Darr's Plenty Oomph, Here!

Cumberland-born Alice Darr, singer-pianist, is appearing in person at a popular Philadelphia nightery.

Cumberland Proud Of Its Cinderella Girl

CUMBERLAND, Md. — Cumberland is proud of its "Cinderella" career girl, 21 - year - old Alice Darr, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Darr, of 342 Davidson St.

Alice a 1947 graduate of Carver High School, appeared upon the after-dark scene a month after graduation, singing and playing the piano with the 3 Loose Nuts at Cumberland's Ali Bi Club.

In November of the same year, she moved into the Cadalac Club, alternating with such popular groups as the Jones Brothers, Picadilly Pipers, Three Cliffs and others, where she stayed for 11 months.

Her "Cinderella" Chance

In the latter part of 1948, she went to Pittsburgh on a one-day trip. A verterian showman heard her sing and play. She had a lucrative contract in less than a week.

Since that time, Alice has become a popular favorite in both Canada and the U.S., where she has played most of the swanky clubs.

She is currently playing one of Philadelphia's top spots, following a successful engagement at Wildwood, N.J.

Says Money No Object

The possessor of finely chiseled features, large black eyes and an comely figure, Alice says that she "is not interested in men with money."

Said the Cumberland "Cinderella":

"I make enough money in the world for a girl to have to put up with a bore who has nothing to recommend him but his banker and his tailor.

Guy Must Be Nice

"If I ever get married it will be to someone I really like who will not interfere with my career, and I don't care whether he is a ditch digger, an entertainer or a bank president, as long as he is nice."

While Pittsburgh is her adopted home, Cumberland is proud of Alice. She has a sister residing in New York and another living here with their father and mother.

Dorothy Dandridge Gets Starring Role

By HARRY LEVETTE

HOLLYWOOD (ANP) — It will be an epochal event when "See How They Run" is completed and released at Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

That is because it will be one of the few times in Hollywood history that a screen play written by a colored author has been produced.

The first, back in the middle '20's, shortly after the advent of the new "talkies," was "Wednesday's Children" by Wallace Thurman, a local writer, who had studied in the East.

A Memorable Night

It was a memorable night last spring when the author, Mary Elizabeth Vroomen, who had been brought here by the Christopher Society for the purpose, was tendered a bronze trophy, and a $2,000 cash award for her story.

It will be a final step to stardom also for pretty, talented Dorothy Dandridge. Hollywood could not have found a more qualified actress to portray a role.

When the Christopher awards were made the general public did not know in advance that Miss Vroomen was colored.

Hence, when a pretty, shapely, stylishly but modestly attired brown-skin young lady, rose at the call of the radio announcer, from her seat on the rostrum of the Beverly Hills Crystal Room, it was a genuine surprise.

Murmur Of Excitement

A pleased murmur of excitement ran among the several hundred diners, which included some of the celebrated stars and figures in the show world, and the few colored guests prolonged approvingly the prolonged applause pause rang out for her.

She had won her trophy and cash award for a story she wrote which appeared in the June issue of the Ladies Home Journal last year.

In her brief speech of acceptance, Miss Vroomen expressed in soft well - modulated tones how deeply grateful she was for the award, and the encouragement it gave her to continue to do her best.

Plays Rol. Of Teacher

Miss Dandridge takes time off from her successful series of night club engagements begun last November to come to MGM for the important role of the school teacher in "See How They Run." She will be seen in Jane Richards in the unusual film story of a colored teacher and her pupils, which was her covers of both Life It is her first film role since "The Harlem Globetrotters."

After a 7½-year absence from the entertainment world, Miss Dandridge last November began her night club singing career which was her covers of both Life and Look magazines.

MAY PROVOKE WORLD WAR III, SAYS DR. LOGAN:

Africa's Explosive Crisis Painted For Morganites

The ideal of the right of black men to rule themselves, as opposed to the ideal of white supremacy, is meeting in a head-on clash, causing a crisis in Africa that "is likely to explode in our faces," Morgan State college's summer graduates were warned Sunday.

Dr. Rayford W. Logan, head of the history department at Howard university, who delivered the commencement address, described the aim of self-government as "the Gold Coast solution." The theory of white supremacy, he said, is the "Union of South Africa solution."

The noted educator told 44 members present of the graduating class of 45 that he had chosen to tell them of "the impending crisis in Africa" —The subject of his talk—because there had been little about Africa in textbooks for prospective teachers in the class to learn, and because "events in Africa may provoke a third world war."

Malan ,AS Nazi-nalism

Dr. Daniel F. Malan, racist prime minister of the Union of South Africa, is being opposed in his efforts "to establish more firmly than ever" white supremacy in the Union by a nationalism "that is growing increasingly insistent and impatient," Dr. Logan declared.

The components of the country's nationalism were described as:

1. Moslem nationalism, characterized by recent revolts in Cairo and hatred against foreigners. Dr. Logan called Mohammedanism "one of the most dynamic emotional elements in the boiling, seething unrest in North Africa."

2. Communism: "Probably this fear is being exaggerated," he said, and told of pamphlets being circulated calling Communism the only doctrine to lead the people to independence.

Gold Coast Leading

3. Native nationalism, which, Dr. Logan said, includes white Europeans born in Africa who do not object to being considered natives.

"The Gold Coast is much further along the road to self-government than Nigeria," which is also making steady progress, Dr. Logan revealed. Other colonies, he said, are moving more slowly toward self-government.

Dr. Logan recently spent eight months abroad, studying French colonial policy.

He declared that while the French policy differed somewhat from the British—with 20 or more Africans in the French National assembly—what the French colonials desire is a greater degree of self-government in their own territories, rather than increased representation in the national assembly.

Belgian Congo Situation

The situation in the Belgian Congo, where segregation is a hard-fast pattern, is less well known, Dr. Logan said.

"American colored missionaries are no longer allowed to go into the Belgian Congo because their activities are considered subversive," he revealed.

Dr. Logan pointed out that while 2,000 African students are studying in France, 300 in Britain and several hundred in the United States, no single African from the Belgian Congo has been allowed European study.

Reasons For Reluctance

The educator declared that European powers are reluctant to grant independence or self-government to the Africans because:

1. They can provide manpower in case of war.

2. The land offers strategic raw materials, including uranium ore industrial diamonds and others.

3. Africa offers strategic ports in the event of war.

4. The country is a source of cheap labor.

700 Attend Inside

An overflow crowd of approximately 700 persons saw Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan president, award degrees in the Morgan Christian center after the scheduled outdoor program had to be shuttled inside because of the threat of rain.

One member of the graduating class, Mrs. Estella Dixon Webb, formerly of the Bronx, N.Y., was awarded her bachelor of arts degree in absentia because she has moved to California with her family.

Among the graduates present, however, was Mrs. Martha A. Minnis, a 59-year-old great grandmother who has been teaching school in Alvista, Va. for 40 years. Family members who saw her get her degree included her husband, Joel, one daughter, one son, and a son-in-law.

Also taking part in the commencement exercises for the college's 32nd session were Dean George S. Harris; Registrar Edward N. Wilson, the Rev. Howard L. Corniste, director of the Morgan Christian center, and the summer school chorus, conducted by Prof. J. O. B. Mosley.

Bingo Party Set For Cherry Hill

The finance committee of the Cherry Hill community recreation council will sponsor a benefit bingo party at the Cherry Hill playground on Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Each individual will be allowed three free games for his admission ticket. In addition there will be a gate prize. The public is invited.

The council has given financial assistance to the teen-age boys' softball teams playing in the Junior and Intermediate leagues at Cherry Hill and to the girls' softball teams.

The council secured a bus for the playground representatives to attend the Second Olympiad held for all playgrounds at Druid Hill park in July.

Three Projects For Summer

The Benfeit bingo party Friday evening will be the third project for the council's finance committee this summer. The other two were a contribution canvass in which the community and friends contributed more than $100 and a tag sale in which members of the softball teams took part.

Through the finance committee the council has encouraged the organization of more teams for recreation.

Murray N. Quasey is the chairman of the finance committee and Shepherd H. Burge Jr. is president of the council.

Will you leave these to your children?
Men have died to leave you these 4 symbols of freedom:
A Holy Bible—symbol of your right to worship as you wish.
(First Amendment, U.S. Constitution)
A door key—your right to lock your door against illegal government force and prying.
(Fourth Amendment, U.S. Constitution)
A pencil—freedom to speak or write what you think, whether you agree with the government or not.
(First Amendment, U.S. Constitution)
And a free ballot—your right to choose the people who represent you in government—your protection against government tyranny.
(Article I, U.S. Constitution)
HALF the world is trying to destroy these symbols—and what they stand for.
Even in this country, there are people who attack our freedoms, by trying to give the government more and more control over American life.
"The government should take over the doctors," they say, "and run the railroads, and the electric companies." But that's socialism. And socialism is one thing most Americans don't want!
It is wise for us always to question and weigh the forces that influence our government. It's up to us all whether we'll leave our children freedom—or socialism.

Vet Who Took Police Car Agrees On Trip To Hospital

A 38-year-old Navy veteran who pleaded guilty, Monday in Criminal Court, to three cases of larceny and one of assault received suspended sentences in each after he consented to enter the Veteran's Hospital at Perry Point, Md.

The larcenies involved a pound of steak, a pound of coffee, and a Baltimore police radio car. The assault arose when the defendant struck an American Store grocer.

Charles W. Gary, 2300 block Lauretta ave. told Judge John T. Tucker that his actions stemmed from the fact he drank some gin, and was worried over losing his wife, his business and his car.

Wife Divorcing

A former swimming instructor at the Bainbridge Naval Base, he said, Gary disclosed the fact that his wife has sued him for divorce since the fateful morning he ran afoul of the law—June 21.

Gary was arrested after police chased him up Edmondson ave. in a police radio car around 9:30 a.m. on June 21. He was finally stopped at Edmondson ave. and Mount st.

The car in which he had been riding was one which had responded to a call at the American Grocery Store, 637 Brice st. where the manager, Edward W. Burber, had been struck in the face and his glasses broken after he saw Gary take the steak and coffee.

The car was empty when Gary saw it. "I just got in it and started driving off," he said in court. "I don't know why I did it."

VA Moves To Organize New GI Bill Machinery

In a quick move to prevent any delays in providing education or training for veterans under the new Korean GI Bill, the nation's 48 state governors have been asked to appoint agencies within their states to handle approval of schools and business establishments for training eligible veterans.

The action, taken by Carl R. Gray Jr., administrator of the Veterans Administration, was announced Friday by W. L. Limburg, regional VA manager for Maryland.

The new law specifies that schools and training establishments must have state approval before they may offer training to veterans who served since the outbreak of war in Korea. This requirement was also a part of the original GI Bill for World War II veterans.

State Agency Named

Mr. Limburg said that this State's approving agency has been designated by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin as the Maryland State Department of Education.

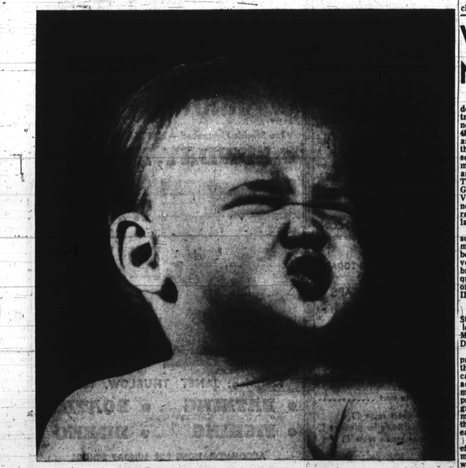
It was also announced that approval granted to schools under the World War II GI Bill does not carry over under the new Korean act. Schools and establishments must be re-inspected and re-approved for the new training program, since in many cases they must meet different standards than those required under the earlier law.

The new bill, which goes into effect Aug. 20, provides up to 36 months of training to veterans who were on active duty on or after June 27, 1950—the date of the outbreak of fighting in Korea—regardless of where they served. While in training, they may receive an allowance from the Government to cover part of their expenses.

5 'Star County Medical' Speakers

The Baltimore County Medical association will meet at Ames Friendship hall, Walker ave. and Reisterstown Rd., Pikesville, on Aug. 20 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Gen. James P. S. Devereux, congressman from Baltimore county, will be guest speaker. Luncheon will be served by the ladies of the church.



"Ooooooh, what a talker!"

True, perhaps, but still it isn't courteous to interrupt others on your party line except in an emergency. Then, of course, anybody will be glad to give up the line quickly. Courtesy is contagious, and often leads others to keep their calls briefer.

Youth, 16, Given Suspended Term

Sixteen years old Willie Grace, 1100 block N. Eutaw st., found guilty on Aug. 1 of assault, received a one-year suspended sentence, Friday, in Criminal Court.

Judge S. Ralph Warnken placed the youth on probation for two years after his probation report showed he had a good work record.

The youth, represented by Leonard S. Freedman, had been charged with beating and robbing another teen-ager on July 10 near Taylor School No. 122.

Coming From Work

The 15-year-old victim testified that he had been coming home from work when, as he got out of a cab, Grace and another juvenile beat his up and took $2.60 from him.

Grace admitted fighting with the boy but said the fight started in the school playground where they had been playing ball. He admitted striking the boy in the eye but denied he took any money from him.

A 13-year-old witness to the fight backed up Grace's story.

Man Given 30 Days For Threatening Policeman

William Bess, 30, of the 1209 block E. Fayette St., was sentenced to 30 days in jail Saturday after threatening to cut two Northeastern District policemen.

Arrested at his home shortly after allegedly beating his sister, Mrs. Florence Gunter, Bess threatened the officers with a butcher knife when they found him hiding on a stairway.

He was disarmed by Patrolmen Charles Schuber, and James Gadden.
