Gadabouting in Baltimore

Heat Takes Toll of Baltimore Socialties

With Lula Jones Garrett

The sage who set up the saying that nothing is sure but death and taxes should have stopped in Baltimore and taken into account the August doldrums that are as sure as rain, here, come August.

For those Baltimoreans who hie haunts, simply draw their shutters and fade away during the humid season.

POT-POURRI

Vivian Alleyne, floored last week by an acute attack of pluriay, was up and about, this week, and as busy as usual setting up plans for the convention of the National Dental Auxiliary which meets next month in Memphis, Tenn. Baltimore's Alice Arrington will deliver the principal address.

Incidentally, Victorine Adams hosted a group of the national officers of the auxiliary at her Ellonia Beach place, recently, including Mrs. Alleyne, and Mesdames Mildred Carr, E. E. Carroll, T. T. Lowery and A. M. Mackell of Washington.

PEREGRINATORS

Mary Louise Allen of the YWCA staff is off for a vacation in her home town, Philadelphia. Laura (Mrs. William) Jones, formerly of the Morgan State College staff, came down from Toledo, Ohio, for a brief stay with Bea Hurt. Petched her two offspring and her mother, Mrs. Robinson.

Heloise Barnes, of the YWCA outfit, is off to the YWCA Training School at Francis Shimer College in Illinois. In our town, this week, were Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Lowell of Bridgeport, Conn. They had done a jaunt to Washington and were en route home. Stopped with Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne. Jessie Patterson Merritt is doing Nicely.

Mollie Fairfax Jackson is back at her Sparks, Md., place after spending five weeks in the West. Visited her brother-in-law and sister, the Lonnie Jacksons in Cleveland; the Henry Jacksons in South Bend, Ind.; the George Alstons in Chicago; the Shirley Hardys in Chicago Heights, Ill., the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore McMillan in the same town; Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius McCulley in Jamesville, Wis. the John Hopewells in Pittsburgh and the William Fairfaxes in Monessen, Pa.

The Chuck (Clarice) Richardses (he's the town's top disk jockey) posts back of the fine time they are having in New York.

Leonard Butler, down from Buffalo, N.Y., for a spell, was partied by members of his family, last week with his sister, Mrs. Lillian Jones, and brother and sister-in-law, the Edward Butlers. Was the special reason Dr. and Mrs. W. Berkley Butler garnered the family for a supper party . . . and the honoree of his sister, Mrs. Mamie Hubert, at brunch.

The Calvin Jones are extolling the beauties of California. Both of them studied at the University of California the past term.

Of course this town's residents who summer at Arundel-on-the-Bay keep that colony a gay spot.

The Edward Joneses of Washington and Verda Welcome of Iberia about have been guests at the cottage of the Ranny Waterses. Father and Mrs. Mills week-ended with Dr. and Mrs. George McDonald there, and "Sook" feted her chub, the Aurorus, last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Leroy Berry entertained the Boole at their cottage, and among her guests, this summer, have also been the faculty of the D.C. school of which she is principal. With Dr. and Mrs. Ted Finder are Dr. and Mrs. Albert Burrell of this town.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Berkley Butler perked down to their summer place in Pleasantville, but popped right back at a call from one of his patients. But keeping her home, also, is her service on the Grand Jury just now.

Off to the institute for education secretaries, sponsored by the Boston University summer term this week, went Louise M. Church, who is assigned to the division of counseling and placement of the Baltimore School System. The training is sponsored jointly by the Department of Education and the Public School Secretaries of Baltimore.

Which also reminds me that the school secretaries elected officers, last week, inducting:

Fannie B. Poulson, president; Marione Ransome, vice president; Nicey M. Jarmon, corresponding secretary; Beatrice Wright, financial secretary; Bette L. Langley, recording secretary; Louise Church, treasurer; Alice Jackson and Frank Jones Jr., journalists; and Gloria West, chaplain.

Guest of Mrs. T. L. Brown in Morgan Park, this week, was Mrs. Willa Stewart, head of Friendship Home for Girls, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Lillie Jackson (Baltimore Branch NAACP) was in Atlantic City, N.J., this week, "resting" for her voyage abroad. She and daughter, Juanita Mitchell, sail on the 4th, for Europe and a vacation with another daughter, Marian Downs, who is studying on a Fulbright Fellowship in Italy.

They will land at Cherbourg, take a train for Paris, visit Switzerland and Germany, but spend much of the time in Italy. Will be back in this country September 3.

Mrs. Downs, also a soprano of note, will be concertizing during August. Plans to spend an additional six months abroad. With her there is her small daughter, Karlene.

Mildred Turner Beads took a plane Tuesday for Atlantic City to visit Juanita Sims of the home town.

VITAL STATISTICS

Dr. and Mrs. C. Dudley Lee must have a birthday plan. His natal day is Dec. 22, their daughter, Harriet, now 6, arrived on Dec. 23, and their second is expected the end of this coming December.

But Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Banfield have invited the stork a month earlier (November).

Mrs. T. Henry Waters, who has been ill for a month, is considerably better. Mrs. Robert Chambliss, out because of an operation, is back in circulation.

The Morsell Hineses (Louise Kerr) are ensconsed in their new Whittier, Avenue home.

Add also to those with new addresses the Creston Weingusts and the James Thompsons who have moved to the 2400 block Edmondson Avenue; and the John Everetts who have gone to Harlem Avenue and the Edward Thompsons, who have a new home on Whitmore Avenue.

Harriet Jackson (she's the daughter of the assistant superintendent of schools, Houston R. Jackson, and Mrs. Marion Smith) and Theodore Marshall, of the Marines have been Mr. and Mrs since a Friday ago. "Twas a very quiet merger with the Rev. Wil Waters as officiant. Her former mate was Ernest Beckwith.

PARTY PRATTER

No one was more surprised than Martha Biggers, Sunday, when Les Charmettes Club showered her with kitchen utensils at the home of Lois Beverly.

Guests included Evelyn Nelson, Eliza Young, Bessie Carroll, Sarah Gibson, Alice Fauntleroy, Catherine Brown, Irma Woodlard, Helen Mae Chamberlain, Roslyn White and Virginia Jackson.
