Do's and don'ts about BURNS

DON'T "butter" a burn. Butter becomes rancid, breeds bacteria and burned tissues can absorb germs.

DO apply a mild, soothing film of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly—contains no toxic substances.

DON'T puncture blisters—puncturing invites infection.

DO apply "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly to block out airborne bacteria, after cleansing with mild soap and water or a mild antiseptic. If burn is deep SEE A DOCTOR.

DON'T use a tight bandage on even simple burns.

DO use a loose bandage of sterile gauze smeared with soothing "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly. If hands are burned, remove rings or watch bands which might restrict circulation.

DON'T ever be without "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly! Used in hospitals and clinics, it's the modern, medically-approved first-aid for minor burns.

DO put a jar or tube of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly in your medicine chest. And another in the kitchen where most burns occur. Only 15¢.

Under Dr. Williams' new policy, the birth certificates incompletely registered at the department carry only the information which is in the original registration and this explanatory line is typed at the bottom of those certificates:

"No information is given on the original record for the items that are left blank on this certificate."

IN AN EDITORIAL last week, the AFRO pointed out that Article 43, Section 17 of the Maryland Code leaves the content of birth and death certificates up to the State Board of Health.

By a simple resolution, the can change death and birth Health Department, therefore, registrations to eliminate racial tags.

In a campaign begun last week, the AFRO suggests the elimination of racial tags of births, deaths and marriages in the Health Department registration.

It points out that if these were not required up to the year 1889 that they serve no useful purpose now except to discriminate against colored people.

discovered. he may file a suit contesting the election results in the area.

Because of court action taken by Mr. Mahoney, the convention, scheduled for last month, adjourned, pending the ruling of the court.

Mr. Mahoney sought a recount in two counties. Late this week, however, the Court of Appeals ruled that Dr. Byrd had carried Talbot County.

In view of this ruling, Mr. Mahoney dropped his case against Queen Anne County. Whether or not he will take action in the Fourth District had not been cited late Thursday.

IF MR. DORSEY files his suit and wins, he will be able to take the nomination from Mr. Sybert. The outcome will be the same for Mr. Mahoney should he decide to participate in the legal action.

Among the delegates at the convention will be Lloyal Randolph, delegate for the Fourth District, who is now in Chicago attending the Elks' convention, but is expected back in town, Sunday.

William B. Dixon, also delegate for the Fourth District, will not be present. He is leaving for a week's vacation at Atlantic City, Sunday, but plans to send a proxy to the convention.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

New this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 95¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

the number of deaths due to cardiac arrest to about 1 in 10,000 cases."

ASKED IF Miss Smallwood's operation has been abandoned altogether, the physician said "We haven't made up our minds about that yet. She has to recover from this experience first."

He pointed out, however, that there will be no added risk in undergoing the operation because of this incident.

"The chance of this happening again to Miss Smallwood is by the same ratio of its occurring the first time to anybody else," he said.

A native Baltimorean, Miss Smallwood is one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. James Smallwood of 2866 W. Lanvale St.

While recuperating at the hospital, she fondles an engagement ring, happily looking forward to an early marriage to Stanley Pierce when he returns from Army duty in Korea.

—Leon Ransom

—o O o—

SHE REPORTED that he became ill Tuesday afternoon while on a fishing trip with his son, Wilkie Collins and Dr. L. P. Cornish of this city.

"Mr. Ransom was taken to Point Pleasant Hospital and appeared to be getting along nicely," said Mrs. McKinney. "His wife had planned to go to Point Pleasant, but it did not seem necessary. Arrangements had been made for a private ambulance to bring him home."

Mrs. McKinney added that Dr. Ransom collapsed and died while taking a drink of water at the hospital Wednesday night. His son was with him at the time.

—o O o—

IN ADDITION to his wife, and son, Dr. Ransom is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Mary R. Hunter of Chicago; three grand children, Karen Hunter and Leon C. and Michael Ransom; a brother and a sister, Mrs. Virginia R. Walker of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Dr. Ransom was a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity and a vestryman at St. Luke Episcopal Church.

—o O o—

DR. RANSOM was born in Zanesville, Ohio, Aug. 6, 1898, the son of Charles and Nora Ransom. He was married to the former Miss Willa Carter of Chattanooga, Tenn., by whom he had two children, Mary V. Ransom and Leon Ransom Jr.

He was graduated from Wilberforce University with the bachelor of arts degree in 1920 and from Ohio State University in 1927. He attended Harvard University on a graduate fellowship and was graduated in 1935.

Prior to beginning his private law practice in Columbus, Ohio, in 1927, Dr. Ransom served as assistant secretary of the YMCA in that city for two years.

—o O o—

IN 1931, he was appointed a law instructor at the Howard University Law School and elevated to an assistant professorship in 1935.

He moved up to associate professor and professor and, in 1941, was appointed acting dean of the law school, assuming the duties of William H. Hastie.

After serving on the faculty of the Howard Law School for 16 years, Dr. Ransom tendered his resignation to President Mordecai W. Johnson in protest over his failure to appoint him dean of the school.

In a 1,500-word letter of resignation, the noted attorney blamed an "autocratically unfair" administration for overlooking him when making the appointment of a dean to succeed Mr. Hastie.

—o O o—

DR. RANSOM received wide acclaim in 1946, when, with his associates, Z. Alexander Looby and Maurice Weaver, he won acquittals for 23 of the 25 defendants in the Columbia, Tenn., riot trial.

He fought the cases as a member of the NAACP legal staff. In 1947, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity presented him with its Laurel Wreath achievement award in recognition of this legal triumph.

Other events in his fiery legal career included an attack on him in a Nashville, Tenn., courtroom by a white former deputy sheriff. He suffered a swollen jaw, bruises about the head and face and a skinned nose and temple as a result of the assault.

—o O o—

IN MARCH OF 1949, Dr. Ransom was the object of a wide search when he disappeared from Washington. Three days later, he was found in Union, N.J., under the care of a physician friend for nervous tension and strain.

Dr. Ransom was a member of the Order of Coif, the highest honorary legal fraternity, the national leagal committee of the NAACP and the Committee for Racial Democracy in the Nation's Capital.

He was also a member of the Sword and Shield, the Masons and the Elks. He was the author of several articles, notes and book reviews in legal publications.

—o O o—

WHEN HE RESIGNED from the Howard University law school in 1946, Dr. Ransom said in his letter of resignation that he felt that during his 16 years at the institution he had helped to bring it up to its then present status.

He said the fact that he was not chosen dean was a deliberate affront and a case of public humiliation.

At that time he stated that: "Approximately 80 per cent of the colored lawyers who are making any real progress in combating the evil of racial segregation and discrimination have been, at one time or another, in the past 15 years students of mine and have absorbed some portion of my philosophy."

ing points given each block under the rating system prepared by Clean Block Director M. Francia Mackay.

While the judges did not say so, the general belief prevails that the scales were tipped in favor of the Llewellyn Ave. block when they saw the beautiful open-air terrace which had been built to face the rear dences.

The narrow strip of land, which fronts the Pennsylvania railroad overpass, has been planted with numerous flower beds and neatly painted green and white veranda chairs have been placed in geometric design.

—o O o—

IN ADDITION, the Clean Blockers had not neglected the painting of steps and wood work, nor beautification of backyards.

In plot of ground facing the back alley had been transformed into a flowergarden. The uniform neatness and cleanliness of the block scored heavily for the first prize winners.

Running Llewellyn Ave. a close second was the 900 block Shuter St., whose workers are old hands at winning AFRO Clean Block prizes. Captain Ella Payne, although allowed to select any color design she wanted stayed with the tradition green and white Clean Block colors.

The marked contrast in the appearance of the 600 block Dover St., and surrounding areas, gave proof to the hard work performed by Captain Maxine Brooks.

A group of teen-age youngsters volunteered to paint all of the 26 houses in the block and performed their arduous task during the hottest days of July.

One judge described the attractive South Baltimore block as "an oasis of beauty in a desert of ugliness."

—o O o—

CO-OPERATIVE LANDLORDS gave an assist to Clean Blockers of 1100 Shields Pl., by painting every house in the block. Captain Cornelia Richardson, expert in the Clean Block business, did the rest to have their block emerge one of the top prize winners.

The coveted big Tom Hawkins trophy, named after the genial sales representative of the Coca Cola Bottling Co., of Baltimore was awarded to Captain Patricia Johnson of the 900 McDonough St.

Mr. Hawkins, well known radio and television personality, in giving the trophy, announced he wanted it awarded to the Clean Blocker who had demonstrated the greatest capacity for leadership and co-operation.

—o O o—

ANOTHER TROPHY, presented annually by the John M. Trockenbrot, went to Mrs. Anna K. Jones, advisor of the 800 block Druid Hill Ave.

Three United States Savings Bonds, the gift of Joe Paul, popular East Baltimore merchant were presented the following captains:

Vera Johnson, 800 block Mc. Donough St.

Joseph Pender, 1100 Warner St.

Regina Williams, 600 George St. Six captains were awarded a quart of ice cream each, the gift of the High Ice Cream Co. Receiving the confection were:

Macie Jones, 1900 Barclay St., Robert Harrison, 1600 Multimile Ct.; Ruth Rich, 1600 Spray Ct.; Geraldine Spottswood, 1000 Stoddard Ct., Delores Akerson, 800 Cold Spring Lane; and Jancie Blackwell, 1500 Clifton Ave.

Cop who killed vet exonerated by jury

After 2½ hours of deliberation, the grand jury, this week, dismissed the case against Police Sgt. Louis Rehak who shot and killed James Broaddus, Korean War Veteran, last May.

Some 12 witnesses, including 11 police officers and an eyewitness were summoned by State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro and his assistant, M. Peter Moser, to testify before the panel.

Broaddus, 23, 706 Bradley St., was killed in his own backyard while police were looking for another man involved in a police shooting.

Sgt. Rehak told his superiors that he shot the war veteran because Broaddus attacked him with a chisel as he and another officer entered the yard.

—o O o—

THE EYEWITNESS, Mrs. Lola McDonald, 709 George St., told police that the man was shot as he was lying on a glider, covered by a piece of canvas, and that he did not attack the officer.

Her husband, Leonard McDonald, also an eyewitness, did not appear, because he is out of the country. A merchant seaman cook, he is aboard ship and is not expected for at least another month.

Broaddus was shot once in the side and three times in the back. He died seven hours after the shooting.

—o O o—

POLICEMEN who appeared before the grand jury included:

Lts. Thomas Cremin, Bernard Deinlein; Sgts. John Dunn, Will William Lowe, Joseph O'Donnell, William Burkard and Officer William Hirsch, all of Northwestern District.

Also, Lt. W. Thompson, South west District; and Det. William J. Carry, of defective Headquarters.

'Honest, man leads police to numbers

The fact that Richard Preddy, 38, of the 1600 block N. Fulton Ave., is a truthful man may never again be questioned after what happened at his home Monday.

Arrested by four Vice Squad officers on a numbers charge, Preddy, before going to the station house, pointed out to police the hiding place of over 100 numbers slips.

The man, who was ordered held in $2,500 bail at Northwestern police court by Magistrate Marshall A. Levin, "co-operated" with Sgt. Arthur McGee by showing him the slips which were all dated.

—o O o—

AS A RESULT of the specific dates, 10 charges were filed against Mr. Preddy for operating and maintaining a gambling device from Aug. 12 through the 24.

"Preddy co-operated beautifully," Sergeant McGee told the court. "Really, he's too honest to be in the lottery business."

In a bedroom police found over $800 in numbers slips. Magistrate Levin was told that Preddy wrote numbers in his car while on the job at Western Electric.

Preddy did not testify at the hearing. One court room spectator was heard to mutter: "He's talked too much already."
