Falcon marksmen take top honors in Eastern Skeet-Trap tournament

JESSUPS, Md. — The Falcon Rod and Gun Club captured the major epoils as the Eastern Skeet and Trapshooting Association staged its 11th annual shoot on the Falcon grounds here Sunday.

A gallery of approximately 300 spectators of all ages viewed the competitions, and got their biggest thrill, perhaps when 13-year-old Nathaniel West, of the D.C. Anglers Club, won the handicap event.

Young West and William Richardson, of the Cornelius Gun Club, finished in a tie and were forced to meet in a 15-bird shoot-off. The lad downed his older and more experienced rival by a score of 13-10.

* * *

THE FALCONS walked off with the-main events of the tourney, taking the Wiley Memorial trophy and the High Gun prize. The latter went to John J. deCecilio by virtue of his crack score of 96 out of a possible 100 birds.

Participating in the affair were representatives of Deep Sea Anglers, Patuxent, Main Line, Triangle, Cornelius and Falcon clubs.

Jersey Joe nabs youthful thugs

CAMDEN, N.J. (ANP)—Former heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott nabbed a pair of youthful burglars after a street chase here.

The boys, escapees from the state home for boys, had burglarized a sporting goods store and taken $25.

Walcott, who is a special juvenile officer for the Camden police department, and patrolman Bernal Ford were standing nearby when they saw the boys run from the store.

The men took up the chase and Walcott overtook the youths, forcing them against a wall.

Detroit Stars, Memphis Red Sox here Sept. 4

WASHINGTON

Hottest team in the Negro American League right now is the newest club in the circuit, the Detroit Stars, who have jumped from last place in the first half race to the leadership in the second half pennant fight.

Detroit has never played in Washington since joining the NAL four years ago, but all that will be remedied on Sunday, Sept. 4, when the fast-moving stars come to Griffith Stadium. Memphis Red Sox at 1:30 o'clock, are in for a twin bill against the barnstorming tour with the Detroit Men.

This Sept. 4 twin bill could be the deciding factor in the torrid NAL second half battle. The Stars were on the bottom in the first half, trailing Birmingham, Kansas City and Memphis, but the Motor City entry gained some with the acquisition of several new players and the promotion of the veteran Ed Steele, ex-Birmingham Barons luminary, to the managership.

STEELE INSISTS we have the best team in the league. We had trouble in the first half because of our youth and inexperience but now we're ready and should win the second half of the season. We sure are going to make every effort to win it," Steele has not just been talking through his hat. His team has been performing. First, the Stars whipped the Monarchs in a five-game series, four games to one; then they took the Barons apart in two straight games, and subsequently edged the Red Sox in a three-game setto.

Now they are on the march again, taking on all comers again. When they hit Washington Sept. 4, those who have gone before will be on the Memphis League's second half championship.

THE STARS' OWNER, Ted Rasberry, recently added Juan Armas, a crack Cuban third baseman, and this acquisition has bolstered Manager Steele's infield, with Jim Ivory at shortstop; Henry Swerson, at second, and the ex-Grambling College sensation, Ezell King, at first.

King is a 6-foot-6, 215 pounder who once played basketball with the Harlem Globetrotters, but gave up the court game to concentrate on baseball and a possible shot at the major leagues.

The Stars' hurling staff includes such youthful standouts as Aaron Jones, 20-year-old southpaw from Chicago who recently hurled one - hitter against the Barons, and Willie Harris, who limited the hard-hitting Birmingham club to six hits the next day.

AGO battles St. Cyprians

Softball teams meet in finals

WASHINGTON

The St. Cyprian's softball team battled the AGO squad Wednesday night for the right to meet the strong Myron Cald well ten in the finals of the Washington Amateur Softball Association tournament on Taft Junior High School playground number two.

The Saints came from behind to go into the semifinals of the tourney after being beaten by the AGO's earlier 10-7 in the second round. The southeast athletic squad came back to whip strong Knotty Pine 6-5 in a loser's match and then overcame the National Institute of Health 4-3.

The Catholic parish teams won the final right to meet the favored AGO squad Tuesday night by stopping Hedin Construction Co. 7-6. AGO's only loss up until Thursday night was to the front running Myron Caldwell ten, 3-0 in the second round. The St. Cyprians were winners of the tournament last year.

Gunther to erect new office building

CONSTRUCTION by the Gunther Brewing Company of an office building of completely modern design, with new architectural and engineering features, will be started immediately at O'Donnell and Conkling Sts., it was announced Friday by A. J. Krieger, the brewery's chairman of the Board.

The second big milestone of Gunther's multi - million dollar expansion program, the building will be topped by a golden tower. It follows closely the start of construction of the brewery's huge materials handling building occupying an entire city block.

The three story granite and brick office structure will be of metal skin construction and completely air conditioned. Floor space will total 22,000 square feet.

The newest type of electrical wiring system will be included, and the building will be equipped with a pneumatic tube system enabling the sending of messages to and from parts of the complex brewery plant in a matter of seconds.

The building is expected to be completed by the spring of 1956.

The new structure will face O'Donnell Street which will be the focal point of a major traffic upon completion of the new Baltimore harbor tunnel. Off street parking is an important part of the plan. The building will go far toward improving the entire neighborhood.

S.C. group to see L. L. World Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — Fourteen youngsters of the Cannon Street YMCA Little League arrived here Thursday afternoon to witness the semi-final and final rounds of the Ninth annual Little League World Series.

Accompanied by Robert F. Morrison, president of the loop, and five adult members of the YMCA Board of Directors, the lads had travelled all night by bus from their Charleston, S.C., homes.

The Cannon Street group came to the title playoff with special permission from Peter J. McGovern, national president of Little League Baseball.

* * *

THEY WERE received and treated the same as the competing teams although under Little League rules they could not take part.

The Cannon Street team, it will be remembered, won the South Carolina State title by default when 55 white teams refused to play them on account of their color.

McGovern rebuked the withdrawing teams and further flaunted Dixie prejudice by declaring the Charleston youngsters area champions.

* * *

HOWEVER, because Little League regulations require that only those who were their titles via actual competition, McGovern was forced to bar them from play here.

His next move was what he considered the next best thing: an invitation to Cannon Street to come here as guests.

President Morrison of the Charleston YMCA accepted but explained in a letter to McGovern that they would not be able to spend the entire week here.

* * *

"THE MEN that run the team," he wrote McGovern, "are all hard working men and cannot afford too much time from their jobs."

He said further that his purpose in bringing the boys here was to further educate his whole group in the workings of Little League baseball.

Delaware Township had advanced to the semis on Wednesday by upsetting a favored Alexandria, La. team.

Herbie Harrison, white, who shares equal billing with Hunter Jones as New Jersey's one-two pitching punch turned back the Louisiana-ans with a four-hit performance.

The skinny serions-faced righthander gave up only two unproductive hits and had a shutout going into the final frame.

Two solo homers at this point enabled the opposition to escape being whitewashed.

ROBINSON — whom Manager Bauer calls "another Jackie" — plays a alright defensive ball handling five chances without a miscue. He did not do so well at bat, however, failing in three trips to get the ball out of the infield.

Harrison on the other hand couldn't be kept off the basemites. He had two hits and drew a walk in three trips up.

It was his adeptly placed bunt that set off a chain of circumstances that led to the Jersey-ans three-run second inning.

Harrison singled to open the frame. Hunter then dropped a beauty, dead on the third base line, which Louisiana Jimmy Burnett threw into rightfield in a desperate effort to retire the hitter.

As the ball went into the outfield Harrison continued to third. A play was made there but too late and Billy scampered to second on the throwback.

Another attempt to get Hunter called as the youngster barreled into and under the Louisiana second baseman who dropped the ball.

This was good enough to get Harrison home and by the time the ball was retrieved, Hunter was perched on third. He scored a moment later on a single to left.

IN THEIR upset of Alexandria the Delaware Township youngsters accomplished two noteworthy feats. They whipped Sam Despino, white, Jr., son of one of the Louisiana managers, who had never lost previously in Little League tournament competition. And they became the only team to limit the Dixie kids to fewer than four runs all season.

In the first day of action two other integrated teams were eliminated in a pair of closely contested games.

Hamtramck, Mich., with John Alexander pitching and leading batting fifth, dropped the opener to Winchester, Mass., 8-5. And Glens Falls, N.Y., with diminutive Calvin Tucker pitching, lost a 4-3 heartbreaker to Morrisville, Pa., in the twilight affair.

Alexander, 12-year-old son of a Chrysler Motor Co., employee, was hitless in two at bats but was credited with a run batted in and a sacrifice.

THE SECOND of Michigan's two colored lads, Charles Boston, did not see action.

Ordinarily Tucker's hurling might have been enough to win on any other day. But the tiny offspring of a Glens Falls archeria leader met a real tartar in Pennsylvania's Tommy Kaczor.

Kaczor gave the Glens Falls-ers One or these was a homer with a man aboard and the other run was unassisted.

Calvin was nicked for seven safeties but a pair of outfield errors were included and they proved his downfall. He struck out ten.
