Woman burns to death

CHARLESTON, R.I. — A fire of undetermined origin last week swept through a three-room cottage here taking the life of Miss Ruth Holmes, 23, whose burned body was found by firemen in the charred ruins.

The fire gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Sebastian early in the morning following what was described as a wild party, which had been broken up by police a short time earlier.

Mrs. Sebastian, sister of the dead woman, told police she awoke when she smelled the smoke in the house. She said she escaped through a window which had been broken during the party.

MRS. SEBASTIAN ran to a neighboring house and turned in the alarm. Her husband, it was reported, had been taken into custody on a drunkenness charge when police interrupted the party.

The victim of the fire was a native of Virginia who had been living with her sister and brother-in-law for the last two years, police said.

Rule on Dorsey in 4th District

Judge James W. Cullen was to decide today (Friday) whether Philip H. Dorsey Jr. is entitled to continue his examination of voters' signature cards in the Fourth District.

Mr. Dorsey, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, filed mandamus action Wednesday in Superior Court, asking that the Board of Supervisors of Elections be required to permit his inspection of the voting records.

o o o

MR. DORSEY contends he has the right to examine the cards during normal business hours of the board.

He lost the Fourth District to C. Ferdinand Sybert by 112 votes in the June 28 primary election. Mr. Dorsey ran on the Mahoney ticket.

Since then he has charged that many of the persons who voted in the Fourth, especially the 35th Precinct of Jack Pollack, were persons who no longer reside in the district.

Suspect admits setting $700 fire

Elmer E. Phiffer, a former resident of a dwelling at 555 Seminary Court, was held in $5,000 bail for the grand jury by Magistrate E. Everett Lane Tuesday on charges of setting fire to the dwelling Aug. 7.

Phiffer pleaded guilty to the arson charge at Northeastern Police Court. He admitted setting fire to paper under and around an ice box, causing an estimated $700 damages to the premises.

He told the court he came back to his former residence to get some important papers and some clothing. Some of his clothing, Phiffer said, was missing and he became angry and started the fire. He said he ran after a bottle of water to try to put it out, but was unable to stop it before the damage had been done.

Radar traps city speeders

The first motorists to be caught speeding under the city's radar patrol system were fined Wednesday in Traffic Court by Magistrate Wilfred C. Menald.

Carroll Holland, 900 block N. Gilmor St., was among the first four motorists charged. He was fined $5 and costs.

Warrants were issued for 10 other motorists who failed to appear for hearing.

o o o

THOSE FINED Wednesday were charged with exceeding the speed limit in a 30 mile per hour zone.

Capt. J. Gould Rollins, head of the Motor Traffic Division, said tickets had been issued only to motorists excessively exceeding the speed limit.

He said those exceeding it only slightly were given a warning.
