Ashes in Sweden find fine housing program

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ashe, spending the summer in Europe, were in Sweden, this week, where they are enthralled with the fine housing program of that country.

Not only the housing, but the hospitality of the Swedish people is exceptional, Mrs. Ashe writes from Stockholm this week.

—o O o—

As an illustration of both, Mrs. Ashe tells of her girl guide in Stockholm, who happened to hear her wonder what the inside of the Swedish homes were like.

Says Mrs. Ashe:

"She invited me to her apartment next afternoon. What I thought would be just a pop call turned out to be a dinner date, and cookies and tea later during the evening.

—o O o—

"MRS. INGRID SKINNER (the guide) was so solicitous of our welfare that she came to the hotel for me and accompanied me back. Her husband is an English veteran, who is also working in the Cook's (Tourists) office, and who was most hospitable, too.

"The Skinners' home is about 25 minutes from the heart of the city, something along the line of Baltimore's Edmondson Village. These are government owned and operated apartments and feature every modern convenience.

"Mrs. Skinners' apartment had 18 closets in a four-room apartment. Most of the eulpment was built in, including the refrigerator and garbage disposal. Very little furniture is needed to make the place comfortable and attractive. A few modern pictures were used as decorations.

—o O o—

"MEALS, HERE, are especially hearty. Breakfast seems to consist of sandwiches, cheese, salad and jam. Potatoes are served with practically every meal. There are few vegetables. Any green vegetable must be paid for extra. Fish is plentiful. Desserts are rare. Coffee when served are usually ice cream."

Gadabouting in Baltimore...

Helen off to Maine sans wedding band

Earl Byrd party guest

...with Lula Jones Garrett

Earl Byrd, who celebrated his 13th birthday Sunday, was given a natal party by his mother, Mrs. Elsie Dorsey, and grandmother, Mrs. Beulah Taylor, at their home, 1000 Stoddard Court.

Guests were:

Mary Brown, Wilmer Campbell, Melvin Gay, Garland Thomas, Edward Snowden, Vernon Bernice and Leonard Thornton, Delores Wright, Jerome Scharard, James and Raymond Cole;

Tymera and Judy Cole, Patricia Gayles, Rosa Brogden, EsVerne Meekins, Floyd Owens, Edgar Carter, Regina Chase;

Claudette Payne, Gregory and Michelle Sharon, Roland Morris, James Jones, Lydia and Andrea Dobson and Doris Brown.

Walker auxiliary elects officers

WASHINGTON

Officers recently elected in the James E. Walker Auxiliary No. 26 American Legion were:

Mrs. Rebecca Ward, president; Mrs. Ritchie Jordon, Rebecca Williams and Anna Ball vice presidents; Mrs. Ercell Brown, financial secretary; Mrs. Marie B. Fuches, recording secretary; Mrs. Thelma C. Daniels, corresponding secretary;

Mrs. Bertha Graham, treasurer; Mrs. Grace Richardson, chaplain; Mrs. Lillian Jackson, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Rosa Reeder, property custodian, and Mrs. Minerva Livingston and Mrs. L. Reynolds Jackson, color bearers.

THIS IS THE STORY. When this town's Helen Glover said last week-end that she and Washington's John R. Pinkett, Jr. were just kidding about getting married . . . though he had gotten marriage licenses . . . she meant it.

It seems that beauteous Helen was visiting in Washington . . . that John offered to drive her back to Baltimore. They stopped en route to pick up some crabs . . . came on to Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Chissell's home, here, to share the feast. In the evening of eating, sipping, John proposed . . . she joked along . . . Bobbie urged . . . all kidding.

John (being the impulsive guy he is) did get the licenses (all the statistics wrong, of course) even went out next day and garnered a beautiful white car . . . even pitched a party on Monday. Twas all still a joke to Helen.

MAYBE IT WASN'T such a joke to Dr. John Phillips, now in the Air Force . . . stationed in Wyoming. He's the gentleman supposed to own Helen's heart. Anyway he drove here, this week-end.

In the meantime Helen's aunt gathered her up, bag and baggage, and took her off to Martha's Vineyard, in Maine, for quiet contemplation this week end.

DR. JAMES PAIR is in Providence Hospital. Had a sudden attack, Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. J. Logan Jenkins, who, along with Mrs. T. Henry Waters, have been vacationing at Mark Haven Beach, Va., are back on the home front.

MRS. ALICE ARRINGTON, former executive director of the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, here, and now holding down a similar post in NYC, dashed back to that city, Wednesday, after a nine-day visit here-abouts.

In the brief span she managed to renew a lot of old friendships from the rooftop of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Hunt, do a bit of relaxing at the shore home of Dr. and Mrs. I. B. Higgins, pick up all the loose ends of town talk while visiting Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne, and be a star guest at the informal party given for her by Mrs. Edna Over Gray, Tuesday night.

"MRS. GRAY'S affair had as guests mostly TV folks and members of the Stitch and Chatter Club, including Mary Louise Allen, Alma Gray, Flossie Dillmond, Lillian Watty, Grace Hunt, Estelle Thomas, Mildred Seaborne, Lula Patterson, Vernice Matthews, Pattie Paige, Sadye Murphy, Daisy Bailey, Dukye Woode, Waltye Doles, Kitty Lane and Carol Diggs.

—o O o—

SOME DAYS BACK I told you, here, about the grand party the Whoosits held at a closing fete, taking the opportunity to do special honors to their "Guys." Well, they (the gentlemen) returned the compliment on Sunday . . . providing a day on fun for the girls at the Arundel-On-The-Bay home of Dr. and Mrs. Orris Walker.

The couples went down about two in the afternoon, lingered till after ten in the evening . . . enjoyed swimming, motion pictures, roasting doggies, records and box lunches.

And to participate in the fun you:

WALTER AND OLIVIA DIXON, Bruce and Ella Edemy, Walter and Alma Gray, Elson and Maxine Higginbotham, Elizabeth Hodge, Winston and Grace Huth, Ervin and Louise Lockerman, Robert and Julia McMahon, George and Vivian Pendleton.

DR. MARTINO ALMOGELA and Geraldine Quarles, Royal and Hermione Weaver, Dr. Spurgeon Gray of Texas (he's the brother of Walter Gray) Dr. Chres Sencea and Betty Hawks . . . and, of course, the Walkers.

—o O o—

MEREDITH BURCHE (director of the Baltimore Boys' Choir) is in New York, a-visiting the George Bruces and his cousins, Gary Sydnor and Edward Christopher. Had no end of fun, says he, on the Actors Guild's boat ride, which had along such celebrities as Ethel Waters, Nina Mae McKinny, Nobel Sissle and Billy Kirk.

CARRIE D. SCOTT had a birthday Wednesday . . . rallied forth to enjoy a cool movie and almost missed a fine evening.

In fact she did miss Queenie Lane, who came to dinner, alone but when Carrie returned home she was just in time to open the door to Rowena and Bill Lewis (who fetched the prettiest glasses), Edna Over Gray, Naomi and Bill Nash, Myrt and Roy Bennett, Gwendolyn and Bill Spencer, Elvera and Henry Richardson, Matthew Chammer . . . and James E. Scott.

She dug up a few snacks, assembled a few sippables, and the evening turned out to be so much fun that she has decided it is wise to keep birthdaying.

MORINE JEWETT of New York, recently returned from Europe, with whom Carrie usually celebrates a joint birthday, couldn't make it this year . . . so the two of them have postponed their getting together until after summer school is over.

THE REV. MRS. NANCY GIBBS, of Bethune Rd. has been hostess to Mrs. Julia Nickerson of British West Indies. The two of them went to Burkeville, Virginia Beach, last week, to visit her sister, Mrs. Amanda Cousins, and nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cousins. Mrs. Cousins (Essie) is head nurse at the Piedmont Sanitarium, there.

And speaking of the Islands, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Dedmonds, will spend the most of their vacation there, this month. First, they will go to Miami, where Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Henderson and baby son spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs. Daisy Williams, and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Fred West. Reminded me that I was in error about his having recently attended a wedding here.

—o O o—

Eastern Stars care for own, extend charities to others

By LULA JONES GARRETT

For 58 years, Myra Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Maryland Jurisdiction, has gone along quietly; but effectively, relieving not only the ills of its own members but giving succor to other needy in its area.

This committee has as chairman Mrs. Inez Smith. Mrs. Olivia Bates is co-chairman.

—o O o—

INSTITUTIONS are also aided. When the chapter holds its annual services at a church of their choice each year, a donation of not less than $150 is made. $100 is given annually to the United College Fund. Other beneficiaries are the NAACP, the American Red Cross and the Community Fund. Each year the Nurses Unit of which Mrs. Elizabeth Bess is chairman, gives $100 to the Polio Fund.

AND BELIEVING that charity begins at home, this illustrious group of ladies purchased the ground next door to the Masonic Temple, this year, and presented it to the Grand Lodge of Masons, who plan to extend the present building.

Already Myra Grand Chapter has ear-marked $500 for a kitchen-ette.

The chapter, which has close to 300 members, has as grand worthy matron, Miss Annie E. Williams. John H. Davis is grand worthy patron and Mrs. Clara T. Harris is grand recorder.

—o O o—

THE CHARITY COMMITTEE, headed by Mrs. Florence L. Carpenter, made donations exceeding $800 to persons and families in need, and to the sick and shut-in of the chapter. Mrs. Esther Hall is co-chairman of this committee.

The Past Matrons and Patrons Guild, headed by Mrs. Susie Gaskins and Leroy Cooper distributed baskets of food at Christmas, and made a cash gift to the Home for the Blind at Overlea.

—o O o—

IN THE EDUCATIONAL field, Myra Chapter holds yearly contests in vocal and instrumental music and in oratory, for which scholarship awards are the prizes.

—Winners in this year's contest were Miss Mary Brickhead, vocal; Miss Margaret Coffer, oratory; and Miss Gloria Tinsley, piano. $500 went to these winners.

Want to beat the heat? Read this

It's the humidity. It's your imagination. Anything but the heat.

Let's stop pretending. Summer heat in most of the United States is just as hot as tropical heat. And it's not an unusual summer. It's every summer.

It's time we took some lessons from our friends in the tropics—time to learn how to live with the heat we can't explain away.

—o O o—

LET'S TAKE A WALK through a town that's right on the equator. Notice the way the people walking slowly on the street are dressed?

Men in white—than reflects the sun's torrid rays, women in long sleeved blouses and cotton sarongs to the ankles — clothes that cover up, but fit easily, allowing the air to circulate.

Notice that just about every one wears some sort of head covering, or carries a parasol.

—o O o—

NOW LET'S GO into this little house almost hidden by green, leafy trees. It's noontime and everyone is taking a siesta —if not sleeping, at least lying down for a short rest in the shade.

WHEN THEY GET up, they'll have a shower, sluicing themselves with tepid water from that huge pottery jar. They may do this three or four times a day, and in between they'll frequently bathe head and arms.

Dinner time comes late, in the comparative cool of the evening. And it's not a bit much of salad. They eat highly spiced meats, vegetables, rice and fresh fruit, but few of them. Fruit and energy-giving foods containing fats and sugar.

—o O o—

The cooling properties of hot spices are in the category of hitting your nerves. Like a gong hammer. It feels so good when you stop.

We may not want to adopt that tropic custom, but there are some that may well add to our summer comfort: clothes that protect from the sun's heat, yet allow air to circulate on the skin; food that is appetizing, yet provides all the necessary nutrients; frequent bathing in tepid water.

The mid-day siesta may not always be practical, but we can walk, not run, on the shady side of the street. We can try to get plenty of rest.

Most important, we can admit that it's hot, and adjust to the fact instead of fighting it.

Tip on Triplets wins top money

The first person to call the AFRO on the triplets being born in City Hospitals was the top $5 winner this week in the AFRO NEWSTIP CONTEST.

The second prize winner of $3 went to the person who first called and told us of an escape from Crownsville State Hospital.

Another alert person also won prize money for a photo of an automobile accident on Reisterstown Rd.

OTHER NEWSTIP awards of $1 each went for the following:

A fire in the 1500 block N. Bentalou St., a collision between a tractor trailer and cement truck, an automobile hit a Carrollton near Lanvale, a 3-car collision at Lafayette and Gilmor, a woman being knocked down by a taxi, and a two-car collision at Lanvale and Mount.

You, too, can become eligible for some of this easy money. If you see an accident or anything happen you consider newsworthy, just pick up the telephone and call Jerry 5-8100. Ask for the City Desk and tell them you have a news item.

That makes you eligible to share in the $25 that the AFRO gives away each week for tips.

Non-discrimination clause is proposed in hotel contracts

WASHINGTON

HOTEL AND Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union, Local 209, is seeking to include a non - discrimination clause in new contracts with hotels, restaurants and bars.

Joseph A Beavers, business representative of the local, said it will probably be the end of this month before the union and management get around to actual consideration of the proposed new clause.

THE CLAUSE reads: "In the hiring, discharge and promotion of employees, no employee shall be discriminated against because of race, creed, color or national origin."

There are 17 other changes proposed for inclusion in the new contracts, Mr. Beavers said. Negotiations are getting underway this week but the non - discrimination clause will not be discussed for at least two more weeks, Mr. Beavers said.

Scottish Rite Masons meet here next week

Baltimore will play host to the annual convention of the National Supreme Council, ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons August 14-21.

In attendance will be 38 state grand councils of this order and the National Grand Orient. The National Supreme Council is headed by Dr. William J. Fitzpatrick who is Most Powerful Sovereign Grand Commander.

Isaac E. Green of Baltimore is Grand Deputy Inspector General. Business sessions of the convention will be held at the Elks Home, 1528 Madison Avenue.

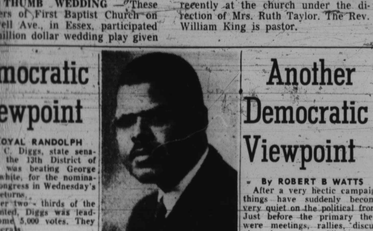
—o O o—

A HIGHLIGHT of the convention will be a luncheon meeting at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 19, at the York Hotel, when Scrolls of Merit will be presented to local citizens who have contributed to various phases of community life.

Among those who have been asked to accept these citations from the National Supreme Council are: Gov. Theodore McKeldin, Frank J. Bauer, city fire commissioner; Dr. John H. Fischer, superintendent of schools; and the Rev. Dr. William W. Payne, pastor of Wayland Baptist Church.

A mammoth street parade will be the highlight on Sunday, August 15.

Auto tags worth $2.50 are in the AFRO this week. Are they yours?



TOM THUMB WEDDING — These members of First Baptist Church on Hopewell Ave., in Essex, participated in a million dollar wedding play given recently at the church under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Taylor. The Rev. William King is pastor.

Democratic Viewpoint

By LLOYAL RANDOLPH

Charles C. Diggs, state senator from the 13th District of Michigan, was beating George O'Brien, white, for the nomination for Congress in Wednesday's election returns.

With over two - thirds of the votes counted, Diggs was leading by some 5,000 votes. They are Democrats.

Charles Diggs is a mortician by trade and an Elk. The 13th District is practically all Democratic and as such he has a very good chance to go to congress since the 13th District in southern Michigan has never had a colored congressman.

—o O o—

IN REVIEWING the court of appeals decision in the Mahoney petition, I find the following facts: That Dr. H. C. Byrd filed a demurer, that is he claimed that Mahoney had "no case," that Mahoney did present facts to the court supporting his contention that some 900 votes should be invalidated in Queen Anne's County due to "illegal markings."

Actually the Court of Appeals said that Dr. Byrd now has to present a brief laying forth facts to dispute Mr. Mahoney. This brief must be before Judge William R. Harney, sitting in the Queen Anne's County Circuit Court.

In other words Dr. Byrd has to defend the charges.

—o O o—

IT MAY MEAN that Judge Horney will have to go over the 4,000 votes and ballots himself to determine if there was any "illegal markings" on them and decide whether or not to throw them out.

This may take weeks. The absentee ballots must be ready for mailing by September 7 and there must be a gubernatorial nominee by that time.

Judge Horney has the responsibility of holding up the election right in his lap. It is not an enviable place in which to be.

—o O o—

THERE ARE SOME 1,100 positions coming out of the Governor's office after an election and Governor McKeldin has had the responsibility of filling those jobs for the last four years.

He also knows that colored Republicans hold some 48 percent of the Republican vote. But you can count on one hand the colored appointments he has made.

And there are plenty of colored Republicans who need work. This is the thanks they get for their votes.

—o O o—

This governor hasn't done one thing for a short time, at least, group, just talk.

He refuses to open the State Parks, blames it on General Rollins, his appointed Attorney General.

He could tell General Rollins what to do about the parks, if he would. But he hasn't the courage to face his expressed convictions.

We need a strong Governor, a man who will get things done; a man who is aware of the need of better legislation, a man who can get bills through the legislature, a man who has some element of control, a man who isn't afraid to step out for minority folks. That man is Dr. Harry C. Byrd.

—o O o—

Colored Republicans on the "Shore" are organizing many Byrd for Governor Clubs; they know the man, they know him to be honest and a man of his word.

4th district votes queried

Candidate may go to court

Some 45 voters in the 35th precinct of the Fourth District's 15th Ward have been challenged at the Board of Supervisors of Elections and more are expected today (Friday).

The investigation of voters' signatures in the precinct is being conducted by Philip H. Dorsey Jr. who is seeking to take the Democratic nomination for attorney general from G. Ferdinand Sybert.

The precinct which is the home base for James H. Pollack, Democratic boss of the Fourth District, favored Mr. Sybert by 437 votes. Mr. Dorsey tallied only 68.

Mr. Dorsey began investigating voters' signatures in the precinct, Thursday, in an effort to see whether fraud was committed at the June 28 primary.

With the descrepancies he may find today (Friday) between signatures on the registration books and onthe authorization cards, it is believed, that he will take court action, charging that "ghost voters" were used.

MR. DORSEY, who lost by only 112 votes in the district, is also expected to request that the precinct's votes be eliminated from the primary tally.

There are seven unit convention votes in the district which went to Mr. Sybert, giving him a 74 to 66 lead over Mr. Dorsey.

Should the investigations be in favor of Mr. Dorsey, he will gain the seven unit votes, giving him the nomination with 73 votes against 70 for Mr. Sybert's 67.

THE PERMISSION of the investigation was granted by the Board of Supervisors of Elections, Tuesday, but was held up a day due to protests from Mr. Sybert.

The board gave Mr. Dorsey two working days to investigate the records, but denied his request to bring in a handwriting expert. Mr. Sybert's camp contended that experts would frighten voters away from the polls."

ESPECIALLY interested in the results of the investigation and the court action, which, through court action, is trying to take the Democratic Nomination for governor from Dr. H. C. Byrd.

Dr. Byrd won the Fourth district by a slim margin of 489 popular votes over Mr. Mahoney.

Should the votes in the three precincts be disqualified, Mr. Mahoney might come from behind lead and add seven unit votes to the 72 he now has. Dr. Byrd has 80.

Though he lost his cases for a recount in the Fourth District, and in Calvert County, Mr. Mahoney, through a ruling by the Court of Appeals, Thursday, was granted recounts in Queen Annes and Talbot counties.

Bank envelope used in switch

WASHINGTON

An alleged "Murphy Game" artist, who specializes in procuring non-existent women for servicemen, was arrested again this week on charges of larceny by trick.

Detective Herman A. Payne of the robbery squad said William E Boyd of the 100 block of 7th St. SW, was arraigned Tuesday morning after being recognized on the street by one of his recent GI victims.

Detective Payne said Boyd, an ex-convict, is accused of having tricked Pvt. Powell out of $15 on July 13 after approaching him at 12th and New York Ave., NW, with a promise to "get a woman"

MR. BOYD had the soldier place three $5 bills in a regular bank deposit envelope as security while he went for the woman in the 700 block of New Jersey Ave., police said,

Boyd then exchanged an envelope containing paper with the GI and disappeared without ever producing the woman, Detective Payne explained.

The soldier saw the man at the same location Monday talking with several other soldiers and called police. Detective Dixon said Mr Boyd was sentenced to 180
