Racquet Club schedules annual closed tournament

The annual closed tournament of the Baltimore Racquet Club will be held tomorrow (Saturday) and Sunday at Druid Hill Park. Matches will begin at 10 a.m.

Scheduled events include men's singles, women's singles, junior mixed doubles. Trophies will be awarded the winners.

WILLIAM (BABE) Jones, well-known in ATA circles, will defend his championship title again this year. Other contenders for the title include: Reginald Watts, Morsell Hines, "Rip" Williams, Llewellyn Dayage, Dick Hobson, Sandy McIntyre, Wesley Stubbs and Thomas Calhoun.

Due to a recent illness, John (Junky) Wood, a serious contender, is not competing this year.

Last year's winner of the women's singles, Mrs. Jean Robinson, teacher at Dunbar High School, will defend her title.

In the junior class, Charles Hayes is not expected to have any threats to his title.

Valdes stops Cockell in 3

Beats Marciano's time in London KO

LONDON — Hulking Nino Valdes knocked out an even more hulking Don Cockell in three rounds here Tuesday night in White City Stadium.

The heavyweight champion of Cuba, weighing 207 pounds, stopped the heavyweight champion of Britain, weighing 216 pounds, in less time than it took the heavyweight champion of the world to do the trick.

Rocky Marciano needed 34 rounds to halt Cockell at San Francisco, Cal., last May.

A BAD CUT on Cockell's forehead spurted blood in his eyes through the third round. Cockell's corner men called referee Charley Davidson over and he immediately stopped the fight.

In the third round Valdes cut loose with lefts and rights to the body. He got the Briton into a corner, rocked him with a short left and then put across a right to the face which sent Cockell sprawling to the canvas. Cockell took an eight count.

Cockell came back after the knockdown with a big left to Valdes' face but the Cuban shook it off and replied with a two-handed barrage to the head.

A crowd of 25,000 saw the fight after sifting through two heavy rain spells during a cold, bleak night.

Richard boxer winner in Paris

PARIS — Rod Richard, former UCLA sprint star had national champion, led a touring team of American athletes to victory in a dual meet of international flavor here early this week.

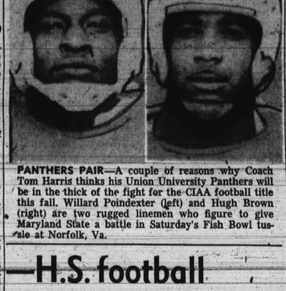
Richard scored two of the six wins recorded by the Americans in the 7-event competition. He captured the 100 and 200 meters dashes. In addition, Rod teamed with white Dean Smith, Dick Maiocco and Lang Stanley to win the relay event.

Richard took the 100 meters in 10.6 seconds, beating West Germany's Manfred Germar, who had previously defeated him in Cologne. The ex-Uclan then hung up a 21.5 clocking in the 200.

Win Mo. fair prizes

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (ANP)—Art students from Lincoln (Mo.) University won a total of nine awards at the Missouri State Fair held in Sedalia, Mo., recently.

The winners include MARSHALL DECATURE, St. Louis, who won first prize in sculpture with his "Folk Singer," as well as second prize for an oil painting, "Seven Seem." "Gamin," by ELIZABETH JOHNSON, student from Louisiana, took third prize for a work entitled "Laughter."



PANTHERS PAIR—A couple of reasons why Coach Tom Harris thinks his Union University Panthers will be in the thick of the fight for the CIAA football title this fall. the Maryland State Scholastic Association, because of their previous racial identity, these schools are faced with dark days on the competitive front.

The desegregation brought about the collapse of the South Atlantic High School Conference, through which Baltimore schools had previously booked games in Washington, D.C., Wilmington, Del., and other Maryland points.

All these other members of the SAHSC have been absorbed by their local scholastic bodies, leaving only the one-time colored schools here as the only ones left out in the cold, so to speak.

And left out in the cold they are, what with the Baltimore white schools booked among themselves and, for the most part, showing a hesitance about competing with them.

RESULT IS THAT the three local institutions are limited to skeleton schedules for the coming football campaign.

Dunbar, for example, has been able to list only four games, Douglass only three. Carver, which sought membership in the Maryland State Scholastic Association last year and was turned down, was fortunate enough to come up with six games.

As one of the coaches said: "We don't know where our next game is coming from."

WITH INTEGRATION working so well in the D.C. sports picture, neither Spingarn, Cardozo, or Dunbar have enough leeway to schedule a quota of games with the Baltimore schools.

Efforts by this city's three high schools to schedule games with local white teams have not been successful.

In spite of the lack of competition, Carver, Dunbar, and Douglass launched their training program a week ago.

At Dunbar, 80 players, including 20 lettermen returned to the field. As a result of graduation, the eastsiders lost their entire line.

AMONG THE notables from last year back in action is Richard Arler in the backfield, and George Gaines at half back along with Melvin Dorsey.

According to Coach William Cain, Dunbar's No. 1 problem is finding a quarterback man who can throw.

Wallace Bowman in the backfield and Robert Alston on the line are among those who have shown promise in the warmups.

At Carver, 70 men, including almost the entire 1954 squad, reported for practice last Wednesday.

Coach Lloyd White, with a 1-6 cord last year, is pinning his pes on ends, Paul Brown and more Jones, both six footers.

ROM LAST year's varsity en he will also rely on Bernmes Gibson at tackle along with mes Robinson who played econd string in 1954.

At guard, attention will be focused on James Key, Nicholas Trueheart, and Calvin Matthews.

Injured all of last year but off to a good start this season is James Harvin who will either play end or guard.

In 1953 Harvin was a first string guard for Carver.

Forty-one players took the field at Douglass last week for their first outing. Eighteen men from last year reported for duty.

GRADUATION COST the Ducks three centers and a fullback. One was Gil Smith, who will play for the Morgan Bears this year.

Battling for the center position is Reginald Holt, Carl Smith, and John Doose.

Rudolph Gordon will go in at tackle this season; Donald Thomas may move from end to tackle, and Walter Grandison will be at guard. Vincent Hawkins is also a holdover from the '54 squad.

Lewis Gross has been elected captain of the team and Donald Davis co-captain.

Assisting Coach Mack Payne, this year is Roy Cragway, captain of the 1949 Morgan College eleven.

The schedule for Dunbar and Carver follows:

Sox pilot denies blasting Minoso

KANSAS CITY — A news story to the effect that Manager Marty Marion had criticized Chicago White Sox outfielder Minnie Minoso for "lackadaisical" play, has been denied by both parties.

Marion told the AFRO this morning (Friday) that "there is no truth" to an Associated Press story which said that the Sox star had been "called on the carpet" and "blasted" for failing to hustle on the recently completed Eastern swing.

The AP article purportedly quoted a story in the Chicago Sun-Times, in which the rapping of Minoso by his manager was desribed.

"There is no truth to it," said Marion. "I have no idea where the writer, whoever it was, could have gotten his information, or even an idea that I am dissatisfied with Minnie's performance.

"The only thing I have had to say to Minnie in recent weeks, which may have been interpreted as being connected with his play, was the day I asked him if he felt 'all right.' I meant only to be inquiring of his health.

"Nobody in his right mind could ever accuse anybody on this club of not hustling, least of all Minnie."

Minoso likewise denied any such scene as depicted in the news story.

"Nobody has said anything to me, Marty Marion or Mr. Frank Lane (the Chicago White Sox general manager.) I only know to hustle all the time. No one has told me about being dissatisfied."

Bears' Intra-Squad Tilt To Answer Big Questions

A double - barreled problem awaits Morgan State College coaches as they prepare to unveil their 1955 Golden Bears to the public tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon.

Coach Eddie Hurt and his assistants have set an intra-squad game for 1:30 p.m., in Hughes Stadium, at which time the public will be invited to take a free look at the 44-man squad.

However, Hurt and his helpers — Marse Hill, Ken and Boo Brown — are not so much concerned with what the public will think of their charges at this stage, as they are with their two major concerns:

(1) The transformation of a freshman quarterback into a varsity fullback, and (2) the finding of an adequate replacement for an injured first - string tackle.

THE FIRST of these worries has been present ever since the Bear candidates reported for practice on September 1. Morgan coaches knew they were in need of a suitable man to step into the shoes of Don Patterson, who was graduated last June after two sizzling years in the slot.

But Hurt and Co., did not know until early this week that they were to be plagued with the loss of Dreyfus Froe, a tackle on whom they had counted to bolster their forward wall.

Froe, a junior from Bluefield, West Va., suffered a fractured ankle during a body contact drill last week and will be out for "at least six weeks," according to the coach.

TO TAKE care of the first part of the two-ply question, the Bear braintrust is switching Charley Reinhardt, a 200-pound Baltimore boy from his candidacy for the quarterback berth.

Hurt and Co., hope to develop the former Dunbar High School youngster into a capable fill-in for Patterson, who passed his way to the second All - CIAA team in 1954.

Until the decision on Reinhardt was reached, they had experimented with several other freshman hopefuls, Don Hart, of Butler, Pa., and Charley Hamwright, of Woodbury, N.J. However, neither had shown sufficient progress to warrant their assignment in the No. 1 post at the moment.

THEY'RE BOTH young and will come along," Hurt told the AFRO Thursday. "But we felt that Reinhardt, who has had some experience in the army and who is a little older, might do a better job for us at the outset.

"It is likely, but not certain, that he'll be in our starting backfield against Central State College next Saturday," the Morgan mentor added.

OF EQUAL CONCERN to the Golden Bear board of strategy, is the job of filling up the best man to move into the starting tackle spot vacated by Froe.

Dreyfus was one of three top Bears reporting bruises after the mid-week scrimmage. Hurt at the same time were halfbacks Jerry McArthur and Barry Stewart.

X-ray pictures showed a fracture of Froe's left leg just above the ankle, but were negative in the cases of McArthur and Stewart. Both of the latter were back in action the following day.

500 U.S. radio stations to air heavy title bout

NEW YORK — Tremendous nationwide interest in the radio broadcast of the heavyweight championship match between Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore, at the Yankee Stadium, Tuesday, has warranted an increase of the radio network from 350 to almost 500 stations, it was announced last week by the Pabst Brewing Company.

The bout will be aired direct from ringside, as it occurs, at 10:30 p.m., EDST, over the entire ABC Radio network and additional independent stations in continental U. S.

In addition to the 500 stations in the U. S. the bout will be carried by stations in Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Canada and South America.

The Armed Forces Radio Net work will also carry the bout to our troops overseas and the Voice of America will beam the blow-by-blow description to foreign countries.

The increased network supports the original estimate that the heavyweight championship, the 27th broadcast and /or telecast as part of the Pabst Blue Ribbon Bout series, will set an all-time record for a radio broadcast.

Attell, 50 years in ring, picks Archie

NEW YORK — Johnny Attell, soaked in the wisdom of some fifty years in Boxing — Boxer, matchmaker, manager, promoter—picks Archie Moore to win the Heavyweight Championship from Rocky Marciano at the Yankee Stadium, Tuesday.

Attell, who promoted at the Old Pioneer Athletic Club on 103rd St. at the Garden in Philadelphia and in Washington, and who worked on the very profitable Robinson - Gavilan Welterweight Title bout in Philadelphia, says Moore is a "real Pro."

"You've got to go with the man who knows how to fight," he said.

I'm not overlooking the fact that Marciano is a durable guy. He showed that against Walcott. He can beat Moore's skill but only by overpowering him with punches. I don't think Marciano can do that to Moore. Of the three — Walcott, Charles and Moore — Moore is the better fighter in all departments including hitting, boxing, courage and competitive spirit."

Pirate farmhand back in Towson

Back at his Towson, Md., home after a second stirring year in Canada's Provincial League, Bill Causion was speculating on his destination in the Pittsburgh Pirates' farm system next season.

Causion, a hard-hitting former member of the Crown Cork and Seal nine of this city, returned from Canada on Tuesday. He had just finished his second year with the St. John teams of the Class B Provincial loop, and again (as in 1954) was the league's leading batsman.

Southpaw all the way, the big 22 - year - old rightfielder stayed above the .300 mark at the plate all season. He was prominently named for the circuit - valuable player award, announcement of which will be made later.

The son of Mrs. Sarah E. Causion, 108 E. Chesapeake Ave., Towson, Bill has three sisters, Mesdames Helen Hall, Dorothy Dennis and Sarah Whye, and two brothers, Wilbur Jr. and Robert.

two Cleveland outfielders what effect, if any, the setback in Washington had on the morale of the club. The Senators came from behind on Wednesday to snatch a 3-2 victory and run their season's record to a humiliating 13-8 against the defending champions.

"Sure, it was a sort of blow to us," said Larry. "We felt good about winning the doubleheader the day before and wanted to make it a clean sweep.

"We figured it would give us a clear shot to the pennant, but that defeat just meant it'll take us a little longer."

"Those lucky so-and-sos look like they murder us," rejoined Smith, "but we're finished with them now. We don't have to play Washington any more and the noughts do all right the rest of the way."

BILLY HARRELL, Rookie utility man up from the Indianapolis farm team, said: "It looks like some teams can come up with a jinx on you when you least expect it.

"You guys beat them 20 out of 22 last year and look what they did this year. It was like St. Paul last year. We won the American Association pennant by beating everybody else; yet we couldn't win from them for hell, and they wound up sixth.

"Here you are fighting for the pennant and you lose 13 out of 22 to a seventh place club."

JOSE SANTIAGO, the No. 3 man of the Tribe's bullpen crew (behind Ray Narleski and Don Mossi), smiled as the former Sienna College cage star talked. Said the suave Puerto Rican:

"Don't get excited, little boy. Lucky Joe's here and he'll take care of everything. No team I've played with in the last six years has lost a pennant.

"Two years I was at Dayton in the Central League and they won the championship. Two years I played with Dallas in the Texas League, they won. And two years I was with Indianapolis and they won.

"Before that, I was with Ponce in the Puerto Rican League during their championship years. We can't miss I tell you."

MANAGER AL LOPEZ, while expressing confidence in his team's ability to hold onto its one-game lead (as of Friday a.m.), seemed more anxious to give the AFRO some choice quotes on Smith.

The 27-year-old sophomore outfielder is being heavily endorsed by Cleveland writers as the "most valuable player" in the league.

"He has been a real life-saver for us," said Lopez. "They talk about Smitty as a good hitter and all-round man, and I agree with them. I'd have to, what with having used him in six different positions during the season.

"But the fellow's real value to us comes from something they hardly notice. Smitty's eyes are every bit as good as Ted Williams' up there at the plate. I mean from the standpoint of balls and strikes.

"YOU NEVER see him go after a bad pitch and you rarely see him called out on strikes. I've had a couple of the umpires tell me he has an uncanny knack of laying off pitches that are no more than half an inch off the strike zone.

"On top of that, he's the best baserunner on the club. I tell the coaches to let him run on his own once he's under way. He's held to signs only when he's standing still.

"When he's running, we just let him pick his own base to stop. And it pays off. In the entire season up to now, only once has he been thrown out trying to take an extra base.

"TAKE THAT first inning play in Washington the other night. Smitty walked and when Avila bunted down the third base line, Al just kept on running, rounding second and slid into third under Vernon's throw from first. That gave us an early run and Bob Lemon had something to work on.

"I'm not going to have any part in picking a 'most valuable man on this club. But I can say Smitty has been a might handy fellow to have going for me all year."

blow description.

The TV and radio plum will be enhanced by an undisclosed payment for movie rights. Films of the fight have been promised for delivery to a large number of the leading theatres on Wednesday—the day after the bout.

ELEVEN FOUR-ROUND bouts make up the preliminary card, three more than usual because starting time has been moved back to 10:30 p.m., from the customary 10 o'clock bell.

Schedule for the all-heavyweight warmups follows:

Tonie Hall, Chicago, Ill. vs. Bob Siebler, Rochester; Johnny Jenkins, Harlem, vs. Calvin Wilson, Philadelphia; Frank Glenfi, Bronx, vs. Bob O'Brien, West Side; Mike DeJhon, Syracuse, vs. Jack Taylor, Newark; Julius Griffin, Harlem, vs. Frank Williams, Pittsburgh; Clint Bacon, Chicago, vs. Hosie Boil, Hempstead, L.I.;

Michael May, Bronx, vs. Johnny Orgen, Bronx; Howie Turner, Brooklyn, vs. Chubby Wright, Reading, Pa.; Ernie Cab, Brooklyn, vs. Lou Benson, Baltimore; Shirley Pembleton, Philadelphia, vs. Felix Antonio, Dayton, Ohio; Warren Lester, Philadelphia, vs. Waddel Hannah, Philadelphia.

Coach leaves post at Bates

ANNAPOLIS — Raymond Hammond, track and assistant football coach at Bates, High School for the past two years has accepted a similar post at Anacostia High School in Washington.

Hammond, who carried the Little Giants to the finest high school meets in the East, will be succeeded by William Busfield, tackle and captain of the 1954 Morgan State College football team.

A Morgan graduate himself and a star football player, Hammond's track teams at Bates won fourth place honors in the CIAA track and field meet at Virginia State College, running third behind Sellers Point and Fairmont Height. Bates also turned in a stellar job at the state track meets at Princess Anne.

Twice under the tutelage of Hammond the Little Giants traveled to Philadelphia where they participated in the Penn Relays.

In addition the stocky cinder coach was also backfield mentor of Bates' football team and health teacher at the school.
