HIT NO. 2

Jimmy Ellison - Russ Hayden 'West of the Brazos'

Red Skelton has one of the funniest roles of his career as the inventor of a horseless carriage, way back in 1895, in "Excuse My Dust," now at the Harlem.

Co-starred is Sally Forrest whose "Waterfront Lowdown" dance routine, in which she starts out in a high-necked 1895 costume, losing part of her clothing as the dance proceeds, and ends up in a scanty black bathing suit.

Skelton and Miss Forrest portray two young lovers whose romance is complicated by the fact that she is the daughter of a livery stable owner, while Skelton is an inventor of the horseless carriage.

'GUY WHO CAME BACK' NOW AT THE REGENT

"The Guy Who Came Back," now at the Regent, is human comedy with the heart of drama, and a film of earthy, downright appeal.

Starring Paul Douglas and Linda Darnell, it traces the career of an aging football star all the way down the hill and then up again to one powerful, climatic comeback.

The story is a genuinely sympathetic compassion for a man who finds it more difficult to accept reality than to make a fool of himself by pretending in public to be what he is not.

'NEVADA,' VIVID DRAMA OF SILVER RUSH DAYS

Thrills and romance are blended with a colorful chapter in the history of the Old West in Zane Grey's "Nevada," RKO Radio's popular re-issue with Robert Mitchum, Anne Jeffreys, Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, Nancy Gates and Richard Martin, now at the Met.

A husky young cowpuncher heads for the famous Comstock Lode, the rich mining strike discovered shortly before the Civil War, and finds more excitement than he bargained for when he is accused of murdering a homesteader.

Narrowly escaping being lynched and certain some sinister meaning lies behind the murder, the cowboy decides to investigate the matter.

Aided by a girl and two of his pals, he learns that an unscrupulous gang is endeavoring to drive off claimholders and acquire the entire Lode property. The crooked schemes are exposed and matters brought to a happy conclusion in the feature film.

WALCOTT-CHARLES FIGHT AT NEW ALBERT

The Jersey Joe Walcott-Ezzard Charles heavyweight championship fight is now showing exclusively at the New Albert in conjunction with two great features.

The fight film, which runs 27 minutes, is distinguished by the fact that it shows the actual knockout. This was missed by the TV cameras, which were located at the opposite side of the ring.

The No. 1 regular feature, "Fugitive Lady," co-stars Janis Paige and Binnie Barnes, in a suspenseful story of a love-wracked woman. Feature No. 2, "Inside the Underworld," features Erich Von Stroheim and Vera Ralston, a fascinating story of international intrigue.

TWO WOMEN ARRESTED ON NUMBERS CHARGE

Two women were placed under $2,500 bail by Magistrate Weir Wednesday evening at the Northern Police Court, charged with having lottery slips in their possession. They were Mrs. Anna Hughes, and Mrs. Wilemeta Norris, 41, who were arrested at their home, 213 W. Ware St.

Massimo Serato and Janis Paige in a suspenseful scene from "Fugitive Lady," now showing at the New Albert.

Paul Douglas takes time out to zip up Joan Bennett who plays his wife in "The Guy Who Came Back," at the Regent.

JEFF DONNELL WILL PLAY SCHEHERAZADE

Jeff Donnell will play the wise-cracking Scheherazade in Columbia's Arabian Nights fantasy, "Thief of Damascus," which stars Paul Henreid.

'BITS OF RHYTHM' PLANE TO HONOLULU

Red Skelton, Sally Forrest and Macdonald Carey take you back to the horseless buggy days in MGM's Technicolor musical, "Excuse My Dust," a hilarious story at the Harlem.

Robert Mitchum who co-stars with Anne Jeffreys in "Nevada" at the Met. Second feature is "Up in Arms."

Beautiful Mexican actress Charlita appears with Mel Ferrier in "The Brave Bulls," at the Royal. Second attraction is "The Killer That Stalks New York," starring Evelyn Keyes.

La Baker's Tour Cut Short, to Leave U. S. August 11

SAN FRANCISCO Josephine Baker's triumphant tour of U.S. theaters and night clubs will end Aug. 8 when she finishes a two week engagement at the Golden Gate Theater here.

For reasons of health, the internationally famous chanteuse will not fulfill engagements beyond that date. She will return to France Aug. 11.

The exotic La Baker has been working playing theater and clubs continuously since her return to this country, last April, and has been performing on an average of four times a day. The star for nearly 20 years had been a one-show-a-day performer in Europe.

Forced Cancellations

The change in Miss Baker's plans has forced cancellation of "Josephine Baker Day" a city-wide tribute to the star which was scheduled to be held in Chicago, Aug. 18, under the auspices of the Chicago Urban League.

Before leaving the West Coast Miss Baker will be the featured performer at a $100-an-invitation benefit for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund at the Mocambo in Hollywood, Aug. 9. Runyon Fund officials said they expected the star's appearance there to net the fund over $15,000.

Following the Mocambo benefit Miss Baker will fly to New York. She will sail for Europe on the "Ile de France" to join her husband, Jo Bouillon, and family in Dordogne France. After a short rest there she will begin a three-weeks concert tour of French cities.

The Council was brought into existence following appeals from the public to the Negro Actors Guild that a study be undertaken of problems relating to the field of entertainment.

It will be the aim of the organization to promote a better understanding on such controversial issues as questionable "good taste" in the selection of material, caricatures and stereotype characters and characterizations, and to direct attention of producers and sponsors to the wealth of available colored talent.

Positive Approach

The policy of the Council will be to advocate a positive rather than a negative approach in the solution of differences, taking the position that constructive criticism and mediation should attain mutually beneficial results.
