Willie's Catch Talk Of All-Star Contest

8 of 29 tan players in two leagues see action before crowd of 45,314

MILWAUKEE — "He should been in there all the time."

The tan, one of 45,314 who attended our $179,541.01 Tuesday's All Star game was talking about Willie Mays, but most of the fans seemed to feel that way about all ten of the top major leagues' 29 colored players who were members of the two select squads.

Roy Campanella, Dodger catcher, who topped the annual voting by the fans for posts on the All-Star squad, was kept out of action by a knee injury.

The five others beside Mays who saw action in the National's lineup included. Hank. Aaron, Braves; Ernie Banks, Cubs; Gene Baker, Cubs; Don Newcombe, Dodgers and Sad Sam Jones, Cubs, the latter two pitchers.

LARRY DOBY, Cleveland Indians, failed to see action in the American League lineup. Those who did were his teammate, Al Smith of the Indians and Vic Power of the Athletics.

Newcombe, Aaron and Mays played an outstanding part in the National League 6-5 victory which came as the result of a 12th-inning homer by Stan, the man, Musial.

Most fans, however, seemed to feel that the greatest part of the credit as here at of the National Leaguers' uphill victory should go to the "Say Hey" Kid from the Polo Grounds.

For hours after the game they were still talking about his seventh-inning catch of Ted Williams' centerfield smash which kept the Nationals in the ball game.

• • •

AT THE TIME the American League All Stars were leading 5-0 and the National supporters had had little to cheer about during an afternoon which got off to a bad start when Robin Roberts, one of the finest control pitchers in the major, got off a wild pitch that permitted the Americans' first score.

Before the end of that inning the Americans were off to a 4-0 lead as a result of a Mickey Mantle homer that cleared the fence with two aboard.

That lead loomed bigger and bigger through four scoreless innings until the sixth, when Harvey Haddix gave up three hits which sent the Yankees' Yogi Berra rumbling across the plate to make it 5-0.

In the seventh, Manager Leo Durocher pulled the Dodgers' Duke Snider and sent Mays into centerfield. The switch paid off, for with two out and Chico Carasquel on first Ted Williams connected with a deep smash that seemed headed for the stands.

The "Say Hey" Kid went back almost to the bleachers screen and up and when he came down, the ball was in his glove, Ted had been robbed of a homer and the Americans half of the inning was over.

But Mays wasn't through. First batter up in the Nats' half of the seventh he lashed out a single off Whitey Ford to start off a rally which ended only after a long drive by Frank Robinson had Frank Aaron, a single by Johnny Logan and an error by Carrasquel added up to two runs for the Nationals.

In the eighth, with two away, Mays rapped out another single and scored on hits by Kluzewski and Randy Jackson. A single to right by Aaron and a wild throw to Rosen brough Kluzewski home to tie up the score.

Musial's homer in the 12th wrapped the game up for the Nationals, but Mays' catch in the seventh and hits in the seventh and eighth kept it going until then.

P-TA delegates told how to desegregate

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—The speed with which this nation moves toward school integration will be conditioned by "population ratio, community conditions, courageous leadership, and personal contact with other races."

While other southern states have been "ducking" the issue, Maryland has given "clear intentions" to desegregate.

That's what Dr. Gordon W. Lovejoy, professor of education at Guilford College in North Carolina told 250 delegates to the Maryland Congress of Parents Teachers summer conference Tuesday.

In a discussion on intergroup relations held on the University of Maryland campus, Dr. Lovejoy advised his audience to broaden its horizonsand to take wise and personal action because there are no gimmicks to solve specific problems.

• • •

FORMER HEAD of the Center for Human Relations at the University of Miami, Dr. Lovejoy is recognized as an authority on the general problem of race relations in education.

He addressed the assembly of delegates from 23 counties and Baltimore City, on behalf of the National Congress of Christians and Jews. Dr. Lovejoy spoke on "New Horizons in Human Relations."

He declared that new horizons in human relations are being motivated by the church, law, and economics.

• • •

"FOR 300 years," he said, "the church first remained silent on the question of slavery then segregation. Over the passing years there developed in the mind of the church an idea that segregation was morally right.

Churches today, the speaker declared, are taking a different approach "because they know you cannot be moral and continue to practice segregation in relationship to their fellowman.

"From the standpoint of law, I would like to think that man has also been motivated. The court has laid out a path to follow.

• • •

"ECONOMICALLY THE merchant in the South has learned a lesson in that segregation is costly," continued Dr. Lovejoy.

"In the midst of transition migration will tend to change South, incidentally, anyone who crosses South of the Smith and Weson line is considered an immigrant."

"Don't think, however, that everyone who comes to the South from the North is a liberal. For some the opportunity only affords them a chance to really display their prejudices."

• • •

DR. LOVEJOY divided the reactions of some southerners to the Supreme court's decision on desegregation into five groups.

"First there are the whoa boys. Trained for the most part in politics, they are the boys who get most of the headlines in the newspapers.

"It is their contention that integration will come, but say, over my dead body.'

• • •

"SECONDLY," Dr. Lovejoy continued, "there are the o.k. boys. It is their belief that integration will come but not in my time.

"Then there is the gradual group. They do not want to go fast and are the first to say that the colored man does not want integration.

"The gitup boys say tomorrow is too late. 'Integrate today or else we will sun tomorrow.'

"Then," he went on, "there is the hitch group the team group who though they don't like it, are willing to obey the court's ruling but will say, 'I need your help.'

"The last group is the middle of the road group. This is the group which must move. The speed with which they move will be conditioned by population ratio, community conditions, and personal contact with other races.

• • •

"ONE OF THE most intangible aspects is that of leadership. Only your state, Maryland has given clear intentions. Everyone else has been ducking," said Dr. Lovejoy." Most of our leaders have not spoken clearly.

"For those of you who want to help, community conditions can be tapped for after all, integration will move in direct proportion of race contact.

"You as individuals make sure that you know what you are talking about when speaking of a race or religion," he continued.

• • •

"TRAIN YOURSELF to cooperate with other human relation agencies such as the Urban League, the NAACP,"Dr. Lovejoy advised.

"Strengthen your professional libraries. There are any number of good books on interrelation work. Help us get those books there.

"Raise scholarships for in service training for teachers. They do not have too much left from their salaries at the end of the year.

"Guard the interest of your teachers. We have a responsibility to them. This is a period of major social change and there is work ahead for all of you," Dr. Lovejoy concluded.

• • •

THE OPENING session of the three-day conference on Monday featured an address by Vernon L. Heath, chairman of the education committee, Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Carl Mauro, chairman of the Maryland Congress Committee on desegration presided at Tuesday's afternoon session. A conference summary on Wednesday concluded the conference.

Little Willie throws a scare into Big Don

NEW YORK—Big Don Newcombe doesn't scare easily, but little Willie Mays threw a king-sized scare into the big Brooklyn pitcher during Tuesday's All-Star game.

Newk told about the scare as the triumphant National Leaguers headed for home after the game.

Stopping in the aisle beside Willie's seat, Newk said: "Willie, I wish you'd stop scarin' me."

"What did I do?" asked the Giant centerfielder.

Then Newk told him. After Ted Williams had rapped the long drive that seemed to be heading for the fence and two American League runs, Big Don saw Little Willie with his back almost against the fence.

Willie wasn't pounding his glove, a mannerism that must fans and players have come to look for when Willie is sure of making a catch.

"Then you leap up and snatch it out of the bleachers," Big Don continued. Don't you go scarin' me none, Willie, after this you pound your glove."

"Okay, Newk," Willie grinned.

CAMPANELLA BACK

Campanella's broken kneecap has been declared mended and the Dodger catcher is expected in the Dodger lineup today (Friday).

He has been out since June 28.

Ernie Banks' route to all-star game

CHICAGO—Time: 1953; place: Comiskey Park. Scene of action: third inning of East-West Classic, annual all - star game of Negro Major League Baseball.

Ernie Banks, Kansas City Monarch shortstop, steps to the plate for the West with two runners on — Eddie Reed and Ray Haggins, both of the Memphis Red Sox — and the score tied at 1-1.

Banks laid down a bunt along third base line and Willie Gaines, south-paw hurler of the Indianapolis Clowns, fumbled to the bag as Banks. Before the climax of the inning, the West scored two more runs in a later rally, collected two others to ice the contest 5-1.

• • •

THE YOUNG shortstop played a remarkable game in the field that day — handling seven chances without an error.

Sitting in the stands were a number of major league scouts, including one from the Chicago Cubs. They were also there in 1954, and a short time later Banks had signed a contract with the Cubs, reporting to the Chicago team late in August of that year along with Gene Baker, another former Monarch shortstop.

Today the Banks-Baker second base combination is one of the best in the major leagues if not the best.

• • •

BECAUSE OF his terrific hitting in recent weeks, Banks was moved into the clean-up position. As of last week he was hitting .294. He paced the show in the National League in the balloting for the All-Star team that played the American League Allstars in Milwaukee Tuesday.

Roy Campanella, Jackie Robinson, Larry Doby, and Minnie Minoso are other big leaguers who are products of the Negro American League and played in the annual East - West game.

The Monarchs, who have sent more players to the major leagues than any other team in the Negro American League, will send a number of major league prospects to the East-West game, slated for Chicago, July 31.

• • •

AMONG THEM will be Enrique Maraglio, top-ranked hurler in the league; Juan Armenteros, a flashy little catcher; Al Cartmill, second base; and Willie Forge, first baseman.

The Birmingham Black Barons have in Wesley (Doc) Dennis, Eddie Brooks, Wiley Griggs, and Bill Greason, the pitcher, third baseman, and Kelly Searcy, a fast southpaw, five players who will catch the attention of the scouts.

Ray Haggins, right fielder; Charlie Washington, third baseman, and Ace Robinson, a right-hitter, complete Red Sox could attract plenty of attention.

The group, which includes 40 cadets from Morgan State College, is taking a six-week summer leave of absence from the cadet training program at Meade.

Paratroopers jump in ROTC demonstration

Six - hundred paratroopers of the Second Battalion, 325th Airborne Infantry Regiment from Fort Bragg, N.C., took part in an airdrop training exercise at Gambrills Md., Friday morning.

The exercises was part of the instructions in airborne infantry tactics given for the men from 1,000 ROTC cadets at Fort Meade.

In Memoriam 1

HUNDLEY—Sad but loving remembrance of a dear friend, JAMES BUNDY, who departed this life 8 months ago, January 16th, 1954.

There is a sad but sweet remembrance
There is a memory sweet and true.
There is a token of affection
And a heartache just for you.
Gone but not forgotten.

SHORTS—In loving memory of my dear son and husband, JOHN SON, on our birthday July 15, 1954.

Dear Lord and Father of mine,
Open the gate at the end of the road.
Through which each must go alone.
And there in a light we cannot see
Our Father claims His own.

In that land of peace and beauty
Where no tears are ever shed
And there's comfort in the knowledge
That a loving God knows best.

Loving Niece,
GRAYCE TOLSON BOOTH

STEWART—In loving memory of our dear mother and sister JENNIE MOORE, who passed away two years ago, July 13, 1953.

We do not forget you, nor do we intend to.
We think of you often, and will to the end.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be
But dear to our memory you ever will be.

Loving Children and Sister,
PEARL OWENS,
CORNELIA PHILLIPS,
NATHANIEL STEWART,
ALFRED STEWART

WOODLAND—A tribute of love to the memory of CHARLES F., who passed away one year ago, July 16, 1954.

Loved, missed, I miss you.
In our memory you are dear.
Loved, remembered, longed for always
Thoughts of you are ever near.

LOVING WIFE.

HUGHES—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, BISHOP W. A. C. HUGHES, who departed life 15 years ago July 12, 1940.

Gone but not forgotten.

LOVING WIFE,
CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

JENNINGS—In loving memory of wife, daughter and sister, LELIA JENNINGS, who departed this life one year ago, July 16, 1954.

In the book of life these are memories
Of the happiest moments we've known
And recorded in love is the blessing
Of a wonderful person, our own.
You are gone but the treasure you left us
Is truly a value untold
And a life filled with deeds of kindness
And beauty of heart and soul.
A happy home we once enjoyed.
Your memory we cherish still
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

Husband, Mother
AND SISTERS

PRATHER—In memory of my husband, WILLIAM A. PRATHER, who passed away July 17, 1954:

Never shall your memory fade.
Although I miss you so;
I am waiting 'til our life shall fade
And lead me from this world of strife and woe.

His Wife
BLANCHE E. PRATHER
