Baltimore Matron in Germany

Mrs. Clara R. Overton, physiotherapist in Baltimore schools and well-known civic worker, is shown here in Kitzingen, Germany, with her son, Lt. John C. Robinson, and his wife, Catherine.

Her first Sunday in Germany she attended the chapel services and met Major and Mrs. Scruggs of Los Angeles.

Last week was spent in Switzerland and Mrs. Overton said she enjoyed the beautiful hotels, the fascinating shops, and the general attitude of fellow tourists.

Scenery Magnificent

"The scenery is magnificent. We drove up the Alps to Burgenstock which is the highest point reached by cars and from there the mountain climbing by foot starts," she declared.

"I told them I would stay right there until they returned if they found it necessary to go any higher but we returned that evening in a raging thunder and rain storm."

To See 'Passion Play'

July 20, Mrs. Overton left there for Oberammergau to see the Passion Play and will continue traveling in Europe all the following week until she leaves for her home on August 1.

In this photograph, 3rd from left, is Mrs. Catherine Russell Robinson and next to her is Mrs. Overton. The two of them are greeting German friends.

2 'Yokers' Draw 4-Year Sentences

Two men drew four-year prison terms each, Wednesday, for the robbery of another man who said they "yoked" him on the street.

Andrew Brown of 307 Cherry Hill Rd., told Judge W. Conwell Smith that he was waiting for a bus on July 15 when Arthur Wright, 25, and Richard Carter, 28, grabbed him from behind.

He said he was thrown to the ground and his watch and wallet were taken during the struggle at the corner of Fairfield Rd. and Chesapeake Ave.

Caught near the scene shortly after the robbery, Wright and Carter, both of Fairfield, said Brown was intoxicated, and that he started a fight with Wright who was trying to help him to the bus stop.

They added that Brown took the wallet from his own pocket, and gave it to Wright. Brown's watch, they said, fell off during the tussle.

Continuing Tradition

When freshmen enroll at Fisk University in September, a third generation of Fiskites will be represented by Miss DuBois Williams of Baltimore, a June graduate of Douglass High School. Miss Williams is the granddaughter of Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, Class of '88, and daughter of Mrs. Yolande DuBois Williams, Class of '24. She received scholarships from Epsilon chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Phi Delta chapter of Baltimore and Fisk University.

Lane Leader Addresses Crowd at Cherry Hill Shopping Center

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, head of the Women's Division in the campaign to re-elect Governor Lane, spoke last night to the Democratic and Civic Organizations of Cherry Hill.

This mass meeting in the shopping center was attended by hundreds of Cherry Hill residents, as well as whole caravans of Lane supporters from other districts.

In support of the Governor's program for better schools, roads and mental institutions, Mrs. Whitehurst said:

"The few pennies tax on sales provide you and all other citizens of Maryland with better hospitals, better schools, and higher salaries for your teachers.

"Many of you only remember the few cents you pay, not realizing that what our Governor is trying to do is to improve conditions for all the people, so that we can preserve the way of life that has made us great."

Urging the group to vote for the continuance of the Governor's program, Mrs. Whitehurst concluded:

"Governor Lane has proved to you his interest in all the citizens of Maryland. Don't consider taking an untried person, who can only give you promises and who has no record for administration and governmental services."

Mrs. Whitehurst recently announced her own candidacy for election to the House of Representatives from the 4th District of Baltimore City.

Bus Driver Who Killed Employer Gets 10 Years

Pleading guilty to second-degree murde in the fatal stabbing of Herbert Diggs, his employe, Robert Blake, bus driver, was sentenced this morning (Friday) to ten years in the penitentiary

Joseph Ronsenthal, attorney for Blake, told Chief Judge W. Conwell Smith that the stabbing of the owner of the Diggs's Motor Coach Company was an "impulsive, drunken thing."

The attorney added, that in the opinion of surgeons such a stab wound usually is not fatal if sutured.

War Record Cited

Mr. Diggs had refused to remain in Provident Hospital for treatment. Letters were produced citing the defendant's "excellent" record in his hometown of Gastonia, N. C., and in the army.

In praising his character, Mrs. Martha Lyon, white, testified that she spoke for over 100 mothers whose children he drove to school.

Surrenders to Police

Blake, 33, of the 2200 block Warbrook Ave., stabbed Diggs at the man's home in the 3300 block N. Mount St. on June 2.

Diggs drove to Provident Hospital where he was treated, but refused to remain. Later he was rushed to Franklin Square Hospital where he died several hours later.

The chauffeur surrendered to Northwestern police the next day. It was said that he had had a disagreement with the employer over 52 holiday pay, earlier, on the day of the stabbing.

Built Fleet From Jitney

A former gardener, Mr. Diggs built his business from a jitney into 14 buses. The Diggs Motor Coach Company is located in the 1300 block N. Fremont Ave.

Blake, a war veteran and former prize fighter, is a native of Gaffonia, N. C. He had been driving for the Diggs company for about three years.

PENNSYLVANIA

Three Pennsylvania historical parks are on the "must" list.

Gettysburg Battlefield

Thousands annually visit the Gettysburg National Military Park, on Routes 15, 30 and 140 Here was the scene of the decisive battle of the Civil War when the Federal Army of the Potomac met the Confederate Army of North Virginia. Generals George Meade and Robert E. Lee were the two great leaders in this turning point of the Civil War.

Fort Necessity

Fort Necessity National Battlefield Site, west of Farmington on U.S. Route 40, achieved significance during the French and Indian Wars. George Washington was on his way to the French forts in western Pennsylvania in 1754 when he learned that a large detachment of the French was approaching. He ordered hurried fortifications to be built and appropriately called the protection, "Fort Necessity."

Valley Forge Encampment

Valley Forge, 18 miles north of Philadelphia, is of interest not only to Americans but to foreign tourists as well. Where Washington and his Continental Army suffered hunger and cold, is now a charmingly landscaped 1,600 acre park.

Many restorations have been made, including those of Washington's Headquarters and many huts which were used by the ragged Continental troops.

Two Men Held in $453 Burglary

Two men were placed under $2000 bail each, Thursday, in connection with the $453 burglary of a Fremont Ave. restaurant earlier that day.

The two were identified as Chester Strong, 27, of the 800 block W. Fayette St., who was arrested at pistol point and Matthew Spencer, 28, of the same block, Fayette St.

Strong pleaded guilty before Magistrate Julius Romano on charges of the burglary, of carrying a stolen pistol and a knife. The other man pleaded innocent.

Police said they were summoned to the restaurant around 1:30 a.m. by the sounding off of a burglary alarm.

They added that Spencer was arrested in an alley beside the building, while Strong, whose head was spied disappearing into a ventilator opening, was arrested at pistol point inside the place. The stolen money was recovered.

Human problems can all be solved.
