'First Run' Films of The Week in Review

By E. B. REA

Ray Milland and Nacy Davis have top roles in MGM's "Night Into Morning," the gripping drama of a love so great that it threatens the existence of a man, now at the Harlem.

Milland snacts a college professor (Philip Ainley) whose interest are equally divided between his teaching career and his devotion to his wife Annie Ainley, played by Rosemary De Camp, and his young son, Timmy, enacted by John Jeffrey.

STORY TOLD AT MET

Heralded as the season's outstanding film, "Kon-Tiki," also the title of a book now at the Met counts the adventures during a perilous journey from Peru to Polynesia.

The death-defying trip of 4,300 miles, which lasts 101 days, is a smashing factual drama of fabulous adventure.

HOUSE ON TELEGRAPH HILL' AT THE REGENT

Richard Basehart, Valentina Cortesa and William Lundigan star in the romantic suspense drama, "House on Telegraph Hill," now at the Regent.

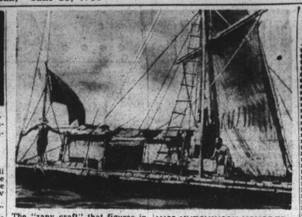
The film depicts the mystery that surrounds a millionaire's mansion, in San Francisco, when it is inherited by a European concentration camp refugee.

TWO SHOCKING GIRL DRAMAS AT NEW ALBERT

Two films depicting the sordid conditions of America's female juvenile delinquents provide the double feature program at the New Albert.

The first, "Girls of the Road," is a dramatic account of the shocking conditions to which the girl hoboes are exposed in their "jungles," or gathering places.

The second, "Girls Under 21," shows the equally shocking, if less spectacular, environment of the big city slum district and its corroding effect on the young girls who inhabit it.



The "zany craft" that figures in an expedition from Peru to Polynesia as told in "Kon-Tiki," now at the Met Theatre.

"An optimist sees an opportunity in every calamity; a pessimist sees a calamity in every opportunity."—Anon.

WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth W. Hutchinson were hosts at a marriage reception Saturday in honor of their daughter, Laura Virginia, and William G. Tempkins.

MODERN TIMES

If Little Red Riding Hood lived today,
The modern girl would scorn her.
She only had to face one wolf,
Not one on every corner.

Gateway to Gayway

By GEORGE D. TYLER

Howdee, Bub! We dood it again. Launching a series of Carnival nites, with a Cuban air, at the OLDE MILL last Friday, yours truly and the Charles Beckles Trio and featuring that incomparable, quick change artist, Doc Woingust, the jernt has really rocked.

Guest artists have included Jimmy Clark, singer, who will appear over the weekend; Mary Richardson, Christine Beckles, Slim Taylor, baritone soloist Edmonds; Wee Bea Boore, Willie Jones and WSID's disc jockey Franklin.

Listed among the prominents were:

At Prestwidge, Walter Clark, Zonia, Douglass Yates, Paul Chester, the Charmettes, the Wingoes, Toni, Robert Baptist, James Paschell and Sedalia, of the Savoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Cula will be crowned comes closing nite June 28. A MATINEE IS SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY, beginning at 4 p.m.

New Carlton Plaza

Mrs. Sue Moore is concentrating her interest on developing the Carlton Plaza County Club, formerly SCARLETTS, come Sunday, and visitors to the popular suburban club at Westminister will be entertained by that delovely song stylist Dorothy Lee and her combo from 4 p.m. til midnite. Tiny Grimes and his orchestra will hold sway for the July 4th celebration.

The Charles Beckles Trio made a duo of appearances Tuesday via WAAM-TV.

Johnny Sparrow and his Bows and Arrows returned to the FROLIC last Friday which once again places this rendy among the most sought-after Stroll lounges.

Another Pop Saxer and his trio is making the folks treke to BERNK's. It's Wilbur Phillips of 4 Links fame who plezes on weekends while the Jimmy Perry Trio starts the week off. For reasonable prices, courteous service and continuous dancing trip to the famous "home of happy tootsies," the KNOTTY PINE.

Spent a few minutes with our ole pal Bill Lindsay, and am happy to report he is coming along fine and sends greetings to yosse guys and gals.

The COMEDY'S next attraction moves in Monday nite. It is the terrific Rene Hall Trio, plus Dennis on the piano in-between.

Tiny Davis Coming

GAMBY's new musical bar gets underway June 29, with robust Tiny Davis and her Hell Divers, a glamor gal sexteet, plus "Bass" Davis and his Rocketes.

Sam Schaffer, of the RAIN BOW, opened his new package goods store this week.

Emmanuel, the personable electric organ artist, is still drawing heavily at the CLUB 1017. Ditto Zetta at the 909 Club.

"Doc" Woingust held open house Sunday at his McCulloh Street realty office. A large and appreciative crowd was on hand to wish him success. Mrs. George (Reda) Watty here visiting her sister with "Reds" expected in from Buffalo soon. The 311 to give the public a new combo this weekend. Always the same fine, cordial service by Becky and her staff.

WRONG CONNECTION

"So you met your wife at a dance, did you? Gosh, that must have been romantic."

"No—embarrassing. I thought she was at home taking care of the kids."

THE MOST DIFFERENT PICTURE SINCE MOVIES BEGAN!
The amazing saga of six men who deliberately risked their lives to prove a theory! On a primitive-type raft of balsa logs they drifted over uncharted seas from Peru to the isles where the hula girls wait! 101 days and 4,300 miles of storm, sunshine, peril and peace. No contact with civilization. No sight of ship or shore. Nothing but themselves and their astounding adventures with strange man-eating monsters of the deep—and their heroic efforts to keep busy, alive—and afloat! . . . An epic of daring—hailed as the greatest sea adventure of our times!

Drink of the wine that goeth down sweetly

Of such wine as this did the poets of long ago sing their praises. The plumpest Concord grapes, sweetened by the fire of summer suns, give Mt. Zion Wine an exotic bouquet and flavor. Raise thy glass and drink of this purple nectar . . . Mt. Zion, the wine that goeth down sweetly.

Wesley Williams on School Board

WASHINGTON

Wesley S. Williams, 443 Kenyon St., N.W., local civil and criminal lawyer and a dark horse, was appointed a member of the Board of Education Wednesday, the Board of Judges announced. Mr. Williams succeeds Woolsey W. Hall who has been on the board since last November, filling the unexpired term of John Wilson who retired. Mr. Williams was one of two members appointed to three-year terms.

The other is Mrs. Arcadia N. Phillips, white, connected with local real estate interests. She succeeds Mrs. Lenore Smith. C. Melvin Sharpe, president of the board, was reappointed.

In a statement to the AFRO Wednesday, Mr. Williams stated he has no individual program but "shall be a part of the board and will take this opportunity to serve the whole community."

WESLEY S. WILLIAMS

He said he is happily pleased and wants to thank the Board of Judges for having selected him.

"Greatly Surprised"

"I realize it was they who made the choice. I had no civic or other indorsement as such. I knew I was being considered but was greatly surprised to be selected at this time."

The Williamses came to Washington about ten years ago shortly after they were married. They have two children, Wesley Jr., 8 and Marialice, 5.

Mr. Williams is a native of Philadelphia and was graduated from the Central High School and the Philadelphia College of Law from which he received a Bachelor and Master of Jurisprudence degree. He also attended the Pennsylvania School of Social Work.

Weather: Above Normal Temperatures and Rain

For the fourth consecutive week the Weather Man has predicted rain over the week end. However, instead of saying "thunder storms" in his long range forecast, he said "scattered showers likely."

The temperature for the period will average slightly above normal, he said. The normal high is 84, the low, 65.

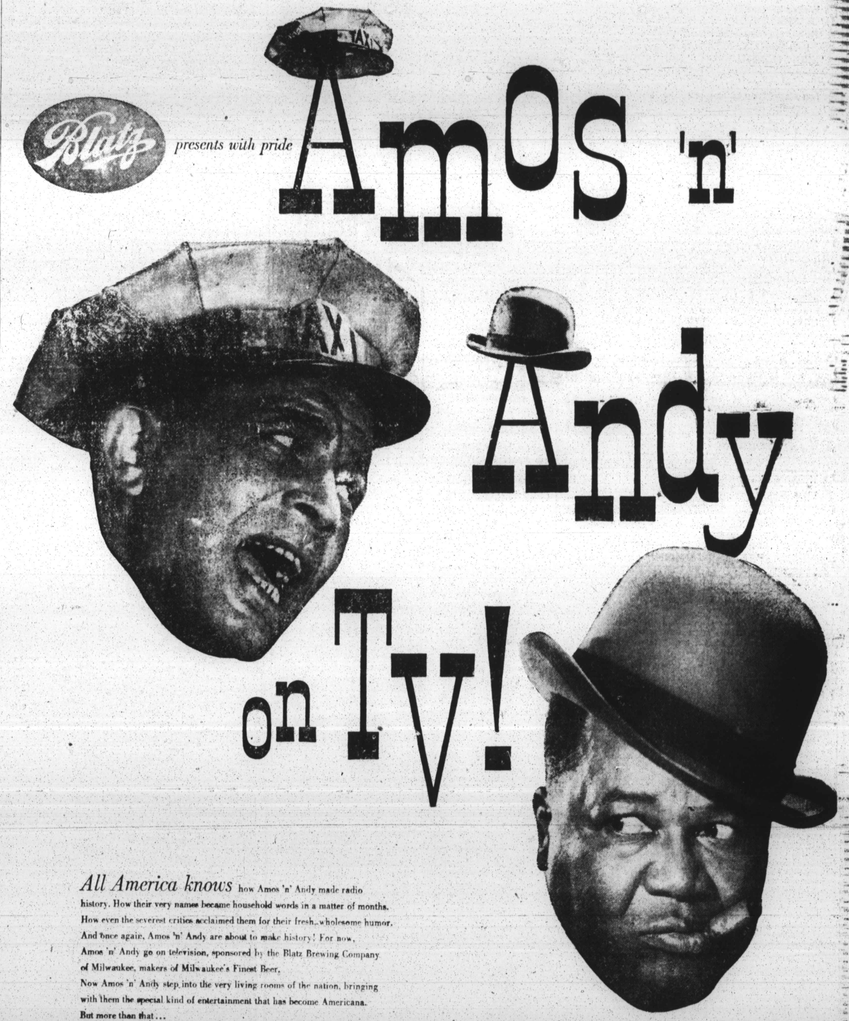
Blatz presents with pride AMOS 'n' Andy on TV!



All America knows how Amos 'n' Andy made radio history. How their very names became household words in a matter of months. How even the severest critics acclaimed them for their fresh, wholesome humor. And once again, Amos 'n' Andy are about to make history! For now, Amos 'n' Andy go on television, sponsored by the Blatz Brewing Company of Milwaukee, makers of Milwaukee's Finest Beer.

Now Amos 'n' Andy step into the very living rooms of the nation, bringing with them the special kind of entertainment that has become Americana. But more than that...

For the first time on television, America can see —is privileged to see—an all-star cast...an all-Negro cast...in a sterling half-hour of human drama and warm comedy. To see it week after week after week. This is not just another television program. This is the start of an era—an even greater era than the one Amos 'n' Andy created in the past.

Don't fail to see the opening show, week of June 24th, on CBS

Consult your local newspaper for time and channel.
