Margaret Field is the inhibited bride of Robert Clarke in "Modern Marriage" now at the Royal. On this same bill, for adults only, is the daring screen feature, "The Shocking Truth — the story of Damaged Lives" and C. John Kinsey, noted sex lecturer on the stage.

Rugged Richard Widmark (right) issues last minute orders to his men as they prepare to embark on a special demolition job in a scene from Twentieth Century-Fox's "The Frogmen," now playing at the Regent Theatre. Dana Andrews and Gary Merrill co-star with Widmark in this Naval story.

Lt Van Johnson makes unexpected use of a pocket guide to Italy when he meets a pretty girl between moments of fighting in "Go For Broke!" MGM's exciting new drama, now showing at the Harlem Theatre. The girl is Gianna Canale, Italian beauty contest winner making her Hollywood debut in the story of the heroes of World War II's famed 442nd Regimental Combat Team.

'First Run' Films of The Week in Review

By IDA M. SMITH

ROBINSON-TURPIN BOUT AT NEW ALBERT

Exclusive fight pictures of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Randy Turpin fight will be the feature attraction at the New Albert Theatre starting Friday (today). The film is full length, as filmed in England, uncut, uncensored, 15 rounds, blow by blow. The Robinson picture starts at 11 a.m. with other showings at 1 p.m., 3:30 p.m., 5:30 p.m., 8:15 p.m. and 10:40 p.m.

The regular screen show is an exciting western re-release, "Dakota" starring John Wayne.

Wayne is at his romantic and rugged best as Devlin, and Vera-Ralston is lovely as Sandra. Walter Brennan turns in his usual fine performance as Captain Bounce and Ward Bond, Ona Munson, Hugo Haas and Mike Mazurki are seen in important roles.

MET HAS HARD-HITTING 'ACE IN THE HOLE'

A dynamite-loaded performance by Kirk Douglas, a smoldering characterization by sultry Jan Sterling, and a no-holds-barred story have been skillfully packaged in Paramount's "Ace In The Hole."

The result is a jolingly realistic picture that has enough violence, shock and suspense to rock the most imperturbable film-goer.

As the unscrupulous reporter who tries to drive down everything and everyone that stands in his way, Kirk Douglas gives a virile and vivid performance that overshadows the smashing masculinity of his fine performance in "Champion."

Savage Characterization

Few male performers have ever created a more savage characterization, Torrid Jan Sterling is volatile and venomous as the faithless wife who blocks the reporter's return to the big time.

Herr is a brutally convincing delineation of a well-shaped and wicked woman.

There are also many fine assisting performances which add dimension and credibility to an honest, provocative and highly exciting film.

As a concise and biting commentary on human behavior, as the graphic account of a disaster, and as the drama of two men and a woman in tense conflict, "Ace In The Hole" rates as standout entertainment.

'GO FOR BROKE' AT HARLEM

One of the great motion pictures that has come along in the last year or so was "Battleground"! Now, Dore Schary, who made "Battleground," (now at the Harlem), brings you another outstanding production, "Go For Broke" with the same earthy humor, the same high courage and excitement. "Go For Broke" is an unusual title.

It means "shoot the works"—and it was the battle cry of an unusual bunch of men—the unsung heroes of the 442nd U. S. Infantry. They were a handful of men with a heartful of courage who carved themselves a hunk of glory in one of the most explosive chapters in America's fighting history.

Starring Van Johnson and the fighting men of the 442nd Regiment is a rousing, roaring picture! It packs laughter, stark action and rich human drama!

'FROGMEN' AT REGENT

As its title implies, "The Frogmen," now playing at the Regent Theatre, is a strange and exciting film. Taking the little known story of the Underwater Demolition Teams of the Navy in World War II, Twentieth Century-Fox has fashioned a gripping picturization of these intrepid "paddlefoot commandos" which is action-packed from start to finish.

After sitting on the edge of the seat throughout the unfolding of this sea drama, it is easy to understand why Director Lloyd Bacon said, after three months of filming, that "this is the roughest screen work I have ever seen done." We certainly agree.

Gruelling Tale

The picture takes you into the water, under water and on the sea in telling the hazardous and gruelling tale of what these UDT men went through in spear-heading every Allied invasion from Sicily to Okinawa.

You'll cheer their bravery and you'll shiver at their exploits. The climax to this thrilling adventure, filmed in picturesque Bivini Bay in the Virgin Islands, will practically blast you out of your seat with the intensity of its bombardment and fireworks.

Moments Musical

By ADAH K. JENKINS

On one of the warmest nights (if, "ever in July, 31 enthusiastic singers of the Young People's Community Choir appeared in an extensive concert at Allen AME Church.

The choir is composed of high school pupils and is conducted by Shellman Johnson, a Douglass High School lad of amazing talent, initiative and vigor. Already he is a pianist, organist and composer of promise. His "Choral Nocturne," a romantic composition, was sung by a mixed quartet during the program.

He seems to have been influenced considerably by the conducting technique of Fred Waring and used his "Onward Christain Soldiers," "This Is My Country" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Good Stage Deportment

Other numbers included, "The Holy City" (Adams), "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess" and "Dedication." One of the most effective offerings was the dynamic "Russian Picnic," which was followed by "Sylvia" (Speaks).

The choir possesses good stage deportment and uses excellent diction. The voices are fresh, true and most responsive. The male contingent could well be the envy of many a non professional adult chorus.

Given time and continued study Johnson should become an outstanding choral conductor. Problems of tonal balance and phrasing will then be mastered.

The Young People's Community Choir contains a wealth of solo material. Those heard last week were Shirleen Boardley, Theodore Rice, Edward Prajiler, Vernon Johnson and Senya Washington. Lammond Hunter, pianist, rendered a solo that was well received.

There were several presentations by small ensembles, with Doris Cole and Early Lockett singing "Lover Come Back to Me." The famous "Alleluia" by Mozart was done by Audrey Seabrook, Shirley Johnson and Lucretia Gray, who gave a balanced and smooth performance.

Mr. Johnson's composition was sung by Inez Burch, Ruth Johnson, Victor Talley and Earl Lockett. The technique for training small ensembles, whether vocal or instrumental, presents somewhat different problems from those attending choral work.

With concentration upon these special techniques, no doubt, the smaller groups will become as proficient as the choir.

Bettye Green was narrator for one of the Waring choruses and Sophie Williams proved a capable accompanist for the choir, although using at times a tone more powerful than seemed necessary.

During these times when every newspaper and magazine seems filled with tragic stories of unhappy is more heartening to see and hear young people who have misjudged the Young People's Community values and made poor choices. H.Choir.

MEDDLERS

I sometimes wonder if just plain old meddling isn't another trait of human nature or is it just that some folks acquire the habit by way of want of something to do?

Whether from an angle of good or bad, we certainly can do without meddlers. These busy-bodies make everybody's affairs their business.

Every neighborhood has its share of meddlers. These folks, see know and by way of palaver, get out the neighborhood dispatch daily. And nothing misses their eye, ear or nose.

Tell About Everybody

They come up short at no points. They can tell you about everybody in the neighborhood. Tell you who is expecting a blessed event, legitimate or not; who has marital troubles; who owes whom and who doesn't; who was seen with whom and who wasn't and right on down the line, until meddling takes on a catty gossip aspect.

You know these meddlers are not just limited to neighborhoods. You will find them in all kinds of activities—church, fraternal and business.

Probably the most tatly and loathsome sort are the ones you come across in the church, fraternal groups or among your working associates. Petty meddling to them seems to become a good old pastime or a joy.

They Like to Pry

It is strange how some of your most intimate friends like to pry into your affairs. Sometimes lay you right on the carpet. Nothing is too bad for them to say about you, one moment and then come and kiss you the next. You have seen that sort, I am most sure.

Human beings are a funny lot. You never know what they will do or say next about you-or a friend. And the only thing you can do is trust in providence.

If you don't want to become a stink-a-roo in your own neighborhood, by all means don't resort to petty gossip or meddling. The less garbage you have around you, sweeter the air will be.
