Royal Theatre-TV Snares Robinson-Turpin Title Go

By E. B. REA

The Royal Theatre will be among the nation's 15 or more carrying the exclusive ringside telecast of the Ray Robinson-Randy Turpin 15-round middle weight championship bout, Sept. 12, from the Polo Grounds, New York City.

This was announced Wednesday night at the Louis-Bivins fight and verified late this week by Sam Ward, manager of the Royal.

Other theatres cooperating as in the three previous theatreTV casts are: The Harlem, Regent, Met and New Albert.

Initiated at Harlem

The Harlem initiated the series with the LouisSavold fight, followed by the Met with the Lamotta-Murphy, and the Regent with the Rex Layne-Rocky Marciana thriller.

The LouisBivins 10rounder at Memorial Stadium was theatre cast by 15 houses, outside of Baltimore, the largest number yet carrying coaxial cable serviced by the American Telegraph and Telephone Co.

Although there are about 65 theatres now equipped for large screen television, only 15 were in coaxial cable range of ATand T for the Louis-Bivins go. However, it is expected that a coast-to-coast cable will be completed by Sept. 12.

Two For Home Reception

There will be no theatre-TV of the Joey Maxim-Bob Murphy light heavyweight title bout, Wednesday, August 22, and the Kid Gavilan-Billy Graham welterweight championship, the following Wednesday, August 29.

These two matches will be sponsored by Pabst Blue Ribbon beer and the Columbia Broadcasting System, home owners of radio and television sets.

Robeson Appeals Passport Suit

An appeal of his suit to force Secretary of State Dean Acheson to reissue his passport was filed in the U.S. Court of Appeals Wednesday by Paul Robeson.

A Federal District Court dismissed his original suit on April 20 on the ground that it failed to state a cause of action.

He contends that denial of his Constitutional rights to earn a livilihood through concert work, other than in the States, in itself constitutes cause of acion.

JEWISH FILM FOR NAACP YOUTHS

The Philadelphia Youth Council of the NAACP will have two films shown, Tuesday, August 21, at 8:30 p.m. in St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 52nd and Parrish Sts.

Old Rose License

WASHINGTON

The District Commissioners upheld the decision of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, Friday, revoking the liquor license of the Old Rose Social Club, 1848 Seventh St., N.W.

At a hearing before the ABC board on July 24, the club was found guilty of selling liquor after hours.

New RCA Engineers

Recently hired as Engineers by the RCA Victor Division of the Radio Corporation of America, under the company's trainee program, are left to right, Robert Minton of Washington, an Electrical Engineering graduate of Howard University; Harry W. Day, of Welch, W. Va., who holds an B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of Wisconsin and Edgar B. Darrell of Jamaica, N.Y., a graduate of New York's City College. They will be trained in RCA Victor operations along with 128 other top scoring June 1951 graduates of 50 leading U. S. Colleges.

'SUN SETS AT DAWN' NOW PLAYING REGENT

"The Sun Sets at Dawn", now at the Regent, is the story of a young boy whom fate places in the shadow of the electric chair.

This same fate then snatches him away minutes after he was supposed to die. He got his second chance to live and love when the current failed to flow through the chair.

Phillip Shawn is the near victim of a crime he did not commit. Sally Parr provides the true love angle in the film which is so close to real life that you, of the audience, will live every tense, taut moment when "The Sun Sets at Dawn" is unraveled before your eyes.

'SHOW BOAT' IS GOOD MUSICAL AT HARLEM

"Show Boat" on the screen is a more lavish production than when millions scrambled on Broadway to see it as a stage play.

This is being evidence at the Harlem, where the picture, starring William Warfield, a concert baritone, Joe E. Brown, Ava Gardner, whose singing is really Lean Horne's voice on the sound track, and Kathryn Grayson is being held over a second week.

Warfield's voice in his singing of "Ol' Man River" in the role of Joe, is rated above the singing of Jules Bledsoe and Paul Robeson, both of whom starred in early stage versions of the play.

"Show Boat" is easily the top musical of the year to come out of Hollywood.

'PASSAGE WEST' NOW AT NEW ALBERT

"Passage West," sharing the bill with "Secrets of Monte Carlo," is an exciting and unusual adventure drama.

Starring John Payne and Arleen Whelan, the story deals with the starkly dramatic journey of a wagon train of settlers fighting their way toward California and a new life.

Dennis O'Keefe, as a fighting preacher; Miss Whelan, a fiery red head, and Payne, as a bull-whip-wielding convict are the colorful principals of the story.

To those who like raw action, "Passage West" is bare-fisted fury and raw-knuckled glory.

'CAPT. HORNBLOWER' ON ROYAL SCREEN

Gregory Peck is starred in "Capt Horatio Hornblower," now playing the Royal for two weeks.

This is the kind of stirring sea drama that provides ultra-thrills by sturdy he-men and girls who like to love and be loved.

Peck turns in another of his topraging portravals in the part of Hornblower. Virginia Mayo, as Lady Barbara the pulchritudinous woman and Robert Beatty, as Lt. William Bush, keep the action at fever temp.

All in all, it's good adventure.

MET THEATRE PRESENTS 'ALICE IN WONDERLAND'

Walt Disney, who can always be depended upon to provide the utmost in delightful, spellbinding entertainment, excels all previous efforts with his all-cartoon musical Alice in Wonderland now at the Met.

Designed for laughing purposes, "Alice in Wonderland" is pure escapist entertainment.

From the moment Alice starts down the tunnel in pursuit of the elusive White Rabbit, until she concludes her fabulous adventures, the story moves swiftly and is completely absorbing and hilarious.

Finally O.K.'s Singer

LONDON — Kenneth Spencer, U.S. baritone, after several refusals, has finally been granted entry permit by the U.S. authorities to sing in the American zone of Berlin, where he resumes his concerts on Aug. 17.

Proof of 20th Century's Fair Employment

Robert Van Riel, left, and Eddie Taliaferro are the best evidence extant of 20th Century Fox's fair employment policies. Van Riel has been employed in that studio's art department for the past eight years and has become known as one of the nation's top commercial artists. Taliaferro, Broadway's only colored costume designer, has recently recreated the costume of the Biblical Goliath used in Fox's "David and Bathsheba."

A love scene from the new 20th Century - Fox technicolor film, "David and Bathsheba," sensational Biblical story, starring Gregory Peck, Susan Hayward and a large supporting mixed cast, will be shown at the Regent Theatre, one week, beginning Sept. 14, during the theatre's 36th anniversary.

Film 'Angelo' Makes Big Hit

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—The Italian movie, "Angelo," telling the story of a mulatto offspring of a World War II colored soldier and an Italian mother, made such a big hit at its premiere here last week that it is being held over for three additional weeks.

The Italians have recently turned out a number of films in which very stark and actually human problems were presented with an integrity of feeling unmatched in the history of movies, but "Angelo" is being hailed as the best of them all and the film that bids well to cop the 1951 Oscar for the best foreign picture.

The movie is made by the Scalera Picture of Rome, with English subtitles. It was written and directed by Francesco DeRobbers. The role of Angelo, the child who has to endure untold hardships because of his dark skin and kinky yellow hair, is played by a war waif, himself named Angelo.

Another colored character in the gives such a superb interpretation of his part that he steals the limelight from the leading Italian stars who are featured in the picture.

The story, one about an Italian prisoner who leaves upon his release that the child his wife died giving birth to is a mulatto and not his own, brings tears to the hearts of the most hardened moviegoer, although boding to the prejudice of American fans in raving a "never the twain shall meet" ending.

Josh White in Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Josh White, American folk singer, is booked to open at the Tivoli Theatre here on Aug. 15 for two weeks.

LORETTA YOUNG

Loretta Young has been signed by Columbia to play the starring role in "The Mother," the story of a doctor's wife who becomes involved in an automobile accident which robs a child of the power of speech. She then undertakes the rehabilitation of the child.

"THIEF OF DAMASCUS"

Eight roles, including those of Aladdin and Ali Baba, have been filled by producer Sam Katzman for Columbia's Technicolor fantasy "Thief of Damascus."

This Paramount Picture called "PASSAGE WEST" is more than the adventure-filled film the scenes indicate. Underlying its epic story, is the triumph of SPIRITUAL STRENGTH over BRUTE FORCE—a fighting parson showing that the BIBLE is a more powerful weapon than a KILLER'S BULLET.
We believe this dramatic display of FAITH-IN-ACTION ...will give you something more to carry home with you than the memory of an entertaining time in our theatre . . . that it will give you a spiritual satisfaction we wouldn't want you to miss.
