Make the Most of Milk in Week-End Planning

Proper Care Most Important in Handling Family's Milk

By RUSSELL C. HAWES
Marketing Specialist

June, in addition to daylight saving time, strawberry festivals, and roses, is also celebrated as "National Dairy Month."

This is the time of year when milk, one of nature's finest foods, is in plentiful supply. Production of milk is up due to a large extent to the increase in rate of production per cow. Most meal planners realize that milk is just about tops on all counts and is a "good buy," states Russell C. Hawes, marketing specialist, University of Maryland Extension Service.

Proper Care

The food values contained in milk make it advisable to use it often and regularly. It can be served in any meal and prepared in countless ways. Like eggs, it is a protective food, and like eggs, needs to be kept refrigerated. Take the milk from the doorstep as soon as it is delivered. Wipe the bottle or milk container off before placing the milk in the refrigerator. Leave the cover on until ready to use and be sure to wipe the top of the bottle before pouring the milk. There are countless ways of using milk, a favorite with most of us, is a cool glass of milk. Remember, at present prices, milk is one of the "best buys" in the food line, considering the amount of value received for the money spent for a quart of milk.

Week's "best buys" in fresh vegetables include cabbage, asparagus, beets, snap beans, potatoes, tomatoes, lettuce, and carrots. Maryland grown cabbage is at peak of production and is low in cost. Jersey beets are in abundance, also Western grown carrots. Snap beans are a newcomer to the "best buy" list. The bulk of offerings are coming from the Carolinas but light offerings are noted as coming from Virginia and Eastern Shore, Maryland. Maryland asparagus still is available and reasonable in cost. Liberal receipts of new potatoes from Alabama and the Carolinas continue to keep this important vegetable low in price.

Costs only 2c a week for the average family!

Spinach Casserole

½ cup milk
¼ pound processed cheese
½ teaspoon salt
18 teaspoons pepper
2 cups cooked, fresh spinach
1 cup Kellogg's Corn Flakes (corn flakes)

Heat milk and cheese in top of double boiler, stirring until cheese is melted. Add seasonings. Drain spinach thoroughly; place in casserole. Cover with cheese mixture. Sprinkle with crushed corn flakes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes.

Yield: 4 - 6 servings.

Serve Scalloped Eggs for Sunday night supper. This recipe is a tiered casserole dish made with layers of diced eggs, seasoned crushed corn flakes and a rich cream sauce. On second thought, it's good enough to serve when company comes, too.

"In fruits, it is grapefruit and oranges. Raspberries have made their initial bow but receipts are light. Blackberries, blueberries and strawberries also are available with the strawberry market slightly stronger. Honeydew melons, cantaloupes, and watermelons may be found in many food stores but are selling in the higher brackets.

Egg markets are holding steady. Crab meat, sea bass, frozen filets, and sea scallops are recommended "buys."

RECIPE

Spice Bread Pudding

1 cup bread cubes
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
One-eighth teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon molasses
2 cups milk, scalded

Arrange bread in greased baking dish. Dot with butter. Combine sugar, spices, and salt, and add to eggs, beating slightly. Add molasses and milk and blend. Pour over bread. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 to 50 minutes, or until firm. Serves 4.

Sweet Potato Rolls

This new roll innovation teams up nicely with spring salads.

Sweet Potato Rolls Team With Economy Meal Plans

Sweet potatoes are a spring "thrift" buy in vegetables, so plan to serve them often in the next few weeks. They fit in nicely with spring menus since they can be prepared in so many tempting ways. Baked sweets are always popular. Serve them steaming hot with a pat of fortified margarine melting down into their golden goodness. Of course, your family will want you to feature them in "candied" when they make a table appearance with baked ham or broiled chicken.

Sweet potatoes are also at home as an ingredient in breads. Sweet potato biscuits have long been popular in the south and are often served at wedding breakfasts. Try the recipe for Sweet Potato Rolls for a new cooking adventure. You will find the family will "dote" on the rich, characteristic flavor of these rolls.

Sweet Potato Rolls

3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons fortified margarine
2 cups mashed cooked warm sweet potatoes
8 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
1 cake yeast
1½ cups lukewarm, scalded milk

Add sugar, salt and margarine to mashed sweet potatoes. Blend thoroughly. Add 1 cup flour and mix well. Dissolve yeast in milk. Add to sweet potato mixture. Beat until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place for 1 hour. Gradually add remaining flour and work into a stiff dough. Knead well. Place dough in a margarined bowl and brush top with melted margarine. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk (about 1 hour). Shape into rolls. Place on margarined cookie sheet. Brush with melted margarine. Let rise until doubled in bulk (about 45 minutes). Bake in 375 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

Yield: 2½ dozen rolls.

Rhubarb Recipe

Here's a new idea for using vitamin-rich rhubarb that will be coming in from your spring garden. Make a delicious conserve.

This Rhubarb Conserve recipe is recommended by Natalie Russell, nutrition specialist at the University of Maryland.

Begin by combining 1 quart of chopped, unpeeled rhubarb, 2 pounds of sugar, ½ teaspoon of salt, and the juice and grated rind of 2 oranges and 2 lemons. Slowly dissolve the sugar, then boil rapidly until done, using the same method of testing it as you do for jams. Add 1 cup of blanched almonds, partially cool, and then pack, seal and store the conserve.

In making this recipe advises Mrs. Russell, be sure that you use the reddest stalks of rhubarb you can find. Since the color of rhubarb fades rapidly, store the conserve in a cool dry, dark place. To add real zest to a spring meal, spread the conserve generously over hot homemade biscuits.

Dr. Jenkins's Dinner for Morgan Degree Recipients

Morgan climaxed the greatest commencement in its history on June 4 at a dinner given by the board of trustees and president, Martin D. Jenkins, for the honorary degree recipients.

The day's unfortunate rain-soaked guests took on a new appearance as they entered the facility dining room of Morgan's Refectory, where they were greeted by flowers and the soft glow of the candlelight warmed any chill they might have received early in the day.

President Jenkins, as host, welcomed the guests and introduced them individually. Since it was a rather small gathering, there was an air of friendly chatter and warm intimacy. Mrs. Jenkins made a very lovely hostesses in her white cotton lace duster over a very demure dress of white pique. The outfit was topped off with a perfect white hat.

Davis Speaks

The after - dinner coffee was sipped as the guests listened to the speakers. First to take the floor was Dr. Carrington L. Davis who had received his honorary degree from Morgan earlier in the day. Dr. Davis told of the evolution of public school education in Maryland, and the part he and his colleagues had played in its advancement.

Following him was another recipient of a Morgan honorary degree, Congressman William L. Dawson, from Chicago. Dr. Dawson, in his usual suave manner, captured the audience with an excerpt from one of his most dramatic speeches to Congress, on segregation in the Armed Forces.

Governor Heard

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin delivered a speech on the history of the name "Free State of Maryland."

Dr. McKeldin, also a honorary degree recipient from Morgan, told of the strong foundation upon which the State was built. Religious tolerance is what has made the fair State of Maryland move ahead toward the goal of racial tolerance which he pledges his every effort to make effective.

To a surprised audience he announced the appointment of Dr. D. O. W. Holmes, president emeritus of Morgan, to the State Board of Education.

The air was filled with excitement as Dr. Ralph Bunche spoke in his soft but penetrating voice. He had received the honorary degree, bestowed on him by Morgan, with the same enthusiasm and dignity as he did the Nobel Prize.

He told of his efforts for five days to get Jewish and Arab leaders to shake hands signifying that peace would follow.

He expressed his belief that all problems, whether they be national or international, can be solved by people getting together.

"Human Relations will be the basis for world peace, and if used, some of our present day situations would be relieved if not altered," declared Dr. Bunche.

"Morgan has done itself a honor by awarding honorary degrees to such outstanding men," stated Judge Morris A. Soper, president of Morgan's board of trustees in his welcoming speech to the recipients and guests.

Tri-Cycle Set Models Styles at Little School's Festival

The Little School held its annual Spring Festival and Fashion Show last week at Metropolitan Church Sunday School under the direction of Mrs. Iona Collins, director, Miss Doris King and Mrs. Modelle Woodridge teachers.

The first part of the show was entitled, "A Mother Goose Party" with the high spot being a Scare Dance by the little 2 and 3 year olds Dwight Robinson, Deidre Jenkins, Marie Philips, Vianne Bailey, Anthony Caliaman, Judy Driggins, Deidre Johnson, and Ronnie Smith.

"Stars" Listed

Characters in the play included: Little Boy Blue, Donald Hall; Three Blind Mice, Paula Chester, Eva Lassiter, Cynthia Underwood; Little Miss Muffett, Elizabeth Ann Parker; Twinkle Little Star, Deidre Johnson; Jack and Jill, Vashti Smith and Judy Bernett; Little Bo Peep, Judy Driggins; Dutch Dance, Janice Hall and Jill Collins.

A parade of the Wooded Soldiers featured the boys in white with high white hats led by a red costumed Deidre Jenkins. Soldiers were:

Charles Woodford, Charles Carter, Ernest Reed, Phillip Tonkins, and James Conway.

Fashions Shown

The fashion show featured youngsters clothes under "Fun on the Beach," Kiddie Kasuals," "Easter Parade," "Party Time" and "June Bride.

Judy Driggins was a cute model in terry beach robe, and captivated the audience as she modeled her brief swim suit. Deidre Jenkins wore a white terry beach coat with hood lined in yellow and shaped like a rabbits' head.

Cynthia Dale Underwood wore play togs with yellow waffle pique play dress on a fitted bodice with multicolor bands on the skirt and matching shoes.

Easter Parade

Jill Collins was very sweet in a yellow duster over a white dotted swiss dress walking with Eva Lassiter in a, pink flowered cotton trimmed in white pique. Charles Woodford, Charles Carter replendent in white palm beach suits and Donald Hall in a beige palm beach suit stood up for what the men would be wearing.

The program closed with a June Bride scene and a solo by cute Edward Myers.

The bride was Cheryl Jackson, in white eyelet organdy, and the bridesmaids were Jenifer DeLeavarand Eva Lassiter.
