Teams split inter-city championship

Teams from Baltimore and Washington earned a split Saturday in the Fifth Annual Inter-city Baseball Championship Playoffs sponsored by the Bureau of Recreation at Druid Hill Park.

The Junior Black Caps of Baltimore, managed by James Black, defeated Kiji Ballard's Kelly Miller nine 3-2 to take the Intermediate Class Trophy in the tightly played opening contest.

James Marvette's Aztec A.C., Washington kingpins outlasted Cap Taylor's Monumental League jitists 16 - 11 to take the unlimited intercity championship trophy.

In five years Baltimore Unlimited Champions have earned only one tie while losing four times. Baltimore Intermediates teams in the same time have won four times while losing once.

Dodger brass mum on story about Jackie

NEW YORK — Brooklyn Dodgers officials flatly refused here Wednesday to reveal the identify of the players suspected of circulating reports as to a general dislike for Jackie Robinson by his teammates.

Five members of the second-place Dodgers were accused of publicly lambasting Robinson during a late-hour drinking session at a downtown Flatbush bar last weekend.

They remained unidentified, however, as Dodger Brass revealed a plan to take disciplinary action against them.

— o Q o —

EXCEPT FOR admitting that the men had been threatened with $500 fines if they repeated the act, vice president Emil J. (Buzzy) Bavasi would offer no word as to who they were.

Bavasi, his associate vice president, Fresco Thompson, and field manager Walter (Smokey) Alston were questioned by the AFRO on Wednesday.

None would comment "for the present."

Bavasi said "the matter is closed. No good purpose can be served by irreopening it."

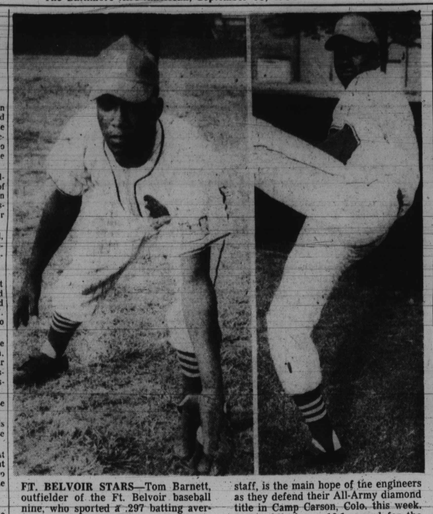
No one in the Brooklyn front office would issue a statement concerning the affair. Efforts to uncover the men responsible were equally unavailing.

— o Q o —

EXCEPT TO suspect that the five accused players may be among seven members of the team who live at the Hotel Bossert, no hint was forthcoming.

Pitchers Jim Hughes, Johnny Podres, Clem Labine, outfielder Walt Moryn, infielder Don Zimmer and catchers Rube Walker and Charley Thompson all live at the hotel.

The Bossert and the bar at which the incident allegedly took place are both located near the Dodger headquarters at 215 Montague St., Brooklyn.



FT. BELVOIR STARS—Tom Barnett, outfielder of the Ft. Belvoir baseball nine, who sported a .297 batting average for the season, returned to civilian life this week. He is returning to Maryland State College. Satch McLaughlin, ace of the Belvoir mound staff, is the main hope of the engineers as they defend their All-Army diamond title in Camp Carson, Colo. this week. McLaughlin has a 10-1 record for the year. Last year he hurled Belvoir to the title by beating Chet Nichols (now of Milwaukee) 5-2 in 11 innings.

Crowd boos Micelli fight win decision

CINCINNATI (ANP) — Wallace (Bud) Smith dropped an unpopular decision to Joe Miceli of New York in their nationally televised 10-rounder here last week.

It was the second meeting between the two fighters. Miceli won the previous bout last February with a knockout in the fifth round.

This time Smith, who fights out of Cincinnati, carried the fight to his opponent and finished strongly. However, he could not overcome an early lead piled up by Miceli.

Nevertheless, the decision was roundly booed.

happy that they aren't friends of mine.

"Still, it remains a great shock to me. Some of the fellows I know to be good friends have tried to help me figure out who the guilty ones are.

"They came up with one name, and the suspicion was strengthened against this particular player when Alston (Manager Walt Alston) said he had the same kind of trouble with him when he managed him in the minors.

"But I couldn't believe this player was involved; I've frequently lent him money.

"Alston talked to me privately about the matter and told me, with tears in his eyes, that he was sorry about the incident. He then apologized to me, for the team, before the team, in his meeting Saturday.

"Rube Walker came to me after the rumor had gained headway, and expressed surprise at the report. 'It must have been that the guy or guys were drunk,' he declared, 'because honestly, Jackie, I've heard nothing but favorable remarks about you ever since I joined the club.'"
