It's Yule in Norfolk As Radio Gifts Arrive

NORFOLK, Va. — The fruits of Mrs. William Lee's lone enterprise are beginning to fall at the Longwood home of the woman who identified "Isaac Murphy" and stopped the music to the tune of $10,000 in May.

A few days after the program a 52-diamond-studded wrist-watch arrived, then a $1,500 siver service for 12, a wallet containing $500 and a steady flow of other gifts that have the former-crch organist and her husband, a Navy Yard engineer, feeling an unseasonable Christmas.

'First Run' Films of The Week in Review

By E. B. REA

The bold attempt by a ragged army of Canadian backwoodsmen to seize control of an empire is the exciting theme of "Quebec," now at the Met.

Here is a welcome and skillful blending of wide-range action, romance and suspense, filmed in color and based on an actual incident.

With John Barrymore Jr., exotic Corinne Calvet, Patric Knowles and Barbara Rush heading a large cast, the film relates for the first time the inside story of a vast rebellion aimed at seizing the walled city of Quebec and overthrowing British rule in Canada.

CAST OF OVER 7,000 IN REGENT THRILLER

The largest cast ever assembled for any motion picture can be seen in "Fabiola," now showing at the Regent, with more than 7,000 actors and actresses.

Heading the gigantic cast are Michele Morgan, Henri Vidal and Michel Simon.

The film is called the motion picture industry's most ambitious effort to date to re-create the monumental panorama of the world of the past, when the Christian ideals of love and kindliness found themselves face to face with the savage, barbaric lusts of Roman paganism.

THE GREAT CARUSO NOW AT THE HARLEM

With what is undoubtedly the greatest array of singing talent ever brought to the screen, MGM's "The Great Caruso," now at the Harlem, is a drama of the life and career of the immortal tenor, Enrico Caruso.

Mario Lanza, Metropolitan Opera Star, is cast in the Caruso role with Ann Blyth enacting the young society beauty who became Mrs. Caruso.

The dramatic story enlists such renowned stars as Dorothy Kirsten, Jarmila Novotna, Blanche Thebom, Teresa Celli, Nicola Moscona, Guiseppi Valdengo, Lucine Amara and Marina Koshetz.

"LITTLE BIG HORN" FILM FARE FOR ALL

Entertainment to suit the taste of all is incorporated in "Little Big Horn," now showing at the New Albert, along with "Pier 23."

Lloyd Bridges and Marie Windsor heads the cast of "Little Big Horn," a story of the great battles between the U.S. Cavalry and the Sioux Indians on the Dakota frontier.

"Pier 23," starring Hugh Beaumont and Ann Savage, brings a double dose of thrills and actions built around an underworld murder.

COMMUNISTS EXPOSED IN ROYAL THRILLER

The story of a daring undercover Federal agent, Matt Cvetic, based on a series of articles describing his dashing activities, is being unfolded on the Royal screen in "I Was a Communist for the FBI."

Frank Lovejoy plays the title role of the intrepid Cvetic, who went underground for an amazing nine-year period during which even his family didn't know what he was doing.

Only the FBI and his priest knew that throughout the war, instead of being on some far-flung battlefront, Cvetic was living through some mighty thrilling and dangerous experiences right in his own home town in the double-life role he was playing.

Dorothy Hart heads the strong supporting cast.

The second feature is "Lullaby on Broadway" co-starring Doris Day and Gene Nelson.

GRAYSON, MISS FIELD WIN LEADING ROLES

Margaret Field and Richard Grayson have the lead roles in Columbia's "Chain of Circumstances." Grayson, a student of drama coach Benno Schneider, won the role as a result of a screen test.

Spotlighted at Carr's July 4

Dinah Washington, queen of the juke boxes, will share the spotlight with the X-Rays, hot recording combo, Wednesday, July 4, at Carr's Beach.

Gateway to Gayway

By GEORGE D. TYLER

George (Reds) Watty, formerly of the Royal Theatre, completed his vacation here this week and returned to NYC to resume his chores for the MGM corporation.

The organ playing of Joe Small, currently at the COMEDY, is the talk of the town. The Dixon's continue to operate the smarter sets' most popular music bar: offering top attractions.

The CARLTON PLAZA Country Club has inked Tiny Grimes and his popular instrumental, vocal and novelty combo, for a four-day stretch, including July 4, when the management will pull a real "Declaration of Independence" celebration. The SAVOY is dickering for the service of Joe (Mother) Smothers, versatile entertainer and quite a local favorite.

On closing night, revelers included: Bert of the AVENUE, Scarlett, of the Carlton Plaza, Tally Warren, formerly of the Jolly Spot, Zerita and Eloise of Club 909 and many others. The affair, sponsored by the OLDE MILL management, offered music by the Charles Beckles Trio with the voices of Earl O'Mara and Christine Beckles and your columnist as guest emcee.

July 10 is slated for the return of amateur shows. Last year's numbers include Bill Franklin, now a regular WSID disc jockey, and another Bill who at present is a member of the Royal Theatre, completed his vacation here this week and returned to NYC to resume his chores for the MGM corporation.

Like Old Man River

Musicians come and go but Emmanuel, the electric organist, keeps on pleasing the crowds at Club 1017 with his music and crooning. A couple of red hot combos divide the week at BERNE's, to which "Reds" is about ready to return as host, since a rest at Fort Howard hospital, plus the terrific Wilbur Phillips' combo featuring the 88 work of Danny Heywood.

Johnny Sparrow to depart for Atlantic City soon. Peaches Webb, canary, inked into Paradise, already has made her departure. Dot Kelly sings, stylish, made her debut at the HILLTOP last week.

Recommended for music lovers —The ZANZIBAR, where Thurlow Jackson is presenting the Leola Bennett Combo at PHIL'S; Eddie Clough at the Savoy; Purnell Rice at EDDIE's and Noble Johnson at Club 13.

Elsie Jones, of Roy JONES' HIDEAWAY, jetticed out many natal greetings last week. The PRESTON gang again o.k. and among the revelers.

Music Guild Closes Season

The Baltimore Music Guild of the National Association of Negro Musicians, Mrs. Mamie R. Fraser, president, met at the home of Miss Maude LaForest, 822 N. Fremont St. for its final meeting of the season.

Delegates to the national convention, in Washington on August 19th through the 24th will be Marie Franklin, Emma Poulson and Lycurgus Bond.

A report was given by Mrs. Emma Poulson, who heads the Junior Division.

New Branches of

Two branches were organized, one in East Baltimore and the other in Turners Station. These were added to the West Baltimore Branch.

Books for the annual Baby Contest were distributed by the chairman, Mrs. Margaret Blake. The contest will be held on July 1, at Union Baptist Church.

A new member, Miss Elizabeth Carr, was presented to the Guild

Kemps Band Ends Concert Season

Kemp's concert band has closed its 1951 season after a 16-concert schedule, which presented some 10 youthful artists.

The band, composed of high school pupils, and conducted by Charles Kemp, who will graduate from Douglass High School in February, will continue in rehearsal throughout the summer.

Rehearsals will be held on Thursdays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. at 1133 Harlem Avenue, in the music studio shared with the Young People's Community Choir, directed by Shellman Johnson.

Among the young artists presented during the season were: Sophie Williams and Elmer Boone, pianists; Robert Wilson and White, Sylvester Reese and Major Watkins Jr., instrumentalists; Shellman Johnson, organist; James E. Thomas, dramatic reader, and The Mel-Tones, a teen-age swing ensemble.

The band's roster includes members from Douglass, Dunbar and Morgan State College.

Moments Musical

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Despite the lateness of the season a large audience heard Faustina Hall Tate, soprano, in recital last week at Sharon Baptist Church.

Miss Tate, who was listed as a dramatic lyric soprano, presented a pleasing program of well known concert favorites. She possesses a voice of wide range and considerable flexibility.

The singer has mastered the production of pretty pianissimo very soft tones and uses them frequently. Between this and full voice there is a wide variety of shading which might have been employed.

Interestingly enough, Miss Tate sang the entire program in English, with the exception of Handel's "Care Selve." Of the German art songs there was "Solvier's Song" by the Norwegian composer Grieg and the ever-fresh "Hedge Roses" (Schubert).

The aria of the evening was the famous Air de Salome from the French composer, Massenet's "Herodiad." Lighter classics included "My Hero," "Summer Time," "L'Amous-Toujours-L'Amour" and a selection from the "Merry Widow."

In the third group of songs, the soloist was at her best in "Clouds" (Charles) and "Love's a Merchant." These especially suited the lilting brightness of her style.

Of the five spirituals (one an encore) the plaintive sweetness of "Talk About a Child That Do Love Jesus" seemed most appealing to the audience. Miss Mildred Williams, organist and choir director of Sharon Church, supplied effective support at the piano.

Mrs. Virginia Brown, who coached her recital with Deacon Charles Lewis, was mistress of ceremonies. The recital was sponsored by three organizations of the church.

Baltimore has reason to be proud that one of its gifted daughters, Theressa Goldie Green, who received one of the Whitney scholarships recently awarded outstanding singers.

Miss Green, who thrilled her listeners when she sang here this spring with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, has achieved fresh triumphs on television recently.

With her experience in grand opera, that began at Douglas High School, under the tutelage of the late W. Lewellyn Wilson and continued at Curtis and Juilliard, it is hoped that she will be among the first of her group to sing with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Sarah Vaughn in Pacific Coast Spot

SAN FRANCISCO — Sarah Vaughan, the gone gal with the magic voice, is scoring one of the greatest triumphs of her career in her current appearance at Ciro's week date last Wednesday.

Playing to a capacity audience the Golden Gate city's smart-set nitery, where she opened a two-at each of her three opening night shows at Ciro's, Sarah appeared headed for a record-breaking engagement at the famed night spot.

Prior to opening here, the magic-voiced song stylist had broken all attendance records in a two-week date at the Tiffany Club, Los Angeles, and had also played to record-breaking crowds on a series of one night stands in key localities of California.

Sarah is currently riding with one of the nation's biggest hit records in her Columbia waxing of "These Things I Offer You," a lovely ballad from the prolific pens of the song-writing team of Bennie Benjamin and Sol Marcus.

Sarah's record already has passed the 200,000 mark in sales in less than six weeks and all indications point to it becoming her first million-copy disc seller.
