Carr's Beach has Pre-Labor Day Party

What promises to be the biggest attraction of the season will be a Pre-Labor Day Cash Night, Beach Party and Dance at Carr's Beach on Saturday.

Starting at 6 p.m. and lasting to 2 a.m., cash awards will be given every hour to lucky winners. Each person can win a prize at least five times.

An added attraction will be the "Hot Rodettes vs. the Bengazi Girls," when glamorous girls from Washington and Baltimore unveil a surprise for each other.

• • •

THE POPULAR disc jockey, Mr. "Out of Space," Maurice (Hot Rod) Hulbert will emcee a dazzling show featuring Milt Buckner and his orchestra which will be "jumping, rocking, rolling and swinging."

Other celebrities will be featured on the show which already is drawing a lot of comment in both Washington and Baltimore.

This attraction Saturday is the first show of its kind given at Carr's Beach.

Moments Musical

By ADAH K. JENKINS

A-ROVIN' The Baltimore Music Guild and the Lovey Husketh Guild were represented at the National Association of Negro Musicians conclave in Chicago Aug. 14-20. The two groups, headed by Mrs. Margaret Rusk Franklin and Mrs. Emma Poulson, included 15 members. This year's conclave marked the 32nd annual convention and the 36th anniversary of the founding of the association.

A joint committee from the Chicago music clubs, headed by Etta Moten, chairman of the citizens committee and with the former Baltimorean, Mrs. Dorothy C. Gibson, in charge of the entertainment, made the week enjoyable.

Miss Venoris Williams, of Baltimore's Dunbar High School music faculty, was in charge of one of the choral music clinics, with Jamisetta Holliman, assisting at the piano.

In order to secure credit, delegates were required to spend at least five hours a day in the workshops or conferences, which were planned by Kenneth Billup, Orvin C. Suthern 2nd and Dr. Omega King. Daily bulletins of the sessions were distributed at St. James Methodist Church, where convention business was conducted.

• • •

AN INTERESTING development was reported by Mrs. Poulson, head of the department of Patrons of the Arts and a national board member. There will be a classification of members in the NANM, according to interest and activity in music.

The groups will include the professional musicians, who make their living mainly by musical pursuits; the amateurs, who engage in music as an avocation or leisure time activity and patrons, who are the music lovers that help keep alive interest in music in their communities.

Highlights of the session were National Youth Night and National Junior program, when Baltimore was represented by Jamisetta Holliman, pianist and Joan Distance, vocalist, both from the Lovey Husketh Guild.

• • •

THE BALTIMORE delegation included Mrs. Margaret Rusk Franklin, president of the Baltimore Music Guild, which was organized in 1932, and past national officer, with Mesdames Myrtle N. Lee, Hazel Ellerbe, Carrie S. Cargill, Marjorie L. Butler; Miss Elinor C. Dimmy and Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Poindexter; Mrs. Emma Poulson, president of the Lovey Husketh Guild, with Mrs. Cecelia McLeod, Susie Gatewood, Jamisetta Holliman and Joan Distance.

The 1956 convention will meet in Detroit.

THROUGH Nathaniel D. Scott, formerly of Baltimore, we had the unexpected pleasure of getting in on an unplanned trip to Arthur Godfrey's morning show at CBS in New York. The program is a thoroughly enjoyable experience sitting before your own television set at home, but not to be compared with actually seeing and hearing the entire "family."

Had a chance to hear Marilyn Horn, the latest singer to win on the talent count at the Godfrey show, in a finely dramatic aria from the opera "Madam Butterfly." The young lady had a sheaf of telegrams congratulating her at the conclusion of the program.

The next morning had a chat with Joe Marshall, the drummer in the Godfrey "family" interracial orchestra. This able musician, who is a native of Chicago, has played in some of the best known ensembles in the country, including Jimmy Lunceford, Erskine Tate and Earl Bostic. His tours have taken him all over the country and in Mexico. He recalls with pleasure several engagements played in Baltimore at the Royal Theatre.

Joe Marshall was heard by the Godfrey "talent scouts" when playing on a recording session. After a week's trial he became a permanent member of the orchestral "family."

He stated that "the main thing for our musicians to keep in mind is the importance of learning basic principles of music (theory), the reading of music readily and accurately and studying of a particular instrument so as to know it thoroughly." He also emphasized the great value of attending the best of concerts, thus learning by watching and listening.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT has been made that chorus auditions for the Baltimore Civic Opera Company will take place September 7 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Polytechnic Institute. Norris and Guilford Avenues. Letitia Shenk Bernhardt is in charge of auditions. The program — for 1955-56 includes "Aida," to be presented, Nov. 4 and 5; "Marriage of Figaro" on Feb. 3 and 4 and "Thais," April 29 and 21.

The three operas present interesting contrasts in style and content. "Aida" is a magnificent spectacle, with some of the great Italian Verdi's most engaging music. "Figaro" is considered by many Mozart's most successful operatic work with its wit and charmingly delicate music. "Thais," by the French composer, Massenet, is not considered in the category of the great operas but its sensuous beauty of melodies has made it exceedingly popular.—ADAH K. JENKINS.

Another apology due on airport's bigotry, CIO News declares

WASHINGTON

The CIO News today called for another apology before the Houston airport racial discrimination incident involving the Indian ambassador is officially closed.

The weekly official publication of the CIO, in an editorial to be printed Aug. 29 said the second apology was due "all the American citizens with colored skins who are refused service, day in and day out, at this public eating facility."

Ella Payne, 900 block Shuter St., fifth prize.

A special guest will be Miss Myrna Tatum of the 2300 block Guilford Ave., who was awarded the Tom Hawkins' trophy as the "most outstanding Clean Block captain" of 1955.

Miss Tatum is also scheduled to appear on the Fourth Man television program Sunday over Station WAAM, channel 13 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Hawkins is the producer of this program.

Winning captains on radio Saturday

Captains of the winning blocks in this year's AFRO Clean Block Campaign will be radio guests tomorrow over Radio Station WITH.

They will be interviewed on the "Clean Charlie" program which comes on the air at 12:45 p.m.

Mrs. Dorothy Shipley Granger, 2000 Etting St., fourth prize; and public relations director of the Bureau of Sanitation, will be questions of Lucy Walker of the 600 block Barre St., who won first prize;

Barbara Cooper of the 600 Lee St., who won second prize; Gerald Tajley, 1600 Ellsworth St., third prize; Jeanette Rice, fourth prize; and

Along The Avenue

With the arrival of the Chi Chi girl, Rose Murphy, patrons who braved the big downpour to visit the Comedy Club Tuesday were treated to some top flapping favorites opening night.

Making her first appearance at the club, she gave out with such favorites as "I Can't Give You Anything But Love" and "Linger Awhile."

Here for a one-week stint, she gives way on Monday to Della Reese, who is returning to the Pennsylvania Ave., nitery for the second time in as many months.

• • •

ON WEEK nights, Billy Fox can still be found holding down the fort at the Red Fox Lounge.

Remnants of that farewell party tossed a few weeks ago for Ethel Ennis, who is now in the big town, can still be spotted around the club.

Peeking out from behind the band stand is a red ribbon left over from the bon-voyage party.

On the Eastside, the Club Orleans is again throwing open their doors to the Blue Room on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Stan Moore Trio is holding forth.

• • •

A FEW BLOCKS away at the Club Sara; the Mellow Jacks with Jimmy McKnight and company have all but become a permanent nature.

Jimmy is backed up on the bandstand by George Williams, Johnny Tucker, and Jimmy Bruce.

LOOKING FOR a bargain in entertainment? Learned that the Knotty Pine has the lowest prices in town. Besides, you can dance for free to the music of Eddie Gough and his Trio at no extra charge.

The newest establishment in the entertainment twin is the Crem Club at 1438 N. Gay St. Featuring the Mel-O-Notes Trio and Noble Johnson at the ivories.

It too offers dancing on Friday and Saturday from 9 to 1:30 a.m. On Sunday however there is beautiful music from 5 to 9 p.m.

Creston (Doc) Woingust still looking for musicians and entertainers to accompany him on Monday, September 5 when he takes a show to Henryton State Hospital to entertain the sick there. "Doc" can be reached at LO 6-4833.

Group seeks to assist Storer

HARPERS FERRY, W. Va.—An appeal to the board of trustees of Storer College to reverse their decision to close the college was made last week by leaders of the Ministers and Christian Workers Conference which met at the school in July.

W. H. R. Powell and W. H. Gray Jr., chairman and co-chairman of the conference, requested a conference with the Rev. Clarence W. Crawford of the trustee board for discussion of the basis for the decision to close the school and possible plans for keeping it open.

THE DECISION TO CLOSE the 88-year-old college, whose historical and scenic grounds have been valued in excess of $1 million, was reached after the State of W. Va., voted to not grants previously given toward its operation.

The Ministers and Christian Workers, Conference expressed its "profound regret" for the action taken by the trustees to suspend operation of the institution for the coming school year.

The group also endorsed "any effort" that the trustees might make in seeking the aid of our churches, our people and well wishers" in raising funs for the school's continued operation.

4,960 children see Regent free movies

The Regent Theatre and the Northwest Community Council ended their third and final free summer movie program of the year for some 2,000 children in northwest Baltimore.

The children enjoyed two hours of color cartoons, a brief reel, and a first - run film — Edward G. Robinson in "Vice Squad."

Approximately 1,360 children attend the Regent Theatre on Saturday, June 25 and an estimated crowd of 1,600 children attended the free movie showing on July 23. Hundreds of children were turned away.

The success of the three "free movie projects" held at the Regent Theatre were attributed to many people: Henry Hornstein, owner of the Regent Theatre; Buddy Newton, manager of the theatre and his staff; Tom Hawkins of WAAM; Charles (Chuck) Richards of WBAL; Buddy Young and Herbert Kenny of WEBB; Clarence Powell and the Harris Radio and Television Company.

Red Sox and Detroit Stars play.

The Nesbits, Russell and his wife, Madgeline and three youngsters, started at the Twelfth Street YMCA and since have moved into the national picture with TV, stage and screen appearances.
