41,808 see unbeaten Tenn. top Fla. A.-M.

MIAMI, Fla.—(ANP) — The powerful Tennessee State Tigers, coming from behind in the final period, nipped the Florida A-M Rattlers, 41-39, here Saturday before 4,808 fans at the 24th annual Orange Blossom Classic.

Tennessee thus kept its 1956 clean and knocked Florida from the ranks of the unbeaten.

* * *

TRAILING THROUGHOUT the first three periods, the Tigers went out in front shortly after the final stanza opened on a pass from Crawford to Holmes in the end zone, to give Tennessee a 34-32 lead.

Florida tried desperately to get back in the game and bogged down on the Tennessee 1-yard-line with less than two minutes to play. After recovering a fumble on the Tigers' 24, the Rattlers moved to within inches of the goal but was penalized five yards for delay of the game.

Two plays later, Quarterback Jefferson tried to plunge over the final stripe but missed. The game ended four plays later.

* * *

WILLIE GALIMORE scored four TD's to lead the Rattlers' attack. Fay Mitchell, brilliant Tennessee runner, scored three times during the contest.

Florida led in rushing 217-189, but was out-passed 180-174. Tennessee made 9 first downs to Florida's 8.

The defeat was Florida's second straight in the Orange Blossom Classic. Last year, the Rattlers were beaten by Grambling, 28-20.

EASY DOES IT! — Marques Haynes, speedy forward of the Harlem Magicians, takes time out between dribbles while awaiting his appearance in Washington, Dec. 14th at Uline Arena against the New York Olympicans. Haynes is regarded as the most spectacular dribbler in pro basketball today.

Goose Tatum, Mark Haynes one-two punch of Magicians

WASHINGTON

The one-two scoring punch of Reece (Goose) Tatum and Marques Haynes will be featured by the Harlem Magicians when they invade Uline Arena for a professional basketball game with the New York Olympians Friday night, Dec. 14.

Tatum, six foot, three inch center with a fantastic 84-inch arm-spread, has qualified as basketball's "Clown Prince" since his days with the Globetrotters.

The amazing veteran set a new individual scoring record at Uline's a year ago when he racked up 60 points as the Magicians defeated the Olympians in a high scoring game.

* * *

HAYNES REMAINS pro basketball's super-dribbler, and one of its speediest and best rounded forwards.

Marques was sought by several National Basketball Association teams while he was performing with the Globetrotters but by passed a career in organized basketball in order to organize the team that since has acquired another top attraction in Tatum.

The Magicians are represented by a skyscraper in Jerry Johnson Jr., a six foot, eight inch former center with Phillander Smith College of Little Rock, Ark., where he was an All-Conference pick for four years.

Van Phillips, Tommy Gipson, Paul Martin, Les Burks, Boyd Buie and other top basketers also represent the Magicians.

* * *

THE OLYMPIANS are headed by Bill Spivey, seven foot, one inch two-time former University of Kentucky All-American, who has been rated by no less an authority than George Mikan—as one of the greatest big men in professional basketball's history.

Spivey, a terrific shot and rebounder, generally fights it out with Goose for scoring honors in the games involving these teams.

Bob Fowler, Charlie Hadden, Bob Riotetti, Ted Lyons, Byron Anderson and Tom Gatzek are some of the key men who will team up with Spivey in an effort to stop the Magicians here.

St. Marks, Dobkins vie for midget honors

The City Midget Championship football contest will get under way at noon Saturday when the St. Marks' team, CYO champs, face Dobkins, the Baltimore title-holder, at the Bloomingdale oval.

St. Marks won five straight games to capture the Catholic League honors, while Dobkin finished the Baltimore race with a 7-0 record.

Both teams are undefeated and untied in this year's play.

Union clips Md. State five

PRINCESS ANNE, Md.— a green and over anxious hawk basketball squad threw an awful scare into a highly regarded Virginia Union University team here Saturday night before a full house, only succumbing in the final two minutes by a 62-60 score.

Maryland State grabbed a two point lead at the outset and at the halfway mark was sporting a ten point bulge, 33-23. Franklin Carr and John Sample were all out, trying to hold the freshman studded combine together, but the visitors court savvy was the deciding factor.

* * *

THE TOM HARRIS-coached Virginians paced by Carl Smith, pulled the game from the fire, when three of Nay Taylor's "Eager Beaver" hopefuls were lost to the contest, fouling out.

High man for the night was John Sample with 19 tallies, runner-up was Carl Smith with 14, Franklin Carr, who regittered 13 two pointers, was tops defensively.

Turpin seeks Moore for title fight

LONDON (ANP)—A battered and bruised Archie Moore, still showing effects of his unsuccessful attempt to become the heavyweight champion, was on the mind of British boxing promoter Jack Solomons last week, who said he plans to ask Archie to fight Randy Turpin.

Turpin won the vacant British light heavy title last month by defeating Alex Buxton.

Solomons said he would ask Moore how much he wanted to defend his light-heavy-championship against Turpin, former world middleweight champion, now making a comeback.

Fayetteville 5 downs Hampton

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.—By way of opening the 1956-57 cage season for both outfits, the Fayetteville State Teachers College "Broncos" outpassed if not outclassed Captain Edwin Amos and his Hampton Institute clan to write an 81-70 victory here Friday.

But it was one of those hammer and tongs affairs that was anybody's game right down to the final whistle.

The game marked the debut in college basketball for a fast-moving Fayetteville freshman, Robert Johnson, a forward from White Plains, New York who turned in a fine performance as did freshman Robert Cooper of Nashville, North Carolina.

But while the Gainesman salvaged the game, they never quite succeeded in cooling off Robert, the evening's high-point man with 23 tallies.

Fayetteville's Ronald Evans ran a close second with 21.

COLLEGIANS CONGRATULATED — Coach Adam Scott (left) and Capt. Clarence Davis (center) are congratulated by Richard Stone, commissioner of the D.C. Amateur Football Conference, after the team of ex-college players won the championship in their first year of play by beating the St. Cyprian A.C., 33-12 Sunday.

Bears face stiff test in cage bow

The Morgan State College Bears open the home and conference season tomorrow (Saturday) night when they tangle with the classy Union University Panthers of Richmond.
