Tips on blasts, drownings top winners

The first persons to notify the AFRO about the Chestertown blasts and the fishing trip tragedy are last week's top $5 winners in the AFRO-AMERICAN NEWSTIP CONTEST.

Another top winner was the person who notified us concerning the raid on the office of a prominent Baltimore physiotherapist.

A third prize winner was the tipster who notified the AFRO of a young girl's heroism in waking a roomer in her home when it caught on fire.

Other Prizes

Other prizes of $1 each are awarded to first newstipsters concerning:

A youth knocked down while riding his bicycle 1600 block Fulton Ave., a colored policeman directing traffic in the downtown district, a fire in the 1800 block N. Monroe St., a hit and run accident at 22nd and Barkley.

Also accidents at McCulloh and Dolphin, Biddle and Chester, Eager and Chester, and Lafayette Ave. and Register St.

Clean Block Capt. wins $5

Young teen-ager Lucky Pic winner

Twelve-year-old Louisa Lyle, a Clean Block Honor Captain, is $5 richer this week because she was in Tuesday's Lucky Pic, and because of it—her younger sisters enjoyed a trip to Sparrows Beach on Thursday.

Louisa, who lives at 2602 Bruce Terrace, said she was going on a church outing Wednesday and had already bought her ticket. But when she won the $5 she found she was able also to take her sisters along.

Louisa also said she was going to make a $1 contribution to the Clean Block Fund.

Another Lucky Pic may be found somewhere in this edition of the AFRO. The person in the circle can collect his or her $5 simply by calling at the office, 3rd floor, before noon, Tuesday, July 27.

It must be your picture in the circle for you to win.

Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. If it's your picture bring it into the AFRO and win yourself $5.

4 Brothers, 4 Sisters

Louisa is the daughter of Mrs. Kisiah Lyle and David Lyle. Her father is a carpenter and painter and she has four brothers and four sisters. She is the third oldest in the family.

Louisa enters the 8B class at School No. 181, the old Douglass High School, this fall. Next Wednesday she celebrates her 13th birthday. When she grows up she says she wants to be a secretary and plans to take a commercial course in high school.

She said one of her brothers told her her photo was in the AFRO, but she thought he was kidding. Later, when she met a girl friend on the street and she was told her picture was in the paper with a circle around it, Louisa said she rushed home.

At home she found her mother on the telephone talking to a friend who was calling her about it.

That did it! Louisa's next stop was the AFRO-AMERICAN office.

What every mother should know about CUTS and SCRAPES

DON'T flood a large cut with harsh antiseptics. This can damage tissue, retard healing.

DO handle cut lovingly with sterile gauze smeared with 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly. See your doctor to prevent complications such as tetanus.

DON'T neglect a small cut.

DO use iodine or other antiseptic. When bleeding stops, spread on a protective film of 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly. Bandage loosely only if cut will be exposed to dirt.

DON'T bandage a scrape before cleaning with mild soap and water or mild antiseptic.

DO use 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly to promote healing, prevent a hard scab.

No family should ever be without 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly! Used in hospitals and clinics, it's medically approved for home first-aid. Keep a jar or tube of 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly in your medicine chest today.

Decline in July Fourth traffic deaths noted

Reports from the 24 states participating in the 1954 summer-time highway safety campaign "Slow Down and Live," show a reduction of nearly seven percent in traffic deaths for the July Fourth weekend as compared with the same holiday last year.

Highway deaths in the region, which includes every state from Maine to Texas, totaled 179. Last year's figure was 192.

The coordinators pointed out that this July Fourth weekend covered a full three days. Last year's was listed officially as a one-day holiday.

Seven of the participating states showed decreases in the numbers of deaths this year. They are Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, New York, Tennessee and Virginia.

7 States Held Even

Seven other states, Alabama, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Texas and West Virginia, held even with the toll of a year ago.

The states of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Vermont reported increases.

CONSTIPATED?
Then read this letter from Audrey L. Robinson of Washington, D. C.

"I used to suffer a lot from constipation. Never seemed to get the kind of relief I wanted—every laxative I took was either too harsh or too slow.

"Then I heard about Sal Hepatica's gentle, speedy action from a friend. And let me tell you, Sal Hepatica is really wonderful. Why, many an evening when I've felt that logy, constipated feeling, I've taken Sal Hepatica a half hour before dinner and been my old self again by bedtime!

"And Sal Hepatica gives gentle relief—even though it is speedy. It really does the trick!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast, and feel fine again . . . usually within an hour. Or take it in the evening ½ hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime. Sweeten your stomach, too! So, keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

Draws 90 days 'n $3 robbery

James C. McDaniels, 17, of the 1800 block Warwick Ave., was sentenced to 45 days in the House of Correction on Thursday, following his conviction of stealing $3.38 from a neighbor, Walter Holtz, also of the 1800 block Warwick Ave., testified in Northwestern police court, that he saw McDaniels climb through a window at his (Holtz's) home and take the money from a closet early Thursday morning.

Hopes appear dim for averting strike

Hopes of averting a strike of local ship repair workers appeared dim on Thursday as union negotiators reported "no progress" in their contract talks with employers.

Workers at the Maryland Drydock, the Patapsco Scrap Corporation and the Key Highway and Sparrows Point yards of the Bethlehem Steel Co. have already authorized a strike any time after midnight tonight (Friday) if contract negotiations break down.

Of the 6,000 men involved, less than 10 percent are colored.

The Industrial Union of Marine and Shipyard Workers of America (CIO) is asking a pay increase of 21 cents an hour, plus added welfare, vacation and pension benefits. Present wages average $2.07 an hour.

Against Clause

The union is also fighting against the insertion into a new contract of a clause which would make it possible for employers to transfer a man from one job to another and retain his seniority.

The union claims that this provision would enable the companies to destroy seniority rights, a claim that spokesmen for the company have branded as untrue.

W. Furnell Hall, executive vice president of the Maryland Dry Dock Co., has charged the union with making "the most exhorbitant set of demands it has ever made in the 15 years of our contractual relationship."

Mate helps police nab her husband

Trouble came doube for Henry C. Benjamin of the 1100 block N. Gilmor St. on Tuesday when his wife accused him of striking her and police accused him of being in the number business.

The net result was that Magistrate E. Everett Lane ordered Benjamin held for action of the grand jury in $3,000 bail, $2,500 for the numbers and $500 for the assault charge.

Benjamin's trouble began on Saturday when Mrs. Hazel Benjamin had a warrant sworn out against her husband charging him with assaulting her.

Brought Brief Case

When police picked up Benjamin, his wife appeared at the police station bearing a brief case which she said belonged to her husband. She invited police to look inside.

They did, and low and behold they found it stuffed with what they decided were numbers slips. Benjamin's troubles did not grow any smaller when Mrs. Benjamin invited police to search her home and they reportedly found a numbers tape.

When Mrs. Benjamin testified at the Tuesday hearing, she informed police her mate had been in the lottery racket for three years.

The trouble ridden Mr. Benjamin pleaded not guilty to everything.

Suspect held in man's death

John R. Bridges, 21-year-old electrician, has been ordered held without bail in the death of Edward N. Gabel, 28, who was found early last Saturday morning in a gutter at Poppleton St. and Fairmount Ave.

Formal charges against Bridges were placed on Tuesday and he will receive a hearing at a date to be set by the state's attorney. The electrician was arrested Sunday and held on suspicion until the formal booking.

Police said Wednesday that the only apparent motive for the slaying was an argument between Gabel and his assailant. Gabel was found at 3 a.m. and taken to Franklin Square Hospital where he died of a skull fracture and other injuries.

Went To Races

According to police information, Gabel attended the stock car races on Saturday and then stopped for a drink at a tavern at Baltimore and Poppleton Sts.

A companion said that when he and Gabel came out, the man stopped to talk to three shabbily dressed men whom he seemed to know. The friend said he left while Gabel was still talking.

—Mail boxes

regards as more valuable than the box itself—and take the lock with him in making his report to the post office.

Held Responsible

A postal employee is held responsible to check the box each time he collects mail to see that it is in good working order.

He must also check that kids have not stuck chewing gum in the drop pull-out so that letters posted will stick there, fail to fall, and can then be taken out of the pull-out as soon as the person who has posted a letter has gone away.

Persons who place mail in a corner box should operate the pull-out twice to see that their letter or package has actually dropped into the mail box safely.

Find Anything

Collectors are not surprised at anything they find in mail boxes—whiskey bottles deposited by drunks, pocketbooks dropped in by pickpockets who take out the money after robbing victims; and kittens or cats deposited by bad boys.

The post office at first set out in Baltimore boxes one-third the size of the box facing the AFRO building. They were for letters only. There are still many boxes of this kind in residential areas.

Combination boxes for letters and packages are located only on business corners.

In Baltimore there is a total of 2,631 mail boxes. Of this total, 1,181 boxes are for letters only and 1,450 boxes for bulk mail and packages.

91 Shutes

There are also 91 chute boxes located in office buildings and apartment houses, the majority of them privately owned.

In Baltimore also are six private mail boxes.

Many of these mail boxes in Baltimore date back to 1926. When the first combination mail box was first set out on the streets is not known definitely.

The earliest inventory the U.S. Post Office in Washington has is in 1922. However, it is known that combination boxes were on the streets before that year.

A small mail box, of which there are three kinds, costs from $18 to $25 each, plus $4 for the post on which it sits. Large mail boxes cost $37 each.

300 A Year

In Baltimore approximately 300 new boxes are put out each year. This is due to new building and the constantly growing suburban area.

Constant improvements are being experimented on Uncle Sam's mail boxes. In Baltimore at present there are a number of spots in the city where two boxes are located, one for local mail, the other for out-of-town mail.

There have also been suggestions for colored boxes in the city, one color for local mail, another for out-of-town mail, and another color for local mail.

Also among the suggestions the post office has received for improvements is one for a mail box with openings on both sides so motorists and pedestrians can use the same box.

Two Apertures

Then there has been the suggestion that the larger type boxes have two apertures, one for out-of-town mail, the second for local mail.

The post office takes each suggestion seriously in an effort to improve its service.

It is a sign of civilization that the average citizen puts his letter in a corner mail box and is certain that it is as safe there as money he puts in the bank.

'Forget bitterness,' says politico now out for Cole

D. Roy Green, who was the political agent in Dr. Robert L. Gill's campaign for the Republican nomination for State Senate in the 4th District, said this week that he is now working for the election of Harry A. Cole.

Mr. Cole defeated Dr. Gill in the primaries by a vote of almost 4-1.

"The primaries are over," Mr. Green stated. "The bitterness of the people should be over as well.

13th Ward Leader

"We, as Republicans, should come out in full for our candidate, Mr. Cole."

Mr. Green is a political leader in the 13th Ward of the 4th District, and president of the Roland Republican Club, which boasts of approximately 85 members.

"The election of Mr. Cole will open the door for the election of colored candidates in other offices," Mr. Green said, "both state-wide and city-wide."

Mr. Green, a Baltimore for over 35 years, is an active worker in the NAACP, Urban League, Masons and Shriners.

Mr. Green said he will support Mr. Cole's candidacy actively by campaigning for him between now and the Nov. 2 elections.

THE POLITICAL SCENE

Democratic Viewpoint

By LLOYAL RANDOLPH

Federal aids-in-grant to the States were responsible for lunches for school children, but service for county school children, rural electrification for farm homes and pay raises to vocational high school teachers.

These human gains were awarded under a Democratic Administration.

Since there has been a Republican Administration in Washington, the country has lost tideland oil rights, many thousands of federal jobs, federal power works to private enterprise, and several millions to builders under the FHA.

This has cost thousands of home builders precious earnings they could ill afford to 'give away' to boondoolers.

Blames Republicans

These things could not have been possible if the nation hadn't sent a Republican Congress to Washington in 1952.

A state usually sends men to Congress according to the top executive of that state. We must not let this happen again.

We need a Democratic governor: this would give the common man a better legislative opportunity, and assure the nation a Democratic Congress.

Mahoney and his corps of lawyers are determined to 'beat' the Democratic Party in Maryland if they don't wrest the nomination from Dr. H. C. Byrd.

Compared To Child

Mr. Mahoney is like a child who says: If I can't have it you won't get it either.

This nation and its people have become great because they have always lived by the motto of great American athletes: "It doesn't matter whether you won or lost, but how you played the game."

Mahoney should be reminded of this philosophy. Byrd is the winner, the people have expressed their will at the polls, the recount is going Byrd's way.

For the sake of unity, and a Democratic victory in November, he should call it quits and offer his hand to Dr. Byrd with congratulations.

Tired Of Wrangling

Even Mahoney's colored supporters are tired of this infernal wrangling. What chance will Mahoney have after showing the people of Maryland his true colors?

The Board of Supervisors Of Elections office indicates that colored Democrats now out-number colored Republicans for the first time in Maryland history.

And this registration has taken place since McKeldin was elected four years ago, and since the mess in Washington has been going on, some two years now.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED TO VOTE?

If not, go to the new Peoples Court building at Fayette and Gay Sts. any day except Saturday and Sunday, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and register . . . Democrat.

Another Democratic Viewpoint

By ROBERT B. WATTS

Many who were surprised at the great run made by George P. Mahoney have attributed his great success on the Eastern Shore to some literature circulated allegedly by Mahoney headquarters.

First of all, it must be pointed out clearly that Mr. Mahoney has denied emphatically that he had anything to do with such a move, and to date, there is no proof that he did.

In campaigns of this sort you have leaders all over the state, who act independently of Mahoney headquarters. You will have campaign managers in all parts of the state, who pretty much run things as they please.

This literature, stating that Dr. Byrd would do more for the colored people than any other governor, was put out apparently by one of these campaign agents or manager.

Voters Aware Of Trick

However that may be, I am not convinced that this caused Dr. Byrd to lose so many votes in that area. There is no question, that it had some effect on some of the voters, but I think the great bulk of voters are pretty well allergic to what appears to be an obvious campaign trick. The Byrd leaders insist that they ran a counter circular alleging that Mr. Mahoney was going to integrate the National Guard.

I think that a great many people on the Shore are above direct racial appeals. I chose to minimize that charge that Mr. Mahoney's success can be attributed to this piece of underhanded work.

All too often, self-styled vote-getters seek to blame their failure on anything not connected with their efforts.

Predicted Outcome

Because of my close association with members of the Mahoney team I predicted long before this literature was put out that Mr. Mahoney would take two Eastern Shore counties.

It is gratifying to note that many of our leading citizens are beginning to take an interest in the General Election, for they see for the first time that we have a real opportunity to elect two colored representatives.

Harry A. Cole will win his Senatorial race and my good friend Truly Hatchett will win a seat in the House of Delegates.

Leaders See Fight

Many civic leaders who heretofore shied away from politics now see the light. Carl Murphy has for years been contending that we can elect our own, and that this year, following the meetings of outstanding citizens in an effort to marshall our greatest potential.

I predict he will do so again and that this time the response will be terrific.

The victory of Truly Hatchett has been a sort of handwriting on the wall, indicating that the hold of Jack Pollack on the Fourth District is not as tight as many think.

We should be like a charging football team which rushes with full strength through the opening in the opposition's line. As the ballback says, when you see day light you bow your head and charge.

Receives Many Calls

We must do just that and I predict we will do just that. I have received many phone calls from people, heretofore not interested actively in politics, who tell me to just let them know what they can do.

Harry A. Cole, too, has received a tremendous response.

If we all join together as civic-minded people, mindful of our destiny and forever aware of the resentatives in Annapolis, then not only will we elect these two men, but we will start the ball rolling toward the election of others to the State Assembly and to the City Council.

Republican Viewpoint

By HARRY A. COLE

George P. Mahoney requested the Board of Supervisors of Election for Baltimore City to allow him to examine the voter authorization cards in Baltimore's Fourth District.

These are the cards which each voter signs when he goes in the polling place. His request was denied and he sought the court aid to enforce his right to do this.

I believe Mr. Mahoney is on sound ground in making this request. There is little doubt that many shenanigans are put to use in winning elections in the Fourth District.

It could very well be that an examination of these cards will expose another.

'Dead' Voters

For many years now I have heard of dead people casting a vote in an election. That is to say, an otherwise registered voter dies before the election and another person presents himself as the dead voter and casts his (the dead voter's) ballot. This is grossly illegal.

Another device can be revealed. Suppose the machine indicates that 500 persons voted in a precinct but there are only 300 cards signed by the voters as having participated in the vote of that precinct.

This means that there are 200 ballots unaccounted for on the machine. I can't venture to say how the remaining 300 would be apportioned among the candidates but it would be clear that something was wrong.

The inequity would be evident if in this precinct one candidate got 450 and the other only 50 votes.

Difficult To Check

It might prove difficult to make an accurate check of the machine says 50c and there are only 300 cards.

In other cities it has been found that very often voting machines are geared to give one candidate a "morning handicap;" that is, before the machines are opened for voting in the election they tally so many votes already cast for one candidate as opposed to another.

It is difficult to presume that such a practice would even be contemplated here in Baltimore but a check would remove all doubt.

Another factor which a check of these authorization cards might reveal would be, whether or not persons who lived outside of the District bounds for more than six months preceding the election had been "floated" back in, solely to swell the ballot box for one candidate rather than another.

Election Of '51

This is the practice alleged to have been used in the Councilmanic elections of 1951. In that election it is estimated that over 3,000 persons were brought back into the District to vote to carry the "organization" ticket.

Irrespective of what a check shows, it will be interesting to note the extent to which certain bosses go to prevent the check from being made.

The important thing, in any event, is that the longer and harder these candidates fight one another the less coveted the Democratic nomination for Governor will be and the more certain the re-election of a Republican.

4th, 5th district recounts denied

Efforts to begin recounts of the primary election in the Fourth and Fifth districts were halted Thursday.

Judge Joseph L. Carter, Court of Common Pleas, ruled against two Democratic candidates inspecting the voting records of the districts.

The inspection had been ordered in mandamus suit by George P. Mahoney, candidate for nomination for governor, and his running mate, Philip H. Dorsey Jr., candidate for nomination for attorney general.

The indefinite results of the June 28 gubernatorial primary has prompted ballot recounts throughout the state. In the first tallies Mahoney lost to Dr. H. C. Byrd and Dorsey lost to C. Ferdinand Seiper by a small margin.

Fraud Charged

Both men charge that fraud was committed by various election officials and other people in the Fourth and Fifth districts, and that at least 26 persons were improperly permitted to vote.

In their suit against the city Board of Supervisor of Elections, they were seeking permission to examine:

The voting authority card, precinct binders, all affidavits of voters for assistance in voting, affidavits of voters for supplemental registration in voting and list of judges and oaths of judges of elections.

Mr. Mahoney lost to Dr. Byrd by only 489 votes in the official count of the Fourth District.

Judge Carter ruled that the election records should be opened to inspection by the public but not as a part of a recount. He said that he would approve the inspection when the candidates, Byrd and Dorsey lost to C. Fer

'Desperado,' 13, had 13 holdups to his credit

A 13-year-old "desperado," accused of holding up and robbing 13 other boys in the downtown district was sentenced to an indeterminate stay at Boys' Village, Thursday in Juvenile Court.

The boy, operating over a five-week period, had so annoyed Capt. John B. Kenealy, Central District commander, that the captain assigned a dragnet of eight plainclothesmen to trap him.

A detailed description of the young holdup artist had pictured him as wearing a tartan plaid cap and black knee length boots.

Caught After Chase

Tuesday Sgt. John Gladmon and Pfc. Charles Pamuska saw the boy at St. Paul and Lexington Sts. and captured him after a short chase.

Police reported the boy used no weapon but simply bullied other boys his age into surrendering various sums.

In his last holdup, the boy robbed a 15-year-old boy of $14.

JAILED IN THEFT

Rodger W. Ray of the 1400 block N. Bruce St., was sentenced to 90 days in jail on Thursday in Northwestern police court, on a charge of stealing a lighter from an automobile belonging to Elmore Purnell of the 1800 block N. Monroe St.

William B. Dixon, local insurance agent, polled 3,653 votes to wind up in fifth place. Seven are elected to the State Convention which will be held Monday at the Emerson Hotel at 2 p.m.

The totals for all candidates were:

Randolph	4,297
Rothstein	4,284
Finkel	4,061
Arbaugh	3,748
Dixon	3,653
Binder	3,375
King	3,069

Boykin A Candidate

William Boykin, Sr. the other colored candidate, polled 2,735 votes.

In the vote for House of Delegates, Fourth District, the first six candidates polled as follows:

Abramson	6,028
Robinson	5,781
Saul	4,349
Freedman	3,811
Rosenthal	3,752
Hatchett	3,624

Truly Hatchett is the first colored candidate to be nominated to the House of Delegates in more than 30 years.

Mr. Randolph polled more votes to the State Convention than the last three nominees to the House of Delegates.

TASTY-FRESH

What a twosome! So fresh and delicious they sparkle up every meal. Next time serve sliced Blue Ribbon Rolls. Man, what eating!
