Dundalk cop to grand jury

Officer Louis DeManns, the Baltimore County policeman charged with homicide in the death of a steel worker, is scheduled to be presented to the county grand jury on Monday in Towson.

The victim in the Nov. 24 shooting was Clarence Wilkerson, 39, 1304 Harlem Ave. the father of three boys.

Officer DeManns reportedly told his superiors that he fired one shot after he had stopped an automobile in which Mr. Wilkerson was riding as a passenger near a Dundalk shopping center.

The officer said he was looking for another man wanted in connection with a Turner Station shooting.

THE POLICEMAN said Mr. Wilkerson made a move to reach in his pocket for "some sort of weapon" and the shot was fired through the right front window of the car, striking the victim in the side.

George Glasgow, 22,508 Robert St., who was driving the car, said that after he had been halted by police and gotten out of his vehicle, he heard one shot and saw Mr. Wilkerson fall to the ground.

Police later captured the man they wanted in the Turner Station shooting and admitted that neither Mr. Glasgow or Mr. Wilkerson had any connection with the case.

In taking the officer directly to the grand jury, Frank Newell, state's attorney for the county, is bypassing a magistrate's court hearing.

Auxiliary inaugurates Coffee Hour for Crownsville patients

Through funds raised during their "Tag Days" throughout November, members of the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville Hospital will be able to sponsor Coffee Hours for patients at the institution.

This is the third year the Auxiliary has conducted the Tag Days, which were initiated by the first president, Mrs. Carl Murphy...

FUNDS RAISED through the project enabled the group to set up a canteen at the hospital. In their second effort they provided $500 towards the Athletic Association, which provides recreation for employees at the hospital.

They have, this year, also contributed $200 towards purchase of a piano for C Building.

* * *

AT PRESENT the organization is attempting to recruit at least 400 women to form a pool from which volunteer workers can be selected.

The canteen, of which Mrs. Lee Miller is chairman, has prospered to the extent that it provides profits enough to provide 600 industrial therapy patients with small amounts of money to purchase small needs.

Women who can find a few hours, once a month, to serve on the Auxiliary's projects should contact the president, Mrs. Roy Hamilton, 5413 Denmore Ave., Mo. 4-5558; or the secretary, Mrs. James LaForest, Lo. 6-8882.

Koger will handle estate of J. G. Booker

Mrs. Florence A. Booker, 417 Pine St., widow of the late James G. Booker, petitioned the court, this week, to have her attorney, Linwood G. Koger, Sr., administer her husband's estate in place of her.

Mrs. Booker had been named administrator soon after the death of her husband on April 14.

Mr. Booker, who was engaged in hauling and real estate, left 10 pieces of property, valued at $19,000, according to the administrator.

He left debts of $3000, papers filed showed. Mrs. Booker is his only survivor.

ROBERT B. WATTS, attorney, has been named to administer the estate of Jackson Barber.

The administrator posted bond for $5000.

Mr. Barber, who died on Nov. 3, is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Martha McClure of 217 N. Wolfe St., and a son, Nathaniel Barber of 1043 N. Central Ave.

MRS. JULIA PHILLIPS left an estate of $550.59, according to records in Orphans court.

Mrs. Phillips died on April 4, at 820 N. Carrollton Ave. William I. Gosnell is administrator.

Surviving are a niece, Mrs. Annabell Burke; and a nephew, Levoy Dixon.

The estate consisted of a retirement allowance check from the City of Baltimore for $50.59, and hypothecation of $500 which had previously turned over to Mr. Dixon, who was buying the Carrollton Ave. property.

Five years for attempted assault on woman, 75

"Your Honor, it just doesn't make sense. A man of his size and age just isn't going to attack a woman like that. She certainly is an old lady.

"If he had wanted to attack her, there certainly was nothing to stop him."

John G. Wharton, attorney, spoke for his client, Frank T. Dukes, 38, 717 South Hanover St., who faced a charge Monday of assault with intent to rape a 75-year-old woman.

Criminal Court Judge E. Paul Mason found the 210-pound six-footer guilty and sentenced him to five years in the Maryland State Penitentiary.

The victim testified that she sustained a fractured left leg and lacerations of the left eye when Dukes struck her with a chase she managed to fight off her assailant.

"I WAS RELEASED from the Baltimore city Jail Oct. 30," Dukes testified, "and went to Miss ——'s to see if she didn't put me up, I had known her since 1952.

"I didn't have any money and I was out of doors so she gave me a room. There were no lights, heat or water. She gave me a place to sleep on a cot and gave me a chair because she had shortening of the wind.

"People were always coming and going from early morning to late—after two in the morning, and they brought her wine. That's why she stayed drunk night and day and had no control over herself.

"She fell down and hurt herself, if I had hit her—look at me, I'm a big man—I would have killed her.

"I'm 38 and I've never been that sex-starved since I've been in the world.

"I never touched her."

A POLICE officer testified, however, that he had seen them together earlier: "I thought it was funny, a young man like that sitting and talking so close to Miss—— he said.

"I just don't believe him," Judge Mason said. "He's got a record a mile long. I think he broke her leg and her face.

"I think he was drinking and didn't know what he was doing."

Local cab firms want mileage boost

Taxi fares in Baltimore may go up.

That is if the Public Service Commission grants the request of local cab firms to boost their rates from 25 cents for the first one and two thirds mile to a 35 cents for a flat mile or any fraction.

The cab companies testified Wednesday before the PSC with that body taking the plea under advisement.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to healthy life after suffering excruciating agonizing pain in my body and with numerous complaints from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my joints were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you write me I will tell you how I received this wonderful relief.
