Add to Police Court

Magistrate Linwood G. Koger Sr., heard cases arising from the Thursday raid by Northwestern Police Court.

Koger said, "Gambling causes you so much trouble. That's one thing on my mind." Magistrate Koger told David Drake, 46, 200 block Kind Court:

Police testified that Mr. Drake said two policemen came and robbed him. The story turned out to be fictitious. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

"We were walking down the street together. Another fellow asked us for a quarter. He struck Johnson on the head. I went up to stop the fellow from hitting Johnson.

Howard Cole, 32, 500 block Bruce St., was telling why he and a companion, Roderick F. Johnson, 30, 300 block W. Hoffman St., were signing in the street.

Defendant Cole received 45 days in jail. Defendant Johnson, 5 days in jail.

"He called me a sore back. I'm tired of his calling me names."

Mrs. Mary Wye, 500 block Bruce St., was testifying against her neighbor, Garrett Smith, 50, also of the 500 block Bloom St.

Magistrate Koger sentenced a $25 fine for disorderly conduct. Smith said, "You can call her sore back."

The story is not very convincing. Magistrate Koger told William Dobbins, 1800 block Druid Hill Ave., who denied that he was the man two women accused of following them around in the park.

He was fined $50 for disorderly conduct.

prompt, implicit and unqualified.

Section 24—The use of profanity and/or indecent, abusive, obscene, immoral, profane, or impudent or any other improper remarks in or about quarters is absolutely prohibited.

Members always shall be respectful and gentlemanly to superiors and their equals, and be courteous to their subordinates and civilians.

Section 34—Members shall not at any time be guilty of conduct prejudicial to the good order, reputation and discipline of the Fire Department.

PETTIT, a member of Engine Co., No. 35 at Pontiac and 5th Sts. in Brooklyn, said that he was given the hearing because he complained of discrimination at the engine house.

The disciplinary given him on Thursday's hearing is continuous duty for the next six days.

During that time, he will be permitted to visit his home one hour twice a day.

Pettit, his commanding officer, Capt. Theodore Paris and three white firemen were questioned by the Board for approximately 35 minutes on Thursday.

IN COMMENTING on the session, which was closed to the press, Pettit told a news conference, "I wish you could have heard it. I thought for sure I would get justice down there. I didn't and it hurts.

"I didn't expect what to say when one Board member told me no colored fireman had ever been given time off for causing trouble, and that if I couldn't get along I should resign.

"I had a list of things I wanted to tell them, but I never got a chance to lift my grievances.

PULLING TWO typewritten sheets of paper from a folder, the fireman recited two incidents that have occurred at Engine Co., No. 35.

1. The captain has deprived colored firemen of the use of public toilet facilities down stairs.

2. While discussing a race case that appeared in the papers, a white fireman became angry and told Fire-fighter Pettit, "I'll hit you up side your dome."

Mr. Paris, in another fireman, "You better not ever sit down beside me."

"THESE ARE just a few incidents that have taken place down there, Pettit commented.

"Not only are the four colored firemen at No. 35, with its capacity of 34 men, segregated in toilet facilities, but in other facilities as well.

"For example, there are lockers placed between beds to separate colored sleeping quarters from that of whites.

"No colored fireman is permitted to sit at the same table with his white fellow workmen.

Colored firemen cannot drink coffee from the pot or play any type of social events such as cards, pool checkers and other games.

Most white firemen at No. 35 will move if a colored fireman sits down beside them.

These things have been with us a long time. They are like that at all companies, some are doing well but it's a mess where we are."

ASKED IF THERE was a possibility that he would be dismissed from his job for making statements detrimental to the department, Pettit declared: "I wouldn't be surprised."

Hurrying to his car he yelled over his shoulder, "this afternoon I am going to the South Baltimore General Hospital to give blood to a fireman who is sick."

Through his attorney, Juan Mc Rae, Pettit's case was called to the attention of the Baltimore Branch of the NAACP.

In commenting on the civil rights aspect of the situation, Mr. Mc Rae said, "The NAACP executive secretary had this to say:

"The NAACP has constantly fought for integration in all fields of occupation."

MR. JACKSON added, "Contrary to what things have been from the NAACP's veiling lips, the way to guarantee the rights of Negroes in the Armed Forces of this country is by the application of the Constitution. Discrimination prevails in an integrated setting, and segregation prevails in the Armed Forces. The constitutionality of the Uniform Code of Military Justice is questionable."

COMMENTING on the situation, J. J. O'Malley, secretary of the Fire Board, said, "This was just an interdepartmental matter in which a fireman just stepped out of line."

Asked about Fireman Pettit's complaint regarding segregation at the Brooklyn engine house, Mr. O'Malley replied: "He himself has made no formal charges. In the Fire Department, evry man has a right to make charges, formal or not, against another fireman. Pettit has never filed any charges, and the Fire Board can entertain only the charges before them."
