COOKING FUN

Generally speaking, prices of fresh vegetables are down while fruits, eggs, and most meats are selling at figures above prevailing. However, in meats, bacon and pieces of one year ago, state chicken fryers are really low in cost. Fryers are retailing at the lower prices for a mid-July in six of the eastern states and are slightly higher than on corresponding date of 1950.

"Week's Economies" include lima beans, snap beans, beets, sweet-corn, potatoes, apples, peaches, watermelons and chicken fryers. Eastern Shore lima beans and limas from New Jersey are arriving in generous supply and are low in cost. For an all-round fresh vegetable, lima beans rank Number One.

When buying lima beans choose dark green well filled pods, and the beans should be light or medium green in color. Leave beans in pod until ready for use. This preserves some loss of food value especially vitamin A and ascorbic acid (C). Cook limas a short time in little water in a covered vessel to preserve food value, color, texture, and flavor.

Beans in Supply

Snap beans continue to be in liberal supply and moderately priced. Beets and cucumbers remain low in cost. Cucumbers are called "a gift to the gods," because of their refreshing coolness. New crop Maryland and Jersey white potatoes are in plentiful supply. Local tomatoes are now available in greater volume and much lower in cost. Eat more tomatoes now when they are in the peak of quality.

By the way, National Vegetable Week is to be observed August 5-11. Make sure is the right time for the observance in Maryland. With local supplies in abundance and sweet-corn here, let's eat more fresh vegetables while they are in local supply.

In fruits, both cantaloupes and watermelons are in abundance and peaches are in greater supply. The Carolinas are in the peak of production of watergualons and prices are at the bottom. Local receipts of the green-flesh type of cantaloupe may be found in fruit counters in addition to the pink-fleshed Eastern Shore cantaloupe. Other fruits reasonable in cost include blueberries, summer apples, and peaches. Peaches are arriving from several states, from South Carolina to New Jersey. Southern crop of peaches is nearing the peak of production.

As mentioned above, chicken fryers are very reasonable in cost, retailing the lowest at this season of the year than they have for six years. Bacon and fish fillets, also recommended.

RECIPE

Boiled Lima Beans

Shell beans wash, and cook until just tender (20-30 min.) in boiling, salted water in a covered vessel, just enough water to prevent sticking. Season with butter or cream, salt, and pepper. Milk may be used in place of water for cooking.

Fruit Juice Drinks

Because I don't like to dilute our fruit juice drinks, we sometimes freeze a refrigerator tray of apricot whole fruit nectar cubes to use in keeping a pitcher of fruit juice ice cold. They make a colorful flavorful addition.

Magic Pie Anyone Can Make

You have to admit that making a good pie requires a special knack. But then you could say that of almost everything you can cook. A lot of women who make delicious cakes and cookies still can't make a good pie. Most of the trouble mysteriously occurs somewhere between the time the pie is put in the oven and the time it is taken out. And it's this period when the cook has least control over it.

If you are one of those who can't make a good pie for love or money, here is a great solution. It is a magic pie filling that does not require any cooking. All you do is open a 15-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk, mix it with lemon juice and two egg yolks. Pour this mixture into a cookie crumb crust, and slip it into the refrigerator instead of the oven.

And when you serve this lemon pie for dessert remember that you are adding to the family milk quota in an appetizing way. Sweetened condensed milk is a combination of sugar and whole mail with some of the water removed.

Magic Lemon Pie

1 1-3 cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
½ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind or ½ teaspoon lemon extract
2 egg yolks
1 crumb or baked pastry 8-inch pie shell

Put sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, lemon rind or extract, and egg yolks into mixing bowl; stir until mixture thickens. Pour into chilled crumb crust or cooled pastry shell. Chill in refrigerator. Then garnish with whipped cream squeezed through a pastry tube. Makes an 8-inch pie.

Air-Conditioned Pies

One of my favorite air-conditioned pies is a graham cracker crumb shell filled with a layer of ice cream, then a layer of well-drained chilled canned cling peach slices and finally a topping of thick chocolate sauce. Keep in the freezing compartment until time to serve.

A tossed green salad goes together in a jiffyand goes with most any kind of a meal. Next time, make it with bite-sized pieces of assorted greens, tomato wedges, chunks of flavorful Calavo and bits of crisp crumbled bacon. Toss lightly with a wine vinegar dressing and serve immediately.

Hot Slant on Cole Slaw

It's safe to say that every housewife in America (except maybe the newest bride) has a favorite recipe for coleslaw. And chances are most of them are different. So if you're in danger of repeating your own specialty just once too often, have a look at some of the other members of the Slaw family.

CALICO SLAW: Serves 4

4 cups finely shredded green cabbage
1 large carrot, finely shredded
½ green pepper, cut in thin strips
½ sweet red pepper, cut in thin strips
2 tbsps. salad oil
2 tbsps. vinegar
½ tsp. dry mustard
2 tsps. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. salt

Toss vegetables in a large bowl. Mix dressing ingredients and toss with vegetables. Cover and chill to blend flavors.

SWEET HOT SLAW: Serves 4

4 cups finely shredded cabbage
1 cup sour cream
½ cup sliced stuffed olives
2 tsps. sugar
1 tsp. salt

Combine in a large saucepan. Heat slowly until it boils, tossing constantly with a fork. Simmer about 2 minutes. Serve immediately.

SUMMER SLAW: Serves 6

2 ripe tomatoes, diced
1½ cups shredded cabbage
1 cup sliced green onions
1/8 tsp. black pepper
4 tbsps. top milk
1½ tbsps. wine vinegar

Combine vegetables in a salad bowl. Add seasonings. Blend cream and vinegar together and pour over salad. Toss lightly.

PEPPER SLAW: Serves 6

4 cups finely shredded green cabbage
1 medium green pepper, slivered
½ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
12 stuffed olives, sliced
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. celery seed
1/8 tsp. pepper
Dash cayenne

Toss vegetables to mix. Pour on dressing and toss again. Chill.

Nobles Close 50th Parley

To Meet in Philly or Buffalo in '52

By JAMES L. HICKS

NEW YORK—The 50th annual convention of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine ended here last Friday with the Imperial Divan, governing body of the organization, reserving decision as to where the organization will meet next year.

As of last Saturday afternoon, high officials of the organization said two cities, Philadelphia and Buffalo, had extended invitations from their chambers of commerce to have the Shriners meet there, but that as yet neither of these invitations had been accepted.

The Buffalo invitation was accompanied by a certified check of $1000 from the Chamber of Commerce, but officials said an invitation would be accepted until the Divan could determine whether or not the host city could adequately house and entertain the Shriners and their auxiliary, the Daughters of Isis.

Party Ends Convention

The convention ended on Friday night with a nobility farewell party held at Senalis Paradise. It had seen some 8,000 Shriners come here for the first time in 25 years and the City of New York rise to the occasion with the host chapter, Medina Temple sparing no pains or expense to make the convention a success.

The sessions opened last Friday, and the first business session, which began on Monday, saw the imperial potentate stage a surprise election in which Raymond E. Jackson of Buffalo was returned to office as imperial potentate.

On Tuesday, election of other officers followed, with all of the more important members of the Imperial Council being returned to office.

This came as a surprise and somewhat of a disappointment to many members of the New York delegation, who had anticipated a fight in which the imperial potentate might be unseated.

Auxiliary Officers Retained

The Daughters of Isis, auxiliary of the Shriners, then followed with an election which saw all of their principal officers being returned to office. These included Dt. Erceelia Thomas Moore, imperial commandress; Dt. Ida M. Tyree, deputy imperial commandress; Dt. Alberta M. Parker, imperial assistant and commandress; and Dt. Alma S. Neville, imperial second lieutenant commandress.

Last Wednesday morning saw the Mecca Temple of Washington walk off with top honors in the annual competitive drill contest, the 36th Infantry, and on the same afternoon more than 10,000 Shriners paraded through Harlem before an estimated crowd of 250,000.

Later that night Gypsy Dawn Menor, ballet dancer of the Mecca Francis Brown of the Marrach Temple of Detroit was second; third place went to Philadelphia's Jennye Thomas, representing Pyramid Temple; Lillian Thomas of the Zem Temple of Hampton, Va., took fourth place; and Louise Parks, representing Syria Temple of Boston, placed fifth.

Seventeen contestants participated in the pageant which Madison City Hall where they were welcomed by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri.

Ball Thursday Feature

Last Thursday the Shriners staged their annual Shrine Ball at the Reckland Palace. Other activities included a Shrine meeting last Sunday, a boat ride on Tuesday, and a fun excursion to the Friendship Hall Masonic Home.

The Daughters of Isis denied reports that their organization is broke despite an official letter published under the signature of the imperial potentate which strongly implied that they were.

They said they had given the Shriners $14,000 last year and that they were in a position to do the same this year.

They had been warned by the imperial potentate to change the type of fez which they now wear. Officials of Isis said they would continue to wear their present fezzes until plans could be worked out to change them.

Hospital Pledged Grant

Mr. Jackson announced last Wednesday night that a grant of $20,000 would be made to the Home for Phillips Hospital of St. Louis on Oct. 28 at St. Louis. Other sources said the grant would be about $15,800.

Information was not available as to whether the grant would be earmarked to fight cancer or whether it would be used to establish a tuberculosis clinic.

The organization took a strong stand against communism, but the resolution calling for the establishment of a unit within the organization to police the efforts of suspected Communists was weeded out in the resolutions committee.

Urge U.S. Quash DuBois Indictment

NEW YORK (ANP) — Support for Dr. W. E. B. DuBois and four associates in their efforts to have the government indictment against them dropped has come from many responsible sources.

The Baptist Ministers' Conference of Philadelphia and vicinity has unanimously endorsed a resolution supporting Dr. DuBois in his life-long fight for civil rights and opposing the government's indictment of him as a so-called foreign agent.

The resolution similar to that passed by the NAACP in Atlanta, will be recommended to the National Baptist Convention meeting at Oklahoma City Sept. 4.

Louisville Joins Battle

In Louisville, Ky., a committee for the defense of Dr. DuBois has been formed. Organizations included are the Housewives' League, the Congregational Service Club and the Fisk University Club.

In NYC, at a rally, more than a thousand persons heard the Rev. Edward MaGowan read his telegram addressed to President Harry J. Howard McGrath, calling upon him to end "the prosecution and persecution" of Dr. DuBois.

New York Mayor Welcomes Shriners

New York City welcomed the Shriners a week ago as they gathered there for their annual convention. Shown above is Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri greeting Dr. Raymond E. Jackson, imperial potentate, who was re-elected to office on the first day of the convention.

Old Friends Meet at Shriners Convention

Old friends met at the Shriners convention held in New York last week. Among them were Joseph Gwans of Pittsburgh, imperial chief rabband; James (Billboard) Jackson, imperial publicist, and Henry W. Wolf, imperial first ceremonial master.

NAACP Hits Police Laxity

35 Minors Ousted From New York Bus

NEW YORK — A complaint against a New York State trooper who permitted a bus driver to abandon 36 children on a highway was filed this week with State and county officials by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

On July 28, thirty-six children from Beacon, went on a bus trip to Rye Beach. On the way home, the bus driver, annoyed with the children because of a cracked window, stopped the bus and ordered the children out. He refused to return them to Beacon, some 30 miles away.

Reports from the older children indicate that a State trooper who came to the scene reached an agreement with the driver and allowed him to leave the scene, leaving the 36 children stranded on the highway at 10 p.m. without adult supervision. The group became panicky and when news of the abandonment reached parents, taxis and private automobiles were used to take the children home.

Kadress Sought

Mrs. Betty Strange, mother of one of the youngsters, brought the case to the attention of Edward Jacko Jr., a member of the legal redress committee of the NAACP. Several parents joined Mrs. Strange in seeking redress for themselves and their children through the NAACP.

The New York State conference of NAACP branches is joining the New York branch in filing the complaints with John A. Gaffney, superintendent of New York State police; George N. Fanelli, district attorney of Westchester County; and W. Vincent Grady, district attorney of Duchess County.

Church Group Forces Hotels to Mix Races

LONGVIEW, Wash. (ANP) — Owing to pressure from the International Council of Community Churches, more churches are becoming integrated according to Dr. J. Ruskin Howe, president of the council.

Dr. Howe made this observation at the international convention here on the first anniversary of the merger between the National Council and the Biennial Council of colored Community Churches.

At this convention, colored people, Chinese, Filipino and white delegates met together, ate together, and slept in adjoining rooms at local hotels.

Hotels Raise Race Bars

"After we decided to hold our 1951 convention in Longview, we found there were rules against colored patrons in some of the hotels," Dr. Howe said. "After we explained that we could not hold our convention in Longview unless these rules were changed, the hotels agreed to accept all our delegates on an equal basis . . ."

Dr. Howe said churches of his organization set their own policies concerning segregation. However, he added, about 50 churches now accept persons of all races into full membership.

Howard Medics Get U.S. Grants

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — Two Howard University Medical School faculty members have been awarded grants by the Microbiological Institute of the National Institutes of Health, Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing announced Thursday.

These grants are among a total of 102 amounting to $1,088,952, which were awarded to non-government scientists by the National Microbiological Institute with the approval of Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, surgeon general of the Public Health Service, on the recommendation of the National Advisory Health Council.

Drs. Payne, Tero Aided

The grant to Dr. Howard M. Payne, a tuberculosis specialist, in the sum of $18,041, is for a study of the therapeutic efficacy of hydroxyethyl sulfone in pulmonary tuberculosis.

Dr. Rafael A. Toro was awarded $7,580 for a study of allergic aspects of myasthenia gravis and cyclic variation in gungous spores and their allergenicity.

Mite of Baby Now Big Tot After 1 Year

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — Mrs. Jay Isom, who a year ago last Thursday, gave birth to a 35-ounce girl, three months ahead of her natural time, last week at her home gave the now healthy, chubby baby, Rene Yvonne Isom, her first birthday party.

Rene, a dimpled darling, now tips the scales at 24 pounds after her birth, the girl, was in the hospital for 68 days before she could be brought home.

More than once during this period Mrs. Isom was sent for because doctors at lying in Hospital, though the tiny tot could not live through the day.

Grows By Leaps, Bounds

But Rene did, that day and the others to come. By last October she weighed 5 pounds and 6 ounces; and since then she has grown by leaps and bounds, her mother said.

The usual baby foods, and visits to the "well baby" clinics are the baby's routine. She is especially fond of deserts, but Mrs. Isom, gets around that one by alternating spoons full of applesauce, then meat or vegetables during Rene's feeding.

She is sweet-tempered and lovable, as much so that even Rene's 10-year-old brother, Jay Jr., who did not like babies at first thinks his little sister is pretty swell.

Urge Police Seek Parents of Baby Left at NYC Home for Foundlings

NEW YORK — Police are seeking to learn the identity of and locate the parents of an eight-month-old baby left in a waiting room of the New York Foundling Home by a woman who asked another to hold the infant "for a minute or two" while she went to a store.

No notes or other signs of identification were left with the infant at the home, located at 174 E. 68th St. The baby was dressed in a pink dress, pink sweater, pink shoes and sox and wore a white bib.

Police were told that a woman carrying the baby, wrapped in a pink blanket, in her arms walked into the waiting room late Tuesday and asked the other woman to hold it for a minute or two, leaving on the pretext of going to a store. She failed to return.

Mr. Gray presented the sum to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Clark Jr., for Michele, and announced that four piano companies, three in New York and one in Chicago, have offered to sell the Clarks an $1100 piano at a discount.

Michele's musical education was further guaranteed when the Silvermine Guild of Artists of Norwalk, Conn., awarded her a year's scholarship in piano instruction during ceremonies at which the Clarks were recent guests of honor.

The family was honored at the recent anniversary of U.N. Day celebration of the City of Norwalk. Following the Norwalk festivities, they returned to New York for a number of radio and television appearances and then went back to Chicago to press the $200,000 damage suit filed in their behalf by the Chicago branch of the NAACP.

Josephine Baker Leaves

Josephine Baker left here for U.S. last Saturday a little thinner, a little tired but very happy over the publicity for the organization of theaters and clubs.

The comic star of the world famed Paris Folies Bergere told reporters aboard the French liner "Ile de France" that she is more in love with America and the American people than ever before.

"I think we understand each other completely now," the St. Louis - born singer said smilingly, when questioned on her reactions to the U.S. this time.

"The United States is a great and wonderful country," she said. "I love France, because I found success there and a chance to develop. But I leave America this time with a larger love for it and a new appreciation of the genius of its people.

Appreciative

"I shall never forget the generous reception American audiences gave me. For me it has been a happy tour, and I am looking forward to coming back in the Fall and meeting my old friends again all over the country."

Alfonso Sherman, 1951 graduate in speech and drama at Tennessee State, Nashville, has joined the road company of the Wesley Inmate Players, which is touring Army camps and hospitals. The company will produce John Patrick's "The Hasty Heart." Sherman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Sherman, East Orange, N.J.

Police In Fine Fettle

New York's "finest" was in fine fettle in handling the big parade. The police commissioner put most of the colored cops in the prominent positions and placed two of the Big Twon's colored womenpoplice in the reviewing stand. The two were officers Dorothy Nash of Brooklyn and Elizabeth J. Fullen of New York.

Schenely's Bill Chase and Frank Dee took over the press room of the New York Press Club at the Theresa and served free joy juice daily from 4 to 6 p.m.

Down on the seventh floor, Calvert's matched them free drink for free drink in Room 728. It was a woozy time. . .

The imperial potentate stood up the beauty contestants at the dinner which he staged in their honor Tuesday night. If beautiful legs could have won the beauty pageant, Washington's entrant, Tony Wilkinson, would have won walking away. There's none finer. .

Credit must go to the chaperones and the Shriners for the careful way they saw to it that the talented young girls were not exposed to anything or anyone unsavory. The Harlem wolves just had to walk around and watch them with drooling mouths.

The hustlers were looking at them and singing "all that meat and no potatoes" which gives you an idea of what might have happened if the girls were not protected as they were.

You take it from there and if that is not enough convention confetti for you, just wait—we're on our way to Buffalo and the Elks!

The blades gleamed in the sun as if they were one; and it was the most perfectly executed move in the entire contest with the exception of the master move made by the imperial potentate in switching the election from Tuesday to Monday...That was the master stroke.

Washington's four drum majorettes really "carried on" before the reviewing stand. They were teen-agers and the liveliest group in the parade.

Beautiful Jennye Thomas, Philadelphia contestant, won the heart of the group in the beauty pageant. Yesterday she said that the work of Dr. Bunche in the UN has inspired her to continue her education.

Morgan College Student

She wants to go into international relations work. She's a Morgan college student; and if looks will get a person anywhere, she has nothing to worry about.

I picked the beauty pageant contestants in this order: Gypsy Menor of New York, first place; Antoinette Wilkinson of Washington, second; Jennye Thomas of Philadelphia, third, and Ollie Durbar of Newark, fourth. But you see, dear hearts and gentle people, Jimmie Hicks was not an official judge.

Hardest working duet at the convention was the AFRO's Frankie Jones and Paul Stevens, who turn in the publicity for the organization. They worked like Trojans and deserve high care of the press.

But the convention heads were inappreciative. They did not have a single penny to use for expenses.

Oldest Temple at the convention was the Chicago Temple. Youngest Temple was the Zembo Temple of Milwaukee, headed by Illustrious Potentate Richard E. Lewis, who with his wife owns the Savoy Club in Milwaukee on Walnut St. They turned out 78 Shriners for the parade.

Among the Milwaukee delegation was Mrs. Louella Robeson, a sister of the Eastern Stars and co-owner of the apartment building at 811 E. Walnut St. in Milwaukee.
