Kid Gavilan Outpoints Graham to Retain Title

Champ Victor in 1st Title Defense

Dejected Graham Thought He Won Crowd of 8,137 Boos Split Verdict;

NEW YORK — Kid Gavilan retained his world welterweight title here at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, outpointing Billy Graham, of New York's East Side, in a split decision.

It was Gavilan's first defense of the crown he acquired by beating Johnny Bratton, of Chicago, last May. It also marked the third time these two have fought to split verdicts, two having been won by the champion from Cuba.

The crowd of 8,137 spectators, heavily favoring Graham, booed lustily when the decision was announced. Two officials — referee Mark Conn and judge Frank Forbes — scored the rounds even, 7-7-1. The other judge — Arthur Schwartz—gave Gavilan the nod in rounds 5-6.

Gavilan the Aggressor

In points, Conn awarded Gavilan the upper hand, 10-7. Forbes saw it by the same margin but in Graham's favor. Schwartz tallied the points, 9-8, for Gavilan.

From the outset, the "Kid" was the aggressor. He used his fast left hand to pile up points in the first four rounds, and when Graham sought to counter with his arm, vaunted left hook, Gavilan was in with a new and clever uppercut.

Polishing off each session with his characteristic flurry, Gavilan grabbed the first two bangs with room to spare. He had Billy's nose bleeding before the opening round ended and, by the middle of the second, had started the claret flowing freely.

Graham resorted to throwing a right-hand lead in the third, apparently in an effort to confuse the wily Cuban. But again Gavilan was on top of his man, shifting his attack from the head to the body and back again.

"Keed" Well Ahead

The Keed was well on top at the close of the fourth stanza. Graham's only worthwhile punches having been two good rights to the head which Gavilan ignored.

As the fifth round got underway, Graham warmed his fast left and was home with several solid left hooks to the midsection. He also landed with at least one good right to the heart which temporarily slowed the busy Cubanite Box.

The sixth, seventh and eighth rounds were relatively close. In each instance, Graham's smooth boxing belaboured "Keed" at bay in the early-moments, only to be matched by the late rallies of Gavilan.

Gavilan's williness had much to do with the evenness of the fight at this stage. The Cuban missed many leads because he seemed too eager to offset the effectiveness of Billy's punching.

Graham Shaken

Early in the eighth, Gavilan shook Graham with a solid right to the head and the challenger went back on his heels. Graham came back, though, pestering Gavilan and throwing him off balance with a smashing uppercut.

The champion started throwing his own left hook to the body as the ninth began. And it was not long before huge red welts were showing on the side of the challenger. It was in this stanza that Graham was nearest to disposing of Gavilan, according to his opponent's steady tattooing in the first minute, begin battering Billy about the head, body and ribs with full-arm swings that carried power.

By the tenth round — the two-thirds mark of the bout—the fight has resolved itself into a short-range attack by Graham as against the fast and furious outside punching of Gavilan.

Gavilan Followers Absent

Going for the dramatic announcer Johnny Addie read off the cards of the two judges and then followed with Conn's scoring.

Immediately it was realized the referee had awarded the bout to Gavilan, the crowd burst forth with a shower of boos. From the outset, they had been partisan and that the house was heavily pro-Graham. He is a local product and was getting his first shot at a title. Moreover, the large Latin following which usually attends the Keed's fights was missing, probably because of home TV.

Gavilan shook hands with Conn after the decision was read, and told newsmen later: "I were nine rounds. Why they holler He not hurt me once. The crowd is for him. They yell when he hit me, but when I hit him they no say anything."

A crestfallen Graham told newsmen in his dressing room he thought he had won. "I thought this was one time when I really had it," he said. "I should won. I wasn't even tired."

Tables Well Turned; Maid Who 'Forged' Checks Sues Accuser

HOLLYWOOD (ANP) — "I want $100,000 damages for false arrest," declared Mrs. Hattie H. Franklin to her counsel, Curtis C. Taylor, as she signed papers starting a law suit for damages against her former employer, Mrs. Leah Clampett S. Nealey, of Beverly Hills.

The case developed from the recent acquittal of Mrs. Franklin, after Mrs. Nealey, widely known as heiress to the Guggenheim millions, had charged her with forging five checks, which Taylor proved Mrs. Nealey had written.

Write Jab by Middleweight Champ

There'll be no pen in the hands of either, when they meet in the Polo Grounds ring on Sept. 12, but for the sonos of Sugar Ray Robinson, left, and Randy Turpin, right, are in an amiable mood. The Britisher, who dethroned the Sugar boy as middleweight king in London in July, hands a pen to his rival for official signing of their title fight contract. Sitting between them is N.Y. Boxing Commissioner C. B. Powell, while Commissioner Leon Swears peeks over his shoulder.

Williams Plans to Use Gil Turner as Yardstick

PHILADELPHIA

By Roscoe Coleman

Dethroned monarchs constantly dream of regaining lost prestige and kingship.

Such aspirations are entertained by former lightweight champion of the world Ike Williams, who hopes to use the coming bout with Gil Turner on Sept. 10 at Shibe Park as the first step in his campaign to regain the crown.

Title Date Set

To be the first to defeat unbeaten Turner would greatly enhance Williams' bid for a rematch toward regaining the diadem he lost several months ago to Johnny Carter, of New York.

Promoter Herman Taylor announced that Carter, through his manager Willie Ketchum, has agreed to terms and the date. Williams has been accepted for a title clash at Convention Hall in October, Taylor said.

There is a catch to it, however. He must get by Turner first.

Ike, who will not be bothered with problems in this one, has put up training quarter here and in his hometown, Trenton. According to unconfirmed reports, he is applying himself diligently to the task of getting into tipsy condition.

Williams claims he will demolish Turner and win either by a one sided decision or by a knockout. "I'll put the convincer on the people," he said. "Yet boss Mr. Turner, he is going to be my measuring rod for a repeat title go," concluded Ike with the proper amount of convincing emphasis.

Marquez Big Star As Braves Triumph

BOSTON (NNPA) — The sparkling play of Luis Marquez, Boston Braves left fielder, led the Boston Braves to a 9-to-1 victory in the nightcap after they dropped the opener, 13 to 10, to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Marquez scored from second base on a sacrifice, to give the Braves their initial run and belted a bases-loaded double in the Braves' eight-run seventh inning.

Marquez singled in the third and went to second on Jim Wilson's single. Sibby Sisti sacrificed. Marquez, seeing the plate uncovered, rounded third and continued on to score standing up.

Jackie's Homer Gives Bums Split

BROOKLYN (NNPA) — Jackie Robinson's tenth-inning blast was the second game of a double header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, and kept the Brooklyn Dodgers' six game lead from further diminishing last Sunday.

The Pirates had won the opener, 12-11. The loss was charged to Don Newcombe, the big right-hander.

Robinson's homer was his fifteenth. He hit it off the balcony of the upper left-field seats, with two out. Robinson tied the game with a two-and-two pitch.

In the opener Pete Castiglione belted two homers off Newcombe. Don was routed in the seventh in which the Pirates scored eight runs. Clyde King, who relieved Newcombe was taken out after he gave up a single and two walks. Don had been hit on his pitching shoulder by a line drive.

Jackie went hitless in five trips to the plate in the opener but got five-for-three in the nightcap. Roy Campanella got three-in-five in the opener, including a double, but went hitless in four time a bat in the nightcap.
