LE. NOGELSTEIN, attorney for Mr. Boydner, insisted that his client was not drunk, but sleepy from having helped a lady move her furniture, the previous night.

Magistrate Scherr noticing the defendant's mutilated operator's license asked how it happened. Mr. Boydner smiled and replied: 'I went fishing, and fell in the creek."

"Oh, drunk out there, too?" the magistrate joked. He suspended a $250 fine for drunken driving, and fined Mr. Boydner, $1 for having a mutilated license and $25 for reckless driving.
