Pearlie's Prattle

By PEARLIE COX

WASHINGTON

What a weekend for Highland Beach! You could hardly get round the grounds for aqua Cadillacs, black Oldsmobiles in a green or chartreuse buggies that brought the visitors out and crowded the owners' parking spots.

The natives, you see, had been planning for days various types of entertainment: cracker and whistle races, lemon and spoon, wheelbarrow, crab and potato races; jumps, walks and throws; talent shows, wiener roasts, swimming meets, water ski demonstrations; and also a movie, Millard R. Dean, secretary; Ethel Murray, treasurer; C. Wendell Freeman, Warner Lawson, William F. Nelson.

Said Mayor Wells in his presentation speech:

—o O o—

"WE HAVE come to do honor to a distinguished citizen as he deeply impressed himself upon all of us:

"If you were a stranger and came in and saw him going the roads and on the beach, picking up unsightly articles and working here and there, you would have thought he was one of the hired men who was being paid to do such work.

"He did not look or expect to be paid; he did not look for any great honor to be bestowed upon him; nor did he do these things for any personal gain. Haley Douglass just loved Highland Beach."

—o O o—

JOSEPH H. DOUGLASS of the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare, and Miss Jean Douglass of Coppin College, children of Haley Douglass, accepted the plaque.

Said Mr. Douglass in his acceptance speech:

"Times must change and so must changes alter the times. Yet, there are some things for which man must continuously strive and maintain. Among those are the beautiful, the true and the spiritually uplifting.

"As we pause briefly to honor of one who was identified with this community for 69 of his 72 years, and in memory of one who actively guided its destiny and progress for at least 25 years, let us here rededicate ourselves to the maintenance of those things and ideals which within us we all hold dear.

"On behalf of the family and in deepest appreciation of your respect here demonstrated, I accept this plaque in memory of Haley G. Douglass, for 25 years Mayor of Highland Beach, Md."

—o O o—

THE GREAT CROWD scattered. And the native housewives rushed to drag out the crabs; the hams, the fish, and a dance and a scavenger hunt!

—o O o—

TOPPING THE three-day celebration was the presentation of the Douglas Memorial Plaque.

Making the presentation was Dr. William A. Wells, mayor of Highland Beach. And the plaque which will be placed in one of the pillars at the entrance to the town, bears the words:

"In memory of the continuous and dedicated services of Haley George Douglass as member of the Board of Commissioners and long time Mayor of Highland Beach from its incorporation May 12, 1922, until his death, Jan. 20, 1954—William A. Wells, mayor; the salads and spare ribs and such they'd made ready for guests. Serving on committees for the big celebration were:

Harold J. Jennifer Jr., general chairman; Kay F. Browne, assistant general chairman; Mesdames Nellie Lawson, Lillian Secundy, Frances Payne, Vashti Cook, Peggy Reddick, Evelyn Phillips, Lillian Jones, Hortense Fitzgerald, Doris Gregory, Ethel Murray, Doris Moses, Beryl Pierce.

Drs. William A. Wells, Millard R. Dean, C. Wendell Freeman, Edwin B. Henderson, William F. Nelson, W. Montague Cobb, Barnett Rhetta Jr., and Monroe Gregory;

ALSO ARMSTRONG CLAYTON, Reuben Jones, John Moses, Leslie Perry, Warner Lawson, Mercer Cook Jr., Lorenzo Jordan, Freeman Murray, James Sheppard, James Wood, Robert Secundy, W. Buchanan, John Moses, Butch Reddick, Joe Amos, Richard Ware, Michael Gregory, Buddy Hammond, Warner Lawson Jr., Charles King, Carl Amos, and Vaughn Phillips; and Misses Margo Dean and Carolyn King.

Among other relatives seen here and there were Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso—Williamson whose "Blue Heaven" was crowded with visitors, all wanting a peep at the album showing pictures of the boy and Mary in wedding poses. (Remember the Williamson's mother's wedding at the Washington Cathedral?).

Dr. and Mrs. LeCount Mathews are rather new residents of Highland Beach, but just the same, the welcome mat at their door is already stretched wide.

—o O o—

MR. AND MRS. AMBROSE Shief, spending their first season at the Beach, had as their guests their charming nieces, Miss Phyllis Zuber, dietitian at Massachusetts General Hospital; and Miss Doris Zuber, art student, from New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Washington's guests included Mrs. Washington's sister, Mrs. Doris Shelton, and Mrs. Gladys Gray and others.

Seen, too, were Judge and Mrs. Armond W. Scott; associate School Superintendent and Mrs. J. Francis Gregory; Mrs. Thelma Amos; Mr. and Mrs. Leland Simmons and many other beach residents.

—o O o—

AMONG THE VISITORS were Dr. Charles Johnson, president of Fisk University; Dr. Martin Jenkins, president of Morgan and L. P. Gregg, and E. Amacher Sechrest, of the U.S. Naval Academy; Dr. and Mrs. Ogbon N. Simmons and daughter, Sonia, formerly a dance major at Juilliard and now a pre-med student at Columbia University.

Misses Hope and Edith Lyons, sisters, and high-ranking D.C. school officials; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wormley and Mrs. Wormley's glamourous sister, Leona Dodson (beg pardon, the Dodsons are long time residents of the Beach). Miss Betty Edwards of Jersey City, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brooks, and son, David. (Mrs. Jennifer); Mr. and Mrs. Heard, kinsmen of Mrs. Brooks; and the Heards' darling twins, John and ——

—o O o—

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM H. FOSTER, proud Highland Beach natives, are still rejoicing over their cottage then was full of Fosters, indeed, including Capt. and Mrs. Arne Heisholt of Norway and their son, David.

Mrs. Heisholt is the former Gloria Foster, and she and baby David have been summering with Mrs. H's parents. They'll be off by plane for Norway late this week.

The Foster's other daughter, lovely and talented Carol, and her tall handsome husband, P. J. Sidney, actor, were there as were the Fosters' sons, Harris, a lawyer and soon-to-be papa, with his wife, the beautician Lucille; and Paul, a photographer, now living in New York;

—o O o—

ALSO LOOKING on at Highland Beach's big program were: Dr. and Mrs. James Laurey and children, Junior, and Marecia.

Even to-notch doggies had a chance to watch the Beach proceedings, including Dr. Laurey's "Mitzi" barking "Hello" at Dr. Millard R. Dean's little "Penny."

LESSON FROM ETTA 10 pt

Anxious to boost your skill as an angler? See the awe-inspiring Etta Stevenson, wife of the Derby's hardworking Bill.

Mrs. Stevenson caught the prize fish (a 10½ pounder) when 22 fishermen, including Mr. Stevenson, himself, were fishing in Cape May Waters.

Wonder what Etta will buy with her prize. Shucks! The civic-minded gal is apt to hand it right over to one of her pet charities.

ABOUT YOU AND YOU

Look who's up in Maine—at Old Orchard Beach, to be exact —Mr. and Mrs. Brent Oldham, and their young son, Brent.

As soon as she saw her son Albert take off with his bride for Honeymoon Land, Mrs. Edith Taylor of Varnium Street rushed Chicago-ward for a day of play. Accompanying Mrs. Taylor was her niece, Miss Wanda Willoughby.

Miss Lynnie R. Smith is home again after her fourth or fifth trip to Europe.

Capt. Ernest J. Davis Jr., of Monrovia, California, handsome West Point graduate, and his sisters, Miss Dolly Davis of San Antonio, and Mrs. Ethel D. Bell of Terre Haute, Indiana, were in town last week for the funeral of their father, Ernest J. Davis, for a long time among the top officials of the veterans hospital, at Tuskegee.

DR. AND MRS. WALTER COMBS—she's the former Helene Harris, and D.C. teacher, he's a medic in the Armed Services—are in Tripoli these days. Also at the North African port are the couple's lovely children.

Mrs. Lorraine H. Pinchback, just home from a visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ulysses Carter, near Providence, R.I., was frantically phoning the other night after the New England storm.

"All safe," said Mrs. Carter, the former Barbara Pinchback, who's now the mother of three, —adorable twin sons and the baby, Susan Lorraine.

Carter-Richardson wedding scheduled

....with Lula Jones Garrett

ZERITA JOY RICHARDSON (she's the daughter of Mrs. Ernestine Richardson, the grandaughter of Mrs. Minnie Davis and a Morgan State College junior) will be married to Walter F. Carter, Saturday.

The bridegroom, an enterprising young realist, is on the staff of the Carter-Hall Company.

The wedding will take place at St. James Episcopal Church and will be attended by a relatively small group. A reception in the afternoon at the Pressman Street home of the bride in the afternoon of the same day will see a large number of relatives and friends.

MISS ALMETTA FIELDS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gaines, became the bride of Fred W. Conaway Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Walker, a Sunday ago.

The four o'clock ceremony took place in Gilbis Memorial Community Church, with the Rev. Theodore C. Jackson officiating. Alvin Fowlkes was soloist and David Moore was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of French lace over pleated satin. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a satin headpiece embroidered white beads and rhinestones.

She carried a prayer book marked with white orchids and streamers marked with forget-me-nots. Her other ornaments were a pearl necklace and pearl earrings.

MISS ELIZABETH FIELDS, maid of honor, wore a waltz-length dress of net over satin and carried yellow iris and carnations with yellow streamers.

Bridesmaids were Misses Ernestine Lewis, Lorraine Robinson, Fannie Mae Bell, Doris Williams, Ann Jackson and Mary Dargan.

Their pastel frocks, also waltz-length, were of net and satin and they carried bouquets of carnations with yellow streamers.

Ellis R. Conaway was best man and ushers included Herbert Jones, Leon Brown, Curtis Byrd, John Griffin, James Fields and Alvin Fowlkes.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gaines wore a gown of blue net over taffeta and pink accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore blue, with blue accessories and a corsage of an orchid.

A RECEPTION was held in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiley Fields, during the ceremony.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Owens, Mrs. Alice Henry, Mrs. Emily Calloway and Miss Doris Pasley of New York.

Mrs. Rhona Turner, Miss Dorothy Cromwell, Miss Violet Boleo of Atlantic City, N.J.; and Miss Hilda Vance, Mrs. Ethel Kennedy of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith Jr. of Washington.

THE HAROLD JENIFERS held forth with the "jumpiest" party of the summer season, Saturday night, at their smart Highland Beach home.

An impromptu affair, the season got underway when neighbors from Venice, Highland, Bay Highlands, Oyster Harbor and Arundel-On-The-Bay, dropped in and said "let's have a party." And they had one. The action ended at early dawn but was the talk of the Labor Day week end as one of the "greatest" parties around those parts in quite a spell.

Harold, a member of the Baltimore chapter of the Guardsmen, earned the title of "President of the Highland Beach social functions," through his hospitality topped by a home-cooked meal just before sunrise.

Although known to be a Jerry Mulligan, Dave Brubeck "sound" man, Harold pulled the coup that set the party rocking, when he uncorked some real house-rockers from his rhythm and blues collection, such as "Going Down To Big Mary's House," "Riot In Cell Block Number 9," "Hush Baby, Now Don't You Cry," and "Honey Hush."

About were Doris Gregory, Yvonne Risher, Joan Risher, Clarence Pendleton, Richard Claytor, Vivian Chisholm, all Washington; Shirley Callion, Dr. and Mrs. Francis (Petey) Jamison and Aurelia Jones of Philadelphia; the John (Junky) Woods and Howard (Puddin') Collinses of Baltimore.

THE YOUNG ADULTS OF AMES (Methodist Church) showered Eugenia Britt with gifts for her six-week-old son, at the home of Louise Mason, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Britt is not only a member of the club, but secretary of Ames Methodist Church.

At the Tuesday evening party were:

Katherine Lankford, Elsie Lankford, Marion Lankford, Olivia Fassett, Gladys Keys, Vela Purvis, Bernice Harrington; Annabel Rawlings, Malcomia Phillips, Lilyan Nichols and Louise Mason.

THE PITCH AND PUTT Golf Club is in the form of party pitchers, this year, with their annual cocktail coming this Sunday evening at the Sphinx Club. The following Sunday members will be hosting the Mason-Dixon open tournament, with play beginning on Saturday at the Carroll Park course for the eight-hole event. Players are expected from Philadelphia, Washington and NYC.

At the business session on Tuesday evening, Lucille Brown, chairman for the cocktail party, wrapped up plans, including ultra niceties, for the cocktail party. Marie Murphy heads the group. And this Sunday at 1 p.m. was set as the deadline for registration in the tournament.

POT-POURRI: Residents at Arundel-On-The-Bay are mightily distributed over the report that Jehovah's Witnesses have purchased one of the larger estates at that swank resort. Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Harris Jr., a visiting from the West, are house hunting in Baltimore, with an his-coming out of the Army in November.

Dellas are in a dither over their presentation of Janet Collins, the danseuse of the Metropolitan Opera on October 10. They brought Miss Collins here two years ago and their public demanded another recital. She will be presented at Polytechnic Institute on that Sunday afternoon at five. Mary Catherine McPherson is chairman of the project.

Mrs. D. Arnette Murphy celebrated a birthday, Tuesday. Family gathered around to mark the occasion on Monday.

PEREGRINATORS: Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bailey are in town from a ten-day visit in Atlantic City. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winston went off to Gloucester, Va. to see their parents. Are home again. Back in the city from that shooting match in Cincinnati, Ohio, this week are Baltimoreans James Dorsey, Jesse Eaton, John DeCeviile, and Dr. and Mrs. Frank Saunders. Miss Essie Holmes, who has been doing Europe, this summer, came in ere school opened, this week.
