"ALL I NEED"

ALL I NEED
Jesus Christ is made to me, All I need, all I need;
He alone, is all my plea; He is all I need.
Jesus is my all in all, All I need, all I need;
While He keeps me I cannot fall, He is all I need.
He redeemed me when He died, All I need, all I need;
I with Him was crucified, He is all I need.
To my Savior will I cleave, All I need; All I need;
He will not His servant leave, He is all I need.
He's the treasurer of my soul, All I need, all I need;
He hath cleansed and made me whole, He is all I need.
Glory, glory to the Lamb, All I need, all I need;
By His Spirit sealed I am, He is all I need.

REFRAIN
Wisdom, righteousness and power, Holiness forevermore,
My redemption full and sure, He is all I need.

In Our Churches

The Masons will observe St. John's Day at Knox Presbyterian Church, Sunday at 3 p. m. The Rev. H. Octavius Graham is pastor.

Following the daily Vacation Bible School at Knox Church, a Day Camp for children between the ages of 7 and 12 will begin July 18.

Members of Knox Church are now making plans for a baby rally in September.

The male and female ushers of Emmanuel C. C. Church will sponsor their annual bus excursion to Sparrow's Beach, July 4. L. Byett and M. Washington are co-chairmen.

• • •

THE QUARTERLY meeting of Randallstown Circuit of the AME Church will be held, Sunday, at Union Bethel AME Church Randallstown with the Rev. T. C. Freeman, presiding elder, officiating.

The Rev. Mr. Freeman will deliver the 11 a. m. sermon at Union Bethel and the 7 p.m. sermon at Campfield AME Church.

The Rev. S. A. Carter, of Jessuit, Md. will be in charge of 3 p. m. services at Union Bethel Church, Sunday. Proceeds will go toward the Women's Day celebration, Mrs. Dorothy Sands is sponsor.

The Rev. Luke G. Reyn, pastor, of Gospel Tabernacle Baptist Church will be guest speaker at the New Shiloh Baptist Church, Turner Station, Sunday at 3 p. m.

He will be accompanied by his choir and congregation.

• • •

MRS. ANNIE LEE was honored on her 77th birthday at Falls Rd. AME Church, recently by members of the church. She received an $81 purse which she donated to the Trustee Board.

Mrs. Lee, a member of the Trustee Board, Stewardess Board and Missionary Society, will head the $1,000 rally at the church in October. The Rev. J. H. Cashen is pastor.

The Baltimore District Sunday School Workers of the AME Church were guests, Sunday, at Mt. Zion AME Church in Long Green. Md. Services were held following the dinner.

Arrangements were made by Miss Edna Gibson, Miss Julia Levere and the Rev. E. B. Bursh, pastor. Also present was the Rev. J. M. Cox, presiding elder.

• • •

THE PASTOR, officers, and members of Olivet Baptist Church, Riggs Ave. and Woodyear St., wish to thank the pastors and members of various churches and friends for their attendance and generous contributions in helping to make the sixth anniversary of the pastor, the Rev. W. L. Evans, a success.

Left to right: Vernon Land, 13, a seventh grade pupil at school No. 180, and the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Land, 1606 Chesapeake Ave., Fairfield; Mr. Spaulding; Michael McGoings, 11, a sixth-grade pupil at School No. 180, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGoings, 3207 Tate St., Fairfield.

Cleric in car crash buried

Rev. J. W. Hyman died in accident

Funeral services for the Rev. Joseph W. Hayman, Methodist minister of Manokin, Md., who was killed Sunday in an accident on Route 565, were held Thursday at Metropolitan Church in Princess Anne.

• • •

SERVICES for the Rev. Mrs. Sarah Austin Hubbard, who was also killed in the accident, will be held in Philadelphia. Both were supply pastors, assigned to the Delaware Conference of the Methodist Church.

The ministers, both 65 years old, died instantly when the car in which they were riding collided with a truck, hurling both of them onto the roadside. They were headed for a Methodist Church about a mile away from the scene.

• • •

THE REV. MR. HAYMAN was pastor of Manokin Church and was the father of seven children. Besides the children, survivors include four brothers and three sisters. They are:

• • •

PIERCE HAYMAN of Philadelphia, Oliver Hayman of Brooklyn, Bercher Hayman of Princess Anne, William Hayman, retired principal of Snow Hill, Md.; Mrs. Lucy Jackson of Princeton, N.J.; Mrs. Ida Golden borough of Easton, Md., and Mrs. Fanny Hayman Moaney of Baltimore.

Mrs. Moaney, who lives at 1147 Myrtle Ave., is the mother of Mrs. Anna Moaney Cooper, a teacher at School No. 121.

Concert group gives $1,400 to hospital

Officers of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anne Arundel General Hospital and members of the Auxiliaries' Symphony Committee met with members of the Hospital's Board of Managers June 28 to present $1,400 to the hospital.

The check represented the profit from the third consecutive season of "Hospital Concerts" — a series of appearances of the National Symphony Orchestra in Annapolis sponsored by the auxiliary for the benefit of the hospital.

Each time the orchestra comes to Annapolis to present an evening program, they give also two afternoon performances for school children.

• • •

DURING THE season just past, the orchestra appeared for the first time at the Bates High School, where it played to delighted audiences of more than 2,100 children.

The splendid support of these children has made possible a generous portion of the total profit which is being presented to the Hospital.

Dr. Howard Mitchell, the Orchestra's Conductor, said that the response of the children at the Bates concerts was a "real inspiration" to him and the Orchestra.

• • •

THE MONEY is to be used by the hospital to pay for the remodeling of the John B. Rich Medical Annex into a children's wing. This use seems particularly appropriate since the children of the county have, by their support of the concerts, made possible the bulk of the total contribution.

The money was presented by Mrs. Carl Thomas, treasurer of the auxiliary, to Charles B. Lynch, president of the Board of Managers of the Hospital.

Among the speakers were Miss Margaret A. Adams, superintendent of music in Anne Arundel County public schools; Miss Sarah V. Jones, superintendent of 19 schools which participated in the Bates concert, Mr. Lynch, and Dr. Philip Briscoe, chief of the pediatric service at the hospital.

INVITED GUESTS include Albert Fowble and Douglas King, principals of the Annapolis High School and the Bates High School, where the concerts are held; Dr. David Jenkins, county superintendent of public schools, and representatives of the Annapolis Chapter of the Frontiers of America and the Rising Suns Lodge No. 46 and other civic organizations which generously contributed toward the cost of bus transportation of children to the Bates concert.

The Symphony Committee included the following: Mesdames man, children's concerts; Frank Reginald B. Ingraham, chairmen D. Wright, Douglas Lacy, Will Corbin, Jean Deghuee, president of the auxiliary and Frank M. Shipley, chairman.

A second Bates High concert for school children is being planned for next March.

Pastor seeks jury

Pleading not guilty to the charge of performing marriages without proper certificates, the Rev. Armstead L. Bailey, ordained minister requested a jury trial, through his attorney, Josiah Henry, this week, at his arraignment.

The case, which will be heard before Judge John T. Tucker of Criminal Court, has been scheduled for early fall as no juries are available during the summer months.

MRS. ANNA S. CONLEY. . .

Member of Douglass '45 class dies

Mrs. Anna Stafford Conley, 29, died Tuesday after a lengthy illness at her home at 1810 Edmondson Ave. Her mother, Mrs. Carroll J. Stafford Sr., was at her side when she died.

Mrs. Conley was a 1945 graduate of Douglass High School and at one time was active in many social activities. She was a member of the Cliques Social Club and the Colored Women's Democratic Organization.

Funeral services, arranged by the Katy Williams Funeral Home, will be held at the Ebenezer AME Methodist Church on Montgomery St. near Charles St., on Saturday at 2 p. m. The Rev. S. A. Thompson will officiate.

In addition to her parents, Mrs. Conley is survived by her husband, Herbert, four brothers, Arthur, Gilbert, Guy and Frederick Stafford; a grandmother, Mrs. Anna Sorrell, aunts, uncles and other relatives.

J. Coy Davis, 55, buried on Monday

Well known real estate dealer died suddenly Friday

Funeral services for J. Coy Davis, 55, one of the city's leading businessmen, were conducted Monday at Ames Memorial Methodist Church with the Rev. Frank J. Prye officiating.

MR. DAVIS

Mr. Davis was stricken at his home last Thursday while watching a boxing match between Archie Moore and Bobo Olson.

At Provident Hospital death was attributed to a cerebral hemmorhage.

More than 200 persons attended the services. In the eulogy delivered by the Rev. J. Lloyd Garrison, Mr. Davis was described as a loyal civic minded man whose business thrived because he had the psychology of the common touch.

• • •

MR. DAVIS had been in the real estate business in Baltimore for the past ten years. A native of Tennessee, he resided at 1638 N. Monroe St. His offices are at 917 N. Caroline St.

He was a veteran of World Wars I and II, and attended the public schools of St. Louis, Mo.

• • •

RECOGNIZED as an outstanding civic worker he belonged to the Walter Green Post of the American Legion, the Chesapeake Club, the Masons and was a former member of the Frontiers Club.

The Masons served as pallbearers at the services. Relations and friends occupied 20 cars in the funeral procession. Mr. Davis is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ethel F. Davis; son, E. J. Davis; stepson, William S. Butler; and two daughters, Miss Valerie M. Butler and Mrs. Lorraine B. Hayes, wife of U. Theodore Hayes, assistant attorney general.

STUFFED TOY CLASS—Mrs. Lilly W. Stevenson, Junior Red Cross teacher-sponsor and a supervisor, elementary grades, Baltimore City Department of Education gives instruction in making stuffed toys to Junior Red Cross members attending the recently held training center.

6-day program of workshops, other events for Women's Missionary Society parley

WASHINGTON

A six-day program for the Third Quadrennial Convention of the Women's Missionary Society which opens here next Saturday, July 9, has been announced.

Theme of the convention, which continues through July 14, is "Seeking Christ Amid World Tensions."

• • •

PROGRAM FEATURES include a mammoth opening ceremony, a series of eight workshops, and two pageants. One of the pageants will be presented by the Young Peoples Department which is holding its meeting in conjunction with the adult group.

This year's parley will be the most extensive in the organization's 128-year history, according to Mrs. Anne E. Heath, society president.

It will bring together some 5,000 women, including 1,500 delegates, representing AME Churches throughout the United States and in some 20 foreign countries.

• • •

THE CONVENTION will be formally opened Sunday, July 10, following meetings of the W.M.S. board of directors and executive committee on Saturday. The opening ceremony is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. at the air-cooled Uline Arena.

Workshops, which begin Monday, will be held at public school buildings in the vicinity of Metropolitan and Turner AME Churches, sites of convention business sessions.

The Y.P.D. pageant is set for Turner Church Tuesday evening; while the adult pageant, which begins 7 p.m. Wednesday, will be held out doors at Griffith Stadium.

• • •

GENERAL SESSIONS get under way at 9:15 a.m. Monday, following devotions by Dr. Martha J. Keyes of Louisville, chaplain. Mrs. Mary L. Parks, of Champaign, Ill., will present the week's program.

Other reports will be presented by committees on credentials, registration, and planning. Mrs. Heath will conduct the morning meeting with the customary president's address.

At 12:30 p.m., Mrs. Annie M. Wortham of Detroit, will conduct memorial services; he is chairman of the Tanner-Turner Memorial Committee.

• • •

THE SERIES of workshops begin at 2:30 p.m. Monday with a discussion of Christian social relations by Miss Mabel Thomas, Mrs. Leon Lewis, The Rev. Ben Hill, and The Rev. Olivia S. Henry.

Mrs. Beatrice Butler will serve as chairman, and Dr. Robert Mance, Mrs. D. Ward Nicholas and Mrs. D. O. Walker will be consultants.

• • •

OTHER BUSINESS scheduled for Monday afternoon includes reports presented by the treasurer, the YPD director, missionary education and promotion committee, Missionary magazine editor, and statistician.

At 7 p.m., Mrs. A. J. Allen will moderate a panel on foreign missions. Scheduled speakers are Mmes. R. R. Wright and E. C. Hatcher, wives of AME bishops.

The panel will be followed by a welcoming program presented by the Second Episcopal District, convention host.

• • •

AT 9 A.M. TUESDAY, the workshop series will resume. The feature of a business session scheduled for 10 a.m. will be a report by a committee responsible for revising the organization's constitution.

At 12:30 p.m., Mrs. W. Murdock McLeod, executive secretary of United Church Women, will address the body.

Tuesday afternoon's business session, which begins at 2:30 o'clock, will include reports by conference branches and episcopal district supervisors.

• • •

WEDNESDAY morning's program includes workshop discussions and a business session. Principal speaker at the session will be Mrs. Sherman L. Greene of Atlanta, wife of the president of the Council of Bishops.

The group's 18 vice presidents will present a program titled "In His Presence" at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A business session beginning at 2:30 p.m. will feature an address by Dr. A. Chester Clark, secretary of the missionary department, and greetings by delegates.

• • •

FINDINGS of the workshops, reports by the registration, credentials, and resolutions committees, and election of WMS officers are scheduled for the final business session Thursday morning.

The convention will conclude at 12:30 p.m. with a dedication service conducted by Mrs. Heath.

• • •

OTHER WORKSHOPS to be conducted during the convention and their participants include:

Christian world missions — Mmes. C. A. Gibbs, F. D. Jordan, L. H. Bonner and Dr. Clark; missionary education—Mmes. A. J. Allen, M. H. Davis and Miss Mary E. Frizzell; leadership training — Mmes. Loretta Spencer, Bertie DeLoke, W. R. Wilkes and L. H. Hemingway;

Budget and finance — Mmes. Esther B. Isaacs, S. L. Greene and Noah Williams; audio-visuals — Mmes. Fayette Brown and H. Thomas Primm; town and country — Mmes. Maggie Williams, Lula E. Anderson, Joseph Gomez and H. Y. Tookes; music and recreation — Mmes. Myrtle Henry, E. C. Hatcher and Robert A. Grant.

Mrs. J. S. Flipper of Atlanta, will serve as dean of the workshop series. She will be assisted by Mrs. Revecdy C. Ransom.

136 attend Red Cross junior training course

Some 136 students of local schools attended the Baltimore Chapter Junior Red Cross training center held at School No. 87, Alto road and Mr. Holly Street, 20-24.

The students were guided by 16 staff members through a full schedule of talks and demonstrations on Junior Red Cross activities. They also took part in workshops on first aid, the making of braille covers, exhibit kits, hand puppets and stuffed toys.

Miss Ovella Dorsey, Junior Red Cross teacher-sponsor from School No. 161, and instructor in hand puppets at the training center, symbolized to the students the strength of their organization.

• • •

AS A STUDENT at Douglass High School she represented her school on the Chapter-wide Junior Red Cross Council.

She attended the National Red Cross convention in Cleveland in 1954 and shortly thereafter was elected to serve on the first Junior Red Cross Council which represented 17 eastern states.

Miss Lillian Brooks, 2321 Ashburton St., a third-year student at Douglass High School, is attending this week a Junior Red Cross leadership training center being held at Hood College, Frederick.

Crash scatters 23 on highway

Truck overturns, 18 in hospital

BALTIMORE—Tragedy struck eight miles west of here, last week, when a truck carrying 23 migratory workers overturned on Rute 40 scattering women, men and children along the dual highway.

Police reported that the truck was descending a hill near West Friendship, Md., when the brakes and the vehicle went out of control on a curve.

Five persons suffered minor bruises, while 18 others, with injuries ranging from cuts and bruises to broken arms and legs, were rushed to hospitals here.

PATRICIA WILLIAMS, 4, youngest victim, and her mother Mrs. Callie Williams, 44, both of Tampa, Fla., were carried to Sinai Hospital by a passing motorist.

The others were taken to Lutheran and University Hospitals in ambulances from nearby communities.

The victims were vegetable and fruit pickers who police said were en route form Dover, Del., to Fairmount Md. Most of them are from Florida.
