Parade highlights Elks convention

The recent Antlered Guards of the Elks Tri-State Convention at Harve de Grace, Md., was featured by a parade headed by Brig. Gen. Edward C. Wooden and his staff. In the parade were:

The Monumental Band No. 3; Great Southern Temple Drill Team No. 30; Monumental Marching Patrol No. 3; Pride of Baltimore Junior Herd, Drum and Bugle Corps; Pride of Baltimore Marching Patrol, No. 713; F.E.W. Harper Drill Team No. 429;

W. Sampson Brooks Junior Herd, Drum and Bugle Corps No. 175; W. Sampson Brooks Drill Team No. 682; Spirit of Chesapeake Junior Herd; Spirit of Chesapeake Drill Team; Dorchester Junior Herd; Catonsville Band; Catonsville Drill Team.

The Junior herds were led by Col. Elmer Givens of Pride of Baltimore and Col. Howard E. Nelson of W. Sampson Brooks. Prizes were awarded to three Maryland units.

First prize went to the Dorchester Junior Herd, second prize to Monumental Lodge Band and third prize to Catonsville Drill Team.

BALTIMORE ANGLERS —While fishing out of Brielle, N.Y., recently, on the cruiser "Margaret K. II" with Capt. Harold Meier, these Baltimoreans caught 61 blues weighing from five to 81/2 pounds. The party was comprised, from left to right, of Nate C. Hanek, who boated 5 blues; Clifton Gross, who was unable to fish due to illness; Jack Murphy Jr., who boated 25; and Frank Phillips, 31.

Let's go fishing

By ARTHUR RALPH WALTON

"Fishing Tips
Queenstown Creek—White Perch
—Live grass Shrimp
Mouth Chester River—Big Bass
and Rock—Trolling
Conowingo Dam—Catfish—Chicken entrials
Choptank River — (Denton, Md.) —Catfish
Eastern Shore Ponds—Crappies —Live Minnows (Shiners)
Lower Potomac — Rock—Catfish
Ocean City — Marlins—Blues—Flounders.

Anglers in the Chesapeake Bay area are enjoying good fishing.

Hardheads (croakers) are hitting in many spots about the bay, and as usual strike best just before dark on peelers (soft crabs).

Norfolk spots are running better this year and as the season continues, one of the top spots is around the new Bay Bridge.

Magothy River Alive

Many white perch are on the run in the Magothy River, also the huge black white perch. Spots are hitting well from this point on bloodworms. For perch, little live grass shrimp is best.

Chumming on the Eastern Shore around Cris field has paid off, and is certain to be better as the water warms up. Most of the Eastern Shore ponds are well stocked, and anglers will finit the fish hitting in most of its many ponds.

Pocomoke Fishing Best in Years

Pocomoke River anglers report fishing from this point over the week end has been best in years.

On the long bridge at Cambridge, Maryland, many huge Norfolk spots are being taken. Hardheads and rock also have been hitting well early in the morning and just before dark.

Many white perch have been taken up near the draw.

Bloodworms, peelers, and live grass shrimp are tops at this spot.

ALONG THE AVENUE

The name of Creston "Doc" Woingust deserves a place on the list of men who have made startling recoveries after being laid low by illness. Doc is currently looking as fine as the proverbial million dollars and his head is full of plans for the future.

Here is one of the town's most sincere citizens. A man that does a lot of good with very little monetary compensation-but then Doc isn't interested in that, he just wants to keep people happy. Which come to think of it is a wonderful reason.

Doc is planning to stage a show for the soldiers at Aberdeen the latter part of this month and he is looking for entertainers to join the troupe. He can be reached at Longwood 6-4883, and have's hoping the show is a wonderful success

Doc was master of ceremonies at a show last Sunday at the Monumental Lodge of Elks. On the bill were such artists as Dot Kelly, now at TILLIE'S; Teddy Bourne and his Top Toppers; Chubby Orr from the Baby Grand Club in the Big City; Lil Hall, who rocks the house with her torch songs the beautiful Madeline Price and George Nelson.

Piece de resistance a fire eating act put on by 17-year-old Luther Green. The lad not only ate fire but he also did a once over lightly over his body with a blow torch.

This makes an ideal way to warm up on a chilly day, but honest George we don't recommend it as the best way to live to a ripe old age. Green is quite adept with the act and with a little more polish that comes with experience, he has a chance to click.

Funny thing-but it's very seldom that you find a people act as different as Green's most youngsters prefer to stick to less hazardous artistic displays, such as singing or dancing.

Next week is the week when Eddie Bonnemere and his Jazz Mambo Sextet come back to the COMEDY CLUB as a tribute to the whale of a job they turned in on their first low at the popular night spot.

Holding down the fort this week in more than ample fashion is the ORGANAX TRIO, an organ trio that leaves little to be desired. The group is relatively new to these parts but they should be back again if the way the audience liked their music is any yardstick. They close out on Sunday.

Heard an aside observation from Ike Dixon this week that some of the finest music being played today come from groups that are relatively unknown. How true, how true.

For enjoyment's sake, don't forget that Eddie Bonnemere will be on the COMEDY CLUB band stand starting Monday, and man how that man plays.

Caught a glimpse of the beautiful Peggy Williams in the popular RICE INN this week. She seems to grow lovelier every day.

The Foxettes, the wonderful group of girls who work at RICTOR'S RED FOX LOUNGE, have scheduled another seafood party next Thursday starting at 2:30 p.m. The column attended the last party the girls (headed by the lovely Vicky), gave a few weeks ago and it was a great affair.

The food is plentiful and there are always those good drinks to make it even better. Meet you there this Thursday.

Music is coming from Joseph Arterio and good music it is. The fellows recently came to this fair town from sunny Florida.

The air conditioning system at the RED FOX, installed last year by the jovial owner, George Fox, really does a bang up job in making the atmosphere cool but cool.

Talk in the air is that one of the leading men in the local night club field will be married at an early date. Understand that he has already purchased a home and the column wishes the swell guy all the success in the world.

The Cecil Young Quartet is doing nice business at the CLUB CASINO, as is usual whenever they play at the Pennsylvania Ave. fun spot. Fact is they are doing so well that they have been held over for a second week. The group got a plug in the latest issue of the musician's bible which said:

"Jazz and comedy. An unusual setup with bonus overtones." That just about describes the group, except to say that they will keep you entertained. Next time we visit the club must "find out the name of the attractive and pleasant barmaid who works at the small bar.

A note this week from the Music City Recording Co., in Berkeley, Calif., which says that it is the only colored owned and operated recording company in the country. On their list of artists is Dan Grisom, who should never be forgotten for the tunes he sang with the old Jimmy Lunceford band, an outfit that would make most of the present crop of big bands sound pallid.

The Mello Jacks with Wild Man Perry on the sax are playing like mad at the CLUB AMBASSADOR, where George Nasdor is telling one and all that the group is the jumping-est combo that has graced the club to date

Music flows seven nights a week, the drinks are reasonable and there is fun for one and all at the AMBASSADOR.

Ran into Ernest Balckwell the other afternoon. Suprised to learn that he has apparently given up the singing business.

Remember a show that Ernest and several other Baltimoreians put on in a club in Hampton, Va. It was on a Christmas eve. and most of the guests were feeling no pain.

Being great supporters of George Craft, Larry Darnell and other shouting blues singers, the patrons wanted to hear jump tunes with a heavy beat. Ernest gave them the music they wanted up until almost midnight and then he shifted to Christmas carols.

For a while, the audience didnt know what to make of it, but suddenly it dawned on them that this was Christmas eve and they started singing along with him. Just shows you there is a sentimental streak in all of us.

The Four Jays are making things bum at TILLIE'S on the East Side, and as mentioned before the personable Dot Kelly is official hostess and with her charm she makes you feel right at home.

CLUB 1017 has music in the person of Lawson Vessells on the piano. The soothing music that fits hand in glove with the soft and relaxing air that has made 1017 a Baltimore landmark.

A snack counter is out at the front bar, presided over by the smiling Maureen. The food is mighty good.

CLUB TIJUANA is making quite a stir with the music of Paul Quinchette with Sir Charles Thompson on the piano. Started ing Tuesday will be the unmatched music of Canada's gift to modern music, Oscar Peterson.

JONES COCKTAIL LOUNGE is offering the music of the Fred Portney Trio and the KNOTTY PINE CLUB has the Valentino's Trio and dancing.. That's it. Have fun.

D.C. group scores on Texas stage

HOUSTON, Texas—The Washington Repertory Players scored a hit at Texas Southern University July 7, with Moliere's comedy "The Miser."

The Washington Players, a collegiate company, is touring colleges and universities during the summer months.

The audience insisted on three curtain calls at the conclusion of the play.

The play was under the direction of Anna M. Cooke, James W. Butcher and John Lovell Jr. —all of Howard University and directors of the players.

Over 30,000 receive free chest x-rays

Over 30,000 Baltimore.ns have received free chest X-rays during the first six months of this year's mass tuberculosis detection program of the Baltimore City Health Department and the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

According to Dr. Russell A. Nelson, president of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, a total of 31,702 chest X-rays have been taken at 28 separate mafe chest X-rays surveys conducted in industries, communities, schools, and business establishments of the city since the first of the year.

This brings the total chest X-rays to 311,805 taken in Baltimore during mass X-rays surveys since June 1944, when the program was inaugurated by the Baltimore City Health Department and the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

Eight in Communities

Of the 28 surveys conducted tc date this year, eight were held in neighborhood communities, eight in industrial plants, seven in business establishments, three in schools, and two in hospitals.

Among these were ten at which 1,000 or more chest X-rays were taken. They included: civilian personnel, Ft. Holabird-Baltimore Signal Depot; the U.S. Post Office, southwest Baltimore community, sponsored by the Civic Community Council of Southwest Baltimore; South Baltimore, sponsored by the Cross Street Market; East Baltimore, sponsored by the Eastern Community Council; and the Internal Revenue Service.

Stating that the first step in the control of tuberculosis is the detection of every case, Dr. Nelson urged that all adults, 15 Department, and the Maryland and over, get a chest X-ray an- Tuberculosis Association will advise anyone wanting to know nually.

Private physicians, the Health where to get a chest X-ray.
