There was a birthday cake, decorated with a Mickey Mouse, and 6 candles, and Mexican hats for the guests to don.

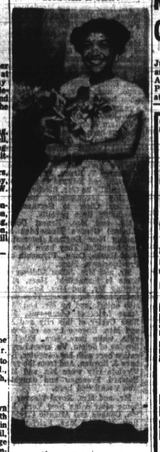
Attending the affair were:

Joseph Manning, Jon A. Young, Shirley Sanders, Irene Mitchell, Velma R. Griffin, Carla Brewington, Junior Coleman, Veronica Mitchell.

Ellen Young, Edward E. Sanders, Dale Patterson, Charles D. Demby, Thelma J. Saunders, Elnora W. Stanley, Willie Mitchell.

Gloria Griffin, Donald and Ronald Porter, Dana Brewington, James E. Sanders, Carolyn Young, Margarette and Stephen Watson, Annette Jackson, Walter H. Hill and Ronnie Smith.

Recital Debut



Miss Naomi Robinson, Morgan State College junior, made her debut, recently, in a recital at the Morning Star Baptist Church. The talented lyric soprano was accompanied by Herman Schwartz, dean of the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts.

Nicholas-Hunt Ceremony Held

ROANOKE, Va. — Miss Maxine Juanita Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Nicholas, of Alaska C. Hunt, son of Mrs. Moses Powell, were married on Aug. 6 at the home of the bride with the Rev. David R. Powell officiating.

Mrs. Ernestine Hunt, pianist, and Miss Frances Dandridge, vocalist, presented the wedding music.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a white imported net and lace floor length gown, fashioned with an illusion yoke with applique of lace outlining the point over the hands and the beaded bodice was joined by a gathered skirt of lace and net. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell softly from a lace tiara, and she carried a white prayer book showered with an orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Osborne Q. Wheaton was matron of honor. Miss Barbara Jean Nicholas, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore sable length gowns of yellow and green organdy with matching headpieces. They carried bouquets of pastel summer flowers.

Miss Anne Douglas Becomes Bride of Vernon Pennington

The marriage of Miss Anne Marie Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Douglas, to Vernon Pennington of Vienna, Md., was solemnized at St. Plus Church, on Sunday afternoon.

Wears Net Over Satin

Wearing an ankle length gown of white nylon net appliqued with Chantilly lace, over white satin, and an illusion elbow length veil, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried an enchanting bouquet of orchids and gardenias.

Miss Rosalie Douglas, who served as maid of honor for her sister, was gowned in an ankle length frock of ice blue satin with net overskirt and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of red roses and blue ribbon.

Mr. Douglas Best Man

Best man for the occasion was George P. Douglas Jr. brother of the bride.

Mr. Pennington, a graduate of Morgan State College has completed pre-med at Howard University and will enter Penn State School of Optometry in September. He is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

The bride has a position with the Social Security Administration.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stephen J. Hogan, S.S.J., pastor of St. Plus.

Reception Held

After the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for Philadelphia, Pa.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included ——Mrs. Mary Pennington, Miss Elsie Pennington and Miss Drexella Jackson of Vienna, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coleman of Chester, Pa. and Mrs. Alease Y. Carey of Newark, N.J.; Mrs. Queene Smith and Mrs. Leona Tyler of NYC.

Marks Birthday

Daughter of Pfc. and Mrs. Toney Brown of 407 N. Wolfe St., little Toni Brown celebrated her second birthday anniversary on Aug. 28. Daddy is serving in Korea.

Zion Women Report $195,084 for Aids

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — Mrs. Abbie Clement Jackson, executive secretary, Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, AME Zion Church, told the more than 1,000 delegates to the 12th quadrennial session that convened at Winston-Salem Teachers College, here, recently that $195,084.56 had been gathered for missions during the past four years.

The report shows that the money was spent, for the most part, for the building of churches and the promoting of the work in Africa, and to build churches in the mission conference of the connection.

Morgan Student Attends Institute

J. Haywood Harrison, Morgan State College junior, attended the fifth annual Institute on Leadership and Organization at the American University recently.

The Institute is sponsored by The American University in co-operation with the National Educational Association.

Mr. Harrison, reported that representatives from 34 states and Japan attended the Institute, which gave four weeks of training to teachers and students in leadership of state and local associations and college chapters of Future Teachers of America.

The daily program consisted of four morning classes and general conferences in the afternoon. Extensive sight-seeing tours were held in addition to the presentation of several nationally prominent educators.

Youth Movement

There was a move on the part of the youth to establish national leadership for Future Teacher of America. This is an educational movement on the college and university campus which dates back to 1939.

It aims to keep students informed on the trends in education, and is the only student professional organization of its type on the college campus. Similar groups called "clubs" are established in high schools.

Mr. Harrison will work with the Milton Lewis Calloway Chapter upon his return to Morgan this fall. He is a member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and will serve as a student assistant in the department of education.

LEAP YEAR—The art club was entertained by Mrs. Hazel Tyree. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Anna Mae Waters.

THRIFTY—The savings club met with Mr. and Mrs. James Garrett, Monday evening.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Mary Southerland, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stevens, Benjamin Welch, and William Miles.

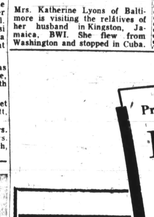
Visiting in Islands



Mrs. Katherine Lyons of Baltimore is visiting the relatives of her husband in Kingston, Jamaica, BWI. She flew from Washington and stopped in Cuba.

With all the talk about low sodium diets these days it's good news to know that many meats which are ordinarily high in sodium are being packed with 33 per cent of their sodium removed by a special process. Among these treatments you'll find, beef hash, beef stew, chili con carne, meat sauce and beef and gravy.
