Shriners' Women's Auxiliary Sets 41st Session

9 Visiting in the USA

By Lulu Jones Garrett

Proudest smile on any guy's face last week, was that worn by Baltimore's Lloyd Davis. His cute spouse, Rebecca, had just garnered a license from the Maryland State Pharmaceutical Board. Was right at top of the class, too.

The ladies are much in the news, this week.

Dr. Virginia Simmons Nyabongo dashed from Nashville, where she is on the staff of Tenn. A. and I. University, to represent that organization at the Southern College Personnel Association workshop at Warren Wilson College, Swannonoa, N.C. over the week end.

And receiving high honors at Fort Valley State College, Georgia, was Miss Basoline E. Usher, in that institution's traditional tribute to outstanding educators. She's a supervisor in the city school system of Atlanta, where she had been rendering outstanding service for some 35 years . . . and by now accustomed to high honors from her neighbors.

She was selected "woman of the year" by Iota Phi Lambda Sorority in 1946, awarded a loving cup for outstanding religious contributions in 1950 and elected to honorary membership in Phi Delta Kappa, national teachers' sorority in 1950.

And in close by Newark, N.J., smart Barbara Williams took a $100-scholarship from the Monmouth County Republican Women's Club, for high record, last week. She stood second in a class of 138 graduates at Middletown Township High School, with an average of 92.34. She was first tan commencement speaker in the history of the school.

CUPIDDODLING

Top bride of the week was, of course, Massachusett's "Mother of the Year." Mrs. Madeline Dugger, of West Medford, who became Mrs Robert Garnett ... lovely in silver and blue lace, and fascinating, backed by a bevy of family including children: the Edward Duggers of Akron, Ohio, Anderson, Byard, Andrew, Courtney and Jone Dugger of the home town. Her sister, Barbara Press of New York city, went up to do matron-of-honor duties.

Mrs. Jane White and her $110,000 GIVEN N.C. COLLEGE GRAD SCHOOL

DURHAM, N.C. (ANP) — In an effort to put a damper on the current move to force white colleges and universities in the South to admit colored students, Gov. Kerr Scott proposed the council of State sent an additional $110,000 to North Carolina College last week.

The additional grant is to help provide graduate school facilities equal to those for white students at the University of North Carolina.

Global Jottings

By LOU SWARZ

NEW YORK — (GLOBAL)— Summer is the time for touring and the Social Club, this year is now beginning to take advantage of "Jaunting." Plans are right in the good old USA as well as going abroad.

Just in the last two weeks it has been our pleasure here at Hotel Theresa to have as our guests two groups making tours. One from Richmond, Va., the other from Indianapolis.

From Richmond, the Zauberville Social Club, with Miss Lucille R. Freeman in charge, toured by bus through such historic Canadian spots as Quebec and Montreal, St. John's and then they went to Portland, Maine; Boston, Washington and back to Richmond.

Richmond's Oldest Club

Those making the tour were members of one of the oldest clubs in Richmond and most of its members are women of the teaching profession.

Among them are: Mesdames Lucille Cooper, N. Fer, Leona Thompkins, Ida Rose, Mattie Bennett, Judith Minor, Marie Dixon, Carrie Clay, C. Williams, Aurelia Whiting, Blanche Booker, Effie Lewis, Alda Martin and Peachy Poindexter;

Misses Ollie Payne, Low Eldridge, Beatrice Whiting, Rosa Meade, Ruth Carter, Maude Dagett, Mary Scott, Ella Richmonds, A. Edgonds, Bary Branche.

Wildrose On Tour

From Indianapolis, the Wildrose Club enjoyed a similar tour but did not go out of the States. It was the group's first tour and they visited Pittsburgh, Washington, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and then back to Indianapolis.

Members of the Club are: Mesdames Ladrue Ladson, president; Lesie Eliahee, Edward Taylor, Dorothy Taylor, Dorothy Terry, Blanche Martin, Carrie Frazier, Rose Tolliver, Wilena Cunningham, Sarah Crutcher, Charlesetta Hart and Maggie Stewart.

Among the guests were: Ella Mae Hancock, Mary Rice, Mildred Peters, Idella Richardson, Edna Poole, Rilda La Velle, Latasha Wilcoxson, Grace Ubanks, Emma Armour;

Ruth Butler, Mae Vernon, Louise Winberly, Callie Barnes, Lorene Bell, Chra Lewis, Georgia Knoff, Elsie Thompson, Mattie Reed, Bessie Minnifield and Miss Leona Dunson.

Veterans Club Entertains

The 857 Veterans Club has a membership of some of the top folks who formerly donned Uncle Sam's uniform—among them ex-captains as well as several of those who were in Special Services. One of the entertainment features of the club is entertaining vets who are shut - in in various hospitals.

Then , catering to a different group, the club invites organizations to hold their bridge parties, cocktail hours, and so on, in its club or game room. There is no charge made, as the Club is a non-profit organization.

Noel Jones just whizzed back into town after a very enjoyable vacation out in Los Angeles. Just missed the quakes, too.

North Carolina will welcome its school supervisor, Bessie Wilder, back next week, and her New York Zeta sorors and friends will miss her. She and hubby, Aaron, have been here during the summer studying. Mr. Wilder is still here and will be returning to North Carolina just in time for the opening of school.

Zetas lunched at the Hotel Theresa last Sunday afternoon, the affair was arranged by Mrs. Lillian McGhee who is now with the staff at Columbia University. Mrs. McDaniels is one of the teachers in Richmond and a "live wire" among Zetas out-that way.

Ceremony In Georgia For Ohioan, Virginian

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peal, center, recently married in Atlanta, Ga. are shown with their attendant, Miss Virian Jones, and the father of the bride, far left. Mrs. Peal is the former Miss Nancy Reece Redd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Redd of Farmville, Va. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peal of Springfield, Ohio.

Greater Boston

BY HAROLD PARK (Carroll News Service)

Motoring to Montreal and other points in Canada, are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Owens of Everett; accompanied by neighbors, Mr. Mrs. Richard Smith. They will stop in Burlington, Vt., to visit the Smiths' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith.

Little Miss Gail Snowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Snowden, after a short stay at the Children's Medical Center, is recuperating at her home in Roxbury.

Two residents of Harold Park are confined in hospitals. They are Mrs. Verna Fisher who is confined at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Suffering from severe eye pressure is James J. Jordan who is in Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Californians Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lundy and daughter, Dianne, left by motor for their home in Los Angeles, Calif., after spending two weeks here.

Before leaving, they were members of a dinner party held at Chickland on the Newburyport Turnpike. Among those present were the Rev. and Mrs. Reginald Hill, George Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stokes, "Mickie" Cromwell, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Holt, at whose home, the visitors spent their holiday.

Another former Bostonian, Mrs. Thomapina Walker Norford of Washington were a few days here with her brother, Bruce Walker at Roxbury, after the days of rest at Martha's Vineyard.

Speaking of former Bostonians, Miss Edyth Bonfield of New York; before returning to her home, she with two sisters, Mrs. Amy Warner and Mrs. Rose Jeffers and two friends Mrs. Florence Scott and Miss Marian Reid, visited Canada.

Here to see her twin grandsons, David and Ronnie, sons of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ronnie Stokes, Mrs. Erika Collins and her daughter, Elizabeth, of Camden, S.C.

Members of the Howard Mothers and Wives Club are sponsoring their annual scholarship award for a high school graduate who desires to attend Howard University. Applicants may contact Mrs. Louise Ellis, 30 Waite St. Roxbury; or Mrs. Marie Elliott, 89 Museum St., Cambridge.

Mrs. G. L. Page, wife of Dr. G. L. Page of Bedford, Va., accompanied by Mrs. Reba Parsons Davis, recently spent a ten - day vacation here. Among the many social events which honored were Mr. and Mrs. William Coes and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Brooks, Mr. E. L. Cordelle.

The first annual presentation of "The Feast in the Wilderness", sponsored by the members of the Week-Day Religious Education Committee of the Charles Street AME Church, will be held recently under the direction of Miss Edna Washington.

Among performers appearing on a guest program were Christine Wilson, Ruth Jackson, Charlie Cooke, vocalists; Charlotte Credle and John Banks, readers and John O'Brien, accompanist.

Officers Assisted

Assisting Miss Washington, president, were officers, Mesdames Ethel Smith, vice-president; Lillian Cooke, secretary; Ella Atkins, treasurer; Billie Bonner, chaplain.

Mesdames Mamie Mary Arts, Enid-Gates, Florence Hugg, Julia Kennedy, Ethel Mennell, Jessie Robinson and Dorothy Watts.

Sponsored by the William A. Rhodes Open Air Forum of Women's Service Club, the annual reception in honor of the many visiting summer schoolteachers and students, was largely attended. Dr. William Alphaeus Hunton, founder of the Opera Society, greeted guests from almost every state in the union.

A short program with Benjamin Johnson, attorney, as guest speaker and William Harrison as master of ceremonies, featured Mrs. Harriet Hall, president of the Women's Service Club; Mrs. Georgie Williams Bailey and Miss Christine Barlow as vocalists and a choral speaking group of members of the Society.

Mortician Weds Miss Morrison

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Miss Rupshne Emily Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison of Columbia, and Samuel Browne Dean; son of Mrs. Rosa Dean and the late Mr. Dean, of Charleston, were married recently at the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. E. L. Riley officiated, using the double-ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Arline W. Patterson who also played the traditional wedding marches for the ceremony.

1000 Witness Wedding Of Rev. Bowen, Miss Adkins

PHILADELPHIA

Approximately 1,000 guests were in attendance at McDowell Presbyterian Church, here, recently, for the wedding of the pastor, The Rev. Walter D. Bowen, and Miss Ovella S. Adkins.

Officiating at the ceremony was The Rev. Elder G. Hawkins, of the Saint Augustine Presbyterian Church, New York City, and Dr. Charles S. Freeman, associate in the ministry at the McDowell Church.

Assorted clusters of palms, gladiolas, carnations, snap dragons, baby's breath and ferns adorned the chancel, providing a fitting complement to the beautiful stain glass window which arched overhead.

Organist John Cooper, who thrilles the congregation with a thirty - minute prelude. Jacquelyn Palmer, contralto, accompanied by Audrinne Freeman, rendered "The Day Of Golden Promise." A most impressive moment came during the ceremony when Miss Elaine Brown, dramatic soprano, of Montague, Va., closed one of the ritual prayers with the reverent singing of Moietites' "The Lord's Prayer."

Bride Presented By Brother

The bride entered the sactuary accompanied by her brother, Edward J. Adkins Her gown was uniquely original with rose petal accentuating the waist line and bodice and skert satin, overskirted with lace, which ended in a graceful train.
