Spring-fall match ends with stabbing

A May - December marriage ran its course Monday afternoon when Archie Stewart, 55, died in his apartment in the 1200 block W. Fayette St., with a knife wound in his heart.

* * *

ARRESTED and charged in his death is his wife, Mrs. Zoraine Stewart, 23, who has been ordered held without bail pending a hearing to be set by the state's attorney.

Stewart died sometime late Monday afternoon, but his body was not discovered until early Tuesday morning when Mrs. Stewart finally led officers to the blood stained apartment.

* * *

THERE POLICE found that the body already showed traces of rigor mortis and after Stewart was sent to the morgue, they began to question Mrs. Stewart.

At first, police said, Mrs. Stewart told them when she came home on Monday afternoon she found her husband, sister, and a friend, drinking in the apartment.

Mrs. Stewart was quoted as saying that her husband told her to go to bed, but that an argument started when her sister asked Mr. Stewart to go to bed with her and he refused.

Police said Mrs. Stewart claimed that in the altercation that followed between her husband and sister, Mr. Stewart was stabbed and slumped to the floor.

From that time until early Tuesday morning, police said Mrs. Stewart claimed she did not remember anything.

When her memory returned, police reported, Mrs. Stewart said she was in a tavern in the 1000 block Pennsylvania Ave., talking to a special officer who in turn called police.

Under questioning, however, police said Mrs. Stewart finally cleared her sister of blame and admitted stabbing her husband during the altercation.

Stepdad to keep blond baby

- Slaps down Holtzoff's decision
- Child's father Puerto Rican; mother white

WASHINGTON

The U.S. Court of Appeals Thursday slapped down U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff who last November ruled that an interracial couple could not adopt a son born to the white wife before she married her colored husband.

The appeals court ordered Judge Holtzoff's decision reversed and ordered the District Court to grant the couple's petition for adoption.

The couple involved, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rudder, of the Lincoln Heights Housing Project, asked the lower court in September 1954 for permission to adopt the 5-year-old son born to Mrs. Rudder in 1949. The Rudders were married in 1951.

* * *

IN TURNING down their request last November, Judge Holtzoff decided the issue on two points.

On one point he stressed that the Rudders had refused to sign a "loyalty oath" required of tenants in their low-cost housing project.

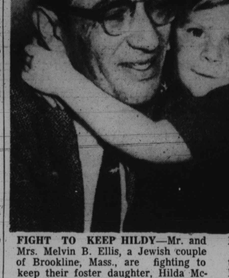
As a result, their eviction from the project was ordered by the Municipal Court. They have appealed that ruling.

The Court of Appeals ruled that the Rudders' refusal to sign the loyalty declaration "provides no support for a determination that the best interests of the child would be served by denial of the adoption."

* * *

ON THE OTHER point, Judge Holtzoff pointed out that "the stepfather (Mr. Rudder) is a colored man, while the mother and boy are white people."

Mr. Rudder is a taxicab driver. His eviction appeal is still pending in the Municipal Court of Appeals.



FIGHT TO KEEP HILDY—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, a Jewish couple of Brookline, Mass., are fighting to keep their foster daughter, Hilda McCoy, 4, whom they have raised since she was 10 days old. Her mother, a Catholic, seeks Hildy's return under a Massachusetts law which says a child born out of wedlock is free for adoption where practicable, to a couple of the same religious faith. The case is similar to one just decided in Washington in favor of a father who sought adoption of a white child.

Husband fined in shovel chase

Chasing one's wife with a shovel is not an action that sits well with police officers according to testimony given in Northwestern Police Court Saturday before Magistrate Linwood G. Koger Sr.

Police said they found Berk Moore, 47, 2700 block Prospect St., busy chasing his wife, Mrs. Sally Moore, with the implement when they answered a trouble call early Saturday in an alley near Moore's home. They arrested him.

Mrs. Moore said she and her husband had been quarreling when an argument started and he started to pursue her with the shovel.

Magistrate Koger fined Moore $25 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge, despite the defendant's plea that "there wasn't any disturbance," and his denial of the shovel incident.

Mystery shrouds Waldorf slaying

WALDORF, Md. — Charles County police were busy Tuesday trying to solve the mysterious death of John Fenwick, 26, of Waldorf, who died Monday afternoon in Washington's Freedmen's Hospital.

Mr. Fenwick was struck on the head around midnight on July 8 while in the Moonlight Inn. Police reports said he was "struck on the head by an unknown person with an unknown object."

He was brought to Freedmen's Hospital in a private auto, by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Fenwick, at 1:45 p.m. July 9.

* * *

DR. WILLIAM M. JONES, of the Freedmen's staff, pronounced Mr. Fenwick dead, giving a fractured skull and cerebral concussion as the cause of death.

Det. Sgts. Patrick A. Deenihan and Robert E. Tolbert of the Washington Homicide Squad questioned Mrs. Fenwick about the incident. They said she could tell them nothing more than that her husband was struck by an unknown object held by an unknown person.

Mr. Fenwick's body was taken to the District morgue for an autopsy.

AT COLTS' CAMP SATURDAY: Vaughn, Barbee, McClendon report

Two free agent football players became late additions to the Baltimore Colts' training camp squad this week when President Don Kellett signed Tackle Joe Barbee of Kent State and Halfback Jim McClendon, who had been playing semi - pro on the West Coast.

At the same time, Quarterback Leroy Vaughn, former Virginia Union University luminary, was signed to a contract on the basis of the standout showing he made in the Colts' spring tryouts.

* * *

BARBEE AND McCLENDON will report Saturday when early training opens at Westminster. Barbee was signed on the recommendation of tackle coach Frank Lauterbur.

Lanterbur coached Barbee at Kent State and believes the 6-foot 2-inch, 230-pounder has a chance to make the team as an offensive tackle. He was All - Mid-American Conference at Kent State and also All - Ohio. He is a native of Cleveland and went to Twinsburg High before enrolling at Kent.

McClendon, who didn't attend college, lives in Los Angeles. Coach Weeb Ewbank said his information on the boy indicated he had breakaway speed and was a clever runner in the open field. McClendon is 5-11, 180.

* * *

VAUGHN, a Baltimore boy who attended Union, has signed a 1955 contract and will also be in training camp at Westminster Saturday.

Vaughn, who was a standout in Virginia Union's win over Morgan here last fall, is 6 feet 1 inch. He weighs in at an even 200 and possesses excellent speed.

He flashed such impressive form in foot races at the spring trials that Coach Ewbank says he is seriously considering giving Vaughn a chance at either offensive or defensive halfback.

Aside from Vaughn, the Colts previously signed two other prospects from the tryouts held at Clifton Park. They were Ends Willard Leach, a Baltimorean who attended Wake Forest, and Sam (Snake) Williams, from Fayetteville (N.C.) Teachers College.

70 Seniors Win $19,985 Awards

Majority to attend interracial colleges

WASHINGTON — Seventy colored high school seniors, from segregated or recently desegregated schools, have just been awarded $19,985 in supplementary scholarships by the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, according to Dr. Robert C. Weaver, chairman of the agency's Supplementary Scholarship Fund Trustees.

These awards bridge the gap between $250,000 in college scholarships awarded these students through the NSSFNS counselling and referral services, and their total financial needs.

A majority of the scholarship awards to freshmen from southern states and the District of Columbia entering interracial colleges, primarily in the North, come under a grant from the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education.

THESE AWARDS assist the admittment of students moving from segregated high schools to non-segregated colleges as part of an overall study of this subject by the National Scholarship Service under the Fund's grant.

Late, this month, the NSSFNS will also announce awards of an almost equal amount to upper-classmen already enrolled in college with NSSFNS help, under grants from the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education, the Edwin R. Embree Memorial Scholarships, the Jean Tennyson Awards, and Girl Friends Inc. Fund and the Seven College Fund.

In the seven years of its existence, the National Scholarship Service has helped more than 3,000 colored students enter some 300 interracial colleges and universities, including Harvard, Yale, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Amherst, Northwestern, Oberlin, Notre Dame, Antioch, University of Southern California, as well as many others.

These 300 colleges themselves awarded over $1,000,000 in scholarships among the 3,000 students who benefited also by $150,000 in supplementary grants from the NSSFNS.

* * *

AMONG THE CURRENT awards perhaps the most timely are a special group given under the agency's "two-way integration" project, made possible by grants from the New York Foundation and the Old Dominion Foundation.

These scholarships are given to students to aid them in attending formerly "all-white" colleges and universities, mainly in the South. Grants to white students enrolling in formerly "all-colored colleges will be announced later in the summer.

This year a Richmond Va. girl will be enrolled as the first colored student at Baltimore's Goucher College; last month Fisk University awarded its first undergraduate degree to a white student, Joan Wood of Portland, Ore., who originally enrolled there under the NSSFNS "two-way integration" project.

"RESPECT FOR the excellent academic and extra - curricular records, as well as the general adjustment of colored students has done much to ease their situation on campuses that have not traditionally had colored students enrolled," said Richard L. Plaut, executive vice chairman of the NSSFNS.

"Our experience during the past year," said Mr. Plaut, "has been that while integration in southern colleges is making progress, the colored student's major problem is off - campus. NSSFNS students at recently desegregated colleges in the South usually find white students friendly and congenial, the campus an oasis of integration surrounded by a desert of traditional southern attitudes," he continued.

"But when the student leaves the campus he goes back to a community in which movie theaters, barber shops and restaurants may refuse to serve him. A student in Missouri wrote us, 'They are friendly on campus, but not in the community'."

Seended players live up to expectations

Whether they saw it in the stars or just had actual knowledge, the tournament prognosticators who made the seedings in the Baltimore Open tennis tournament had a good insight into things to come.

After the rains came and went and came again, the semifinals and finals of the men's singles found the four seeded players battling right down to the wire in the order predicted.

Buzz Hettleman eliminated Billy Davis in one semifinal bracket (6-2, 7-5) while Dave Friedman was turning the measure of Robert Ryland (6-1, 6-4), in the other. Hettleman then trounced defending champ Frieshtat (6-2, 6-0) in the finals.

* * *

FRIESHTAT AND Hettleman teamed together into the doubles finals.

Hettleman, a former Duke University star, is currently one of the hottest players in the Maryland and Washington area and is seeded No. 1 in the Baltimore Open tournament, starting played.

Frieshtat is the No. 1 star on the University of Maryland team, while both Ryland and Davis are playing under the banner of Tennessee State University.

Officials of the Baltimore Racquet Club, sponsors of the tournament, stated that this year's tournament had more participants than any other in the history of the event.

Protests force barman to cancel request for permit

An application for a new Class "B" liquor permit for 1800 E. Madison St. was withdrawn Tuesday after two hospitals and a community group filed complaints with the Board of Liquor Commissioners.

The owner, Henry Silver, made the withdrawal after protests were filed by Johns Hopkins Hospital, Sinai Hospital, and the Eastside Community Committee.

A total of 111 signatures were on a petition presented to the Board by the Eastside Committee. The group said it objected to the application because the community already has enough taverns.

A survey shows that eight of the 111 signatures, and beer, wine and liquor outlets are located within a two block radius of Madison St. area.

Woman lauded by former legislator

Beat out flames from body of human torch after blast

A 53-year-old woman, who risked her own life to save that of a worker who was engulfed in flames, was heralded Wednesday as a "courageous heroine" by a retired former state legislator who is her employer.

* * *

SHE IS Mrs. Daisy I. Holland of 521 N. Carrollton Ave., who on Tuesday ignored a blaze that raced through her employer's house, 5215 Midwood Ave., following a violent explosion, and beat out the flames from the body of the worker.

The victim, J. Raymond Hooper of 516 Beaumont Ave., was reported in "satisfactory" condition at Union Memorial Hospital Wednesday. He suffered second and third degree burns of the right arm, right leg and chest.

"MRS. HOLLAND, who has been in our family for 21 years is one of the most courageous women I have ever known," Edward T. Dempsey, her employer, told the AFRO.

* * *

"SHE SHOULD be recommended for the Carnegie Medal for bravery. She is one of the finest women I know and the kind of person I would readily die and go to h— for."

According to Mr. Dempsey, he had contracted with a company to do some work around his house and had asked Mr. Hooper to clean a ventilating fan in the kitchen.

* * *

MRS. HOLLAND and Mrs. Hooper were in the dining room and Mr. Dempsey in the living room, when the explosion suddenly thundered through the house.

Holland who had an extensive record for larcenies and burglaries dating back to 1935, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods, but denied that it was he who did the stealing.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this Improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoidal conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Stole from car, gets three years

Jimmie L. Holland Jr., 43, 1700 block Pennsylvania Ave., received three years in the House of Correction, Wednesday in Criminal Court where he was found guilty of stealing clothing and a camera from an automobile.

Judge Dealey K. Nice was told that on July 3, Holland took the articles from a car parked at Pratt and Gay Sts.

Police said that they were driving by when they saw the man standing near a car. When they questioned him about the articles, police said, Holland claimed that he had just gotten them from a pawnshop.

Holland who had an extensive record for larcenies and burglaries dating back to 1935, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods, but denied that it was he who did the stealing.
