marshall, recording secretary; Stella Gorham, corresponding secretary; Louise P. Brown, treasurer.
