In and around Annapolis

By BOB PINKNEY

ANNAPOLIS — Mrs. Rose E. Miller pleaded not guilty in Circuit Court last week when accused of killing 55-year-old Olive Morse last summer.

The trial, which is set for Wednesday, November 2, has to do with the fatal stabbing of Morse who was found on the sidewalks of Church Circle last August and died less than 12 hours later when taken to the Aline Arundel General Hospital.

Mrs. Miller was picked up shortly after the slaying and thus far has been the No. 1 suspect in the fatal killing.

THE LADIES Aid and Society Club of the First Baptist Church on West Washington St. sponsored its annual red letter day Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

The Rev. Eugene Brown, pastor of the Carter Memorial Church, Friendship, was the guest speaker. Music was provided by the church choir.

Football has invaded Annapolis as Bates and Navy open their seasons this weekend.

Bates started the ball rolling this afternoon (Friday) playing host to William Henry High of Dover Del., while the Middies which carries a huge number of colored players take on William and Mary in its only home game at Thompson stadium tomorrow (Saturday) at 2 p.m.

Joseph Neal, 20, escaped from the Crownsville State Hospital Monday but was immediately picked up by County police at Edgewater.

BATES' FOOTBALL team received a big job Friday when it lost the service of 180-lb. Reid Abney, who will be out for the season from the result of a fractured left shoulder suffered in scrimmage.

Abney, a senior who Coach James Webb felt was one of the best boys on the team, held down the position of guard.

Bates, perhaps for the first time in history, has two juniors Captain and Co-Captains in Lawrence Brown and Phil Hyman, a pair of linemen.

AFTER FRIGHTENING Annapolitans far and near that uninvited visitor Hurricane Ione, expected to scuttle Annapolis along with the rest of the state, changed her course on Monday and only a breeze of her drastic winds which wrecked North Carolina came this way.

Weather prognosticators said that Ione's winds came at only 32 miles an hour and the anticipated massive rainfall fortunately did not drop.

There was no damage done in Annapolis.

THE SECOND District Rescue Squad which has been in existence only two months played a double role by bringing two babies into the world.

It happened Friday night when the Squad Ambulance dashed Mrs. Alice Anderson of Brownswoods, to Providence Hospital. However, the baby arrived when reaching Glen Burnie and Squad workers Howard Skipper, Kester Riley, and Allan Lee, delivered the blessed event before reaching their destination.

Only six hours later the ambulance was called to the residence of Mrs. Marjorie Hall, Spa Road, and finding it impossible to get the expectant mother to the ambulance, Squadman Thomas Rogers, delivered the baby in the house and then rushed the pair to the Anne Arundel General Hospital.

Squad members said both mothers and babies are reported in good condition.

$100 MORE—The Jerusalem Court No. 1, Daughters of Isis, presents $100 to the Ladies Guild of Provident Hospital to help purchase an isolette incubator for the pediatric department. From left, Mrs. Mamie Kennard, Mrs. Elizabeth Lane, Mrs. Florence Carpenter; Mrs. Naomi Julius, John L. Procope, administrator, Mesdames Odell W. Payne, president of guild, Ruth B. Brown, Lillian B. Ware, Lovina Mason and Carrie Gross.

Glenn Burnie Echoes

By CHARLOTTE W. DOWNIE

Miss Mamie Gatewood of Harmons, and Stanley Nicholson were married at St. Marks Methodist Church last Sunday.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's brother, the Rev. Clifton Gatewood.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Thomas Gatewood, wore white stain and lace princess gown with a finger tip veil. She carried a white Bible covered with sweet peas.

—Miss Helen Gatewood was maid of honor and wore a blue net bouffant gown.

The bridesmaids were Verdelia Parker and Bertina Mathews in green net gowns; Laurel Sims and Alverta Hebron in white taffeta dresses. Flower girls Margaret Martin and Alverta Hebron in white;

Tiny Roxana Wright and Jeanie Gatewood were flower girls and Kelvin and Durgiels Simms were ring bearers.

South Baltimore

By GEORGE W. E. HILL and MARIE LITTLES

Reporter Fleetwood of the Evening Sun with his photographers were on hand Thursday, 3:30 p.m. to take pictures of the Clean Block Campaign in South Baltimore which was conducted by Mrs. Francia McKay, AFRO general supervisor.

Mr. Fleetwood stated that the streets had a new look which gave the many thousands of people who have to use the express way a beautiful sight to gaze upon.

These eight blocks entered in the contest are being kept in first class condition and will be through the fall and winter season.

A group of citizens are planning to meet with the city officials and the Housing Authorities to-better the housing condition in Area 7.

The P.T.A. executive committee of Cherry Hill School No. 160 met Sept. 19, to plan its program for the year. The theme for the year is "Youth's Challenge to the Home, School, and Community."

Chairmen for the following committees were elected:

Program, Mrs. Marjorie Ward; Welfare, Mrs. Ernest Bias; Social, Mrs. Alice Pinkney, Health, Mrs. Jerry Lucke; Budget, Mrs. Jennie Butler; Community Relations, Mrs. Georgia Orr.

It is hoped that each parent of School No. 160 will affiliate himself with one of these committees and help to make the PTA a success as it has been in the past.

THE CHERUB School of the Cherry Hill Community Presbyterian Church will open Monday, September 26, at 9 a.m. at the Cherry Hill Community Center. All interested parents are urged to bring their children. The fee will be 50 cents weekly.

The Junior High Westminster fellowship will have its regular meeting Friday, September 23, at 6:30 p.m.

All members are urged to be present in order to hear the report from the committee that attended the Community Church Christian Education Conference held at Morgan College Christian Center last Saturday.

Mrs. Bertha Quickley, wife of George Quickley, of 2942 Bookert Drive, is ill and confined to Provident Hospital.

Shrimp treat

The popularity of shrimp continues to grow. If you haven't explored the wonderful delicacies of shrimp cookery, you should try this true Gulf Coast recipe once, and you'll agree why it's made the Bayou Country famous for shrimp cookery!

A delectable dish, Shrimp a la King is made with 1 pound raw shrimp, 1 can (10 ½-oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon black pepper, 2 cups cooked green peas, ¼ cup milk, 1 cup uncooked white rice, 2 teaspoons grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup chopped olives, 2 cups water, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Remove shells from the shrimp. Remove the black vein down the back by running knife along the back from head to tail. Then pulls the vein out. Wash off vein in water. Place shrimp in boiling salted water. Cover and return to boiling point. Simmer 5 minutes. Drain.

In a saucepan mix together the mushroom soup, milk, onion, olives, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Add the shrimp and peas, and heat thoroughly, stirring frequently. Serve piping hot over the steaming cooked rice.

Salad molds

Want to fix the children a treat for luncheon?

Try "Raisin Pineapple Salad Molds." Pineapple and cottage cheese go with the raisins into lemon - flavored gelatin. Plumping the raisins takes about water 5 minutes is one reason the salads are so good. It's an extra step, but try it.

RAISIN PINEAPPLE Salad Molds requires ¾ cup light or dark raisins, 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 1/3 cups hot water, 1 (9-ounce) can crushed pineapple, 1¼ cups cream - style cottage cheese, and salad greens.

Cover raisins with boiling water and let stand 5 minutes. Drain and cool. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Blend in undrained pineapple. Cool until slightly thickened.

Fold in cottage cheese and raisins. Turn into individual molds, and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens.

Makes 7 (6-ounce) molds.
