Key-Mason Wedding at St. Peter Claver

The former Miss Frances E. Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Mason of Baltimore, became the bride of Paul Key, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Key of this city, in a nuptial mass performed by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Murphy at St. Peter Claver Catholic Church. Shown, left to right, are: Mr. and Mrs. Key, Miss Gertude Mello, bridesmaid, and Charles Wright, best man.

'Voters Think for Selves,' Neal Tells City Democrats

Joseph Neal, labor organizer, representing the city-wide Democratic Club, addressed the 1500 persons attending the State-wide rally of the primary campaign at Anderson Hotel, Wednesday night.

"The time is here when my people have decided to think for themselves. For that reason, they are not easily fooled," he told the assemblage.

"We will follow the leaders who prove themselves worthwhile," continued Mr. Neal, "and if they keep their words, we will go along with them."

Mrs. Alleyne Backs Lane

Called unexpectedly by the master of ceremonies, former Mayor Howard W. Jackson, was Mrs. Vivian Alleyne, of the 16th Ward Democratic Women, who challenged the candidates with:

"We are interested in Governor Lane's campaign, because it has a semblance of progress and democracy for all people; and we will be in his corner until we find out diffrently."

The rally was described by "old timers" as being one of the greatest ever held in the city. All counties and districts were represented by banners, with one group bringing a band.

Lane Introduces Truman

Governor Lane timed his speech so well that he was able to introduce the President of the United States, who spoke on the radio, to the audience.

Police did not estimate the crowd, which was above the reported 1500 persons expected. The crowds outside the ballroom equalled the number inside.

Newlywed Dows Party Honorees

by Barbara Prigmore

PHILADELPHIA

Elsinor, the picturesque estate of Mrs. Harriett W. Lemon in Yeadon, was the setting for a swank buffett slipper party given complimentary to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dow, on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lemon and her sister, Mrs. C. C. Clayton, were co-hostesses of the affair. The guests of honor were the erstwhile Nine E. Wright, daughter of Dr. Whittier C. Wright and the late Mrs. Gaynelle Wright and niece of the hostesses. The bridegroom is the son of Ezra J. Dow and nephew of Walter Gay Jr., attorney, and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Mosby. The couple were wed in Elkton on May 27.

"The bride was lovely in ice blue organdy and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Lemon was fashionably clad in apricot nylon over taffetta and her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Clayton selected smart dusty pink pure silk shirred cocktail dress and deep red rose corsage.

Over 100 guests assembled on the spacious lawn.

Mrs. Marcus Foster, lyric soprano, was soloist.

Members of the immediate family present were:

Mrs. L. B. Thompson, aunt of the bride; Messrs. and Mesdames Warren Vann and Warren, Jr.; K. C. Wright, father of the bride; Richard R. Wright the 4th, brother of bride; Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Dow, groom's parents; Walter Gay Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gay, Sr., Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Mosby and daughter, Miss Hell Dow, Nathan Dow, Lewis Dow.

The bride is a sophomore at Temple University and was the "Queen of Love and Beauty" of the Philadelphia Links, 1949-50 Coronation Ball. The bridegroom is a dental student at Temple University and West Philadelphia businessman.

SULLIVANS GIVE DINNER

ROBINSONS PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson were hosts at a gay picnic on their newly acquired eight-acre farm in Williamstown, N.J., Sunday.

Plans Complete for 27th NACW Biennial Session

Public Meeting, Church Service, Briefing Course on July 29-Aug. 5 Agenda at Shore

ATLANTIC CITY — All plans for the 27th biennial convention of the National Association of Colored Women to be held here July 29 to Aug. 5, have been completed according to Mrs. Ella P. Stewart, National President of Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Stewart, in conference with Mrs. H. Corrine Lowry, executive secretary, and the Administrative Board, put the finishing touches to the program at the National Headquarters in Washington.

The biennial will open with registration at Asbury Methodist Church, Bishop D. Ward Nichols of the AME Church, will preach the opening sermon at Union Baptist Temple, Sunday morning. Mrs. Eliza McCabe of Tacoma, Wash., chaplain, will assist the Rev. Matthew E. Neil, pastor, with the services.

The Public Education Meeting will be held at the Atlantic City Senior H. Sch. School, Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Stewart, making the keynote address, on the theme "Achieving Our Goals."

She will be introduced by past national president and chairman of Headquarters Board, Dr. Mary M. Bethune.

Others who will participate on the Sunday afternoon meeting are:

Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, Mrs. Bart L. Spain, president of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs with 52,000 members; Miss Susie V. Jones of NYC, president of the Northeast Region; Mayor Joseph Aktman of Atlantic City; Miss Estella M. Turner, president National Association of Colored Girls;

Mrs. Omega V. Mason, chairman of the New Jersey State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, host state; Mrs. Naomi Y. Hatcher, chairman, local committee; Mrs. Russell C. Caldin, president of the New Jersey Federation and National Convention chairman, who will preside over the opening meeting.

A special message to the youth will be delivered by Miss Dorothy M. Schwendimann, Senior, Howard University, Home Economics Department.

The Monday evening program, is to be devoted to the pioneers. Life memberships will be presented pioneers whose States have purchased them at $100 each and service awards will be made to past presidents and pioneers. Mrs. Stewart and state presidents.

Briefing Course

Wednesday afternoon will be devoted to a briefing course conducted by outstanding women, assigned to bring the club women of the NACW up to date in organization operation.

Featured discussants are Dr. Charlotte H. Brown, president of Palmer Memorial Institute, Sedalia, N.C., whose subject is "Educational Trends." Mrs. Daisy Lampkin of the Pittsburgh courier, "Organization Patterns".

Jeanetta Welch Brown, executive secretary, National Council of Negro Women, "Administrative Methods and Procedure in Club Life"; and Miss Mary Langford of the Planned Parenthood Association, "Group Dynamics."

Gold-flecked gems are muffins flavored to go with spring foods. Use your favorite plain muffin batter, but add one tablespoon grated orange rind to the mixture.

Stir lightly into flour mixture just until moistened, about 20 seconds; then drop batter into muffin pans. Sprinkle two teaspoons of orange sugar topping over each muffin before baking.

The topping is made by mixing one cup sugar and one tablespoon grated orange rind. Bake muffins in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes.

"Cream" Your Coffee at ½ Price!

Says MRS. RUFUS MARSHALL, JR. Los Angeles, California

Yes—Carnation Evaporated Milk costs less than half as much as cream...yet millions prefer it in their coffee! Undiluted Carnation has the consistency of good thick cream—is easy to whip. So no wonder it gives coffee such wonderful "creamy" color and flavor. Try it. And for all regular milk purposes, just restore part of the water removed by evaporation. Diluted 50-50, Carnation exceeds U.S. State standards for Grade A milk!

An Ideal Sandwich

Sandwiches that are excellent for a backyard picnic or snack are made with long finger rolls, hollowed out and filled with a mixture of chopped, hard-cooked eggs, chopped ripe olives, sliced celery and mayonnaise to moisten.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Tropical Freeze

(Serves 6)

½ cup orange juice
½ cup lemon juice
½ cups pineapple juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream

Combine fruit juices, peel and sugar. Whip cream until stiff. Fold juice mixture into whipped cream. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze. Stir once or twice until frozen.

Sunday night suppers will be popular if you place thin slices of luncheon meat in a skillet to brown with lard.

After turning meat once, break an egg over each piece and top with grated Swiss cheese. Cover pan and cook slowly until egg sets and cheese melts.

A quick appetizer to serve with chilled vegetable juices can be made by mixing grated tuna fish with tartar sauce and heaping the mixture on toasted crackers. Serve with lemon slivers and olives.

You can add interest to your next meat loaf by placing hard-cooked eggs, arranged end on end, in the center of the loaf when packing the meat mixture in the pan. When served, each will get a slice of egg.

If you like to have a lovely salad as the main dish for a hot weather luncheon, try this: arrange a mound of cottage cheese on shredded lettuce, then top with peach halves, fresh dark cherries which have been seeded and pineapple spears. Serve with creamy French dressing.

For a dessert that's a real treat, make two or three thin pancakes for each serving. Pour over them maple syrup and garnish with Make balls of cantaloupe, honeydew and watermelon. Serve in sherbert glasses with a sprinkling of lime juice for a delightful first or dessert course.

Cucumbers, Hot or Cold, Get Top Billing on Bargain Menu

VIRGINIA C. SHERBURNE, Food Economist

Vacation plans and week ends at the beach combine to make these busy days for the housewife. Now is the time to ease the work in the kitchen department to give mother more free time for other things. Summer meals should be easy-to-fix meals. The market list should be made up of lots of fresh fruits and vegetables which require little preparation for the table.

One of these vegetables is cucumbers in a summer salad or as a hot vegetable dish, they are easy to prepare and delightful to eat. Supplies are chiefly from Maryland this week, with some shipments from North Carolina and Virginia. Prices are low, making this summer vegetable a top "buy."

When buying, choose smooth dark green, firm, well-shaped cucumbers. They should have a greenish or whitish tip. It is not necessary to peal cucumbers if they are used raw. However, if they are to be cooked, they should be peeled, since the peel cooks more slowly than the pulp.

Bean Prices Down

Several other vegetables are economically priced. Maryland grown snap beans are very plentiful and low in price. California, New Jersey and Connecticut lettuce is also a good choice. Squash, from nearby offers interesting possibilities. Supplies are heavy and the price tags low. Onions are another economical suggestion. Most of these vegetables are good salad ingredients, which will combine well with the cucumbers. Maryland grown lima bean offerings are heavier this week.

Watermelons are the top fruit choice. Cantaloupes are also reasonable in cost. Blueberries continue to be quite plentiful. Peach receipts are increasing, but the quality is only fair. Early apples are now in the markets. These apples are the cooking varieties, and make excellent sauce and pies. Offerings are chiefly from Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia.

Eggs Good Buy

Meat prices are steady to slightly higher. Pork prices hold to last week end's quotations, but beef is up slightly. Veal and lamb show little change. Chickens are higher in cost, but remain a reasonable buy. Sausage and cold cuts are also good choices. Cheese is a little higher this week. Grade A large Eggs are a very economical "buy," especially with meat prices on the upward swing. Use them often, now.

Stewed Cucumbers

Cook peeled cucumbers sliced or cubed in small amount boiling water until tender, about 10 minutes. Serve. Season with salt pepper and butter, Hollandaise, or white sauce or sour cream.

Cucumber Salad with Sour Cream Dressing

T large cucumber, paprika, lettuce, sour cream dressing.

Chill cucumber; pare with fluted knife and slice thin crosswise. Serve with sour cream dressing sprinkled with paprika on crisp lettuce on individual salad plates.

Sour Cream Dressing

Half cup thick sour cream, 1 tablespoon vinegar, half teaspoon salt, tablespoon sugar.

Mix all ingredients and beat with a rotary beater until thick.

Yield: 4 servings.

SHE'S WITH THE ARMY!

MISS THELMA LEWIS

From the day Thelma Lewis graduated from Douglass High School, she has been working for the Government. For two years during the war, she worked in Washington—and at present, she is with the Second Army Headquarters at Camp Meade, Md., where she commutes every day from her home in Baltimore at 1640 Mountmor Court.

When she isn't "working for the Government"—Thelma is very active socially. Last year, she was president of the "YAGS"—one of the clubs at the YWCA. She is a member of Enon Baptist Church and sings in the Intermediate choir.

Quite naturally, she loves to dress smartly—but within her means. "That's why"—she says—"I love to shop at HENDIN'S. Their fashions are really exclusive and I can buy them on budget payments. That means so much to any working girl."

Newlywed David Freemans Given Wedding Reception

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Freeman, recently married, were given a reception by the bride's parents, Thomas Knox, attorney, and Mrs. Ruth Knox, in Morgan Christian Center, Saturday.

The bride, the former Miss Ethel C. Knox, is a graduate of Morgan State College and now a teacher in city schools. Mr. Freeman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Freeman of North Carolina and a graduate of the American Academy of Embalming and Mortuary Research, New York City.

Wears Sister's Gown

Mrs. Freeman wore the same gown in which her twin sister, Mrs. Edna K. Dungee, was married, a model of white satin trimmed with Irish lace, and made with a full skirt shirred to the bodice with a lace bustle and full train.

Her finger tip length veil was lace trimmed worn with a Juliet cap. She carried an old fashion bridal bouquet with gardenias and ivory satin streamers.

Mrs. Dungee was matron of honor. She wore an aqua brocaded satin gown with matching hat, and carried an all-fashioned bouquet of yellow roses.

Chaliapin Dungee was best man and Yvonne Lee-Dungee, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

The mother of the bride was dressed in gold moire taffeta with gold and white accessories, and wore an orchid corsage.

The ceremony was attended only by close relatives of the couple. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and the Rev. Mr. Williams of Annapolis performed the ceremony.

After their wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman are at home in Govans.

Among guests at the reception were:

Cook, Sanford Beasley, Mason Hawkins, Jr., Ulysses Valne, Jackson Truehart, William Barnes, Marshall Hill, Jr., Mesdames

Messrs. John Mosby, John Kiger Jr., Eli Jones, J. Walter Brooks, Herbert Graves, Dan Cunningham, Chaliapin Dungee, Herbert Gardiner, Mesdames Anne DeBriggs, Cornelia Maynor, Robinette Lawn, Myrtle Lee, Mildred Bryant, Oscar Davenport, Elizabeth Kiger, Edith Cook, Emma Walker, Lucy Hinton, Irene Truehart, Eva Morgan, Ruth Bonner.
