Fruit Flavored Gelatines Make Enjoyable 'Hot Weather' Drinks

By BETTY COOK for ANP

Have you ever tasted the sweet goodness of fruit-flavored gelatin before it has set?

Many homemakers have. They try that one little sip to make certain it tastes just right. And, of course, children have always [illegible] they catch mama mixing hot water with the flavor-packed crystals.

Something good was bound to come out of all this pleasurable taste stealing and sure enough it did. Fruit-flavored gelatin has taken on a brand new role—that of a drink flavorer for sodas, milk shakes, frosteds, and if you like, just plain coolers.

Simple To Concoct

One tablespoon of the powdered crystals dissolved in a little hot water makes a delicious soda flavoring for a tall refreshing drink. That's how simple it is. Or if you have lots of calls for cool drinks, then just dissolve a whole package of fruit-flavored gelatin, in a cup of hot water then add a cup of cold water.

That makes enough syrup for 6 to 8 drinks. And what flavors: Strawberry, raspberry, cherry, orange, lemon and lime—all at your fingertips, easily stored on the kitchen shelf.

Here's a raspberry gelatin combination with crushed bananas and milk. Easy enough for an eight-year-old to make for herself and "Mama" to want some, too.

Raspberry-Banana Milkshake

1 tablespoon raspberry flavored gelatin
2 tablespoons VERY HOT water
1 to 2 tablespoons mashed banana (VERY RIPE)
1 cup milk

Dissolve gelatin in VERY HOT water, in a tall glass. Add mashed banana, mix to blend. Add milk, stirring to blend. Makes 1 serving.

Other Interesting Combinations

Cherry-flavored gelatin syrup
Chocolate ice cream
Milk
Lime-flavored gelatin syrup
Crushed peaches
Milk
Just plain lemon or lime flavored syrup in carbonated water with or without ice cream.
Lemon-flavored gelatin in cola beverage.

Fruit Delight

Here's a refreshing new recipe for reducers. With a can of unsweetened cherries, fresh grapefruit, a bit of lemon juice and plain gelatin you can make this "Molded Fruit Delight." It's a wonderful combination of flavors and each pretty little mold has only 70 calories.

Molded Fruit Delight

1 No. 2 can unsweetened cherries
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) plain gelatin
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 small grapefruit
Lettuce

Drain juice from cherries, measure, and add water to make 1½ cups liquid. Soften gelatin in ½ cup liquid. Heat remaining liquid and dissolve softened gelatin in it.

Dissolve 3 sugarless sweetening tablets in hot gelatin, if desired. Blend in lemon juice. Cool until slightly thickened. Meanwhile pit cherries, and...pare and section grapefruit.

Dice grapefruit sections. Fold fruits into gelatin and turn into individual molds. Chill until firm, unmold on crisp lettuce to serve. Makes 5 (8-ounce)molds. 70 calories per serving.

Howard U. Cuts Cafe Food Costs

WASHINGTON

Despite increased costs of living throughout the United States today, Howard University has been able to work out a plan whereby parents and students may save from $11.50 to $21.50 per month on food costs.

In comparison with the $60 per month which most students pay for food under the cafeteria plan, students who register at Howard University for the Fall will have an opportunity to board at the university for as little as $38.50 for 30 days if they select the two-meals-a-day plan, or $48.50 for 30 days if they choose the three-meals-a-day plan.

The new plan will be conducted on an experimental basis until the Christmas recess. Its continuance after that will depend on the students' response to it.

Sample Menus Listed

Under the new system, students will have a choice of at least two meats and several vegetables at each meal. A typical breakfast includes orange juice, puffed rice with milk, fried apples, baton, hot biscuits, butter, and coffee or milk.

A sample lunch comprises vegetable soup-crackers, Welsh rarebit on toast with bacon, string beans, sliced tomato, bread-butter, rice pudding, and - half pint milk or orange drink.

A typical dinner includes split pea soup-crackers, roast veal-brown gravy, buttered potatoes, carrots and salad, bread-butter, strawberry jello, and one-half pint milk or orange drink.

Inn Pays Up For Costly Cigarettes

WASHINGTON

The District Office of Price Stabilization has received a check for $50 from James E. Powell, trading as Rob Inn, 3316 14th st., in the settlement for overcharges on cigarettes sold in a vending machine.

As a result of a complaint from a cigarette purchaser, OPS investigated the inn and found that cigarettes were being sold through the machine at 25 cents a pack, whereas the ceiling price was 21 cents.

The restaurant has now rolled its prices back to the proper ceiling price.

NOW MAKE THEM STILL BETTER! Serve your pancakes. Even if you pride yourself on the best pancakes in town, I have a suggestion to make them better. Instead of ordinary milk, use Carnation. You see, Carnation Evaporated Milk is the milk with extra-rich flavor. That's why good cooks have made it the most popular milk in the world. So pancakes made with Carnation are much richer-tasting—and turn out light, fluffy and golden. Whether you use your own recipe or a mix, instead of ordinary milk, use Carnation with an equal amount of water. Once you try these Carnation-rich pancakes, you'll never again make them with some lesser-known milk. See if I'm not right.

HAPPY FAMILY... Triplets, "big brother," dad, and mother all like Pet Milk!

The Pet Milk Photographer Visits The ELZNER CAVE FAMILY of Cincinnati, Ohio

When Ruth and Elzner Cave take their triplets for a walk, Elzner, Jr. (Chubby) is more than willing to lend a hand — he's just as proud of Linda, Leonard and Brenda as his dad and mother are! Family outings like this are enjoyed by all the Caves. Elzner, Sr. is a postal department employee. He has studied welding and refrigeration under the G. I. Bill along with his regular job. Spends his spare time doing interior decorating.

Ruth Cave, who graduated from a school for beauty culture before her marriage, now has a full-time job with triplets, keeping house, cooking—but loves her job as homemaker! She's one of the many young homemakers who have found how easy it is to serve better meals at lower cost with Pet Milk . . . the milk that adds richness of flavor, extra nourishment, to many dishes. And she saves money, because Pet Milk costs less generally than any other form of whole milk!

"Just like Daddy!" At four, Chubby already shows signs of inheriting his father's talents for free-hand drawing — draws good pictures of cars!

Busy Every Minute! Seven-months-old triplets are sturdy, lively, happy babies. On Pet Milk formula from birth, Linda and Brenda each gained more than 13 pounds in seven months; Leonard, 17 pounds.

Something Good Starting! Ruth's family really goes for whipped topping made with Pet Milk—Chubby's on hand to see that none goes left in the bowl!

Fine's Fine Puts Peace At Peace

Her husband's name was 'Peace, but he wasn't letting her have any. Mrs. Emma Fine of the 500 block Robert st., testified in Northwestern police court Monday morning.

According to her, 33-year-old Donald Peace struck her while in bed Friday after he had been drinking. She testified also that he cursed and abused her on other occasions while under the influence.

Magistrate Harry Fine put Peace at peace with a $10 fine.

Arrest Ends 10-Year Feud Of 2 Brothers

The instigator of a family "feud" that began ten years ago, Thomas Cox, 40, of the 1900 block McCulloh St., was given 60 days in jail Friday at the "request" of his brother.

Arrested on Thursday for striking Van Buren Cox, 43, with a blunt instrument, Thomas pleaded not guilty to two charges before Magistrate E. Everett Lane. In addition to the assault charge, Cox was accused of disturbing the peace.

Fought Entire Family

According to his brother, Thomas started fighting members of the family about ten years ago without reason.

On Thursday he stated, he and his brother argued over shirts in the laundry. Thomas he said "lost his head" and struck him with a blunt instrument.

Van Buren was treated at Provident Hospital for injuries of his back and face. Fourteen stitches were taken in his left cheek.

Attacks Made Regularly

He testified that his brother "often went off like that" and tried to attack members of the family.

During the last attack, he stated, he was forced to protect himself. Approximately four months ago he declared that Thomas attempted to cut his throat.

The accused admitted fighting two other brothers but declared that it was necessary because the family "picked" on him because of his size.

In passing the 60 day sentence, Magistrate Lane informed the accused that there would be peace within the Cox home for at least these 60 days.

The disorderly conduct charge against Cox was suspended.

Ex-Con Tells Weird Story, Gets 9 Years

A man who has spent most of his time since 1940 in prison went back Friday to serve nine years following his conviction of robbery in Criminal Court.

The ex-convict was Thelme Timms, 33, 400 block Pine st., who Judge John T. Tucker said "concocted a story" in his defense.

The story Timms told was entirely different from the one told by Miss Katherine Taylor of the 1000 block Pennsylvania ave.

Two Grabbed Her

Miss Taylor, an employee at the Union General hospital, identified Timms as one of the men who grabbed her and robbed her of $36.45 around midnight July 17 while she was standing at the corner of Franklin and Pearl sts.

She testified that one man grabbed her from behind and Timms grabbed her from the front. Miss Taylor said Timms hit her in the mouth, breaking a tooth, knocked her down and put a knee in her stomach.

She also said Timms pulled a knife on her before taking the money which was in a handkerchief she had in her bosom. She said she never did see the other man and both fled when two other men ran to her rescue.

Saw Him Again

After reporting the robbery Miss Taylor said she saw Timms on Pennsylvania ave two days later but he walked away fast after he saw her.

On Aug. 2, however, she said she saw him again in a Pennsylvania ave. bar around 3 p.m. and she had a friend watch him while she went to get a policeman.

She returned with Officer Robert Norwood of the Northwestern District and told him to see when he talked to Timms if the latter didn't have "geechified speech."

Seized In Bars

Officer Norwood testified that he arrested Timms in a five and dime store in the 1300 block Pennsylvania ave. after the man walked in one door and attempted to leave by another when he saw the policeman.

The officer said Timms did have an impediment in his speech. When asked what "geechified speech" is he said he understood it to apply to people from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Timms, who hails originally from North Carolina, does talk with a thick, almost guttural drawl which is peculiar.

Tells His Story

And in that slow, halting drawl he told Judge Tucker his story.

He said he met Miss Taylor in the 1000 block Pennsylvania ave. for the first time in 1950.

"She walked up to me and said 'Hello, Daddy O' Is you sportin' tonight' ", he declared.

"And I said: 'Yes, Baby. I'm sportin' tonight. What is your price?' ", he continued.

Timms said they settled on a $5 price and retired to "a Pennsylvania ave. pad."

He said he met Miss Taylor again on July 10 of this year in the same block and the same exchange ensued. This time, however, he said, he took her to his home in the 700 block Mulberry st., because he had been robbed at the Pennsylvania ave. place where they first allegedly went.

Continuing his story, Timms said that on the night of July 16 he again met Miss Taylor in the same block and with the same exchange taking place between the two of them.

It was around 10 p.m., Timms said, and the two of them went to his place where, he said, his accuser remained until 3 a.m.

Her Story Differs

Miss Taylor had testified that she was robbed and beaten at midnight, the time Timms said she was with him.

Officer Norwood was recalled to the stand after Timms finished his story. The officer said that after he arrested Timms the man kept asking why Miss Taylor had him arrested.

"He said he had never seen Miss Taylor before and wanted to know why she was doing this to him," Officer Norwood testified.

It was then Judge Tucker said that Timms had "concocted a story" and imposed the 9-year sentence.

Has Long Record

Police records show that Timms was handed a 6-month sentence in 1940 for larceny in Greensboro, N.C. In 1943 in Reidsville, N.C. he got 30 days for disorderly conduct.

A larceny conviction in Baltimore in 1945 netted Timms 30 days, and in 1946 he got six years here for five burglaries.

In 1951 Timms got an 18-month sentence here for larceny and was only released from the state penitentiary on July 2 of this year.

Liquor Discovered In County Raid

A clothes basket yielded five half pints of whiskey and two half pints of gin with District of Columbia stamps, Anne Arundel county police reported Friday after a raid on the home of George Roland Carter, 55.

Carter was arrested at his home, located on the Franklin Manor rd. near the intersection of the Cape Anne rd., Churchton, on a warrant about 130 a.m. Police said they found the clothes basket on his front porch.

Carter was charged with the sale of intoxicating beverages without a license.

Luck Prevents Murder Charge

A 39-year-old father of eight children walked out of police court practically a free man Tuesday after his luck held long enough to clear him of what could have been a murder charge.

James F. Carroll, a longshoreman of the 1100 block N. Stockton st., was charged at Northwestern police station with attempting to shoot a barber, Emilio Roman, 1100 block N. Carey st., on Aug. 8 after Roman allegedly molested Carroll's 13-year-old daughter.

Carroll, it was revealed, went to the barber shop where Roman was employed when he heard of the incident after coming home from work.

Gun Misfires

According to a witness, Carroll's luck began when he pointed a pistol point-blank in Roman's face and pulled the trigger "several times." The gun did not fire.

"If it had," the witness said, "he (Carroll) would be charged with murder."

And Carroll's luck was still holding this week when Roman did not show up in police court to press charges, nor could he be located by police after the case was postponed for 24 hours.

Sentence Suspended

Magistrate E. Everett Lane finally dismissed Carroll on the attempting-to-shoot charge, and gave him a three-month suspended sentence with six months probation for carrying a deadly weapon.

The magistrate, who said he was being lenient because of Carroll's children and the circumstances involved, warned the man of "the seriousness of such action."

High Taxes, Low Rents Nix Principal's Trust

Because high taxes and low rents have wiped out the income from the trust created by the late Mrs. M. Estelle Carr a former city school principal, the Circuit Court signed an order to have the properties concerned sold and the funds reinvested, last week.

When Mrs. Carr died in 1938 her will decreed that the properties at 1917 McCulloh st. and 533 W. Lanvale st. be held in trust by a brother, the late Dr. Edward Wheatley, and that the income be paid to a sister and brothers, Mrs. Ida Boston and Raymond Wheatley, during their lives.

Gerald Kerr, attorney, who became trustee upon the death of Dr. Wheatley, told the court that the low income from the properties was insufficient to take care of taxes and repairs and that the life tenants were receiving nothing from the trust. He said that in 1950 the cost of upkeep and taxes on the McCulloh st. property amounted to $1,040.78, while the income was only $1,048.

Collections on the Lanvale st. property, last year, totalled $330.48, while the expenses were $442, leaving a deficit of $18.42, Mr. Kerr said.

Sale of the property, according to the trustee's report, brought $16,775.31. Costs brought the fund down to $13,813.38.

Trio Held In Attack On 10-Year-Old Girl

Three men were ordered held for court without bail Friday in Northwestern police court on charges of criminally assaulting a 10-year-old girl.

The trio—Archie W. Baldwin, 26, 900 block N. Stricker St.; George W. Smith, 42, 600 block W. Lanvale st., and Robert Ballard, 31, 2000 block Pennsylvania ave.—were charge by the girl with being intimate with her during July and August.

The alleged attacks were reported to have taken place at the girl's home in the 1300 block Pennsylvania ave. and at a house in the 500 block Orchard st.

The three men were friends of the girl's mother, according to police, who also reported that the mother was being held in custody on a charge of leading a lewd and disorderly life.

Now enjoy flavor TWICE AS STRONG AS BEER for only pennies more!

Do you feel like a change from light, "thin" brews? Isn't it worth a few cents extra to get the deep satisfaction of a full-bodied drink . . . with a flavor stronger than beer, bolder than ale, more velvety than both?
Then try a tall, dark and husky glass of Guinness. Find out what malt and hops can really do! Guinness Stout is lusty, not light. Hearty, not heavy. It's a bold, brawny brew with a body and flavor that's twice as strong as beer . . . and for the best of reasons!
None of the vigor is filtered out of Guinness. All of that ruby color and bracing flavor is brewed in to stay . . . the slow, natural way.
Mix Guinness half and half with beer. Or, to really appreciate that racy, robust flavor, drink it straight. Either way, Guinness makes good food taste better!
You can enjoy it often, because a bottle of world-famous Guinness Stout costs far less than you think . . . actually less than a pack of popular-brand cigarettes.
