Good Morning in the U.S.A.

By Lulu Jones Garrett

MISS LAJUNE McDONALD ($1500 Grant)

MISS BETTYE WASHINGTON (UNCF Fellow)

MRS. WALTER HUNTER (Rookie's Bride)

MISS KARENE FAIR (Engagement Told)

And speaking of gadding . . . . take Etta Moten Barnett (concert, stage, movies) whose angel-of-mercy jaunting has kept her on a fair streak for the past four months.

Returning from the Dorothea Towles appearance in downtown Chicago a month ago, she found a message that her father, the Rev. F. F. Moten, had fallen and broken a hip and five ribs. She flew to Kansas City, Mo., immediately, and spent night after night at his bedside in Wheatley Provident hospital.

Three times Etta had to leave her father for contracted concert appearances, two in Chicago and one in Galesburg, Ill. She flew in and pinned right back.

A week ago word came that her youngest daughter, Etta Vee Tinnin of New Haven, Conn., was ready to go to the hospital for an anticipated baby. Her father, apparently better, she flew to New Haven.

The Rev. Mr. Moten died ere she had been in New Haven a day. The baby had not arrived. She flew back to Kansas City for her father's burial, rites Wednesday.

Saturday word came that the arrival of the baby was imminent so Etta flew to New Haven again only to find the stork had beaten her by a scant few hours.

The baby born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Lee Tinnin was a seven-pound boy, named Freeman, after his maternal great grandmother.

Etta was back home Sunday, thence to Charleston on the 20th to sing at Illinois State College.

Seventeen teachers, together with their manager, Alexander Harris and coordinator, Miss Lynnie P. Smith of Washington, sailed last week on the Zuiderkruis of the Holland American Line for a tour of eight countries of Europe.

A bon voyage dinner on July 2nd in the Jade Suite of the Fifth avenue hotel, preceded the sailing.

Five of the teachers are from Washington, eight from Houston, Texas, one from New York, one from Dallas, one from Jacksonville, Florida.

One of the guests at the dinner was Miss Ramona Baskerville of Charleston, S.C.

Mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Wilma Hogan, a teacher at Texas Southern University.

Members of the tour are:

Mrs. Georgine Wallace, Mrs. Eloise Wallis, Mrs. Cecelia S. Lane, Miss Franceta M. Lane, Mrs. Kathryn A. Ingram, Mrs. Jessie L. Lott, Miss Lillian E. Swift, Mrs. Ethel J. Washington, Mrs. Sallie A. Cotton, Mrs. Dorothy Thornton, Mrs. Emma Hernon, Mrs. Lillie Austin, Mrs. Lucille Moultry, Mrs. Veola Berry, Albert Herron and Dr. Alpha P. Moore.

Lydia T. Brown posts back from Camp Barber, W. Granville, Mass., where she is attending a youth camp. Also there is Bishop W. J. Walls. Dean and Mrs. William Pickens will embark in September for a trip to Egypt. Baltimore's Rev. I. M. Gray, of St. John AME church, will leave on the 29th for Europe, thence to Palestine.

Mrs. Jacqueline Miles and son, Carl, of the same town, have left the States to join her husband, Staff/Sgt. Carl C. Miles, in France.

Mrs. Hilda Fairfax is back in Martinsville, Va. from Miami Beach, Fla., where she and Mrs. Ethel H. Grubbs of Washington went to attend the National Educational Association convention.

L. B. Barnes, Hartford, Conn. mortician, is currently enjoying motor trip to the Pacific Coast. With him are: his son, Lonnie Jr., a niece, Mrs. Hildys Greer of Mt. Vernon, N.Y. and Eddie Stevens of Hartford. While in away, Mrs. Barnes has added to her business of dress designing, the job of keeping an eye on the undertaking business.

WITH THE LADIES

Dr. Dorothy L. Brown has been named chief resident in general surgery for Hubbard hospital, Nasvhille, Tenn. This marks the first time in the history of Meharry Medical College that a woman surgeon has held that appointment . . . . as well as the first woman to hold a residency in general surgery anywhere in the country.

Music Critic Cecil Smith of the Paris Daily Express, is shouting the talents of America's Mattiwilda Dobbs, this week. Says the exacting audience at Glyndebourne, where she sang, last week, gave her an ovation at the end of her ten-minute aria that has seldom been witnessed in the French city.

Bettye Jean Washington, of the Bennett College, Greensboro, N.C., has been awarded a $1,500 Florina Lasker Fund fellowship for graduate study, according to announcement by W. J. Trent Jr., executive director of the United College Fund. She will enter Syracuse University in the fall to do graduate study in library science.

A similar grant goes of La-June McDonald, of McRae, Ga., recent honor graduate of Spelman College, Atlanta, Ga. Miss study in the field of English literature at Mount Holyoke, this fall, and to teach when she has obtained a master's degree.

CUPIDOODLING

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gill announced, this week, that their daughter, Madelyn Newana, has been Mrs. Walter A. Hunter for more than a year. Her husband is A. and T.'s stellar tackle, who will join the New York Giants professional football team later this month for the coming season's training. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter Sr. of Durham.

Announcement has also been made of the engagement of Kane Fairfax and Robert L. Cherry, both of Charlotte, N. C. The bride-to-be will be a junior at Johnson C. Smith U., this fall. Mr. Cherry, recently returned from Germany, where he has been for two years with the army. Both will continue their studies after an August ceremony and a Boston, Mass., honeymoon.

Nurses Want Separation On Georgia's Registries

ATLANTA (NNPA) — Members of the Fifth District of Georgia State Nurses Association indicated last Thursday that they would accept colored nurses as members only on a "separate but equal" basis.

The proposed Jim Crow plan would allow colored nurses educational benefits of the association but would place their names on a separate nurses registry.

In a stormy panel discussion, the nurses were told by Miss Gwen Dekle of the State Health Department that nursing associations in all southeastern states, except Georgia and South Carolina, now accept colored nurses as members.

Opposed From Floor

Numerous association members, speaking from the floor, opposed accepting colored nurses as full - fledged members of the association and allowing their names to be placed on a single registry with white nurses in fear that white nurses might be called for duty in homes of colored families.

Mtg Mary Lee Taylor, an audience member, who clashed verbally with other members and with panel speaker Mrs. L. Dunaway, condemned the idea of not accepting a nursing call because of color, and reminded the nurses that the Florence Nightingale oath pledged them to answer calls under any conditions.

Mrs. Frances L. Hammett, director of the Grady School of Nursing, and Miss Dekle be pointed out that Mrs. Eulah Benning, head of the Georgia State Organization for Colored Nurses, had emphasized that colored nurses want only the educational benefits of the association.
