Capt. Moulton Leads Stars in 15-3 Win Over Macmen

Dukes Top Eagles, 10-2; Jr. Macs Win and Lose; Towson Co-Eds Bow in 20-0 Slugfest

Playing under their new manager and field captain, R. Moulton, the Senior Stars defeated the McCulloh Macs, 15-3, behind the three-hit hurling of E. Thomas in the senior loop of P. S. 122.

C. Chambers led the Stars' attack with a two-run homer and two doubles. Smith got two doubles and a single; Wilson, a triple; C. Thomas and Douglass, each doubled.

Royal Dukes Win

The Royal Dukes topped the Eagles, 10-2, with pinch-hitter Jones slamming a four-run homer, which sewed up the game for the Dukes.

The Dukes were outhit, 10-7, but took advantage of Watkins' wildness to score most of their runs.

The Junior Macs defeated the Junior Dukes 16-11, pounding out 22 hits to outlast the Dukes who poled 11 hits, making all count for runs.

In the second contest, the Wizards completely out-classed the Macs, 22-2, in a loosely played contest.

Co-Eds Win Slugfest

Behind the two-hit tossing of D. Wilkins and Welbourne, the Co-Eds of P. S. 122 whitewashed the Towson femmes, 20-0. R. Spicer, playing her first game of the season, contributed a home run.

Semi-Pros to Play at Westport

The semi-pros will take over Saturday night, July 29, at Westpork Park, in a 5-team double-header, featuring the Roosevelt Eagles of Baltimore, versus the Baltimore Black-Caps. South Baltimore in the opening contest.

The winner will play Culley's All-Stars, including Biggy Williams, Newark Eagles outfielder; Charlie Humbles, Elite Giants, and Sonny Muse and Toppy James, of the Edgewater Giants.

Baby Brothers, of Mt. Winans, will play shortstop on the all-star team.

The first game will get underway at 6:30 p.m.

Laymon Yokely, former Black Sox star, will play at least three innings.

Fred McClary, dean of colored umpires, will be on hand to make his first appearance in Baltimore this season.

Pep-Saddler Go Set for Sept. 6

NEW YORK — Willie Pep, featherweight champion, has tentatively agreed to face his once conqueror, Sammy Saddler, in a title bout to be held Sept. 6, in Yankee Stadium.

Pep, who recently decisioned Bobby Bell, of Washington, in a 10-round non-title go, will be facing Slammin Sam for the third time.

Saddler kayoed Pep in four rounds on Oct. 29 1948, for the feather disdm, but dropped it through decision in a return match on Feb. 11, 1949.

According to information, Pep will receive 45% of the gate, which is predicted will go above the $300,000 mark. Saddler will receive the challenger's end, 15%.

Satchel Paige to Face John Coleman in Westport Tilt

The Philadelphia Stars who hold a five to three edge in games played with the Elite Giants this season come to town Sunday, July 30, for a double-header at Westport Stadium, with the fabulous Satchel Paige added to their roster.

Paige positively will appear here, and the gangling ex-major league flinger is slated to start the first game.

The largest crowd since opening day is expected to be on hand for the twin-bill. Paige has been performing before hugh gatherings throughout the country since his return to the game following a stomach ailment. The former Cleveland Indian hurler, claims this was the cause that prevented the Indians from getting the best out of him. But everything is ok now and rubber-arm Paige is out to prove he hasn't lost the greatest pitcher in the game today.

Paige pitched in more than 2,000 games. It was an easy chore for him to whiff from 15 to 20 batters a game.

Paige is 6 feet, 3½ inches in height, and has been pitching for more than a quarter of a century and started to play for pay when he was 16, for Chattanooga Tenn. One season he won 24 games in a row for Quayama, Puerto Rico, and then he dropped the 25th game, 3-0.

The Stars' Jonas Gaines, one time Elite, may also see service Sunday, along with Joe Black and Al Wilmore Giant stalwart. The Elites are seeking a first baseman and a righthanded hitting outfielder to bolster their squad.

Nats Continue to Jag Tan Players

Minority Group Keeps Team Out of the Red

WASHINGTON

The crazy-quilt pattern of racial prejudice is well illustrated at Griffith Stadium — the home park of the Washington Nationals.

Although Clark Griffith stubbornly refuses to hire colored baseball players to bolster the fifth-place Nats, the Cleveland Indians with Larry Doby and Luke Easter are the biggest drawing card.

The Indians attract more baseball fans through the turnstiles at Griffith Stadium than either the Detroit Tigers or the New York Yankees. This undoubtedly is due to the presence in the line-up of Doby and Easter.

In the first place, Washington has a large number of colored baseball fans. In fact, during the lean years when attendance was at a low ebb, the colored fans kept Griff out of the red.

Besides the colored fans who flock to Griffith Stadium, a large number of white fans from Virginia and North Carolina motor here to see Doby and Easter.

MALL TENNIS MEET RESULTS:

Freeman Cops Junior Crown in Club Tourney

George Stewart, former national singles champion, a student at South Carolina State College, topped through the Mall Tennis Club's annual tournament, staged on Banneker courts, last week, to take the singles crown.

as she trounced Shirley Butler of Baltimore, 6-love and 6-love in the opening round; and Grace Clark of Baltimore, 6-3 and 6-1 in the semi.

Stewart, who was never extended to any great degree during the eliminations, won the final round in three straight sets over Los Angeles's Oscar Johnson, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-1.

The Panama-born netter waded through the tournament by defeating D.C. Elmore Crawford in the opening round, 6-1 and 6-2; the quarter-final round over Cornet Pryor of D.C., 6-0 and 6-2; and the semi-final round over Ronald Fieullateau of D.C., 6-4, 6-3 and 6-4.

Ethel Freeman Presiesd

Baltimore's very competent Ethel Freeman was extended in the finals of the women's singles as she defeated Tuskegee's Margaret Peters, 6-1 and 7-5 after dropping the second set at 4-6.

Until she engaged in the finals, Miss Freeman had an easy ride.

Harold Freeman of D.C. copped the junior singles over his Arguing schoolmate, Joe Carter, 6-3 and 6-4.

The men's doubles found the combination of Oscar Johnson and Ernest Ingram defeating Baltimore's William Jones and Douglas Henderson, 15-13, 10-8 and 7-5, in a real marathon.

The women's doubles was taken by the Dorothy Lopez and Margaret Peters duo over Jane Hudlin of St. Louis and Lucille Freeman of D.C. team, 6-1 and 6-3.

Carlton Dotson of Baltimore teamed with Harold Freeman of D.C. to whip the Cornet Pryor-Joe Carter D.C. combination for the junior doubles title, 10-8 and 7-5.

The tenth annual Mall tennis tourney was a four-day affair beginning on Thursday and running through Sunday.
