Moore decisions Hal Johnson in Round 14

BY SAM LACY
(AFRO Sports Editor)

NEW YORK—Archie Moore, despite a day-long drying out ordeal in order to make the weight, retained his world light-heavyweight title via a 14th round technical knockout of Harold Johnson at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

The 37-year-old champion, making his debut in the famed Garden emporium, gave away 11 years to his 26-year-old rival from Philadelphia.

He also gave young Hal a lesson born of patience and experience. But he barely made it.

— o o o —

UNTIL HE LOOSED the final flurry of rights and lefts that floored Johnson in his own corner in the first minute of the 14th, Archie had waged a 13 round, see-saw battle of success and frustration.

Hal had been ahead of him even with him and again ahead on the AFRO scorecard. And, at the moment Moore had entered with the crushing left hook that set him up for the kill, Johnson appeared to be on the way to an upset.

But these 14th round assault first dropped Johnson, face down—he regained his feet at five, but being compelled to take the mandatory eight. Then it was that Archie moved in, plastered him into helplessness.

— o o o —

AN IDEA OF MOORE'S narrow escape can be gotten from a view of the tally sheets.

The AFRO's card was 7-5-1 for Johnson when the end came. Referee Ruby Goldstein who (twice forgot there is no mandatory count in a title fight, had it 6-5-2 for Hal.

Judge Artie Aidala's card read Johnson ahead by 8-5, and Judge Bert Grant was scoring it 6-6-1 in rounds.

— o o o —

JOHNSON WAS OFF best, scoring heavily with counters over Moore's deliberate leads. Hal put in a good straight right just before the bell.

It became evident as early as the second round that the two men had decided on completely opposite plans of attack. Johnson, punching fast and furiously, was apparently gambling on his stopping his older rival. He seemed to be counting on the fact that Moore had weakened himself making the weight.

Archie, on the other hand, appeared to be banking on his experience over the long route. His unhurried easy style was meant to paze himself for the 15-round distance.

— o o o —

SO IT WENT through the second, third and fourth beats, the AFRO tallying the second even, the other two for Johnson.

In the fourth and fifth, Johnson's lightning-like jabs and fiery counterpunches made Archie look like a man whose hands were restrained by elastic.

But in the sixth, Moore began to box with his customary skill. He outranged Hal with his jabbing and moved inside Johnson's hooks.

— o o o —

NEAR THE END of the round, however, Johnson outfought him in a heated exchange in a neutral corner. But not enough to save the round.

The seventh was the defending champ's best round to this point. He speared Johnson repeatedly with his left as he stalked him continuously.

Johnson made something of a comeback in the eighth. Twice stepping back out of range of Moore's lunges and crossing with his own right. Hal continued to worry Archie through the ninth.

— o o o —

HOWEVER, IT WAS near the end of the tenth that the crowd was set to buzzing with expectancy and Johnson was infused with a new flow of confidence.

Moore went down either from a slip or Johnson's right, but was up in a flash.

Referee Goldstein ruled it a knockdown, despite Archie's protestations. Goldstein waved Hal to a neutral corner and had reached the three count, with Moore standing in the center of the ring.

— o o o —

WHAT MIGHT HAVE turned into a genuine rhubarb was averted when the bell sounded ending Goldstein's toll and the round. As said previously, though, Johnson seemed to become more sure of himself with this turn of events.

Thereafter—through the ensuing rounds, when he should have been tiring, according to Archie's calculations—Hal showed little inclination to fold. That is—until 56 seconds of the 14th.

This was the way Moore marked his first appearance in the garden.

— o o o —

"AFTER WAIGINT 18 years for the chance, I'd be a fool to flub it," Archie had said after stepping off the scales at the noon weigh-in.

It was a remark, made in answer to a report's surprise that the Champ had made the weight so easily. Archie weighed a surprising 173 pounds, well under the limit.

"Those guys who've been writing I'd be lucky to do it evidently couldn't understand my feelings.

"AS I TOLD my friends two months ago, when I was 20 pounds over, it didn't count until Aug. 11.

"I tried for 10 years to get a shot at the title, and 18 years to get into the garden. That tells enough right there."

— o o o —

AFTER THE FIGHT, in his jam-packed dressing room, Archie declared:

"It took a long time to set him up, but it finally came. Three right hands did it after the left hook caught him. He was without doubt though, the best Johnson I ever fought."

son are good friends) to make a mistake — twelve rounds to be exact. He left the same opening in the 13th but I didn't capitalize on it.

"Then, when the 14th started, I started jabbing him. I'd been sticking him all night with my left, just biding my time and stiffening it as the fight went on.

"It began to bother him more and more after the 11th round. His note was getting tender and bleeding. That's when he started trying to block it (the jab) with his own left."

— o o o —

"IN THE 13TH," Archie continued, "I noticed he started dropping his left a little lower as it came down from flecking at my jab. Here was the chance.

"I jabbed again and it happened all over. I jabbed and then went to the body as a sort of decoy. We call it setting a man up.

"When we came out for the 14th, I figured I'd better do something then because I was afraid his corner might catch it and warn him. I jabbed three times."

Moore went through the motions as he talked.

"I stuck him again with the left and followed with an overhand right. Another right and another.

"As I said, it took a long time but it paid off - my waiting."

— o o o —

JOHNSON DIDN'T hurt Moore at any time, the champion declared.

No, he wasn't sore at referee Ruby Goldstein for ruling his 10th round slip a knockdown for Johnson. Nor did he feel badly that Goldstein had invoked the mandatory 8-second wait when he shouldn't have done so in a championship fight.

"It could have meant," said Archie, "that he (Johnson) would've gotten away from me with the extra rest, but I don't hold it against Ruby.

"About the 10th, I was disgusted with him at the time, but I soon got over it. Everybody makes mistakes—and besides I always figure time will take care of anything.

"More Moore patience?" someone cracked.

"Yeah, I guess so."

— o o o —

EVIDENCE OF the truth in what Archie said is to be found in the fact that he had to wait 10 years for a shot at the light-heavyweight title and 18 years for his first bout—main event or otherwise—in Madison Square Garden.

Asked to verify rumors that his biggest ambition is to fight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight crown, Moore declared:

"That's what I want more than anything else. I think I deserve it. Every other light-heavy champion before me has had a go at it, why shouldn't I?

"Besides I've beaten Nino Valdes, and he's one of the logical contenders. That's something guys like Joey Maxim and Billy Conn didn't have to do."

— o o o —

ARCHIE SAID further he's interested in talk that he will be matched with Don Cockell, the British champ. "I'd like that too."

What about all the harangue that was raised about his weight before he made the 173 pounds for Johnson?

"When I went to Ehsan's (Pompton Lakes Training Camp), I weighed 201 pounds. I took off 28 pounds, but I resented their trying to rush me.

"I don't like to be rushed, you know."

In Memoriams 1

AVERY—In loving memory of my dear sister Carrie E. AVERY, who died August 5, 1942; and my dear brother-in-law, DR. WILLIAM R. AVERY, who died April 16 1948.
The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away
Blessed be the name of the Lord.
Faithful sister, NORA

BRISSETT—In loving memory of my dear wife, WILLIAN who passed away on August 13, 1951.
Do not ask us if we miss her;
There is such a vacant place.
Dark times we think we hear her footsteps
And we hear smiling face.
Days or sadness still come over us
Years in silence often flow.
Memory keeps her ever near us,
Though she left us three years ago.
Loving HUSBAND, SON, MOTHER and FAMILY
328 Mount Street

COLBERT—In loving memory of my beloved husband and our dear father, REV. JOHN T. COLBERT who departed this life August 14, 1952.
We seem to see him in the soft, dim light
A face we love the best;
And think of him when the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far-off West.
We miss you as less as the time passes on
Then we did on the day of your love
For absence can never close the door of our hearts
And the lamps of our love are still glowing
Your heart was the truest in all the wide world
Your love the best to recall;
For no one on earth can take your place
You are still the dearest of all.
Devoted Wife,
CLARA M. COLBERT
AND CHILDREN

FAIRBERT—A tribute of love to the memory of my beloved husband, CHARLES HARRISON who passed away, August 13, 1952.
I can but testify Words may not tell
My dear companion, I knew as well
Ears may be deaf, eyes may not see
His presence that comes near
Seems to speak with me.
But more real than this world with all its grief
Grows the invisible and the unseen fate.
Loving Wife,
ELSINORE
