Midget Wizards Romp Over Jr. Ravens, 32-5

The Midget Wizards swamped the Jr. Ravens, 32-5, in a P.S. No. 122 Midget league game.

After scoring four runs in the first inning, the Wizards were able to tally at all while the Ravens just couldn't do anything right.

The entire Wizard team contributed with at least one hit in the slaughter while R. Watts, W. Anderson and W. Parker showed best for the losers.

Smith Extends Win Streak to 23 in TKO Over Cooper

Pounds Rival Into Submission in Five Rounds After Sizzling Start; Cooper's Eye Closed

WASHINGTON

With his left eye closed tighter than drum skins, and blood pouring from his nose and mouth, game Jimmy Cooper must have welcomed his sixth round TKO Monday night, at Griffith Stadium.

The awarding of the match to Gene Smith at the conclusion of the fifth round was a smart move on the part of both Referee Ray Bowen and Manager Billy Banks. The victory, Smith's 18th kayo in 23 matches as an undefeated pro was a methodically accomplished job.

Banks Remembers

For Banks, the pitiful bulk of his protege must have turned back the pages of boxing to 1944 when he was trapped inside the ring under the flailing fists of Aaron Perry. They stopped the match too late for Banks.

Seven years later, Banks had to have his left eye removed to save the sight of the right. He had no intentions of seeing the same incident repeated.

In seemingly superb condition physically in the earlier rounds, Cooper took the best Sunday punches of Smith, jolting left hooks to the body and short right hands to the head, and came back for more at close quarters. His pressing tactics paid off as Smith could not swing freely under his crowding style.

Smith Changes Strategy

Smith, a perfect fight machine with natural ability, switched to long range, and therein lies the story of Cooper's struggle for survival for the remaining portion of the fight. From the second round on, it was no contest as Smith rebounded from a double left hook attack to the head and body.

He stormed back to stagger Cooper with a barrage of rights at the bell, starting his left eye to close. Sending few of his shots to the body, Smith had Cooper listing early in the third. A dozen blows to the head followed, and Cooper was a helpless, bloody figure fighting on mere instinct as Smith picked his shots, and literally turned his body into a human punching bag.

Cooper in Top Condition

Only top conditioning and sheer instinct enabled the game Cooper to withstand the ceaseless barrage for the rest of the fight. Whether Smith was gunshy from his experience of his near fatal match with Little Dynamite or not, it was evident he was not trying to knock-out Cooper. He was hoping the massacre would be halted.

Two rounds later, he got his wish as Referee Bowen moved to stop the contest. Smith, a 4-1 favorite, weighed 124½, while Cooper tipped the scales at 136.

The fight attracted 5,236 paid admissions. The announced gross gate was $9,851.30 with a net of $7,557.97.

Little Dynamite who was injured in a June 7 bout with Smith was introduced to the crowd at ringside just before the match. He was to receive the share of the fight receipts of Mrs. Florence Turner who promoted the fight.

His share was not announced at the fight, but it was estimated to be between $1500 and $2,000, he would receive. Promoter Gabe Menendez said Cooper was getting 20 per cent, Smith, 25 per cent, and operation expenses as the use of the park, ushers etc. would be about 15 per cent.

Mickey Finn, 156, stole the show with a lightning-like knockout of Hunce Lanier, 163, white, after taking a pummeling earlier in the first round. He slammed a round house right to Lanier's jaw, driving a tooth through his upper lip for a knockout in 2:35 of the first round.

Battling Moore, 195, lost a split decision to Frank Kimball, 197, Leroy Haskell, 125, bowed to Bill McFarland, 127, in two four rounds.

Young Satan, a dancing, mimicing fighter, outclassed veteran Charley Bennett for five rounds to take a split decision while Junius Woods, 137, hitting oftener than slow moving Johnny Pratt, 157, carved out an unanimous decision.

Bullock in Exhibition

Paddy Bullock, local lightweight boxed a three round exhibition with Billy Graham in a lively contest. Both contestants wore the controversial headgear.

Plans to use the headgears in the Pratt and Woods's match was discarded in the second round after the headgear continued to slip down over the former's eye. A punch to the jaw cracked the strap holding the gear, and Referee Ray Bowen had both fighters to discard the equipment which was boped by fans.—By FRED LEIGH

TRAINING SCHOOL AGAIN

WASHINGTON

The House District Committee has finally reported out the bill which would permit greater use of the National Training School for girls here, and which is identical with a bill already passed earlier this year by the Senate.

If and when the House approves it, the bill will require only the President's signature to go into effect.

Ellis Hurls No-Hitter as Crown Cork Blanks Mohawks in Softball Title Play

Lawrence Ellis pitched the season's first no hit—no run contest on Tuesday at Easterwood Park as ramaging Crown Cork and Seal took another big step toward the Bureau of Recreation's Easterwood Twi-light Unlimited Softball championship by blanking Burt's Mohawks A.C., 3-0.

The win was the fifth straight for the Corkers in the tough twilight competition. Ellis' no hitter was accomplished over one of the city's hardest hitting aggregations. Milton Brown of the Finos hurled the last no-hitter last year over the Toppers now playing as Crisco Tigers.

The Crisco Tigers earned a forfeit win over Building Trade School this week.

The red hot Royal A.C. blasted its way to its fifth straight victory and the second round championship in the West Baltimore Club Unlimited loop by downing the Spartans A.C. 14 to 1 Sunday at Easterwood Park. Vernon Barbour's improved nine will face the Mohawks who won the first round in a one game play-off for the league championship on July 29th.

Bombers Blanked

Delfield Yoes's Building Trade School, defending champions in the Industrial and Trade School Unlimited League, blanked the AFRO-AMERICAN Bombers 3-0 behind Bill McClure's splendid slabbing to take the second round championship in the circuit.

Beat twice in the first round by the Tradesmen have come roaring back with a clean sweep of five games in the second round and meet Crown Cork and Seal, first round titlists, for the league championship on Sunday, July 29th.

The Cherry Hill Trotters clinched the Independent Club Unlimited League crown for the second straight year by beating Western Maryland Dairy A.C. 6-3 last Saturday at Easterwood Park. The unbeaten Trotters have won all of their seven league contests. The Pythons won their second game by forfeit from the Churchill Ambassadors.

Stars Tied

Domino Sugar Refinery tied the Northwestern Stars for the league lead in the Northwest Unlimited loop by walloping the Hurricanes 15-3 in a game at Druid Hill Park. The Stars won by forfeit from Tailoring Institute. Both leaders now have won three games and lost one. The Hurricanes have a chance of tying the leaders if they can win from Maryland Vocational School this Saturday at Druid Hill Park.

The Golden Hawks and Banneker Tigers pulled into a two-way tie for first place in the Cherry Hill Junior League by taking their fourth victories last week. The Hawks beat the cellar-dwelling Vultures 9-3 and the Tigers outlasted the Imperial Earls 11-9.

Dodgers Unbeaten

Linwood Steven's Dodgers A.C. took their third win without a loss from the Jr. Red Dogs A.C. 9-3, to retain first place in the Easterwood Junior League. The North-west Police Boys Club squeezed by the Gilmer Giants 5-4 and the Jr. Churchill Ambassadors won from the Cloverdale Jr. Ramblers by forfeit.

In the South Baltimore Junior League the Bluejays took over the League lead by trimming the Jr. Clowns A.C. who had been on top most of the season 10-7. The Rangers got their first loop win from the Mt. Winans Jr. Braves 12-7 in another Swann Park Clash.

The Warriors hung on to second place behind the pace-setting Wizard A.C. 12-3 in Taylor Junior League action. The Warriors meet the Wizards next Monday at P.S. 122 in a crucial game.
