Troy winner over Luedee

NEW YORK—Willie Troy, of Washington, D.C., staged a late rush to cop the eye of the officials and gain a split decision victory over Jerry Luedee, of Montreal, here Monday night.

The 24-year-old middleweight scored by the narrowest of margins, according to the official tally, although the AFRO gave Luedee only one round after the third and had Troy in front 6-4.

Referee Dave Fell and judge Frank Pullam scored the fight a draw in rounds, giving each man five rounds. Pullam followed this by evening it up in points, as well. However, Fell put Troy ahead on points, 5-5.

Judge Leo Birnbaum scored incidentally as did the AFRO, with Troy in front, 6-4.

LUEDEE TOOK the initiative at the outset and Troy, for the most part, was on the defensive in the early rounds. The Canadian then won the first three beats on sheer aggressiveness.

In the fourth, Willie began hooking his way out of the close quarters brought on by Luedee's constant pressing. The 11th round found Troy breaking out with his right hand and, through the sixth and seventh, he was clearly the master of the situation.

During the waning stages, it became fairly obvious that Troy, who may have been feeling a little rust from inactivity (he's had only seven fights in 18 months) and had been pacing himself in the beginning.

Luedee was a sorely tired battler at the end.

KING ROY AND HIS PRINCESS — This 41-foot yacht, berthed at the Club Capris in Manhasset Bay, N. Y., is the property of Roy Campanella, Brooklyn Dodger catcher. The double-cabin, named for the Campanellas' 3-year-old daughter, flies a blue pennant with white figure of a catcher's mitt, underneath which are the letters MVP and the dates 1951-53-55, representing the years Campy was the National League's "most valuable player." At right, the king of major league catchers sits at the wheel as he will in November when he takes his family on a cruise of the Atlantic and Caribbean.

Aggie grid slate 'most rugged yet'

GREENSBORO, N.C. — A-T College faces a tough, nine-game football schedule in 1956.

The slate includes seven top CIAA foes and two others which always figure prominently in the national ratings. To some observers, it represents "the most rugged" ever faced by the Aggies.

Bill Bell, director of athletics, has eliminated all "breathers" from the schedule in a ten-year effort to pit his Aggies against the better aggregations.

Final arrangements were worked out this week for the opener, an intersectional scrap, against Central State College to be played here under the lights September 15. The series against the Ohioans, which began back in 1947, has been dominated by the Aggies as they've won five of the six games played.

Other home games include: West Virginia State College, also a night affair on September 22; Morgan State College (homecoming), October 27 and Virginia State College (High School Senior Day), November 10.

The road games include: Virginia Union at Richmond, September 29; Maryland State at Princess Anne, October 13; Winston-Salem Teachers College, October 20; Florida A-M, at Tallahassee, November 3 and North Carolina at Durham, Thanksgiving Day.

The week in the majors

CHICAGO (ANP)—It's getting monotonous but the name of Al Smith and Brooks Lawrence are still featured among the ian players in the major leagues. For that matter, their performances are among the most outstanding of the week-period.

Lawrence starred in relief against his old teammates, the St. Louis Cardinals, to gain his 12th victory of the year without a loss and play a key role in a 5-to-2 triumph Saturday night that kept those surprising Cincinnati Redlegs atop the National League standings.

THE STRONG righthander allowed the dangerous-hitting Redmen a single safety in four innings of shutout pitching. Incidentally, Lawrence himself had a base hit. His young associate, Rookie Frank Robinson, hit a triple and scored a run.

Smith stretched the season's longest consecutive game hitting streak to 21 Sunday afternoon by slapping out a pair of doubles, which tied a major league record, as Cleveland put on a big 11-run seventh inning to defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 17 to 3.

ANOTHER HERO of the weekend was Henry Thompson, of the New York Giants. Thompson, playing leftfield against the Pittsburgh Pirates, slapped a baseloaded single Saturday to give the Polo Ground contingent a 3 to 2 victory.

Thompson added to those RBIs Sunday when he slammed a pair of home runs. He and Willie Mays were among the Giants who hit four consecutive home runs, a major league record, as the Giants dumped the Pirates, 11 to 1, in the first game of a double header. Ruben Gomez gained the pitching victory.

Monte Irvin clinched the Chicago Cubs, blasted his 8th home run, a grand slammer to give the Cubs a 10-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Gene Baker also had a home run in the Sunday game.

BILL BRUTON, Milwaukee's centerfielder was one of the Braves' standouts in Saturday's 5-2 decision over the Cubs. He had two hits, one a double and scored two runs.

Bruton's colleague in the outfield, Hank Aaron had a home run that drove in a pair of tallies as the Braves won a 5-0 contest Friday night. After the game, Aaron left to attend the funeral of his grandmother in Mobile, Ala.

Don Newcombe gained an easy 9-2 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday for his 11th win of the season.

May boycott title fight to protest La. jim crow

NEW ORLEANS (ANP)—Passage of a law banning racially mixed athletic events in the Louisiana legislature last week brought quick reaction from colored people here.

A committee has announced plans to boycott the proposed lightweight championship fight between Wallace (Bud) Smith, current title!, and Joe Brown. Smith and Brown are colored.

THE COMMITTEE has sent telegrams announcing plans to boycott the title fight to Gov. Earl K. Long Jr., who is expected to act upon the proposed ban, and to Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, which is promoting the fight. Telegrams have also been sent to Smith and Brown.

It was not immediately determined whether Gov. Long would sign the bill into law or use his veto power to kill it. However, it is assumed that political pressure would force him to sign it.

THE BAN on racial mixing in sports would prohibit "dancing, social functions, entertainments, athletics training, sports activities involving personal and social contacts in which the participants or contestants are members of the white and colored races."

Meanwhile, the proposed boycott might cause the IBC to cancel plans to hold the bout here, because colored people are the largest patrons of fights in the city.

Mays homer opens gates to NL All-Star triumph

By SAM LACY

WASHINGTON — A pinch homer by Willie Mays into the leftfield bleachers opened the gates leading to a 7-3 win for the National League in the 23rd annual major league All-Star baseball game here Tuesday.

The New York Giants' centerfield slugging first baseman, went hitless. So, that leaves Boyer.

WILLIE MAYS

THE REDBIRD third baseman had three straight hits in the early goings when hits were at a premium during the pitchers' show. His second safety put him aboard for the ride around on Mays' circuit, and his third drove in Johnny Temple (Cincinnati) with the fourth NL tally.

But that isn't all. Boyer was a demon afield, too. Twice he made sensational stabs on shots by Harvey Kuenn to rob the Detroit Tigers' shortstop of basehits. Then, in the seventh, he turned in another spectacular grab of a line drive by pinch-hitting Ray Boone, also of the Tigers.

• • •

BECAUSE All-Star game regulations require opposing managers to use the fans' choices for the first three innings, Alston could make no changes in the NL lineup until the top of the fourth.

With the score 5-0 in his favor and one out with Boyer on first via a single, Walt sent Mays up for left-handed hitting Gus Bell, Cincinnati centerfielder.

Willie connected with one of Ford's southpaw slants and splashed it against the seats halfway up the stands in left centerfield.

So solidly was the ball whacked that leftfielder Ted Williams (Red Sox) took one stride in its direction and then stopped. Centerfielder Mickey Mantle (Yankees) didn't budge; he knew it was pointless. Mickey simply turned and watched it disappear in the muddle of gay sport shirts and reaching arms.

• • •

SIX of the nine tag players on hand saw action. In addition to Mays, Frank Robinson, rookie leftfielder of the Redlegs; Roy Campanella, Brooklyn Dodger catcher, and Henry Aaron, Milwaukee Braves outfielder, had a piece of NL attention.

Vic Power and Harry Simpson, both of the Kansas City Athletics saw service for the AL.

Robinson, picked by the fans for the starting leftfield slot, fanned on his two trips to the plate before being pulled after three frames and replaced by Brooklyn's Duke Snider.

• • •

CAMPANELLA took over the catching assignment when Cincy's Ed Bailey gave it up in the eighth, and Aaron was substituted in left for Musial when Stan—took a tumble catching Williams' foul in the bottom of the eighth.

Campy did not get to bat. Aaron filed to Kaline in right on his only at bat.

Power swung for Mickey Vernon (Red Sox) when the Americans appeared to have a rally going in the sixth and Alston brought in Johnny Antonelli (Giants) to relieve Warren Spahn (Braves) with three AL runs in.

• • •

MANAGER CASEY STENGEL masterminded a pinch-hitting role for Vic in a percentage move that got lefty Vernon out of facing lefty Antonelli. Power popped to Musial in short left.

Vic was 1 for 2 for the day, however, when he beat out a single over second with one down in the ninth. He moved to second on George Kell's

Balto. boxer foresees fisticuffs in future

NQUASSEUR, French Morocco, North Africa — — A youthful Baltimorean is "knuckling down" to laying the foundations for a great fistic career here in the equatorial heat.

Air Force Sgt. Theodore (Teddy) Eaton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Eaton of 1537 N. Carroline St., is literally laying them in the aisles in intra-Air Force fist-fests.

A member of the military All-Star boxing team, he has toured many European countries and has won 23 of 27 fights. He's a middleweight (weighs in at 163) and his service buddies rank him with the best.

His mother, Mrs. Martha Eaton, a practical nurse, said that Teddy told her would be back in the United States late this summer.

• • •

RIGHT NOW, he is training for the city Golden Gloves tournament to be held after his return. He has made creditable showings in previous GG tournaments.

In 1949, while at Dunbar High School, Eaton won the city and state welterweight crowns. He repeated in the following two years and represented Baltimore in the Boston Gardens both years.

The first year, 1950, he won two of three bouts; in 1951, he won four of five.

Eaton claims victories over the Diamond Belt holder and Golden Gloves champion of Pennsylvania in 1952 and over the GG champ of Philadelphia.

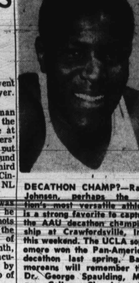
In 1954, Eaton enlisted in the Air Force. At the time he signed up, he had a spectacular record of 81 victories for 89 starts—of his few defeats, three were avenged in re-matches.

Since then, he has boxed his way through the Air Force; first at Sampson Air Force Base, N.Y., then to Parks AF Base, Calif. and thence to Africa.

• • •

EATON WILL end his present tour of duty in 1958 and then he hopes to turn pro. He'll be 24 then and will bring with him an amateur record matched by but a few current pros.

There are two other Eaton boys: Charles in Kansas also with the Air Force and John, an 11th student at Dunbar. Neither is interested in boxing; their mother said.



DECATHON CHAMP?—Rafer Johnson, perhaps the nation's most versatile athlete, is a strong favorite to capture the AAU decathon championship at Crawfordsville, Ind., this weekend. The UCLA sophomore won the Pan-American decathon last spring. Baltimoreans will remember that Dr. George Spaulding, Morgan College Chemistry Department head, won the Penn Relays decathon in 1928.

Bears intend to convert JC

CHICAGO (ANP)—The Chicago Bears last week announced plans to use J. C. Caroline, former University of Illinois star, as a defensive halfback, instead of as an offensive back, the role in which J. C. formerly starred.

The announcement came as the Bears made ready to leave for their Rensselaer, Ind. training camp.

President George Halas, in making the announcement, said: "Not only does J.C. have speed, but he has the courage of a lion, too, and all too rarely does one find such a combination. We would have liked to have J. C. run back punts and kickoffs, but it seems he'll be more valuable on defense."

Halas, meanwhile, revealed plans to use Henry Moscly, speedy halfback on offense. Halas said that Mosely, injured during the 1955 season, should be even better than he had been last year.
