Vacationland NOTES

By IDA SMITH

Say You Saw It In The AFRO!

Travelers between Baltimore and Washington will be glad to learn about the opening of the Booker T. Washington Motel and Restaurant (above) on U.S. Route No. 1

The Washington has 15 modern cabins and is located only 22 miles from Washington and 18 miles from Baltimore, on Jessup Rd. One Spot, and his orchestra are the star attractions at Car's this Friday night for dancing on the shores of the Chesapeake.

The following picnics are scheduled for this week end from Baltimore:

National Plastic Box Co., Hutzler's Employees, Twilight Social Club, Five Sarrellas Club, Jolly Five's, the National Store Fixtures Co., Western Electric Employees, Point Breeze Club, Armco Steel Co. and Willing Workers Social Club.

Little Esther At Sparrows

Little Esther will be the outstanding attraction at Sparrows Beach on Sunday along with Johnny Otis, and his barrel-house all stars, plus Redd Lyte and his Four Blue Notes.

For a day of fun, of good swimming and just plain relaxation you'll enjoy Sparrows Beach.

Twins Born to 2 Married 18 Years

NEWARK

Mrs. Pauline Boyd, 36, of 137 Spruce St., who last week gave birth to twins, was scheduled to be released from Community Hospital, where the babies were born 13 hours and 20 minutes apart.

The twins, a boy and a girl, weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces; and 5 pounds 3½ ounces, respectively.

The girl, Janice, was born at 11:45 p.m., Aug. 1. The boy, James, followed at 1:05 p.m., Aug. 2. The hospital reports both are doing fine.

Mrs. Boyd, who is the former Miss Pauline Wright of Bainbridge, Ga., is the wife of James Boyd, 35, who is an employee of the American Cyanide Co. of Linden.

The couple, parents of four other children, have been married 18 years. They have been residents of Newark for more than 20 years. Mr. Boyd is a native of Texas.

ANNUAL PICNIC HELD AT KENTUCKY COLLEGE

FRANKFORD, Ky. — The annual summer session picnic was held in the garden of the home of Doctor and Mrs. R. B. Atwood, Kentucky State College, recently. Featured at the affair were games, dancing, cards and crocket. Folk dancing was led by Mrs. Zgwendolyn F. Jefferson, instructor of page.

Come on girls, you may be that lucky person launched on a TV and modeling career plus a grand trip to Atlantic City. Other prizes include clothes and jewelry.

This year, moving pictures will be made of the entire contest to be shown in Baltimore and Washington.

Thompson's Cafe Ruling Appealed

Old 'Rights' Laws Valid, Counsel Argues

WASHINGTON

Assistant Corporation Counsel Clark King said on Monday that he had filed notices of appeal in the new test case on Washington's laws banning discrimination in restaurants.

The Municipal Court of Appeals will be asked to reverse Judge Frank H. Myers' action of a week ago in quashing an information charging Thompson's restaurant with violation of the anti-segregation laws of 1872 and 1873.

Refused Because of Race

The complaint was brought by Mrs. Margaret Haywood, attorney for Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, Miss Jean J. Williams, and the Rev. Arthur E. Elmes who were refused service at Thompson's on July 27.

The refusal was solely because of the race of Mrs. Terrell and the Rev. Mr. Elmes.

In his action Judge Myers referred to his ruling of July 11, holding that the anti-segregation laws had been repealed by implication by the Organic Act of 1878.

He announced the ruling three months after he heard in March a previous test case growing out of discrimination at Thompson's. Mr. King argued that the statutes are valid and still in force in the District.

Parents Advised to Vaccinate Children

Dr. H. Maceo Williams, head of the Druid Hill Clinic, calls attention to parents that the State law requires a certificate of successful vaccination for smallpox before a child can enter school.

He advises parents to take their children to the family physician, or the Health Center, 1300 block Druid Hill Ave., beginning Aug. 28, from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., except Saturdays.

TO LIMIT ALLOTMENTS: House Group Opposes Aiding GI's Families

WASHINGTON

Most members of the House Armed Services Committee are against an administration proposal to give enlisted men with families a basic $75 per month with an additional $25 for each child.

This was brought out in testimony, Tuesday, during hearings in a closed session when Defense Department officials made such a proposal.

Under the present draft legislation an enlisted man below the rank of corporal is considered as not having any dependents.

This simply means that if a man with several children were drafted into the Armed Services he would get only the basic $75 per month, with not a dime for the maintenance of his family.

Current Schedule Listed

Current pay schedule for enlisted men is as follows:

Recruit—$75 a month; recruit after four months — $80; private, after about six months — $82.50; corporal — $117.50 to $191; sergeant — $139.65 to $227; first class sergeant — $169.05 to $249; master sergeant $198.45 to $294.

A corporal who has had less than seven years' experience is considered to have no dependents the same as for those in the lower grades.

A sergeant, not living in quarters provided by the Army, regardless of within grade promotions, receives $45 extra for lodgings if he has no dependents. If the Government provides the living quarters he does not get the $45. Sergeants with families get an extra $67.50, under the same conditions.

Fear Added Housing Expense

The House members who oppose enlisted men getting the extra $25 family allowance favor extension of the housing allowance in effect for sergeants to the three lower grades.

In World War II, an enlisted man with a family of 10 children could get up to $300 a month. The Defense Department favors re-enactment of a similar plan.

The committee says it is opposed to any such plan as this when a private could get as much money as high-ranking officers.

If the Administration has its way, service men will be required to contribute $30 of their pay each month to the overall allotment.

The committee, under the plan proposed by Rep. Carl A. Vinson, (Dem., Ga.) would demand 50 percent of the total from the serviceman's pay.

A commissioned officer, under present legislation, gets $21 a month extra for food, if single, and $42 if married. In addition they receive lodging allowances amounting to $60 a month for a single second lieutenant and $75 if he is married.

The committee shelved the Administration proposal for enlisted men's benefits before the rank of corporal with seven year's experience and instructed the Department of Defense to draw up legislation along the lines the committee proposes relative to extended lodging provisions.

Friends Made Sad by News of Wounding

WASHINGTON

Acquaintances in Washington of 2nd Lt. James Wilson Jr., 23, expressed deep sorrow on learning that he had been wounded in the Korean fighting.

When informed of Lieutenant Wilson's plight, Miss Juanita Allison, Geological Survey cartographer of 300 Oklahoma Ave., N.E., with whom the lieutenant and Mrs. Wilson resided before going to Japan, said she was "sorry to hear that he had been injured."

Lieutenant Wilson was formerly stationed at Fort Belvoir. He went to Japan, last October, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Jackson Wilson, formerly of Philadelphia and an employee of the General Accounting Office here, followed on June 15 of this year.

Married at Allison Home

They had only been married a month before he was sent to Japan. The ceremony was performed in Miss Allison's home.

The lieutenant is a native of Corona, N.Y., and the son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson of that city. He is a graduate of the Corona High School and the Fort Belvoir Engineering School.

He entered the Army during World War II at the age of 18. Miss Allison asked the AFRO to make it known that she is not a relative of the Wilsons, as many believe, but a very good friend.

Baby, 4½ Months, Wins

Calvin Elon Vann, four and one half months old won the grand prize in a beauty contest sponsored by the national officers of the National Beauty Cultural League and Cosmetology Association.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Vann of Washington.
