Daughter of radio pastor wed in elaborate ceremony

Miss Rosalee Horn, daughter of Bishop (Mother) Rosa A. Horn, radio pastor, and Evangelist Leon English were married recently in an all white wedding at Mt. Calvary Pentecostal Faith Church, 400 Lenox ave., NYC.

The bridegroom is former organist at Mother Horn's Mt. Calvary Pentecostal Faith church, 1204 Eutaw pl., Baltimore.

The bride and bridegroom, both being evangelists, the ushers raised eight bibles to form an arch in the aisle as the bride approached the altar.

The couple exchanged the sacred vows under an arch of red roses, yellow daisies, green fern and white bells. Overshadowing the bell at center front was a white cross and a white dove.

Bride In Lace

The bride wore gown of white imported chantilly lace over skipper satin, appliqued on the bodice, skirt and long train with lace medallions sprangled with seed pearls, sequins and rhinestones.

The fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a rhinestone studded crown of orange blossoms. She carried a satin-covered bible topped with three white orchids, from which fell bridal ribbons and lilies of the valley.

Miss Wells gown was of lace, satin and net over taffeta with harmonizing headdress. She carried white carnations.

The bridesmaids gowns were of white taffeta, lace and net, appliqued on the peter-pan collars and points of sleeves with medallions of lace, with sequins and rhinestones.

Wreaths of silk horse hair and flowers made up their headdress. They carried cascades of white gladiolas.

Attended By Brother

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, George English as best man. Emanuel Harding, James Simmons, Alvin Alicia, Samuel Manigault, James Brooks, Edward Davis, Leon Dixon, and Cpl. Dudley A. Gitten served as ushers.

Four generations attend Neal family reunion party

By Lula Jones Garrett

When Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Neal gathered their family together on Sunday, there were four generations to join in the reunion.

The Neals had been entertaining his sister, Mrs. Tomasa Henderson of Cleveland, Ohio, during the week.

About were:

Their sons, Benjamin Jr. of Raleigh, N.C.; and Carol, of this city; daughters: Mrs. Hazel Williams of Rocky Mount, N.C., and Mrs. Armeta Walker (and her husband, Edward) of here;

Grandchildren: Mrs. Alice Hill, Edward Walker, Jr., Rosemerle Williams, Henry Williams (the latter two of Rocky Mount); and Frances Walker, and a great grandchild, Billy Hill.

Other members of the family there were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neal, (he, a nephew) and their son, Derek; and a niece, Mrs. Marie Walker, and sons, Frank and Alfred. Mrs. Margaret Holland was a guest.

POTPOURRI

The Cornelius Griffins (Charlene Gaither) are walking on air . . . what with a seven-pound son having joined their household. . . . via Provident hospital. . . On Friday, they will name him Brice Wayne. Both parents are on Dunbar high school faculty.

Ardelia Gaines slipped on the steps, Wednesday, is laid up by the injuries received in the fall.

According to the grapevine, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Woolridge Jr. have phiff'd, and she is setting up residence in her North Carolina home.

And there's a lot of in-the-card rumors on Morgan State that one of the "doctors" is no doctor; that one of the deans is listening to enticements from a southern college and has practically promised to move on soon; that another professor who left recently for a department head post in the South went solo, and intends to keep it solo.

FATE INTERFERES

Oh, the vagaries of Fate! Most shocked over the sudden passing of Mrs. Blanche Dixon, on Monday, was that party of house guests who had been whiling away a miserably hot July at her Highland Beach place, "Venetia Villa."

They had included:

Ida Elliot and Hilda Paul of Washington, Kate Hall of New York and her niece, Vicky Hall of NYC, and Jimmy Hall of Philly; Eula Birche, the Richard Showes and W. Meredith Birche Jr., Charlotte Williams, the Harry Wesleys, the Phillip Huttons, Bernard Nelson Jr.,

Irvin West, Richard Richardson Jr., and Jimmy Reed of this town, Lewis Still of Washington, James Harris of New York and Grace Coston of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Dixon had dashed in to her town house to ready for a trip to Los Angeles, where she planned to attend the convention of the National Beauty Culturists' League, spend a while on the Coast, and return for her annual Labor Day entertaining.

In the meantime, the John Procopes (Provident hospital) were ensconced in the Villa.

PEREGRINATORS

You could count noses about town with practically no effort at all, this week, what with the burg having been deserted by all but the working widders!

Major and Mrs. Leonard Underwood, (Agnes Pryor) have tucked their small daughter, Cynthia, in the Little Folks camp at Hazelhorne, Md., and have gone a-vacationing in Darby, Pa.

Patricia Murphy Robinson fetched her small daughter Robin, down from Wellesley, Mass., to visit her parents, here, and to be christened in St. James P.E. church, where she and Mr. Robinson had been married.

The services were on Sunday morning. Mrs. Joseph LaCour came down from New York, joined Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorrell of this city, in roles as Godparents. Father Cedric Mills, of course, officiated.

Dr. Charles R. Campbell flew off, a Wednesday ago, for Jamaica, BWI. But 'twasn't a pleasure trip. His 88-year-old mother was ill. This week she had recovered sufficiently to be up and about.

Florence Dennis is vacationing in Puerto Rico. Will have a week end in the Virgin Islands were returning. Roslyn and Elizabeth Allen, who have been jockeying about Europe, have in, this week.

Mollie Fairfax Jackson deserted Spring Stone Farm, her place at Sparks, Md., for six weeks with her sister, Mrs. Ollie Hollis in Chicago; her brother-in-law and sister, the Lonnie Jacksons in Cleveland, Ohio; and, her brother and-sister-in-law, the Charles Hollises in South Bend, Ind.

Come next Thursday and Annie Frisby, Alice Keys and Ruth Russell will sail for Bermuda. Mabel Frisby is already ensconsed in Highland Mills, N.Y., for the month with her brother, Benjamin H. Locks.

Katrine White went off to New York City to pursue courses in the piano workshop for teachers at Steinway Hall.

WITHIN OUR GATES

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Rumford of Berkley, Calif., stopped for the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Truly Hatchett. Mr. Rumford is a member of the California legislature, and drug store owner and pharmacist in his city. He and Rumford had been in Europe since April, where he went in an official capacity to make observations in Germany.

Mrs. Annie M. Wortham of Detroit, Mich., has returned home after a visit with her sisters, Mrs. D. Arnet Frisby and Mrs. John Woodhouse.

George Hudson, staff announcer of Radio Station WILK, Asbury Park, New Jersey and his charming wife, visited the AFRO American plant while vacationing in Baltimore and Washington.

He is a full-time staff announcer handling News/variety programs, flash news and human interest interviews. Mr. Hudson pointed out that the Asbury Park Press, owners of WILK have just this year installed teletype equipment and that he was surprised to note that the AFRO has had teletype since 1949.

MR. PURDUE HOST

Members of "The Club" went off to Gloucester County, Va., last week end, for some fancy fishing and plain loafing at the summer home of the Paul Purdues on the York river.

In the group—Edward Wilson, George Grant, Calvin Roach, S. Leroy Taylor, John Woodhouse, Reuben J. Jones, Houston R. Jackson, Talmadge Hill and James Carter, and, of course, Mr. Purdue.

LADIES PICNIC

Add a sight to remember, Victorine Adams in a brown and black sun frock (cap and sandals to match) matching her brown and black coiffure . . . at the Democratic Women's outing at Elktonia Beach, Sunday.

Twas their annual affair, beautifully planned by Grace Johnson and a committee including Frances Stafford, Dorothy Baker, Queenie Lane, Zelma Johnson, Pauline Hill, Margaret Jones, Susie Graham and Gertrude Fowlkes.

FASHIONETTES DINE

The Fashionettes are in the news again. They closed their season with a cocktail party and formal dinner at the Me-Do-So Inn, this week, with their husbands and BF's as guests.

Hosting were Bessie L. Gray, Margaret Sterling, Ruby Thomas, Emily Lee, Hilda Johnson, Catherine Carroll, Saula Carroll, Fannie Lane and Laura Vessells.
