Bogart, Jennifer Jones, Met stars

"Beat the Devil," John Huston's new suspense thriller about band of international crooks on the make for a rich uranium deposit, was filmed on location in Ravello, in Southern Italy, a town sitting precariously at the top of a perpendicular cliff overlooking the Mediterranean.

Humphrey Bogart, Gina Lollobrigida and Jennifer Jones are co-starred in "Beat the Devil" which is now playing at the Met Theatre through United Artists release and Peter Lorre and Robert Morley are featured.

Huston, who has a penchant for filming on location, did "African Queen" in Africa and "Moulin Rouge" in France. In this case, he chose Italy because the major portion of the action of "Beat the Devil" takes place there, and picked Ravello specifically because he remembered it from his army days, when he shot the famous "Battle of San Pietro," in the vicinity.

In addition to using the dramatic stone cliff upon which the town is situated as a background for his story of adventure and intrigue, Huston also utilized several of. Ravello's famous and historic landmarks.

Dot Maynor Dell star for next week

PHILADELPHIA

Tuesday's symphonic program will feature Symphony Fantastique by Berlioz; and two excerpts from Wagerian operas—Prelude and Love Death from Tristan a Isolde, and Prelude to Die Meisteringer.

Miss Maynor's Program

Miss Maynor — whose singing prompted the late Serge Koussevitsky to proclaim, "this is a voice the world must hear"—last appeared at the Dell in 1946.

The artist, a graduate of Hampton Institute and the Westminster Choir School, will present an all-classical program at the Dell next week.

She will sing Bach's chorale, "Jauchzet Gott in Allen Landen" from Cantata No. 51; Handel's "Let Me Wander Not Unseen" and "O Let the Merry Bells Ring Round" from L'Allegro; Mendelssohn's "Hear Ye, Israel" from Elijah; Morawetz's "Night Song" and "I Love the Jocund Dance;" Villa-Lobos' "Barbianas Brasilieras, No. 5;" and Verdi's "Pace, Pace' Mio Dio" from La Forza del Destino.

When William Steinberg, musical director of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, mounts the podium at Robin Hood Dell next Monday night July 19, the Dell's free summer concert series will be in its fifth and next to last week.

Luboshutz and Nemonoff, renowned duo-piano team, will be double-featured at the opening concert.

An all - orchestral program, Tuesday, will be followed on Thursday by the appearance of Dorothy Maynor, famous lyric soprano. Steinberg will conduct the 90-piece Dell Orchestra for all three performances.

The final children's concert, again conducted by Alexander Hilsberg, will be presented at 11 a.m. Wednesday July 21.

Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff—Mr. and Mrs. Lubo-shutz in private life—will high light their Monday performance with Mozart's Concerto in Flat, and Martinu's Concerto, both for two pianos and orchestra.

Unusual spy drama at Albert

Shapely Jean Peters, whose sex appeal has been cloaked in the past by roles of wholesome propriety, minces forth across the screen in her latest vehicle, "Pickup on South Street," as a hip-swaying, slow - thinking gal who falls for a guy because he's a guy and loves him when she gets the back of his hand in her teeth.

Her torrid, earthy performance started opposite Richard Widmark and Thelma Ritter in the Twentieth Century-Fox melodrama now playing at the New Albert Theatre marks the longedfor turn in her career from being tabbed as the "nice girl next door," while other less talented and less beautiful women developed reputations as femmes fatales.

The green-eyed actres, who abandoned school teaching ambitions in Ohio for a Hollywood career, now has been put in fast company when she was named for the lusty, two-fisted romantic spy drama, snagging the role at first considered for such other voluptuous beauties as Marilyn Monroe, Betty Grable and Shelley Winters.

'Greatest Show' on Carver screen

In "The Greatest Show On Earth," a Paramount picture which opened yesterday at the Carver Theatre, Cecil B. DeMille has applied his film-making genius to a massive circus spectacle combined with a drama about the performers and workers of the Big Top. The result is a truly superb Technicolor treat that captures the spirit and essence of the Greatest Show on Earth as no film has ever done before.

With infinite skill, DeMille has depicted the whirling excitement, the spangled gaiety and the soaring thrills that make the circus such a beloved institution.

Here in brilliant color photography is an authentic view of the Big Top that is every bit as exciting as a ring - side circus seat.

With Betty Hutton, Charlton Heston, Cornel Wilde, Dorothy Lamour, Gloria Grahame and James Stewart starred at the head of a huge cast, the film sets forth the hopes, despairs, traits and triumphs that are played out behind the glittering arena displays.

MRS. MARLENE ALEXANDER

Mrs. Alexander denies stories about 'divorce'

Mrs. Bill Alexander, wife of the popular Washington and Baltimore radio announcer, says she is contemplating suing a national magazine because of two articles written about her.

The comely Marlene Alexander has already obtained the services of a Baltimore attorney, Robert B. Watts, to draw up papers for a libel suit.

Indignant over stories which alleged that she and her husband were dating again after a divorce, Mrs. Alexander, a psychology student at Ohio State University, claims that the articles were "quite embarrassing" to her and damaging to her reputation.

Not Divorced

"We are not divorced and I have no idea of getting a divorce," she told the AFRO this week.

Mrs. Alexander, a former Washington model and Katherine Dunham student, says the magazine stories had wide circulation and spread all over the Ohio State campus.

The couple was married Dec. 1, 1952, in Washington and both claim they are happily married and have no thoughts of splitting.

Embarrassed Family

Mrs. Alexander, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Diggs of Montgomery, Va., also claims the magazine stories have been embarrassing to her family.

"I've no idea where they got their information," she says.

"No one ever contacted me," Mr. Alexander, says.—

"He is my husband and I'm quite indignant over the stories," says Mrs. Alexander.

In Third Year

The attractive Mrs. Alexander is studying to be a psycho therapist at Ohio State and is in her third year at the institution. She hopes to work in a mental institution when she completes her studies.

She says she was so upset over the magazine stories that she had to leave school for a while after they appeared.

"They spread all over the campus," she says, "and even here in Baltimore I've been stopped on the street and our phone has been constantly ringing."

Mrs. Alexander said that over the week end she and Mr. Watts, after studying the legal aspects of the contemplated suit, will decide just how much she will sue for.

Ike expected at Frontiers

The Thirteenth Annual Convention of the Frontiers of America will be held in Washington, D.C., July 29th, 30th and 31st.

The Frontiers of America, a national service club, is dedicated to promote service as the ideal basis of all worthwhile endeavors. The club was founded on November 10, 1936. Today there are over 175 Frontier Clubs throughout the United States.

The 13th convention is expected to be the largest and best convention since the club was founded.

Since the convention is being held in the National Capitol, the convention committee hopes to have President Eisenhower appear at one of the many events which have been scheduled for the convention.

'Tanganyika' at Harlem features jungle thrills

"Tanganyika" opens on a note of sheer savagery and never once wavers from its dedicated course. As a result, this thrilling Universal-International Technicolor adventure delivers a veritable eruption of pulse-pounding excitement to the audiences at the Harlem Theatre, where it is now playing with Van Heflin, Ruth Roman and Howard Duff in starring roles.

Combining the fury of man, beast and nature in a series of brushes with death and disaster the story is set in the darkest jungles of East Africa and narrates the story of one man's battle against a mysterious terror that has torn Tanganyika territory apart.

Heflin sets out with a safari to track down a power-crazed killer, a white fugitive from British justice who rules a jungle empire with his tribe of marauding Nukumbi warriors.

In the safari are Howard Duff, an explorer, Ruth Roman, sister of a murdered jungle scientist, and her orphaned niece, and nephew, Gregory Marshall and Noreen Corcoran.

Regent's 'Demetrius' is rated among greatest

"Demetrius and the Gladiators," Twentieth Century-Fox's multi - million - dollar CinemaScope production starring Victor Mature and Susan Hayward with Michael Rennie, Debra Paget, Anne Bancroft and Jay Robinson in co-starring roles, is now playing at its Regent. The spectacular picture, which was filmed in color by Technicolor, begins where "The Robe," the company's first Cinemascope success, left off.

"Years ago I felt that the full magnificence of the story of 'The Robe' would require two feature length pictures," Producer Frank Ross explained.

"When we had completed the first picture our enthusiasm for it was such that we just had to make plans for the second production.

"Since 'The Robe' was essentially the story of the acquisition of faith, 'Demetrius and the Gladiators' logically is concerned with the trial of faith acquired."

In "Demetrius and the Gladiators" Mature, as Demetrius, Michael Rennie, as the Apostle Peter, and Jay Robinson in the Caligula role, repeat the roles they had in 'The Robe.' All the other characters are new to the story with Miss Hayward playing the part of Messalina, the vital young wife of Claudius who falls in love with Demetrius. While the story is told in the terms of Roman magnificence and brutality, many of the exciting scenes taking place in the Roman Arena where the gladiators fought, it is essentially a modern triangle.

Debra Paget and Anne Bancroft have two of the important feminine roles in the picture and the cast of thousands, including gladiators, Praetorian Guards, and the Roman populace, is headed by Barry Jones, William Marshall, Richard Egan, Ernest Borgnine and Charles Evans. Delmer Daves directed.
