Post Office 9 to play Yanks

Baltimore Post Office, winners of the Monumental League baseball championship, will play the Vista Yanks of Bowie, Md., Friday at Westport Stadium.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. The locals will send either Moses or Fairly to the mound.

Moses has a season's record of six victories and one loss, while Fairly boasts a 2-0 record. Post Office won seven games this season and dropped two.

Solomon Evans is business manager for the team; John Lindsey, line manager, and Earl Cottman, coach. For commuters, free bus service will be available to the stadium from the end of the street car line.

Baltimore Stars to play in N.C.

The Baltimore Stars, formerly the Yokeley Stars, will head South on Saturday, August 7, for Winston - Salem, N.C., where they will play in the 15th annual North - South classic on Sunday, August 8th.

The Stars will carry the colors of the North. The Stars are now owned and managed by Harry Jeffries, formerly of the Indianapolis Clowns.

This trip to Winston - Salem will afford Carolinians an opportunity to see an old native son, Lamon Yokeley, ex - Baltimore Black Sox pitcher, and a host of other ex-Negro National League players in action.

The group includes Murray Watkins, Tom Tyree, Frank Lee, Norman Banks and Charles Rigby.

Black Sox play Va. all stars

Three of the budding stars who will see action at Griffith Stadium Sunday at 1:30 p.m. when the Washington Black Sox meet the Virginia All Stars of Hopewell are on the road toward a possible major-league career.

State softball tournament begins Sunday; 65 entries

Maryland's best unlimited softball teams will be in action Sunday as the State Softball Championship, sponsored by the Division of Amateur Sports of the Bureau of Recreation gets under way.

About 65 league champions and second-place teams are expected to participate in this year's Amateur Softball Association sanctioned tournament.

The state champion will be eligible to play in the regional tournament to be held this year in Baltimore over the Labor Day Weekend. Entries were scheduled to draw their opponents today (Friday) at 6:30 p.m. at the Recreation Pier.

—o O o—

THE STATE CHAMPION will receive, in addition to the Regional bid, the Coca Cola Bottler State Championship Award and the Division of Amateur Sports Award.

Among the league champions entered are Parks Sausage Company, Industrial and Commercial League; New Era Yanks, West Baltimore League; Local 738 Indians, United Auto Workers-CIO Unlimited;

Crown Cork and Seal, Baltimore Interclub League; Maisch's All Stars and the Cherry Hill Trotters as winner and second place teams in the Independent League; and Brooklyn and Armistead Gardens as first and second place teams in the Interproject League.

The last four teams played off for the league championships Thursday night but all were eligible since two teams may participate from six team loops.

Games will be played in most of the city's parks including Easterwood and Druid Hill. The tournament will be conducted in single elimination each Sunday until the quarter final round which will be played in double elimination.

Hot Springs finally uses tan player

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — (ANP) —Only 670 persons turned out here Wednesday night to watch 18-year-old Uveyed Reynolds, a hometown boy, in his debut with the Brothers of the Cotton States league.

Having starred on the track team of the Langston high school, he also played basketball and football before being tagged to play right field for the same team that attempted to play the Tungerson brothers without success last year because of the opposition by other teams of the Entering the lineup, he bolstered the gate receipts, but was unable to help his team win against the Meridian (Miss.) Millers, who took the beacon 12-7.

In three trips to the plate, Reynolds managed two walks which forced in Hot Springs runs but failed to hit safely.

D.C. has its own Amazing Mays—he is a one-armed catcher

Garry adept in 3 sports at Armstrong

WASHINGTON

Washington has it own amazing Mays, who is not in the headlines like the New York Giants' sensational home run hitting Willie, but who performs an athletic feat that is far more unbelievable than anything Willie has ever done.

He is 18-year-old Garret (Garry) Mays, one-armed baseball player, who performs as a catcher.

Baseball in past years has seen several one-armed outfielders, but old-timers have been unable to recall any instance of a one-armed catcher, and it is incredible the way Garry is able to go at his job.

—o O o—

AT THE AGE OF FIVE, Garry's left arm was severed in a hunting accident. He loved sports, however, so the mere loss of an arm didn't stop him from becoming adept in football, basketball and baseball.

Last season, Mays captained Armstrong High School's basketball and baseball teams. In baseball, he hits the ball for an average of nearly .360 and often poles a long ball. Defensively he is really hot.

At the close of the high school season, Garry played with the Washington Black Sox when the Virginia All-Stars at Griffith Stadium in a doubleheader at 1:30 p.m.

During the early days of his diamond career, Garry played in the outfield. In 1951 while playing American Legion baseball, he noticed that his team had a surplus of outfielders but no catchers.

Realizing he could play regularly as a catcher, Garry practiced catching and soon landed the backstop position.

MAYS HAS another semester at Armstrong but has completed his high school baseball playing. His appearance with the Black Sox Sunday may be a big things in the baseball field.

If not, he contemplates playing professional basketball after completing his schooling at Armstrong, perhaps with the celebrated Globetrotters. Otherwise, he plans to go to college to study real estate accounting.

Mays is only 5 feet, 10 inches, and 187 pounds but has big broad shoulders and a great deal of power in his throws.

Already he has gained notoriety as a outstanding handicapped athlete.

IN 1952 AND 1953 he was awarded the District of Columbia Reciprocity Club's outstanding handicapped athlete award, and this year won the Billy Edwards Memorial Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship. The latter award is given by the Scholastic Sports Association.

—o O o—

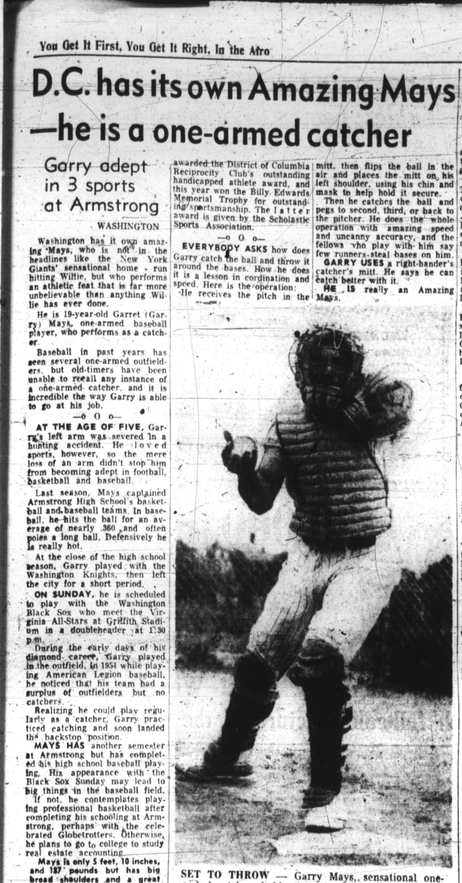
EVERYBODY ASKS how does Garry catch the ball and throw it around the bases. How he does it is a lesson in coordination and speed. Here is the operation:

He receives the pitch in the mitt, then flips the ball in the air and places the mitt on his left shoulder, using his chin and mask to help hold it secure.

Then he catches the ball and pegs to second, third, or back to the pitcher. He does the whole operation with amazing speed and uncanny accuracy, and the fellows who play with him say few runners steal bases on him.

GARRY USES a right-handed catcher's mitt. He says he can catch better with it.

HE IS really an Amazing Mays.



SET TO THROW — Garry Mays, sensational one-armed catcher, holds the mitt on his left shoulder and gets set for a peg to second base. Few runners steal on him. The amazing Mays is slated to play for the Black Sox against the Virginia All-Stars at Griffith Stadium Sunday.

Raise $1,800 to defend athlete

BRIELLE, N.J. — Efforts by colored and white citizens of this city to raise $2,000 for the defense of a star colored athlete charged with murder, were approaching their goal last week as the committee reported $1,855 had been raised.

Virtually the whole city is working in an all out effort to raise the money to defend Norman Morgan, 21 year old son of a prominent family, who is accused of killing James Worthy in a tavern fight at Point Pleasant Beach last April.

Attorney Percy Camp, former Judge of Ocean County, who has been retained to defend Morgan said that in 30 years of law practice he has never seen a community come to the aid of one of its residents as the people of Brielle have come to Morgan's.

— o O o —

The annual pet show was held at the playground last week. In the dog show, prizes were awarded to Margaret Hodges, owner of Pamela; and Barbara Ford who owns Bartie.

Prizes in other divisions were presented to Deanie Wright, and Anna Rose Moody. Judges were Mrs. Flortina Dyson, and Miss Joan Carr. Miss Margaret Smith was custodian of awards.

CLOVERDALE CENTER

In their determination to make Cloverdale Recreation Center and Playground, located in Druid Hill Park, an enjoyable spot, the children in the neighborhood banded themselves in an effort to raise funds by selling tags.

Last Thursday evening, after a two-week campaign, a social hour was held in the evening. A program was held, refreshments served and two prizes awarded, one each to the boy and girl selling the highest number of tags.

Mrs. Margie Ford, vice - president of the Adult Council, awarded the prizes to winners Lawrence Reed and Nancy Windy.

More than 50 children were present, in addition to many parents.

The Recreation Center is a very popular spot in the neighborhood because of the interest manifested by the director, Mrs. Madeline M. Futch under the Department of Public Recreation.

Also present at the social affair were Lawrence Robinson, Joseph Deleaver, Mrs. A. Reed, and William Taylor, all members of the Adult Council.

Mr. Robinson was manager of the affair. The funds will be used in sponsoring whatever may be needed on the grounds.

Bannaker Playground

On Thursday evening, July 22, from 6 to 9 o'clock, the Bannaker Playground held a carnival. Hula dancers, fortune tellers, clowns, and a rythm band all held forth after their particular style to help make the evening a success through the media of fun, laughter, and genuine merry making.

As part of the evening's entertainment a doll show with prizes in several classes provided much interest.

Winners of the prizes were Bernadine Smith who had the prettiest doll. Beverly Boston for the largest, Charlene Hardy for the most ragged, Beryl Henson who had the most original doll, and Margo Williams poster of the most modern doll. Miss Carol Bennett was charming as the doll show judge.

AFTER EVERYONE became over heated from work, Florargenia Pye did such a successful business with her snowball stand that her shaver broke down, and she had to retire for the evening.

More than 200 attended.

You just know
She's got it!

and you just know
Gunther's got it!

You're master-minding a hot court volley up until you spot her, then suddenly you're stopped cold. You find yourself staring and you don't quite know why. One thing is definitely sure—in your book, she's got it!

And that's how folks feel about Gunther. One frosty glass tells the story—Gunther's got it! You can't put your finger on it—you just know here's a beer that's right for you in every way. Here's a beer with a taste that beats all description. And that's what counts, Gunther's got it!
