Caroline's speed keeps Bears in race

CHICAGO (ANP) — It was another fine afternoon for J. C. Caroline last Sunday in Wrigley Field when Chicago's long-standing arch rivals, the Bears and Cardinals, met in a bitterly fought contest of flying fists and fast feet.

But even in defeat, Ollie Matson, stalwart and versatile halfback of the Cardinals gave 48,606 people a showing of what makes him great as he twice ripped off long touchdown runs only to have them called back.

Thanks to Caroline, however, the Bears won by a score of 10-3, on his third period touchdown. And the Bears were saved in the waning moments of the game from a possible tie by Caroline's great tackle on the final play of the game.

* * *

THE CROSS-TOWN Chicago gridiron rivals threw physical insults at each other through the entire game and in the third period Caroline added his three-yard touchdown insult, giving the Bears the necessary 10-3 lead to win the game after Bear quarterback George Blanda earlier booted a 36-yard field goal.

Matson, who was probably the most disheartened player on the Cardinal eleven, ripped off a total of 148 yards in two plays alone, only to have the resulting touchdowns in both cases called back.

Matson's first donnybrook came on a pitchout in the first quarter and ended in the end zone, 65 yards from where it started. Ollie's second tally was on a beautiful 83-yard jaunt from the line of scrimmage to paydirt.

* * *

THE FIRST Matson haymaker was called back when a member of the Big Red backfield was in motion and Ollie's second Bear-trap was nullified when the Bears were caught offside and the Cardinals sinned by holding.

With a little more than a minute left in the game, Cardinal quarterback Lamar McHan heaved a mighty serial to end Dick (Night Train) Lane who pulled it in around the 50 yard stripe and was bound for the gates of glory, until Caroline thought differently.

* * *

AHEAD OF the entire Bear defense, Lane rolled down the west side lines of Wrigley Field within breathing distance of the end zone when along came J. C. and nailed him from behind on the 7-yard line in the final and game-saving play of the contest for the Bears.

Thus the Wrigleys ended their 6th contest with the Cardinals with a victory that keeps them in the championship race with the Detroit Lions, whom they encounter this Sunday in the season's finale.

Despite a fine all-around performance by Guy Rodgers, Temple's great All-American candidate, Kentucky beat the Owls with a tremendous second-half surge. The score was 75 to 58. Rodgers scored 29 points, 19 of them in the first half.

Ex-boxer Montgomery not over 'troubles' yet

PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — Former Lightweight champion Bob Montgomery is still not quite over a series of "troubles" which hit him following the Archie Moore-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship bout in Chicago slightly more than a week ago.

Montgomery, known as "Bobcat" during his ring days, reportedly dropped a $6,000 bet on the fight and hit the bottle to drown his sorrows.

* * *

BOB THEN went through a red light in his native Philadelphia and was arrested by police, examined and adjudged intoxicated. Later in the week, he was released after posting $400 bail for a grand jury hearing into his case.

Montgomery, who gave his age as 36, is manager of a theater in Philadelphia.

Nate Clark named Little All-American

HILLSDALE, MICH. (ANP) —Nate Clark, who helped Hillsdale College compile an unbroken string of 25 football victories, was one of four repeaters on the 1956 Little All-America football team named by the Associated Press.

Clark finished the year with 551 yards rushing six completions in eight passes for 125 yards and scored 84 points. He was one of the nation's leading college scorers in 1955.

* * *

WHILE HIS statistical records this season fell below the marks of 1955, his coach, Frank Waters, said he was a much more valuable player in 1956.

In addition to his improved blocking, Waters said: he was of added value to the club as a decoy.

Dolly King makes debut as Garden cage official

NEW YORK (ANP) — Dolly King is making an excellent showing this year, his first as a basketball official in the fabulous Ivy League circuit.

Dolly's first major game was in Pennsylvania's famed Palestra, where he handled the Penn-Rutgers game. Saturday night, he worked Madison Square Garden officiating the Georgetown game. Thursday, he went to Yale to handle the Yale - Connecticut game.

Last year, King, as an "apprentice" referee, officiated at freshman collegiate games and high school games—to get the feel of the business and for experience.

* * *

SELECTED FROM among a number of former basketball players for special training unollegiate referee, King made rapid strides and was one of the group given apprentice assignments without question.

King turned down a refereeing bid from the professionals, preferring to function in collegiate circles.

In his first three games, he has been well received and has had no complaints about his work.

Magicians, in D.C., boast topline act

WASHINGTON

Christmas or no Christmas, if you can spare the time tonight's (Friday) Harlem Magicians basketball game at Uline Arena should be a "don't miss" on your entertainment program.

For years, the nation has been captivated by the zany doings of the Harlem Globetrotters on a basketball court. But their monopoly is now challenged.

In the opinion of many veteran cage fans, the Magicians out-trot the Trotters.

Goose Tatum and Marques Hayes, long the backbone of the fabulous Chicago aggregation, head up the new group which now is in its second year of operation.

* * *

THE GOOSE is still himself, making his uncanny shots under the basket without the obvious aid of stooges—as in the case of most of his so-called replacements. A true basketball fan can recognize the real talents of the long-armed, deadeyed clown.

And Haynes continues to reign supreme as the finest trick dribbler in basketball. With him, there is no apparent "setting up" of exhibitions. Haynes pretenders, in most cases, need this type of assistance from the opposition.

* * *

TWO OTHER former Trotters, Josh Grider and one-armed Boyd Buie, also have contributions to make to the Magician show which command attention.

Aside from their individual offerings, the Magicians present an assortment of fresh, new acts, some of which the 1956-57 Globetrotters appear to have copied.

Opposition tonight will be the New York Olympians, themselves a group of stellar ex-college players—SAM LACY.
