POLITICS

Republican Viewpoint

By HARRY A. COLE

For 64 days the Donkey didn't know who was going to steer him down the political turf. He didn't have a jockey. But, after a grueling workout through the courts, he finally discovered that somebody was going to ride him after all.

Of course, he wanted to be hopeful about the race but having seen the two leading jockeys fight over him and to feel one group of trainers graveling at his head while the other yanked on his tail seemed more than he could stand.

At this moment he didn't know whether to quit or go ahead and make a feeble run because there had to be two contestants.

SOME OF HIS best trainers and track hands had gone over to the Elephant's camp to groom him into condition.

As he looked about at the big confab where his jockey was selected, most of what he saw other than a few old jockeys who were now too worn out to run, were a few satchel - men.

It was a disillusioning picture.

HE LOOKED over to the Elephant's stall: All seemed to be in harmony. The Elephant was just snooting and primping and waiting to get started.

He had a good jockey, too. They hadn't fought about his entry. The best man had won.

Perhaps that was the reason the Elephant had succeeded in being so many of his best handlers ever to his stall.

The air seemed fragrant over by the Elephant. His jockey had a good reputation. He had raced before; he knew the turf; he had beaten the Donkey by 93 lengths.

Since then this jockey had spent good use of his time. He had a good record. He had served his public well and had introduced many money saving reforms. His record could stand the test.

THE DONKEY WAS in poor spirits. The race was traditional. he had to make the run. But the outcome didn't seem bright. The Elephant seemed fit as a fiddle. The Donkey as bruised and confused.

He was alarmed, too, because one of his best pace - setting jockeys and would-be jockeys was looking admiringly over to the Elephant's stall.

Democratic Viewpoint

By LLOYAL RANDOLPH

After some 60 days of litigation, Dr. Harry Clifton Byrd has been nominated for the Democratic candidate for Governor. No finer man ever deserved the honor.

The fine sportsmanship displayed as he waited for his worthy adversary to use the courts to upset the people's choice by ballot, can never be questioned. The honesty and integrity shown is commendable.

The campaign will be waged through 22 counties and Baltimore City. It will be vigorous, it should be. Clean, it should not get out of hand.

Dr. Byrd is capable, honest and a man of high integrity. He will make a good Governor.

— o O o —

SOME PEOPLE claim that the colored vote will go to his opponent. This is wishful thinking. The colored Democrat who reached, his majority will vote the straight Democratic ticket.

He remembers the Democratic Administration of the Roosevelts and Harry Truman.

He remembers the good jobs that were his for the asking; unemployment compensation, workman's compensation, public housing, old age insurance and the like.

He is aware of low state taxes-better schools that were built during state Democratic administrations.

He has registered Democratic to the extent that he never outnumbers the Republican votes He will vote his party-line. That is the way it should be.

— o O o —

MONDAY AFTERNOON, when Dr. H. C. Byrd made his acceptance speech for the nomination, he was interrupted many times with applause from the delegates and onlookers as he lambasted the present Republican Administration.

Just imagine what a Democratic authority will mean to local stevedores, and an industry and Economic Commission to create jobs for everyone. Tax Court to relieve some of that burden, a 35 reduction for Auto licenses to automobile owners?

These are principles founded years ago by the Democratic party; Dr. Byrd will make them a reality.

These principles are meant for the people, the most people, for all peoples; that is why we will vote the Democratic Ticket.

— o O o —

WOMEN WILL HAVE an opportunity to work with the Party and in State Government on a level and scope that heretofore never was possible.

The present Administration has failed to provide one job on a State - wide level during its four years.

It has failed to develop anything resembling relief for the unemployed, it has catered to the haves' and the needy, have had to wait for the Democratic Administration to come into its own.

They will not have to wait very long now.

Traditionally Republican counties near Washington, D.C. are already in the 'Byrd Camp.' He is a vote getter; he is popular; he is a good administrator; he has humility; he is God fearing; he will win.

We need to give him an overwhelming popular vote majority to show the confidence we have in him; he will not let us down.

Now that the fight of George P. Mahoney for the nomination is over and the Convention is over, the slogan of the Democrats is "Harmony."

In order to elect Democratic candidates in November it is absolutely necessary that there be harmony among all Democrats.

The colored Democrats have had their battles, various factions supporting various candidates, but it is time that we too sat down to discuss harmony.

— o O o —

OF COURSE, Governor Meredith is a formidable candidate and has great appeal for the colored voters, including this writer, but at the same time, we must keep in mind that a measure of harmony can be achieved with respect to other Democrats aspiring for office.

There will be many Democrats supporting Governor McKeldin, both white and colored.

There will be many Democrats supporting Harry A. Cole, Republican candidate for the State Senate from the 4th District.

Hoover, all Democrats should come together now in support of the Democratic slate and not allow certain appealing Republicans to stand in the way of a general overall collective effort.

— o O o —

IT, OF COURSE, will be difficult to support a man like Dr. Byrd against a man like Theodore McKeldin.

Many Democratic leaders will support Dr. Byrd out of party loyalty.

These men have year in and year out supported the top of the ticket as loyal Democrats.

Others will support Dr. Byrd in the belief he will surely win since no Republican Governor has ever won a second term.

— o O o —

OTHERS WILL have jobs and favors promised and in return will support the Democratic candidate.

Still others will compare the two men and honestly believe Dr. Byrd is the better man for the job while other will compare the two men and feel that McKeldin is the best man.

You can find all sorts of reasons for supporting a particular candidate.

Perhaps as the campaign moves along, Dr. Byrd will convert to his cause many Democrats who at the present time are opposed to him.

— o O o —

THE COLORED vote can be crucial in the city and as such, can be a force in obtaining for a fair measure of opportunities heretofore denied us, and can motivate Dr. Byrd to sing a different tune when it comes to our cause.

As things stand now, the majority of Democratic voters favors Governor McKeldin.

He has been a real friend, fair in all of his dealings with the minority problem. If Dr. Byrd motivates Dr. Byrd to sing a different tune he will have to talk differently in the days before the general election.

— o O o —

WE DEMOCRATS should begin now to confront Dr. Byrd with our demands, and then compare his stand with that of his opponent.

We should then make our decision based on party platform as well as committments made by the men during the crucial days before the general elections.

While we do this, we should keep in mind that this can be done while harmony, understanding and cooperation among all Democrats are achieved.

Divorce nets Renee 40Gs

Designer to pay husband $4,500

NEWARK

Mrs. Renee Stalks Blackmon, prominent fashion designer, told the AFRO on Saturday that there is no truth to the rumor in Eastern circles that she will soon marry an African prince or a European count.

The rumor, which was first whispered in business and social circles after Mrs. Blackmon's return from Paris last year, was revived last week in the wake of a divorce decree to her husband, Lou.

His divorce petition was filed in March, 1953, and the final decree was granted Aug. 7 on grounds of desertion. They were married in 1942.

— o O o —

MRS. BLACKMON did not contest the divorce, by which she profited handsomely.

She receives two houses on High St., in one of which she lives and conducts her shop, and all furnishings and equipment.

She also is given equity in two other houses located on West and Morton Streets, respectively.

— o O o —

THE TOTAL VALUE of the properties, plus furniture and equipment in the properties on High St., is approximately $40,000.

In return, Mrs. Blackmon agrees to pay her ex-spouse $4,500 within a five-year period.

In denying the rumor of her impending marriage to a member of the African European blood, Mrs. Blackmon said:

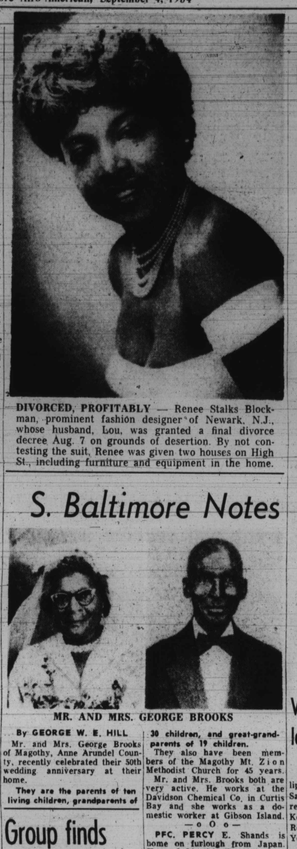
— o O o —

"DURING MY STUDIES in Paris and my travels in Europe, I met a number of European counts and African princes.

"After my return to Newark, a few of them came to New York and Washington and we renewed the friendships formed in Europe.

"All are my friends."

Mrs. Blackmon is the former Renee Gregory.



DIVORCED, PROFITABLY — Renee Stalks Blockman, prominent fashion designer of Newark, whose husband, Lou, was granted a final divorce decree Aug. 7 on grounds of desertion. By not contesting the suit, Renee was given two houses on High St., including furniture and equipment in the home.

Street: The manager said the store had one salesgirl, not full-time, but the store still considers her a salesperson. The committee is continuing to hold discussions with local Woolworth officials.

(2) F. W. Grand: This store has a girl working in records and told Mrs. Trigg's group she is excellent.

(3) G. C. Murphy's: Three stores, on Seventh Street, 14th Street and G Street, have hired several salesgirls. At the G finds, the girls are not in complete charge of their counters.

— o O o —

MRS. TRIGG'S subcommittee plans to continue negotiations with District dime stores and try to convince all of them to hire without discrimination.

Most of the managers per committee has approached have admitted they thought discrimination in employment was on the way out in the District and a lot of them were trying to prepare for the future change.

Group finds stores changing hiring policy

WASHINGTON

Neisner's variety store at 12th and F Sts., NW, is now hiring colored salespeople, the Coordinating Committee for the Enforcement of the D.C. Anti-Discrimination Laws announced last week.

The committee also reported that it is informed by G. K. Crites, district superintendent of the Kresge dime store chain, that his company plans to initiate, within the next two or three weeks, a new program of hiring salespersons without regard to race.

— o O o —

Mrs. Alice Trigg, 1114 Rhode Island Ave., NW, made both announcements as chairman of a subcommittee working to persuade local dime store chains to abandon discriminatory hiring policies.

Mrs. Trigg says in recent conversations with Neisner's manager Sam Davis; she learned that the store already has one colored salesperson in full charge of a counter and is presently searching for another.

She says Mr. Davis told her he was ready to take other applicants because "I know they're competent."

Kresge's will put qualified salespeople into its Brentwood store, first according to Mrs. Trigg.

Miss Butcher weds Mr. Amos

BALTIMOREANS IN PARIS—Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ashe, 2520 McCulloh St., Baltimore, teachers, stroll through the Tuilleries Gardens in Paris, near the end of their 10-week tour of Europe which took them through nine countries. They found the people friendly, and liked Switzerland best of all. (Ollie Stewart photo).

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—Miss Grace Butcher of Salem, Mass., was married in a church ceremony here, Sunday, to Joseph Amos Jr. of Washington.

The Rev. Mr. Gibson officiated at the rites, with Mrs. Edith Butcher, aunt of the bride, at the organ.

THE NEW Mrs. Amos is the daughter of James W. Butcher, Jr., of 1712 16th St., NW, Washington and Mrs. Grace Davis of Sharon. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Amos of 41 Bryant St., NW, in Washington.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace frock with matching side bird, carried a nosegay of old-fashioned flowers. Her maid of honor was Miss Jeannette Weir, a cousin, who was costumed in blue.

Attending the ceremony were members of the couple's families and many friends of the summer colony at Highland and Venice where the Amos family have a summer home.

— o O o —

FOLLOWING the wedding, Dr. and Mrs. Monroe Gregory were hosts at a reception for the newlyweds at their home at Venice Beach. Among the guests were:

Mrs. Jennie J. Butcher, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Nellie Forsythe, her aunt; Mr. and Mrs. William Weir, Mrs. Hortense Fitzgerald, Mr. Butcher and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Just Butcher, and her daughter, Sherrill; Dr. and Mrs. John Lawlah and daughter, Granville Woodson, Mrs. Kittie Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Amos, Mrs. Davis, and other friends and relatives.
