THE SPONSORSHIP committee of Epsilon Sigma Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority entertained the four charming young ladies whom they are sponsoring in college, prior to their leaving for their various campuses.

The honorees were Ellen Carter, freshman, Morgan State College; Joan Cole, junior, St. John's College, Annapolis, Md.; Catherine Dawson, sophomore, Howard University; Jeanne Grove, senior, Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois.

Each year the sorority selects a deserving female student from the high schools of Baltimore and sponsors her through four years of college.

Members of the sponsorship committee are:

Mesdames Vivian Washington, chairman, Ethel Hicles, Celonia Walden, Charlotte Mebane, Mary C. Spellman, Frances Stith, Ruth Lighston, and Miss Meta Patterson.

Members of the executive committee also present were:

Mesdames Sanoma Nixon, president; Christine Moore, secretary; Bernice McDaniels, corresponding secretary; Evelyn Bass, chairman of the hospitality committee, Dorothy Barrick, chairman of the Omega Convention committee; Misses Martha Gover, vice president; Ann Calhoun, chaplain.

This delightful informal entertainment was at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Mebane, Friday night.

Residents of Arundel-on-the Bay ended the summer season there, with a lively community party.

The families and guests gathered on the lawns of Mr. and Mrs. James Ewell and Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Murdock, to enjoy barbecued ribs, salads, baked beans, hot dogs and homemade rolls.

Along with the good food was community singing, a program of entertainment by the children, including square and popular dances, vocal and instrumental solos and a male chorus which was reluctant to cease harmonizing even as the folks departed to pack up until next season.

The party was planned by committees headed by Mrs. Theodore Johnson, Mrs. Charles Gibbs and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell. Mrs. Audrey Jones directed a crew of hostesses and Nathanial Dixon headed a group of men who arranged for seating and equipment. Mrs. James Ewell of Washington chaired the affair. Dr. Theodore Johnson of Arundel is president of the community organization.

• • •

BUT IF YOU THINK Arundel-on-the-Bay is the haven of the adults only, ask the children, who enjoyed many types of activities provided especially for them during the summer.

Daily playground supervision was arranged by the county recreation department under the leadership of Miss Joan Henderson. Swimming instructions were given by Carroll Hynson Jr., student at Penn State College. A bookmobile provided reading material and a weekly library hour was arranged by Mrs. William Richardson, Annapolis librarian, and Mrs. Theodore Johnson.

During these weekly sessions the children also enjoyed puppet shows, magic shows and a discussion of "How a Book Is Written and Published" by Mrs. Roberta Whitehead, author of several children's books.

Outdoor Sunday School was conducted weekly by Mrs. Orris Walker and Mrs. Todd Duncan; Mrs. Allen Ferte directed an original dramatic and talent skit, entitled "Arundel Roundup," which was written and produced by the children.

A treasure hunt in two parts, for big and little hunters, was planned by Mrs. Arend Thomas. A cooking session for the girls, directed by Mrs. Robert Nelson, resulted in loads of assorted cookies, which, with lemonade, disappeared like magic.

A bicycle club received weekly safety instructions from Mrs. Teely Snowden. Leslie Gross and Gloria Forte were crowned "king" and "queen" for winning the most points in a bicycle rodeo.

Adding to the social life of the group were wiener roasts, swimming parties, boat cruises and dances given by members of the Mothers Club, headed by Mrs. Robert McDaniels.

Children participating were:

Tee and Lonnie Allen, Wallace Hayes, Michael and Ted Johnson, Lynn Goodloe, Michon Peck, Helen Murdock, Karen and Stewart Johnson, Burt and Frank Cumby, Joyce Taylor;

Robert, Margaret and Ralph Nelson, Lorenzo Snowden, Eula Lum, Arend Thomas, Paula Pecon, Todd Duncan of Washington.

Patricia Green, Carol and Christine Mussenden, Michael, George, Clarence and Keiffer Mitchell, Orris and Lance Walker, Robert McDaniels, Jill Collins, Gloria and Allen Forte, Leslie Gross, Johnelle Procope, of Baltimore;

Barry, James, and Brenda Carter and Virginia Murray of Alexandria, Va.

To exhibit $140,000 in pearls

- Miss Towles
- to model them $40,000 purse
- Bag made of 6,000 pearls, genuine rubies

WASHINGTON

Dorothea Towles will model the world's largest pearl at the sensational AFRO-AMERICAN Cooking School and Home Service Ice Show, Uline Arena, Sept. 23, 24.

The pearl—obtained for the show by the Kay-Frasc Jewelers—weighs 1,100 grains. A collector's item, it was once the property of the Empress Dowager of Japan.

• • •

SHE WILL also model the world's most expensive handbag, made of 6,000 cultured pearls, 10½ genuine carved rubies and 12-carat baguette diamonds, set in platinum valued at $40,000.

The pearl and handbag are being sent to Washington by the Imperial Pearl Syndicate of Chicago and New York to be displayed in the Kay-Frasc Jewelry Stores on both of the two big days, and on stage during closing shows on Friday and Saturday nights.

• • •

DOORS WILL open at 12 noon. First 50 women to arrive on opening day will receive fresh crisp $1 bills, free.

On hand to cut the ribbon will be the glamorous Miss Towles, Commissioner Samuel Spencer, and leading dignitaries including a representative from the White House and heads of local civic and social organizations.

• • •

THE FAMOUS, scintillating Miss Towles has been presented at world famous fashion houses in France and the United States. She will display her breath-taking collection of gowns at each of the four great shows.

As many as 200-odd baskets, worth $1,500, will be given away at each show to lucky ticket holders. The rich food commodities are all name brand quality products from advertisers whose booths will be at the Cooking School.

Also, the Potomac Electric Power Company is awarding two brand new Hotpoint Deluxe automatic electric ranges, one each night.

• • •

GIGANTIC CONTESTS, totaling hundreds of dollars in prizes, will be climaxed when the winning beautician, honeymoon couple, and cake-baking champions walk away with their awards.

Housewives are invited to learn to cook from new recipes as demonstrated by Mrs. Florence Duncan, director of "Let's Eat," and a local TV food show. She will be seen in a model of the 1955 all-electric kitchen from the Potomac Electric Company.

• • •

CONSTANT entertainment will be the keynote during the two big days.

The 91st Army Band, directed by Archer E. Smith, will be in concert in the lobby of Uline Arena, preceding the noon opening show.

The Doris Patterson School of the Dance will feature talented dancers.

Also the Bernice Hammond Dancers, under the direction of Teddy English (Theodore Jones), interpretive dance instructor, will feature such numbers as "Sweetness" and "Pete Kelly Blues."

• • •

HOSTESSES FOR all shows will be furnished by the Housewives' League. They will be:

Friday afternoon — Miss M. Anna Green, Mesdames Blanche Snowden, Mildred Crawford, Nancy Patterson, Rosa Hill, Elizabeth Cook, Nina B. Pumphrey, Cecelia Barnes, Anna Davis, Alice J. Willis, Edna Kellum, Lucinda Horn;

Friday night — Mesdames Grace Preston, Herbert Rollins, Afreda Farrar, Julia Turner, Phyllis Byrd, Lillian Pierce, Mary F. Turner, Elma Sykes Neal, Ellis M. Bussey, L. Austin, Theodore Murphy, Florida Leake, Susie Stack;

Saturday afternoon—Mesdames Estie N. Coleman, Estelle Wilson, Frances De Neal, Mamie Simms, Jacquetta Ross, Emma H. Braxton, Alice Harrison, Jone Z. Ford, Bessie Lee, Marie Gardiner, Eular Allen, Beatrice Davis, Viola Reid;

Saturday night — Mesdames Josephine Jones, Miss Evelyn Clarke, Mary Waring, Dorothy Rodgers, Samella Turner, Ida Stewart, Leona Turner, Bertha Stewart, Mamie Botts, Marie Guyles, Ercell Brown, Marie Lavine, and Elizabeth Ross.

There will be fashion shows during every show, featuring Morton's fashion store wearing apparel.

• • •

EXCITING PRIZES to be given away, include:

A 1956 Ford, from the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper; two automatic aluminum percolators, two infra-red broilers grills, and a car trunk of beer, NATIONAL BREWING Company;

A 19-pound decorated cake and four five-pound decorated cakes, BOND BAKERY; four Pepsi Cola Picnic Coolers, PEPSI COLA; four cooler bags, SCHWEPPES; 20 one - pound jars instant coffee, WILKENS COFFEE;

Pearlie's typewriter breaks down and cries

By PEARLIE COX-HARRISON

WASHINGTON

Well, Old Typewriter, dear, it's time to say "Goodbye." That is, if we're leaving here Saturday next.

But it's tough, now, isn't it? This trying to write parting lines.

Poor old machine! Weep if you want to. There's no need to be ashamed. I knew that during these last few weeks you've been sensing that something was up.

Otherwise, why have you been stalling twixt every few sentences; or piling one letter upon another; or . . . skipping eight spaces when the text only called for two?

OH YES, we've pampered each other a plenty. You've helped me every week to turn out a lot of copy, even though often my treatment of you was so rough you've now minus three important parts.

But I did grease you well and keep ribbons new so you and I could tell in the very best way about weddings, receptions and such. So we could prattle about White House doings and embassies and this and that—

About the Bachelor - Benedict Club, the Derbys, Guardsmen, Maharajahs, La Garnet Bridge.

About the Innamoratas, Musicians and Jolly Dames, Alphas, Kappas, Omegas, Phi Beta Sigmas.

The lawyers, medics, dentists, pharmacists, Zetas, AKA's Delias, Phi Delta Kappas, Epsilon Sigma Iotas, Lambda Kappa Mus, Sigma Gamma Rhos—

About the NCNW, NACW, YWCA, YMCA, CCR, Women's Auxiliary to Freedmen's Hospital, Women's Civic Guild (faithful NAACP workers), the Dejummabehets (they won a certificate for work in the Cancer Crusade);

SO YOU, dear Typewriter and I could prattle about the Nu Alpha Nu, the Consorts, the Damsels, the Interdenominational Alliance of Ministers Wives.

But who could name all the churches, schools, politicians, and the thousands of interesting individuals that you and I have prattled about?

Dear old Machine! What a thrill you and I used to get when we told of the AFRO's big Cooking Schools and Home Service Shows;

And right at this very moment, though you're supposed to be a noiseless machine, you're kicking up an awful fuss.

And I know it's because you feel that somehow you and I won't be on hand to tell of the Cooking School that's coming Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23 and 24 to Uline Arena.

DEAR OLD Typewriter! I almost believe that you have a soul. Look at the warmth you put into words when the AFRO's "Ideal Mothers" were guests of our town.

And now, here you are turning stone cold, stalling, and making me "break my neck" to get these lines to the AFRO in time.

But you're excused, Old Typewriter, dear. For I know that you realize now that when May time comes bringing the AFRO's "Ideal Mother"—of 1955, another and better machine and operator will record the winner's story.

And I know that when Carnation Milk holds its Healthy Baby Contest next year, assisted by the AFRO - AMERICAN, your heart will break again because you and I won't be around to sing the AFRO's praises, shout plaudits for Carnation, and marvel at the prizes the big milk company gives to winning babies and judges, too.

• • • •

SO THANK you, Typewriter, dear, for, first of all, helping me the AFRO staff, and for helping to keep me there, so long.

"Twas a beautiful life that you and I led as we sped along the AFRO trail. And now that the road breaks here, I'll shut you up fast, Old Typewriter, dear, so your noisy cut-ups won't keep the neighbors from getting their usual smooth . . .

But here's a promise, dear Machine. Whenever I get the AFRO Blues, as I'm almost sure to do, I'll come a-running to you, and both of us will rush back to Baltimore and beg Dr. Carl Murphy, Editor of the great AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper chain, to take us into his arms again where we will rejoin the jolly throng of Phillipses, Woodsies, Smiths; the, Carters, Mackays, Hoskinses, and Taylors—

The Sweeneys, Stratfords and Sills; the Warfs, and Momans; the Hillens and Betancourts, and the scores of other employees here and there.

Salud! So long! Good-bye!
