cluding Evanston, Ill., and Gary, Ind.

The take of the policy racket is set at $20,000,000 a year. Davis ported to be George Harrison who formerly was in charge of three small wheels in the Stockyards district.

To Be 'Unsolved' Killing

Acting Captain Kinzie Blueitt of the Wabash Police District feels that the killers of Roe were hired and that the murder will be listed as "unsolved."

Lieutenant Golden disagrees with this claiming that professional killers would not have fired so many shots in order to get their victim.

Three theories are given as causes of Roe's assassination:

1. The so - called crime syndicate — the Accardo - Guzik - Giancano group, successors to the late Al Capone, Chicago's prohibition days undisputed rackets boss had Roe wiped out to complete its control over the policy game.

Revenge Slaying

2. It was a revenge slaying in behalf of Leonard (fat Lenny) Caifano, 42, whom Roe shot down June 18, 1951 when Caifano and three other whites tried to kidnap him on Chicago's south side.

3. Roe was shot to keep him from testifying before a proposed local crime grand jury and possibly exposing organized crime secrets in Chicago.

Death came after 20 years of resisting organized mobsters. He rose from a mere apprentice in the fabulous Jones brothers' operations to heir of the oldOnes empire.

Follows Retirements

His fall follows the "voluntary retirement" of the Jones brothers themselves, the Benvenuti brothers, Caesar, Leo and Julius, Italians, and "big Jim" Martin from the numbers game.

The others dropped out after being shot at or kidnapped. Minor operators gave in to the syndicate by co-operating with it or making a deal with it.

For Roe it marked the end of a year of fear for him and his wife, Carrie, 45. After his run in with Caifano, Roe constantly was armed and usually had a bodyguard with him at all times.

At the time of his death, Roe carried a loaded revolver which he had no chance to use.

Killed By 2 White Hoods

Two white hoods waited patiently for hoo's behind two unlighted sign boards at a vacant lot at 53rd St. and Michigan Ave., only a few doors from Roe's home at 5339 Michigan. They blasted him with shotgun pellets as he walked to his parked automobile, two doors from his home.

Then they drove off in a light grey or green Chevrolet.

Roe was taken to nearby Provident Hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Only one man has been found who could identify the killers, he is Joe Turner, 45, colored owner of the nearby gas station and parking lot from which Roe was ambushed. He was immediately ushered from the scene and placed under police protection.

Turner said he had noticed the assassins driving slowly and stopping near his gas station throughout the early part of the evening. Mistaking them for police investigators, Turner asked, "are you fellows checking cars?"

He was told to "Mind your own business." Later they returned and parked their car at the spot from which the fatal shots were fired.

He questioned them again and was told, "Everything's all right. We've been drinking too much and want to get sober."

Turner noticed that they opened another quart bottle of beer, and took another drive around the block shortly before the murder.

They slipped in behind the double billboard for their big job without Turner seeing them.

Turner said they pulled out fast, signalled a dark 1952 Oldsmobile Avenue. He identified the killers and headed north down Michigan as white men with dark complexions. One wore a jacket and railroad cap, the other, a dark suit and felt hat.

Gov. Driscoll Signs Civil Rights Pledge

WASHINGTON (ANP)— Fourteen white and two colored Republican leaders, Sunday, issued a joint statement pledging the Republican Party to the passage of civil rights legislation if the Party's candidate, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is elected President.

Among the signers of the joint statement was Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, and Harold C. Burton of New York.

Burton became the GOP's most controversial figure at its recent national convention in Chicago because he seconded the approval of the Party's weak civil rights plank.

The other colored signer is Charles S. Hill of New York, also a convention delegate.

PROMISE IN PLANK

The 1952 Republican civil rights plank says "We will prove our good faith ... by enacting federal legislation to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory employment practices."

The statement by the 16 Republicans said this plank was one reason why they believed a Republican administration would hasten civil rights. Other reasons:

1. "We believe FEPC and other federal legislation against discrimination and segregation to be entirely constitutional";

And 2. "We see no interference in states where adequate laws are in effect and where federal and state laws and administration can be co-ordinated."

Democrats Scared

The Democratic platform, the statement said, shows "that in federal civil rights legislation conclusion is inescapable that the Democratic Party can only promise but cannot achieve."

The statement added:

"The Republican Party has the tradition and the capacity to take great strides forward in federal laws against discrimination and segregation and we pledge our every effort toward the attainment of that objective.

Duplicity Charged

"We agree that the civil rights issue in the hands of the Democratic party has been used with duplicity and insincerity" as stated in the Republican platform.

"The Democratic party, despite the fact that it is in the majority in the Congress, knows it has not delivered on its promises.

"It has added nothing by the civil rights plank adopted in Chicago."

In addition to Driscoll, the signers included:

Sen. Lodge of Massachusetts, who was manager of Eisenhower's nomination campaign; Sens. Irving Ives of New York, Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey; Reps. Clifford P. Case, Robert W. Kean and Charles A. Wolverton, all of New Jersey;

Reps. James G. Fulton and Hugh D. Scott of Pennsylvania; Reps. Christian T. Herter and John W. Heselton of Massachusetts; Rep. Jacob K. Javits of New York; Rep. Albert P. Morano of Connecticut.

Where Millionaire Numbers King Was Slain By Mobsters

This photo diagram shows where Theodore Roe, millionaire Chicago numbers king was slain as he walked toward his car last week. The assassins waited in the rear of the signboard and sprayed shotgun shells, almost as large as a .32 calibre bullet, hitting their victim in the chest and jaw.

Others To Be Named

Voters' League Democratic representatives for the congressional districts are to be named at a meeting of the party on Wednesday night.

In opening remarks, following prayer by the Rev. Harrison Bryant, Dr. Willard W. Allen set the tone of the session by saying "If government is bad, it is the people's fault."

He stated that the objective of the Voters' League is to get persons to register and vote regardless of party affiliation.

"Whichever way you think you can do the greatest good, go that way," he urged, "but align yourself with one of the major parties because an independent registration is not much good."

Cooperate For Registration

"We believe that Republicans and Democrats can cooperate to get people registered. It is up to us to build the electorate," Mr. Allen concluded.

Mr. Murphy, who with Dr. Allen, sent out the call to the convention, opened his remarks by setting down a number of complaints.

He pointed out that of more than 70,000 Republicans registered in Baltimore City, 55,000 of them are colored, and if these figures are ture, colored Republicans outnumber whites two to one.

Citing another estimate of 23,000 colored Democrats as against 225,000 white Democrats, Mr. Murphy said it is to be expected that whites would take the majority of ward executives, national Convention delegates and paid political jobs.

Party Not Satisfied

"But the Democratic Party is not satisfied with the majority. It takes all of these things and gives none to the colored people," he asserted.

Yet, he pointed out, colored Republicans are in a "far worse situation" because they constitute the majority of the Republican Party in Baltimore.

"If they acted like white Democrats, they would take all the delegates to the national convention, all the paid political jobs and all the ward executives."

"But that is not the way it works. Except for ward executives, colored Republicans get only a small number of political jobs and only a few delegates to the national convention."

Race Insults Cited

Mr. Murphy made vehement reference to the fact that although colored are the party majority, Republican headquarters are set up in the Lord Baltimore Hotel which is completely discourteous to colored people" and Republican women schedule a meeting for Ocean City, Md., where "the whole town is lily-white."

"No Republican can be nominated without or vote," he declared, "and on many occasions, no Democrat can be elected to office in the city, in close elections, without our vote."

Referring to the fact that no colored Democrat was among delegates to the national convention, "who owes his nomination to us" dedicated a bridge without inviting important colored Republicans to attend, Mr. Murphy quoted Congressman Dawson

Get Smart Not Mad

"It is time to stop getting mad and get smart."

He said politics is a constructive public service and the best people must get into it.

"If the present Democratic and Republican bosses are negligent or hostile in our interests, or just plain incompetent, it is our fault.

"We have not organized our power and used it to defeat them."

Mr. Murphy then told the packed room, "We are here to plan for the future because 100,000 of us working together can get things done in our communities."

Objectives Outlined

The Voters' League objectives, as defined in the course of the meeting, are 1) to secure permanent registration of all the colored people in the State and in Baltimore City; 2) to urge all persons to register no matter how they register;

3) To provide them with information, speakers, pamphlets setting forth the number of voters at present registered in every district, county, ward and precinct, and advise Democratic and Republican leaders where it is possible immediately, through increased registration, to elect colored candidates to public office

4) That the Voters' League will never recommend candidates for public office, but will only give out information concerning the candidates and other useful information to educate the public so that the individual can make his choice.

To Raise $6,000 Budget

5) That a budget of no less than $6,000 be raised for the employment of a paid executive secretary who shall give full time to the job of informing, educating and registering voters throughout the state.

6) That the Voters' League shall interfere in no way with the regular Republican and Democratic organizations, which will have their own setups and finance their own campaigns, and choose their own candidates as they have done heretofore.

7) That the Voters' League is the creature of both parties who agree equally to finance it on a completely non-partisan basis.

Unanimous Ballots Cast

In the election of permanent officers for the Voters' League, 89-year-old William E. Fletcher of Annapolis cast a unanimous ballot for Mr. Murphy as chairman.

Cambridge City Councilman Charles Cornish cast a unanimous ballot for Mrs. Victorine Adams as secretary.

Serving on an executive committee named to bring in a slate of permanent officers were:

Dr. Willard W. Allen, Charles Cornish, Isaac Crippen, W. O. Myers, Augustus Knox, Linwood Koger, William E. Fletcher, Walter Faucett and Mrs. Mary Hawkins, Republicans;

Two Die In Sunday Automobile Wrecks

Thrown from a speeding truck through a barbed wire fence near Port Republic, Md., Mrs. Annabelle Fitzgerald, 45, of 537 Irving st., nw., was one of two persons killed on Sunday in traffic accidents around the Washington area.

The other victim, Albert Coleman, 26, of Baltimore, was killed when his car went out of control, skidded 60 feet and crashed head-on with another car on Route 1 in Beltsville, Md.

Injured in the accident which killed Mrs. Fitzgerald was Mary E. Shear, 13, of 81 New York ave., nw., who received a fractured wrist when she was also thrown out of the truck as it rounded a sharp curve.

The accident which resulted in Mrs. Coleman's death also caused injuries to Johnny L. Taylor, 28, of 1600 Madison ave., and James Bumphrey, 332 Pressman st., both of Baltimore. The men were taken to Freedman's Hospital suffering head injuries. Their condition is critical.

State Police said the truck in which Mrs. Fitzgerald was riding, was operated by Oscar E. Williams, 36, of the unit block New York ave., nw. He has been charged with manslaughter and reckless driving and ordered held under $2,500 bond for a hearing on Friday.

Mr. Coleman is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lucille Dangerfield; three brothers, Ollie, Thomas and Robert, and five sisters, Estell, Catherine, Jane and Mrs. Lucille Keyes and Mrs. Gertrude Saunders.

Funeral services for Mr. Coleman, 25, of 259 W. Hoffman st., will be held at 11:30 a.m. Thursday at the Williams funeral home, 322 Schroeder st.

Burial will be in the National cemetery.

Mr. Coleman was a veteran of

Iceman's Death One Hot Affair

An East Baltimore fish and ice dealer whose recent death made it hot for awhile among his relatives, a couple of undertakers, two judges and lawyers is still raising a heatwave in this world he left behind.

The latest dispute concerning the death of Charles Thompson, 1500 block McElderry St., revolves around who should be the administrator of his estate, believed to be of considerable proportions.

Two petitions have been filed in Orphans' Court asking that undertaker Robert Williams, 1500 block McElderry St. show cause why letters naming him administrator of the dead man's estate shouldn't be revoked

Relatives Challenge

The petitions were filed on behalf of Mrs. Lucille Booth, a daughter of Newark, N.J., and Mrs. Leanner Broadnax, a sister of Norfolk, Va., by their respective attorneys, LeRoy O. Cooper and Harry Yaffe.

Mr. Williams has until September 2 to file his answer.

Mrs. Booth is the sole surviving child of the dead man and she claims that "by fraud and misrepresentation," Mr. Williams qualified as administrator of her father's estate.

Mrs. Broadnax, who claims she is the "sole heir" admits she "did sign renunciation consenting to his (Williams) appointment as administrator" but only "in the mistaken belief" the undertaker would bury the dead man.

Didn't Bury Body

Since, she claims, the undertaker "never did perform the burial, the estate is not indebted to him" and she wishes to rescind the renunciation of the administration.

It was over the burial of Mr. Thompson in late July that the earlier squabble arose.

The former fish and icehouse dealer died on July 16 at Johns Hopkins hospital. Both Mrs. Broadnax and Mrs. Booth claimed the body.

Mrs. Broadnax asked that the body be released to the Williams funeral home but at the same time, Mrs. Booth had requested it be released to the Elroy O. Wilson funeral home. It was later sent to the latter.

Argument Grows

The dispute gained impetus when Mrs. Booth wanted the body buried in Baltimore and Mrs. Broadnax wanted it interred in Norfolk, Mr. Thompson's native home.

The squabble was taken to police court where it was suggested that the funeral be held in Baltimore and the burial be held in Norfolk.

With this in mind, Mrs. Broadnax began making plans for burial in the southern city when she learned at the last minute her brother's body hadn't been shipped.

Gets Injunction

She then obtained an injunction in City Court to restrain the burial of the body here only to discover the funeral had just taken place. It was just by luck that, although the body had been lowered into the grave, it had not been covered because the grave attendants at Arbutus Memorial park were busy with another burial.

After a huddle between all parties concerned the body was finally removed from the grave and shipped by boat to Norfolk where it was quietly interred.

But all will not be quiet in the camp of Charles Thompson's estate pending the outcome of the new litigation. This should be settled next month.

Booing Of Decision Leads To 3 Being Held For Trial

A dispute by four spectators Thursday night over the referee's decision to halt a fight in South Baltimore resulted in three of them being held for grand jury action for striking an officer.

The referee in this case was Officer Ernest Sheppard of the Southern Police district who called a halt to a fist fight between two men who decided that was the best way to settle an argument over a principle.

The four spectators protesting to the referee by calling him abusive names were Mitchell Wagner, 25, of the 900 block S. Sharp St., Andrew Jones, 22, of the 2800 block Woodbrook Ave., Rigby Johnson, 25, of the 800 block W. Lee St., and Gordon Booze Jr., 23, of the 100 block W. Neale St.

Wagner and Booze were released on $500 bail pending action by the Grand Jury, and Johnson was released on $100 bail on disorderly conduct charges.

In addition, Booze was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

According to Officer Sheppard he went to investigate what was happening at a gathering of 30 people in a vacant lot last night about 8 o'clock.

Upon arriving there, he saw two men engaged in a fist fight. They obeyed his order to halt the fight, but four spectators protested the decision and started calling the officer abusive words.

As the officer attempted to arrest the men, Wagner seized his hat and gun. Upon retreating from the unarmed policeman, Wagner received blows from the seized gun. In the meantime, Johnson and Booze had taken the officer's hat and gun and refused to return

Additional policemen finally arrived to arrest the spectators and the principals.

Man, 66, Gets Two Years For Assault

Add Holly, the 66-year-old man who was found guilty Aug. 5 of assaulting a 12-year-old girl was sentenced to 2 years in the State Penitentiary, Friday, by Criminal Court Chief Judge J. W. Conwell Smith.

Holly's attorney, D. Lipott, and announced after his client's conviction, that he would move for a new trial but no motions were ever made.

The convicted man, who lives in the 1300 block N. Stricker st., used to hire the young girl to clean his apartment for him. On July 11, however, he was accused of undressing the child. The girl, however, was vague on the stand as to whether or not the elderly man attacked her.

Asks Supreme Court Ruling In Third School Case

Steel Firm Gives In To Liberia

MONROVIA—(ANP) — The Republic Steel Corporation of Cleveland, O. has revised its terms of agreement on the exploitation of the famous Bomi Hills mining concession as demanded by the Liberian Government.

The American company through its subsidiary, the Liberian Mining Co., had been operating under an agreement made several years ago. The Americans built a railroad to haul the rich iron ore from Bomi Hills to the port of Monrovia, established a line of freighters to carry the ore. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad built a special pier to receive it at Baltimore.

The Liberian government realizing that the original terms of understanding gave too much advantage to the steel company requested an adjustment. They wanted a larger excise per ton, more employment for Liberians above the scale of common labor and other adjustments.

President William V. S. Tubman invited the mining people with representatives from London on board his luxurious new yacht for a cruise down the Liberian coast line. Secretary of State Gabriel L. Dennis revealed that a change of program acceptable to Liberia was granted. President Tubman signed the new agreement.

Routine Change

Col. James H. Robinson executive assistant to James C. Evans, civilian aide to the secretary of defense, who has been transferred to Japan in a routine order. The change was announced in the AFRO under the heading, "Pentagon Gets a Shake - up." This heading was misleading. In addition, an accompanying picture identified as Colonel Robinson, was actually not his. Colonel Robinson revealed that he has been awaiting his transfer orders for six months and denies the move is a "shakeup." The AFRO hastens to correct these errors and offers its apologies to Colonel Robinson.

Board Seeks Joint Hearing

Concedes Court Will Note Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — Apparently conceding that the U.S. Supreme Court will note probable jurisdiction in the Prince Edward County, Va. school segregation case, attorneys for the county school board last Friday asked the court to set the case down for argument along with two other similar cases.

The NAACP, on behalf of colored school children of the county, had appealed from the final decree of the Federal District Court at Richmond, Va.

The District Court had held that racial segregation in the public schools of that county is not discrimination prohibited by the 14th Amendment.

To Hear Kan., S.C. Cases

Before it recessed for the summer, the court decided to hear the Topeka, Kan., and the Clarendon County, S.C., cases which involve the question of racial segregation in public schools.

The court also has assigned the Clarendon County case for argument immediately following the Topeka case on Oct. 14 and 15.

In view of the public interest in all three cases, the school board's attorneys ask the court to advance the Prince Edward case with the other two cases and defer the date of argument of all three cases until the Prince Edward case is ready for argument.

3 Questions Raised

The Prince Edward case raises the questions:

1. Whether the sections of the Virginia Constitution and code requiring separate schools for white and colored children are invalid and unenforceable under the 14th Amendment.

2. Whether, after findings that the facilities furnished colored children are inferior to those provided for white children, the District Court was required, under the 14th Amendment, to issue a decree restraining county school officials from denying colored pupils admission to the superior facilities solely because they are colored.

3. Whether, in addition to parity in curricula and physical facilities, the Constitution guarantees colored children equality of all other significant factors affecting the development of skills, mind and character.

Florida U. Case Faces High Court

NEW YORK — The suit to gain admission of colored students to the University of Florida appeared headed back to the U. S. Supreme Court this week following decision of the Supreme Court of Florida refusing to order the acceptance of colored applicants by the all-white university.

The Florida court dismissed the suit and held that equal educational facilities are afforded colored students at the Florida Agricultural and Mechanical College at Tallahassee.

No Courses Offered

When the cases were originally filed in May, 1949, there were no graduate or professional courses offered at Florida A. and M. College. After colored students had applied for such courses, they were ordered instituted at A. and M.

An appeal for review of the case by the United States Supreme Court was subsequently denied, the court refusing to grant the petition for review on the ground that no final judgment or order had been issued by the lower court.

Representing the applicants in the case were NAACP attorneys Horace Hill of Florida and Robert L. Carter of the national office legal staff.

Ala. Man Seeks City Council Seat

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Edward Robinson, an independent candidate for a spot on the Fairfield City Council, last week was completing campaign plans for the municipal general election, Monday, Sept. 15.

He indicated that he would make a major campaign speech at a rally, Friday night, Aug. 22 at the Fairfield Baseball Park.

Robinson, first member of his race to run for the council, is backed by the Fairfield Civic League. Several days back he submitted a petition with the names of 25 qualified voters to qualify to run in the general election.

Entitled To Representation

The situation which motivated the Robinson candidacy is the annexation of the all-colored Second Addition and the all-white Forest Hills to form Ward 6. The league felt that it was entitled to representation on the council since an alderman was selected from Forest Hill.

The council turned down their request for representation and suggested that the only way to obtain such recognition was to run for office.

Alder Henry Hoglund will be opposed by Mr. Robinson.

Charles Taft Pledges End Of Police Bias

CINCINNATI, O. (ANP) — If Charles P. Taft, Republican nominee for governor is elected in Nov. it may put an end to the ily-white aspect of the Ohio State Highway patrol. That organization under its director, Col. George Gale, has always refused to use colored patrolmen. Taft, who is the brother of Sen. Robert Taft, has announced he will create a new department.

NYU Drops Race Queries

Admit Forms No Longer Ask Color

NEW YORK — Questions of race and religion will be eliminated from all registration forms at New York University beginning with the new school term next month.

Assurance that such designations are to be dropped were given this week by Dr. Henry T. Heald, chancellor of the university, to Herbert L. Wright, youth secretary of the NAACP. Dr. Heald said that the new registration forms will omit the questions entirely.

Meanwhile, students will not be required to state their race or religion on the current forms.

The elimination of these questions culminates a two-year campaign by the NAACP chapter at NYU, now headed by Alexander Foster, a third-year student preparing to enter the university law school.

Chancellor Heald also informed Mr. Wright that the guard staff and other service personnel at the university would be integrated.

As a result of the killing of Enus L. Christiani, a student, by a university guard, the chancellor agreed to the proposal to give all guards at the university special training in human relations at the NYC Police Training Institute.

How to prove to yourself Luckies are made better—to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother

Strip the paper from a Lucky by carefully tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure it's from a newly opened pack, and that you don't dig into the tobacco. Then gently lift out the tobacco cylinder.

Free from loose ends

Here's why Luckies taste cleaner: You can see that Luckies hold together without crumbling—without loose ends to get in your mouth and spoil the taste. Lucky Strike remains a perfect cylinder of clean tobacco—round, firm and fully packed.

Free from "hot spots"

Here's why Luckies taste fresher: Note how free Luckies are from air spaces—those "hot spots" that give you a harsh, stale taste. Luckies' long strands of fresh, good-tasting tobacco give you a fresh, smooth smoke.

Here's why Luckies taste smoother: L.S./M.F.T., Lucky Strike means fine tobacco—fine, light, naturally mild tobacco. So, for a smoke that's cleaner, fresher, smoother, for truly mild tobacco, for a cigarette that tastes better ...make your next carton Lucky Strike!

Now see for yourself why LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!
