Jack, Jill conference dance attracts 200 teen-age delegates

Over 200 teen-agers attended the semi-formal dance, Saturday, at Morgan College Christian Center, given by the Baltimore Jack and Jill chapter which hosted the fifth annual "Eastern" Regional Teen-age Conference.

Parents were forced to turn the dance floor over to the ballerina-flocked girls and white-coat boys when time came for the Cha-Cha and Jitterbugs contests. Carl Smith served at master of ceremonies.

Marjorie Flannigan and Lois Turner of Washington, won door prizes.

Following the dance, the teen-agers were feted at a breakfast given at the Me-De-Sos.

THE CONFERENCE, as you no doubt have heard, was a great success, and as several of the mothers are saying this week all the credit goes to the Philadelphia Chapter which originated the confab five years ago with a Haitian Festival.

While the teenagers need no help in rounding out their business affairs, the Moms were else by to take care of the incidentals. Serving on the steering committee were:

Blanche Hughes, president; Vernice Wynn, general chairman; Senora Reckling, co-chairman; Cordelia Johnson, registration; Vera Williams, program; Mary McPherson, housing; Bernice Monrow, Olga Parker and Catherine St. Clair, hospitality;

Hilda Higgins, trip to Annapolis; Katherine Jackson, packets; Dora Oswell, treasurer; Bernice Brandon, chairman, junior teens and Charlotte Shervington, chairman, senior teens.

* * *

TEEN-AGERS of the host chapter who worked with Vera Williams on the program were:

Hazel Stewart, president; Carl Smith, Ann Williams, Arlene McPot Nourri, Mesdames Ann Moore, Ann Ford, Carolyn Williams and Charlotte Hachett.

Also Mesdames Louise Granger and Ida Alphin, both of Trenton, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tabourne and Mrs. M. Duckey of Philadelphia; Mesdames Hazel Murphy, Vivian Jackson, Winnie Nickens and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Utterbach all of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Maceo Thomas, Bronx, N.Y.; Mrs. Hilda Radhosted members of the Neptune Yacht Club and their friends at their Mill Creek home, Sunday.

Members of the 1955 graduating class of Douglass High School marked their 29th anniversary Sunday with memorial services preached by the Rev. George Crawley, Jr.

Later, guests gathered at Morgan Hall for a dinner dance. All arrangements were made by James Edwards.

Looking for something for the kids to do on Wednesday? Take them out to Gwynns Falls Park where the YWCA is conducting its weekly summer program until July 27.
